ALUMNAE COMMEND CEDARVILLE CENTRAL STATE AFFILIATION

During a recent visit to the campus three graduates, Misses Esther Chesebro, Shirley Shirley and Grace Willetts, who are teaching school in Grand Rapids, Michigan, heartily commended Cedarville's affiliation with Central State College for teacher certification. They said that although they have been adequately prepared for the subjects which they are teaching, their biggest problem was the lack of student teaching experience. Now that students can receive this experience through the facilities of Central State, they stressed the importance of securing it, as it is necessary for certification as well as to prepare the teacher to face the problems of the classroom.

The girls emphasized the importance of public school teaching as a mission field. Even though they are limited to Scripture reading and a short prayer in the classroom, the children are very curious about the Gospel. They ask questions outside of class which open the door for witnessing.

CHOIR

The College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Richard Cooke, left for their first week end tour on Saturday, November 7.

Saturday evening the choir appeared at the Hebron Youth Rally, held at the First Baptist Church in Elyria, Ohio. Sunday morning the Choir sang in the Penfield Baptist Church in Lorain, Ohio. Before returning to the campus, they sang at Clintonville, Ohio.

FWM EXPANDS ITS PROGRAM

A vital new program, started October 26 by the Fellowship of World Missions, includes morning prayer bands, chapel services, bulletin board displays, and an office for missionary correspondence. Donald Lang, missionary to Chile, under ABWE, presented this program to missions-minded students during his visit to Cedarville College, October 7-9. Under the leadership of Merlin Ager, president, FWM prayer bands now meet in conjunction with Student Council prayer meeting at 7:30 a. m. each weekday. Monday through Thursday, the meetings are devoted mainly to presentation of and prayer for missionary needs, and the Friday meeting to college and individual prayer requests.

STUDENTS ELECT DISCIPLINARY BODIES

In a special election, conducted October 21, the classes of Cedarville College elected representatives for two new governing bodies, which were set up by the Student Council.

The purpose of these governments is, "To promote Christian living, through enforcement, by the students, of the rules set forth by Cedarville College," according to a statement from the Student Council.

In dealing with disciplinary problems, the governments are to follow the procedure recorded in Matthew 18:15-17, and Galatians 6:1. When it becomes necessary, they will mete out punishment for minor violations, but will turn major problems over to the Discipline Committee of the college.

A STUDENT ASKS "WHAT IS GOING ON?"

I was surprised the other morning to walk around the science building and see what looked like a tornado's track. A tree was down and the sidewalk was completely gone. All day the machinery made racket while I tried to study, and finally my curiosity got the best of me.

Why did they have to tear up the sidewalk? Were they trying to level the slope down to the chapel? And, how soon would it be until things would be back to normal? So, I did what a lot of kids do not take time to do. I asked, and here's the information which I received. The tree and sidewalk were torn up so the soil from the science building to the chapel could be terraced. There has been the problem of water getting into the chapel before and the terrace will check this.

Although the interior of the chapel was complete enough to hold services in on Sunday, November 8, the outside finishing touches will require considerably more time.

HOMECOMING

The Alumni Homecoming Weekend has been set for November 20, 21, 22. A full schedule of activities has been arranged, including a basketball game between the Varsity and Alumni, and a play entitled The Thread That Runs So True.

BONDS

Many of our friends have been asking "When will the Cedarville College bonds be ready for sale?" We continue to answer "Soon," but we have discovered that legal details take time. We are doing everything to make our bonds a safe investment for both the purchaser and the college. Within a few days now (we hope) a letter will be in the mail explaining the bonds. When the bonds are ready they will give you a 5% return on your money.

Two additional rooms in our library have become available this fall for use as reading rooms. One of these rooms contains the reference works and the other the current and bound periodicals.

GROWTH IN SERVICE

During the past year nearly 1,000 new books have been added to our library including twenty additional sets of reference works for student and faculty research. Soon to be ready for use are an information pamphlet file and visual aid department. We have the beginnings of a microfilm library and a new children's foreign language book section.
