And just like that, the first two games of the season are over. We played hard this past weekend and came out with a 1-1 record. We were happy to get our first win, but also motivated because we also know the feeling of a loss. We had a great week of practice in preparation for Friday and Saturday. For all but five of us, it would be the first college basketball game of our careers. Needless to say, we were pretty pumped. Thursday night came around and we all gathered as a team in the locker room for our team dedication. Dr. Dixon, our chaplain, led us and we all prayed for our season and dedicated it to God. It was an awesome moment for our team.

When Friday finally came, the game was all we could think about. After classes were over and it was time for shoot-around, the reality of our first college basketball game being hours away began to set in. Everyone, including me, had worked and dreamed about this moment ever since we were little kids. About two hours before game time, Coach Estep said we had a guest speaker. The guest speaker was someone by the name of Dr. Thomas White. No one really knew who he was, but we figured he was a guest so we should listen. (kidding). Dr. White read out of the Old Testament in Judges 4. He concluded the reading by telling us to play without fear. This was very encouraging and stuck with the team. I remember hearing the saying "no fear" from some of the guys throughout the game.

When Dr. White said, "play without fear", it couldn't have been before a better game. As many of you know we ended up winning a thriller in double-overtime. I remember Coach telling us after the game that he kept trying to look for guys with experience to come off the bench to play in that situation, but we didn't have any. It really showed the heart we played with and also the fact that we played without fear. It felt awesome to get that first win, not to mention in front of the loudest crowd in D II basketball, a.k.a. the Jackets Nest!

The next day we had another game and many of us woke up sore as could be, but that wasn't going to hold us back. An ice bath before shoot-around seemed to wake everyone up. When game time came around we were once again very excited. Although the game didn't go our way, we all were able to take something away from it. We learned that we have a lot of room for improvement and that when we play together and in sync as a team, we can compete with anyone.

Last week, Coach Estep kept emphasizing that we "lock in" to everything we do and that is exactly what we plan on doing this week. Our next game is against a very good Findlay team at home on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. This will be a great test for us and we are already counting down the hours till game day. We also plan on having our full team back, as Marcus Reineke was out this last weekend with a pretty bad illness. We will all be glad to have his presence back on the court! Hope to see everyone on Thursday!!

"Success is never final, failure is never fatal. It's courage that counts." – John Woode

Lane Vander Hulst is a redshirt freshman forward from Roswell, NM. He is majoring in business management.

It didn't matter that Cedarville graduated six seniors from last year's 20-win men's basketball team. Head Coach Pat Estep maintained his philosophy of facing a grueling test which is evident in the 2013-14 Yellow Jacket schedule.

"With our youth, this schedule will once again be a challenge as in years past," Estep proclaimed. "So, we are going to have to learn what it takes to compete at this level quickly. We have one of the best small college atmospheres in DII so we are excited to get to play 15 home games."

The Jackets have won 118 times in five seasons under Estep including a 22-9 mark last winter in the school's first active Division II season. The defending Great Midwest Athletic Conference champs will have their work cut out for them this year.

"We lost about 70 percent of our offense after graduating six seniors including the conference Player of the Year," stated Head Coach Pat Estep. "We have some key veterans back, but the young players will have to mature quickly."

Despite the loss of lots of talent and experience, the G-MAC coaches selected Cedarville to finish second behind perennial power Kentucky Wesleyan in the pre-season poll.

Marcus Reineke, a 6-foot-2 junior guard from New Knoxville, Ohio, is the top returning scorer at 7.9 ppg. He sports a career .447 accuracy from beyond the arc.

Brian Grant, a 6-8 senior post from Kingston, Jamaica, averaged 7.5 points and 5.4 rebounds. Jason Cuffee, a 6-4 junior guard from Poca, W.Va., who transferred in from Wright State a year ago, averaged 7.4 points.

CU hits the road for a pair of Division I trips as part of the Cure UCD Classic. The Yellow Jackets play at Tulane on Nov. 20 and at Texas State on Dec. 4.

Cedarville welcomes Findlay (Nov. 14) and Grand Valley State (Nov. 30) plus makes a trip to perennial DII heavyweight West Liberty (W.Va.) on Dec. 17.

The G-MAC doubled in size from four to eight schools thus creating 14 league games. The list of newcomers includes eight-time NCAA champion Kentucky Wesleyan as well as four schools from West Virginia - Alderson Broaddus, Davis & Elkins, Ohio Valley, and Salem International.

"Our schedule is definitely challenging even without Tulane and Texas State," stated Estep. "We are playing some traditional powers in our region and our team will have to be ready to go from week one."

"We are really excited to be a part of the Cure UCD Classic that allows us to play two DI opponents. Those will be fun games for our players and our conference is going to be very difficult, too."
