CEDARVILLE, OHIO 45314

Dear Alumni,

As most of you know by this time, one more year will complete my service as president of Cedarville College. The trustees have asked me to serve as chancellor, so I will not be resigning nor quitting my relationship with the college.

During these past twenty-four years, I have been thrilled as I have witnessed young people graduate and then go on to serve successfully in the professions into which the Lord has led them. What many of you have accomplished makes whatever part I have had at Cedarville worthwhile and most rewarding.

Looking back in memory to 1953 and then taking a tour of the campus as we see it today gives a sense of satisfaction that comes only because God has been pleased to bless and provide for us in such a marvelous manner. The student body has increased in size beyond our fondest expectations. Facilities are more than we could even imagine back in those early years. At the beginning we could not anticipate the number of graduates who would go forth to serve the Lord in a variety of places and ways. Regional accreditation and state approval of teacher training were out of reach then but are now a reality. "The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad" (Psa. 126:3).

In the future I plan to do all I can to continue as a representative for the college. It is my prayer that I can continue to be kept busy in a Bible conference ministry. I plan to continue the daily radio ministry and conduct one or two tours to Israel each year. I am also looking forward to the opportunity to fellowship with many of you in the Alumni Association. Mrs. Jeremiah will be traveling with me and we want to see you in the churches and groups that may gather to hear about the college, as well as the regularly scheduled alumni meetings. We are both interested in encouraging and helping you in any way we can. Let's plan on some good times of fellowship together as we come to the places where you are living and serving the Lord.

Sincerely in Christ,

James T. Jeremiah
President

PASSING THE TORCH

HISTORY OF ALFORD AUDITORIUM

In 1804 David Mitchell and his wife, Margaret, as well as James Miller and his wife, Elizabeth, formed a prayer meeting on Clark's run, six miles from what is now Xenia, Ohio. They were soon joined by the families of James Reid and William Moreland. Others followed and a Reformed Presbyterian congregation was formed. Slowly but surely the church grew as the area's population increased.

In 1812 the congregation erected its first church ediface on Mr. Miller's farm, seven miles from Xenia. This church was used as a place of worship for twelve years. The church had not numbered over forty communicants at any time during this period.

From 1823 till the spring of 1829, Rev. Gavin McMillan preached about one-fourth of the time. He also stirred the congregation to build a more comfortable house for public worship, which was opened in 1824. It was erected on a lot two miles east of the old log church, six miles from Xenia and two miles from Cedarville, on the bank of Massies Creek.

In 1839 the congregation purchased another lot of ground adjacent to the old one, and built thereon a new church of brick. In 1853 the congregation determined to pull down the brick church and rebuild it in Cedarville, that being a more central place. By this time the old stone church was not fit for use, and those using it, not thinking it the right place for them, gave up their interest. Its materials were also used in the construction of the new edifices in Cedarville. Thus the fourth church had in it materials from the old churches of 1824 and 1839. The building was of brick, 45 x 67 feet with a twelve-foot vestibule, and was finished inside with the same pulpit and pews that were in the former church. (This fourth ediface is the one that was purchased in 1902 by Mr. William Alford, and donated to Cedarville College as a gymnasium, receiving the name of Alford Memorial, in honor of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. John Alford.)

FIRST CHURCH (1812)

SECOND CHURCH (1824)

THIRD CHURCH (1839)

During Dr. J. F. Morton's pastorate, the congregation enjoyed the steady growth that characterizes a mature organization. Two of the most notable events were the founding of Cedarville College in 1887 and the completion of the fifth church building in 1902. The fifth church now serves the congregation of Grace Baptist Church in Cedarville.

In 1962, when the new Gymnasium/Student Center was completed, Alford Memorial was transferred into a chapel in order to accommodate the growing student body. With the completion of the new chapel in 1976, the building again became destined for transformation.

The Alford Memorial now stands vacant awaiting renovation and addition which will provide a small theatre, offices and classrooms. This historic building has served four generations of Cedarville College students as a gymnasium, a chapel, and a theatre and will continue to serve with dignity as future students are entertained, counselled and taught in "Alford."

The historical portion of this presentation has been adapted from the 1909 Centennial Souvenir of The Cedarville Reformed Presbyterian Church.

Subsequent issues of Aviso in 1977 will present additional glimpses into Cedarville's ninety-year history.

Alumni often inquire concerning the quality and Christian testimony of the present students at Cedarville. Therefore, we thought you might like to see this "unsolicited testimonial" which was received by Dr. Jeremiah recently.

Dear Sir:

Several weeks ago, while enroute from Hong Kong to Manila, my family and I had the extreme good fortune to meet a group of young men representing Cedarville College. They were, of course, the Athletes for Christ who were just starting their Far East safari.

When we first saw them in the air terminal in Hong Kong, we were impressed by their appearance, their poise, and willingness to "mix and mingle." As the hours wore on while we waited for a recalcitrant airplane to be repaired, our initial impressions were only solidified. While we waited, I had the real pleasure of chatting with several of them, and was further refreshed by the experience.

This pretty clearly falls in the category of an unsolicited testimonial. As you can guess, I spend a lot of time working with students. Those I met from Cedarville College certainly fall in the "Superior" class.

Sincerely,

JAMES L. JONES
Executive Director

The Way We Were

1977 HOMECOMING SCHEDULE

Homecoming is a time to remember . . . the way we were. Some of those returning for the alumni activities will have been gone for fifty years or more. Others will have only recently attended Cedarville. But all have memories of days that have been shared with friends who are now seldom seen.

Homecoming '77 is being planned to provide a maximum of opportunity to meet with friends and to remember . . . the way we were. The Heritage Alumni Reunion will be a time of reacquaintance for friends and classmates. The parade will provide a visual reminder of days gone by.

There will also be a luncheon and a campus open house for all alumni in addition to the traditional Homecoming soccer games.

Alumni of all classes are invited to attend the Saturday evening dinner. However, those who are members of reunion classes should make a special attempt to be present, for many alumni who live a great distance from Cedarville can only return during reunion years.
