October 22, 2013

As we were running our cool down lap after our 1-0 victory at Salem International last Tuesday, we ran through a pile of crunchy, beautifully colored leaves. Everyone cheered and laughed and it seemed to be the picturesque start to our perfect week of fall.

Wednesday we had our annual camp out at Carly's house. And while no gorillas from the boys team were tackled this year, it was still a night of great memories. At the onset of the night, Liz confiscated all of our phones so we spent the night disconnected to the world but completely focused on one another. I know that I talk about food a lot in this blog, but the food at the cookout was amazing and perfect for fall! We enjoyed grilling hot dogs and brats in the fire. We also had baked beans, chips, mac and cheese, caramel corn, apple cider, and caramel apples! Not to mention the s'mores we cooked later on.

Besides eating, we also had a wonderful time of Bible study, led by Bri, and worship, led by Katie. We sat around the fire playing games such as pterodactyl, the adverb game, and peel the onion. These produced some hilarious moments. I am continually amazed at how funny our team is. Our team is good at soccer, beautiful, and funny? No wonder so many of my teammates (and Bri) have recently gotten some shout-outs on the CU Crushes Facebook page. But anyways, back on topic: the camp out was the best and we are so thankful to the Gregory's for hosting us once again!

Friday was another fall break tradition that we like to call "Fall Day." This began with a trip to the orchard where we celebrated the fact that we were wearing normal clothes (as opposed to our standard t-shirts/sweats combo) by taking a ton of pictures in the pumpkin patch. We then bought some delicious apples and supplies for making pies that night. Next we headed over to Young's and ate Pumpkin Bumpkins. For those of you who are not Cedarville natives, a Pumpkin Bumpkin is a milkshake that is created with a whole piece of pumpkin pie blended in. Next was soccer practice and then we headed over to Coach Bri's house. There we successfully made four apple pies and chai tea lattes and only nearly burned the house down once. Melissa and Molly also baked a pumpkin pie and pumpkin soup from a real pumpkin! After our creations were cooled off, we enjoyed them and watched a movie. It was the perfect mix of rest and great food to fuel us for the important game ahead.

Even though Saturday's game against Ursuline was in the pouring rain, it was probably the most exciting game yet. We came back from behind twice to win the game 4-2. As freezing as it was, at each exciting goal, layers of puffy coats flew everywhere as our whole team jumped to our feet and celebrated with hugs and fist pumps. On the way home we got Chick-fil-A! And we got to watch the Lizzie McGuire Movie! I couldn't help but look around the bus and sing with Lizzie "This is what dreams are made of." Because that day and this season with this team - definitely what dreams are made of.

It was certainly a successful week. We broke our curse of never winning on Tuesdays and of never coming back after being a goal down. We are now 12-4 overall and 8-0 in our conference. We are one game away from having the best record in CUWS history. But in the midst of this greatness, we must not lose sight of our mission.

I was reading the book Radical this week and the author talks about how sometimes we can become caught up in the American dream and begin to think that greatness is accomplished by our own hard work and ability. However, God desires for us to live in a way that is so completely dependent on him that whatever success we do have unmistakably gives Him glory. I pray that as we finish our regular season and begin whatever comes next, we will continue to be a team that sees our dependence on God and our purpose in making His name great.
