"FOR THE WORD OF GOD AND THE TESTIMONY OF JESUS CHRIST"

MEET OUR FACULTY

Last month's Bulletin carried the names of eight new faculty members. Unintentionally, the name of Mr. Rodney E. Wyse was omitted. We apologize for this error and have asked him to write a personal testimony for this issue of the Bulletin. In the months ahead, other faculty members will be introduced to our readers. Now, meet Mr. Rodney Wyse:

"The biography of every Christian must of necessity have the same point of origin. Life, real living, begins at the instant we enter into a personal relationship with the Saviour. For me, this began at the age of 11 in the First Baptist Church of Stryker, Ohio. I was made very much aware of my need and as a result accepted Him who is the only author of life.

"My under graduate work was done at Wheaton College. Following this, I accepted a position with the Aro Equipment Corporation of Bryan, Ohio. After five years with the firm, I resigned to resume study at the School of Business of the University of Arizona where I subsequently received the degree of Master of Business Administration.

"Why teach business administration in a Christian school?? The answer is not altogether unobvious. The composition of the labor force is rapidly changing in the direction of academically trained white collar workers. Evangelicals have little representation in this influential segment of American life. If the church is to maintain an effective witness, it is essential that Christian young people be adequately trained to assume responsibility in areas such as business and politics as well as the fields of teaching, medicine, science, etc.

"The purpose of Cedarville College is not only to provide students with training for a future vocation or profession, but more importantly to instill within them the higher Christian purposes of witness and leadership laid down for us in the great commission.

"As a member of the faculty of Cedarville College, I count it a real privilege and challenge to assist in training young lives to serve Him."
