Expansion Program

During the past few years the Cedarville College student body has increased beyond the expectation of a great many of our friends. In 1957 our total enrollment was 119. In 1959 we had 255 students; 1961, 433, and the September semester of 1962-63 began with 455 attending classes.

In order to provide housing and other necessary facilities for this growing student body, the board of trustees has been faced with an extensive building program. Our resources for expansion have been limited but much has been accomplished because many of our friends have been willing to sacrifice to make the new buildings a possibility.

As we face the future with the possibility of a much larger student body, we must plan for further expansion. There are some immediate needs which we urge our readers to consider as you plan your gifts to Christian education.

Gymnasium-Student Center. This multi-purpose building does much more than provide a regulation size gymnasium. As we have pointed out before, the completion of this new unit will give us more classroom and dormitory space, a larger chapel-auditorium, a banquet hall, as well as new recreational areas. Because this new unit is so vital to our growth the trustees voted to complete it now instead of erecting it in sections as planned in the beginning. Since gifts were not received in sufficient amounts we have had to borrow money to complete the construction. Gifts to the Cedarville College expansion fund will help us meet this obligation.

College Farm. In order to plan for future expansion, additional land must be acquired. It is not always possible to purchase suitable property at the very moment it is needed. Therefore, when the farm adjacent to the main campus became available, the board of trustees felt that its purchase was imperative. This land with a house and barn has been added to our campus, giving us a total of almost 100 acres. The house will be used for dormitory space and the barn for storage. Payment for this additional land will be extended over a number of years, but we will be curtailed in building unless additional funds are made available for the farm and the buildings. Gifts to the expansion fund are needed for this newest project.

Equipment. Many more library books must be purchased if we are to raise our standards for accreditation. At least $15,000 a year should be used for the purchase of new books, but we have not been able to do this. In order to improve our science department, new and expensive equipment must be purchased. Gifts to the expansion fund designated for the library or science department, will be used for that purpose.

Last year many of our friends became members of the Cedarville College Opportunity Club by contributing a yearly gift of $100 to the expansion fund. We sincerely hope they will renew their membership for 1963-64 and that many others will join them. As a token of our appreciation to our Opportunity Club members, we have given them free admission to all of the college dramatic and athletic events on campus. The basketball schedule is printed in this issue of the Bulletin. We urge all of you Opportunity Club members to be our guests at all of the home games.

Remember, your gifts to Cedarville College are deductible from your income tax. Write today for a specially prepared pamphlet, "Maximum Benefits From Gifts to Cedarville College."

SEARS PRESENT GIFT TO CEDARVILLE COLLEGE FUND

Cedarville College was presented a check for $300 by Sears Roebuck and Co., Springfield, Wednesday, as part of the firm's $900,000 in unrestricted grants being given to privately supported colleges and universities. The money will go into the college's endowment fund.

R. L. Montgomery, spokesman for Sears, said the grants are for the purpose of helping institutions meet their increasingly critical financial needs. Under the program, 15 colleges and universities in Ohio will share in grants totaling $22,100. In the Springfield area, Wittenberg University and Cedarville were the two recipients.

Sears intends to continue its program so long as business conditions permit, Montgomery said. In addition to the company's new program of aid to education, another $700,000 will be given to institutions of higher learning by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, a non-profit corporation, to carry on charitable, scientific and educational programs.

E V A N G E L I S T I C M E E T I N G S

The Cedarville College Fall Evangelistic Meetings with Robert L. Sumner proved to be a real blessing and challenge to everyone who attended. There were two services daily and the messages dealt with the victorious Christian life.

Rev. Sumner has been in evangelistic work for approximately ten years, during which time he has traveled all over the United States. He is the author of several books including: Evangelism; The Church on Fire; A Man Sent from God, a biography of John R. Rice; and Hell Is No Joke.

When asked his impression of Cedarville College Mr. Sumner replied: "I was very favorably impressed. I was impressed with the growth of the school and the way the school is moving forward in every realm - numerically, academically, and spiritually. Dr. Jeremiah and his staff are doing a tremendous job. I wish they were able to get the financial support to do the job they would like to do in an even greater way."

PROSPECTIVE STUDENT

My name is Andy Large. I am ten years old. I live in Iquitos, Peru with my mother and dad, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Large. I also have two brothers. We are all here doing missionary work under the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism. Dad is the Director of our Baptist Bible Institute. The last time we were back in the States, dad spoke at a chapel service in Cedarville College. It was then that he got me this swell "T-shirt." Not many fellows in this jungle city have one like it. (My two brothers, of course, each have one!) All three of us boys hope someday to be students at Cedarville. My dad says it is the best College ever!

CORRECTION

Our last Bulletin listed the First Baptist Church of Willoughby, Ohio giving $50 to Cedarville during a 3 month period. This was an error on our part. It should read: "First Baptist Church of Willowick, Ohio" and the gifts totaled $80. We apologize for this error

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE "ON THE AIR"

WCDR-FM, the new Cedarville College educational radio station, is expected to start broadcasting December 2. It will operate on ten watts at a frequency of 88.1 megacycles and will have a range of approximately eight to ten miles.

The studio is located on the third floor of the Administration building, where Paul Gathany, chief engineer, and David Jeremiah, station manager, are busy preparing for their first broadcast. Mr. Gathany has just begun testing the equipment now that the transmitter is here and set up.

The faculty radio committee, consisting of Mr. John Reed, chairman, President James T. Jeremiah, and Miss Ruth Smith, is supervising the programming of the station. Members of the Radio and TV Speech class will assist in operating the station. Mr. Reed is inviting those who are talented and interested in this field to contact him for auditioning for a position on the staff.

The station will be operating from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. daily, and from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Sundays. The programming will include: The "Grace Hour," with the Rev. David Canine of Blanchester; a weekly message by Dr. Robert L. Sumner of Portsmouth, and another by the Rev. John Balyo of Cleveland; and the "Fellowship Hour," a Moody Bible Institute production.

There will be two dramatic features, "Miracles" and "Hymn History." Various live devotionals and a nightly quartet time, usually recorded, but with a live broadcast once a week, are being planned. "Word and Testimony" and "Melodies with a Message," two College productions now being aired over three area stations, will be part of the regular schedule. The Modern Music Masters plan to sponsor a daily hour of classical music.

All college basketball games will be presented play by play with away games given as delayed broadcasts.
