LADY JACKET SOCCER BLOG

September 5, 2016

Good news, CUWS fans, we have made it home safely from our ventures up in Michigan! While we may not have come back to campus with the results we were hoping for, there is no denying that our team has learned a lot and has improved leaps and bounds from where we were prior.

Instead of attempting to accomplish the impossible feat of summarizing a four-day road trip into a blog post, I thought that I would instead focus in on some of the highlights of our trip up North.

Bri's Alma Mater/Homestead

After departing from Cedarville on Wednesday morning, we hit the road with our destination being THE Lake Fenton High School (aka, Bri Barnes' old stompin' grounds). While reminiscing on her glory days, we were able to get a light practice in before heading on over to her homestead for some delicious salad, pasta, and cake, prepared by her sweet parents! Much to our delight, Bri's senior portraits were displayed proudly throughout the home, and may I just say, modeling may be her calling.

Team Goals

Following dinner Wednesday evening, we all gathered into the hotel to discuss team goals for the season. Yes, it is always important for us to set high standards in relation to soccer, but beyond that, it has been so encouraging to hear the spiritual goals that our team wants to strive to meet as well. For those of you who are not aware, immediately after each game, we as a team invite our opponents to pray with us. Once having initiated this connection, we are then able to give each individual player a note of encouragement. However, this season, we are prioritizing the idea that God has blessed us with this game of soccer as a platform to glorify Him. This being said, we want to be incredibly intentional about praying for the young women we write our notes to, as well as taking opportunity to pray with them as well. It is in these moments, in the raw dialogue in which a total stranger asks to pray with another, that the true identity of Christ is found. His grace, His love, and His mercy for us abounds, and as a team we want to promote this very thing above all else.

Saginaw Valley

Thursday we entered into a match with Saginaw Valley State University. Being one of the stronger teams in their conference (GLIAC), we knew that we would be in for a quality game. While Saginaw ended up coming out on top (1-0), our girls played quite well and there was definitely no lack of effort. As we closed our game with prayer, the team goals fresh in our minds, it was awesome to witness several CUWS players being able to pray one-on-one with various players from Saginaw Valley. Immediately after experiencing this, I sent a text to my dad to get some of my excitement out. "They'll remember the prayers more than the victory," he said. To this, I hold onto, as it speaks volumes of Truth.

Spark Family

Shortly before our Saturday game against Northwood University, we all sauntered down to the lobby for a sleepy-eyed breakfast after what had become a very intense "game night" the evening before. In what we had imagined being an average morning of waffles and eggs, turned out to be an unforgettable memory for many. Tammy, our wonderful bus driver, had been down in the lobby much longer than the rest of us, and had happened to initiate conversation with the right people at the right time. The Spark's, a Christian family who recently lost their home to a fire, had been living in the hotel all while trying to put the many broken pieces back together. Tammy, being bold in the Lord, informed our team of what was going on, and asked us if we would be willing to pray over the family once being done eating. Without hesitation we agreed and proceeded to form a giant circle around the family. With humbled hearts we entered into prayer, a prayer that had the potential to impact a family in ways that we could not even fathom.

Northwood University

To conclude our adventures in Michigan, we faced off with Northwood University. Once scoring off of a PK, Northwood entered halftime up 1-0 on us. The second half was a hard battle by both teams, but in the last 10 minutes of the game, Alyssa Maillefer scored on a through ball from Creslyn Van Dyck, sparking us into overtime action. Unfortunately, Northwood found the back of the net off of a corner kick, ending the game at 2-1. Despite the loss, the ability of our team to fight back to tie the game before the end of regulation was impressive to say the least. Naturally, nobody likes to lose, but there was no doubt that we fought hard.

Hopefully you enjoyed hearing about some of the bits and pieces of our trip. This coming week we have our first HOME GAMES - Thursday vs Trevecca and Saturday vs Kentucky Wesleyan! We had better see you there!.

TONIGHT'S GAME

The Cedarville University women's soccer team hosts the Kentucky Wesleyan College Panthers in a Great Midwest Athletic Conference (G-MAC) game tonight at Yellow Jacket Field. The game is a fundraiser for "Lace Up for Pediatric Cancer".

Cedarville, picked to repeat as G-MAC Champions, are 1-2 (1-0 G-MAC) on the year after posting a 1-0 double-overtime verdict over visiting Trevecca on Thursday night. Freshman forward Hannah Atkinson tallied the game-winner in the 103rd minute.

The Panthers, picked to finish fifth in the G-MAC, are 1-2 (1-0 G-MAC) after defeating Ohio Valley 1-0 on Thursday evening in Vienna, West Virginia.

CU Head Coach Jonathan Meade, a 16-year veteran of coaching women's collegiate soccer, is in his first year leading the program. Meade will need to find a way to fill the gaps left by 11 graduating seniors from the 2015 squad that finished 13-5-4, won the G-MAC title, and advanced to the NCAA Division II Tournament for the first time ever.

Even though the cupboard is far from bare of talent, a large of percentage of the Jacket offensive production will need to be replaced. Cedarville will play this season without five all-conference performers, including Grace Miorelli, who suffered a torn labrum in the offseason.

Sophomore forward Alyssa Maillefer will make a big leap in year two. Senior goalkeeper Hanna Harris played over 1,800 minutes and was credited with all 11 wins along with a stingy 0.60 goals against average including eight shutouts.

Jonathan Meade

The Panthers are under the leadership of Head Coach Jamie Duvall who is in his sixth season (37-50-4) at KWC.

Kentucky Wesleyan has a trio of seniors on the roster (Ellen Tichenor, Natalie Hobgood, Penni Pluimer) after losing two all-conference players with Annie Elder and Katlyn Duke along with talented keeper Kathryn Dishion.

Sophomore Breigh Haase scored 10 goals and had three assists in 15 games. She finished second on the team in scoring.

CU leads the all-time series between the schools 4-3 with a 15-9 edge in goals scored. The squads split a pair of shutouts last fall - Cedarville posting a 7-0 win on September 26 at Yellow Jacket Field and Kentucky Wesleyan recording a 2-0 victory on October 15 in Owensboro.
