Men's Basketball Weekly Blog

January 23, 2017

This past week for Cedarville men's basketball was one of the better weeks we have had to date. It is always easy to say we are playing basketball it should be fun, but just like anything in life it's hard to have fun if you are not winning. Not to mention all the hard work that our team puts in on a consistent basis it's always nice to see the payoff that comes with it.

We played well the whole week, and to our capabilities. The ball movement was good, and our defense was also good. In particular we witnessed two great performances from Kwenton Scott. He played well on both sides of the floor, and got buckets all week. We just simply played two great games, and we are looking to continue to build off of that as the year continues to progress.

Since our conference tournament means so much this year it is important that we continue to progress as the season is nearing its end. The season isn't too far away from being over, so it is vital that we begin to play our best basketball. I think with the players and coaching staff we have, we are capable of doing just that. Everybody is really upbeat and ready for our games this week so we can keep building on the win streak that we have.

We have three big games this week and our first one is a home game against Central State on Tuesday (Start time is 7:30 pm) then another home game Thursday night against Malone (Start time is 7:00 pm), and we finish off the week away against Ohio Valley (Start time is 4:15 pm).

We would greatly appreciate support and prayers as we head into this week of games. We also appreciate the continued prayers for the team and the members of the team who aren't with us right now.
