THE CHRIST-CENTERED LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE An Essential For The Modern Christian Youth

By the help of the Lord Cedarville College will be a Baptist liberal arts college with a Christ-centered program. We are wholeheartedly in favor of Bible institutes and Bible colleges but we believe there is a definite place for the Christian liberal arts college as well. The tide of liberalism which flowed from the apostate seminaries during the past generation has in part been stemmed by the Bible institutes of our land. There is still a great battle going on against modernism and we are grateful for any school which will help win the victory. Here are some reasons why we believe your Baptist liberal arts college has an important place in the field of Christian education.

Cedarville College gives an educational opportunity to more of our young people. Schools established for the specific purpose of training missionaries and ministers are obviously limited in the number of young people to whom they can give an education. Some of our youth are planning to enter fields where good training in education, science, mathematics, etc., will be necessary. Cedarville can give this type of training and the young person enrolled will not lose his faith through the influence of unbelieving teachers.

Cedarville, a Christ-centered Baptist liberal arts college, is an educational tool which can be used to show our young people that Christ is the key to the proper understanding of the arts and sciences. Christ said, "I am the truth." (John 14:6). Since He is the truth then nothing in the universe which He has created will disagree with His Word when both Christ and His creation are properly understood. Lewis Mumford said that education needs "a magnetic field at the center which will continuously polarize each fragment that enters the field." Dr. Scott Buchanan states, "We do not know what we ought to learn in education. We have not been able to discern the pattern of our knowledges which would make them one knowledge." We believe Christ is the "center" and the "pattern" which gives meaning to our knowledge and therefore He must be given first place in the classroom. Our faculty members are not only at liberty to present Christ in every college class, they believe they have been called to our campus for this purpose.

Your Christ-centered Baptist liberal arts college saves the taxpayers a great deal of money. Every young person who receives four years of college training with us will not be educated in a tax-supported school. In 1949 independent colleges enrolled 1,200,000 students. With colleges and universities crowded today as they are, what would the tax-supported schools do if the independent colleges should suddenly cease to exist?

ANNOUNCEMENT

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees a recommendation from the faculty was unanimously adopted whereby the academic offerings of Cedarville College would be substantially implemented. The action assured that the college would be able to adequately train young people in six basic major fields: Bible and philosophy; communications (English, languages, speech and literature); music; science; social studies; and psychology and education.

In order to be able to carry out the adopted plan the college will need to acquire four additional teachers for next fall. These are to be one each in the fields of modern languages, music, biological science, and social studies. The basic requirement for consideration as to academic training must be at least a Master's Degree in the field, and preferably at Ph.D.

Any qualified persons interested in any one of these positions please contact the president, Cedarville College.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Dear Friends:

The beginning of a new year brings a challenge to give our best to Christ in service. There are two verses in Paul's letters to the Corinthians which instruct us how we must serve to please God. "For we are laborers together with God." (I Cor. 3:9; II Cor. 6:1). This suggests that if we are to work with God we must be in the place of His choosing, abide by the rules which He has established, depend upon His ability to work through us, and trust Him to supply both spiritual and material needs as we engage in this ministry. What a blessed privilege it is to know that God permits us to work with Him. This means, too, that He is willing to work in and through us. It is our prayer that every one of us at Cedarville will face the new year with this divine objective in view.

I am very grateful to the Lord for the opportunities which are given not only to preach His Word, but to speak in behalf of Cedarville College. The following appointments have been made for the next two months: January 13, West Side Baptist Church, Lorain, Ohio, and Bible Baptist Church, Bedford, Ohio; January 20-27, evangelistic meetings at the Grace Baptist Church, Troy, Ohio; February 13, Grandview Park Baptist Church, Des Moines, Iowa; February 17, Burton Avenue Baptist Church and Walnut Street Baptist Church, Waterloo, Iowa; February 24, First Baptist Church, Lancaster, Ohio; March 1, Eastern Michigan Regular Baptist Fellowship, Rochester, Michigan. We will appreciate your prayers as we seek to exalt Christ in these services.

We did not print a college BULLETIN for the month of December, but sent a special letter to all our friends instead. You will be interested in the gifts received by the college for the last two months of 1956: November — $3670.05; December — $3406.24. We are very grateful to all who have sacrificially given that the financial needs of Cedarville College may be met. We are a long way from reaching our goal of $6000 per month in gifts, but we are praying that God may lay the burden of the work upon many more of His people. Special envelopes are available for any who wish to contribute to the college.

In this issue of the BULLETIN we have included some pictures of our college book store. Miss Bernice

Mick has been the manager of our store for some time, and she has done a commendable piece of work. Now it will be possible for any of our friends to order Christian books, greeting cards, plaques, etc. by mail. Please send your orders to Cedarville College Book Store, Cedarville, Ohio. Pastors can make arrangements for a special discount on any book which they wish to order.

Our second semester begins on January 28. There are new students coming to Cedarville at this time. Young people who finish high school work in January can begin college work immediately. Write to our registrar for information.

Our dean, Dr. C. R. Maddox, has written an article which may be of interest to young people who are looking forward to college training. It was first printed in the OHIO INDEPENDENT BAPTIST and then reprinted in pamphlet form. Quantities of this tract, "The Why and the What of Christian Education," may be obtained for the asking. Special folders prepared by other faculty members will be announced soon.

May the Lord's richest blessings be yours during 1957. May it be said of each of us as it was of the Thessalonians, "Ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God; and to wait for his Son from heaven." (I Thess. 1:9, 10).

Sincerely in Christ,
James T. Jeremiah
