Sean Blackburn's Weekly Blog

January 5, 2016

It has definitely been a long time since I have posted a blog, so let me give you a little update on how the team has been doing. We have still been taking strides as a team, but are still trying to put it all together. Last time I posted I told you we had three games coming up against good teams. Our first game was against Lake Erie College, and this game was definitely a game to remember because we finally figured out our true identity as a team. Any great team knows what makes them great so that's the identity they take on. As a team we kind of knew what we were, but in our game against Lake Erie we showed everybody including ourselves the great defensive team we can be.

Lake Erie is a very good offensive team, and we played great defense the whole game but we locked them up in the second half. Our team defense was textbook; it was almost so good I think Coach Estep wanted to make it a teaching video (Ok, it might not have been that great but it was pretty good). We ended up winning the game with some key late-game stops. We were happy about the win, but had to bounce right back the next day and play Walsh. Walsh is a very good team who only lost to Ohio State by ten earlier in the year, so we knew it would be a tough game. We started out slow but as the game went on we started really playing our game. This game also came down to the wire but unfortunately there was a different outcome. This game was definitely a good lesson in how much the little things matter in the long run. There were many free throws, lay-ups, and a couple defensive assignments we missed that cost us at the end. Honestly, our next game against Grand Valley State went the same way. We were the better team, but the little stuff cost us at the end. This was the last game before break and we weren't happy that we lost but we knew as a team we were getting closer to where we needed to be.

After the game we got the next week off for Christmas Break, and everybody was very excited to be able to go home and see their family. This is the only time during the season when we get a whole week off with our family so everybody was happy, but at the same time we knew we had to come back prepared to start Great Midwest Athletic Conference play. This year our conference tournament means much more than in years past because the winner of the conference gets an automatic bid to the national tournament. When we got back from break we started preparing for our first conference game against Trevecca. We played great in the first half, but about halfway through the second half we lost our identity. When you are a defense team your offense feeds off of you getting stops, so sometimes when there are no stops there aren't too many points. That's basically what happened in our game and we lost. Even though we lost we have huge opportunity Saturday to bounce back against one of the best teams in our conference.

We play Saturday against Kentucky Wesleyan (start time is 2 p.m.). If anybody is in town, it would be much appreciated if you come to the game and support.

Until next week,

SeanB

G-MAC Men's Basketball

Player of the Week

(Dec. 28-Jan. 3, 2016)

Byron Sanford

Trevecca • Sr • Louisville, KY

GREENWOOD, Ind. – Trevecca Nazarene senior guard Byron Sanford was named the seventh Great Midwest Athletic Conference Men's Basketball Athlete of the Week for 2015-16.

Sanford was at it again as the Trojans made their mark on the road to start the G-MAC schedule.

TNU defeated Cedarville in the conference opener for both teams as Sanford led all players with 32 points, the third-highest scoring total in the league this year.

Sanford picked apart the Yellow Jackets for his season-high scoring mark on 9-of-12 shooting. He also made 14 tries on free throws, grabbed five rebounds and dished out four assists.

Trevecca Nazarene won in the Callan Athletic Center despite trailing by four at halftime. The Trojans surged in the second half with a +16 scoring differential and shot 50 percent as a team for the game.

The Trojans were one of the more active teams during the holiday break while also playing Middle Tennessee State in exhibition action and Christian Brothers.

Sanford rang up a double-double with 20 points and 11 rebounds vs. MTSU and had nine points and five boards vs. the Buccaneers from the Gulf South Conference.

In 14 games this season, Sanford ranks second in the G-MAC in scoring (19.3 ppg), third in rebounding (7.6), eighth in field-goal percentage (.505), fifth in assists (4.1). He is the current league leader in steals per game (1.9).

Sanford's career scoring numbers in the G-MAC are also starting to add up. He currently ranks third all-time in scoring with 1,042 points through the completed week of Jan. 4.

Head Coach Pat Estep

Pat Estep has been the head men's basketball coach at Cedarville University since the 2008-09 campaign. He has guided his alma mater to an average of 20 victories per season and five national tournament appearances.

The Yellow Jackets' first active season in NCAA Division II resulted in a 22-9 mark in 2012-13. Estep was voted the Great Midwest Athletic Conference Coach of the Year as his team claimed the G-MAC regular season title, the G-MAC Tournament trophy, and placed third in the NCCAA Championship.

Cedarville was 23-9 during its NCAA provisional year in 2011-12. They won the school's first NCCAA Championship banner in convincing fashion after entering the 2012 tournament as the No. 1 seed and winning their three games by an average of 18 points. Estep was tabbed NCCAA National Coach of the Year.

Cedarville finished strong again in 2010-11 by winning eight of their last nine regular season games including the last five in a row. The Jackets were ranked as high as 14th in the NAIA Division II poll and finished at 20-13.

Cedarville won 16 of its last 18 games in 2009-10 to finish 26-9 and 14-2 in the American Midwest Conference as the league runner-up. The Yellow Jackets, who were rated as high as 8th in the national poll, later won the AMC Tournament and advanced to the second round of the national tournament.

Estep's inaugural campaign at the helm was full of memorable accomplishments. He guided the Yellow Jackets to a 27-4 overall record and a share of the AMC title with a 12-1 league mark. Cedarville was ranked as high as No. 1 in the country, finished in a tie for the No. 2 spot in the final poll, and advanced to the national tournament.

The Jackets assembled a number of school records which included a 14-game winning streak. They also wiped out all of the previous marks for defense.

Cedarville led the country in field goal percentage defense with opponents shooting just 37.9 percent. They also ranked second nationally by allowing a stingy 60 points per contest which was 10 points per game lower than the old school record.

Estep's leadership did not go unnoticed. He was voted the AMC Coach of the Year as well as the NCCAA Midwest Region Coach of the Year.

Estep took on his current position after serving as an assistant coach for eight years under former head coach Ray Slagle. He played a key role during Slagle's successful tenure with the Yellow Jackets from 2000 to 2008.

Cedarville won 177 games during that time-span, averaged 24.1 wins over the last seven seasons, won three American Midwest Conference titles, and two AMC Tournament championships.

The Yellow Jackets made five trips to the NAIA Division II National Tournament where they never lost in the first round. They advanced to the semifinals once, the quarterfinals twice, and to the second round twice.

This is the first head coaching position for Estep. A 1997 graduate of Cedarville College with a degree in physical education, he was a student assistant at the school during his senior year and went on to acquire coaching experience at all levels of basketball.

Estep was the 8th grade coach at Cedarville Junior High School in 1996-97. He spent the next year at Clark County Christian High School in Kentucky where he was the varsity assistant boys basketball coach and the head coach in golf and tennis.

Estep spent the 1998-99 season as the junior varsity coach at Oak Hill (Ohio) High School. He held the same position in 1999-2000 at South Webster (Ohio) High School which is where he graduated from in 1993.

Estep comes from a rich basketball coaching heritage. His father, Dale, spent 27 years in the profession at Fairfield Union and South Webster high schools.

Estep also has a master's degree in education from Cedarville University that he earned in 2008. Pat and his wife, Melanie, reside in Cedarville with their three children: sons Isaiah, 14, and Grant, 11, as well as daughter, Merynn, 5.

 CU/TNU to air on ASN

GREENWOOD, Ind. – The Great Midwest Athletic Conference announces that the basketball games between Cedarville and Trevecca Nazarene on Saturday, Feb. 6, 2016, will air on the American Sports Network as part of the NCAA Division II Game of the Week package.

The men's and women's games between the Yellow Jackets and Trojans in Nashville will represent the G-MAC's first American Sports Network broadcast in any sport.

"The Great Midwest Athletic Conference is thankful that two member institutions will be highlighted this season in the American Sports Network's Division II Basketball Showcase," said G-MAC Commissioner Tom Daeger.

"This contest will provide great attention to the talents of our student-athletes and offer exposure for conference rivals Trevecca Nazarene and Cedarville. It will be a great day of basketball in Nashville when these four teams square off on February 6."

The women's game is set for 2:00 p.m. EST and the men's game will start after around 4:15 p.m. EST inside the Trojan Fieldhouse. Nashville is located in the Central Time Zone.

This will be Cedarville and Trevecca Nazarene's second meeting of the regular season. Both teams are also scheduled to play each other on Saturday, Jan. 2, in Cedarville.

"First, we are honored to be the first G-MAC institution selected to host a Division II National Showcase broadcast," said Trevecca Nazarene Director of Athletics Mark Elliott. "It is an opportunity to represent our community, Trevecca and Nashville, but we realize along with that comes responsibility.

"Similar to when we made the move to NCAA Division II, we will lean on support from the greater Trevecca and Nashville community," Elliott added. "We'll look to our administration, marketing, faculty, Moore Maniacs, alums along with our great friends who are connected to Trevecca. To make this a great showcase, it will take the full support of the Trevecca and Nashville community. We are looking forward to the challenge."

The Cedarville and Trevecca Nazarene women's programs have battled it out and finished first and second in the G-MAC standings, respectively, in each of the past two years.

TNU has assembled back-to-back 14-2 league records in 2013-14 and 2014-15 while the Yellow Jackets marched to the conference's first NCAA Championship Midwest Regional at-large selection in 2014-15 with a 27-4 overall record.

After beating then-No. 19 Alabama-Huntsville, the Trojans' men made a name for themselves on a national level early this year. Cedarville's men have won three straight at the time of release and are quickly developing rising young talent.

Additional information will be made available at a later time about which markets will carry the games. For those outside the regional market, both games will also be streamed live on NCAA.com.

The American Sports Network has reached agreements to distribute its broadcasts to regional cable networks that will make it available in 94 million of the nation's 113 million TV homes.

Cedarville, Davis & Elkins Honored Again for Academic Success Rates

INDIANAPOLIS – Cedarville University and Davis & Elkins College headlined the Great Midwest Athletic Conference with Academic Success Rates of 90 percent or higher as released by the NCAA on Wednesday.

Cedarville and Davis & Elkins are among 27 NCAA Division II schools to be honored part of the Presidents' Award for Academic Excellence, now in its fifth year.

This is the third consecutive year that both Cedarville and D&E have received the Presidents' Award for Academic Excellence.

D&E had a reported ASR of 94 with UC-San Diego, Assumption and Seattle Pacific, while Cedarville's ASR of 91 tied four other schools.

For the first time, the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia led Division II with an Academic Success Rate of 99 percent, followed closely by Saint Michael's College, Point Loma Nazarene University and Bentley University, all of which achieved a 98 percent ASR.

For the second straight year, the Northeast-10 led Division II's 24 conferences in ASR rates, with five athletics programs posting scores of 90 percent or more.

The G-MAC ranked fifth among all 24 Division II conferences with ASR's of 90 percent or more.

"We are pleased by the increasing number of Division II schools whose student-athletes are earning Academic Success Rates of 90 percent or higher," said Judy Bense, president of the University of West Florida and chair of the Division II Presidents Council. "These schools and their students demonstrate the utmost dedication to success in the classroom and on the field, and we are proud of their efforts."

The Academic Success Rate is the percentage of student-athletes who graduate within six years of initial enrollment in college and includes virtually all Division II student-athletes, including transfers and those not receiving athletics scholarships.

The Division II ASR also captures about 51 percent more college athletes than the federal graduation rate. Unlike the federal graduation rate, the ASR also counts student-athletes who transfer to a school after initial enrollment elsewhere and removes from the rate student-athletes who leave school while academically eligible. The national ASR is 71 percent for student-athletes who entered college from 2005 through 2008.

Regardless of which measure is used, Division II college athletes graduate at a higher rate than the general student body. The federal rate for the 2008 entering class of student-athletes was 55 percent, compared to 49 percent for the general student body.
