THIRTY-EIGHT

Foreward

To those who crossed the mountains to enter a brave new world, to those who decreed that in this country schools and education should forever be encouraged, to those who said that no person should ever be molested for his religious sentiments and that slavery should never exist-- to the founders of the "Northwest Territory, we dedicate this Codrus."

Our hope is that we as students entering a confused and troubled world may cherish the ideals which became a part of the Northwest Ordinance -- the ideals which today make our nation a citadel of liberty in a world full of oppression and tyranny.

Our belief is that Cedarville College has fostered these beliefs in the minds of thousands of young people and will continue to do so in the years to come.

We look to the spirit of the pioneer -- to his belief in freedom and equality for leadership today.

THE ADMINISTRATION

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

In the administration building are the executive and work offices, the college chapel, the educational library, the Y. W. C. A. room, and classrooms. Last summer many improvements were made in this building—a private office was provided for Dr. McChesney, a general work office was established, and a business office was set-up for Mr. Dorst.

Students of Cedarville have memories of many happy hours spent in "Old Main."

THE CARNEGIE LIBRARY

The Carnegie Library Building includes not only the library but the cooperative boarding club room, the social room, and the music studios.

The Carnegie Library has recently been redecorated and has been made a part of the Greene County library association. Many new books have been added to the volumes already there.

THE LIBRARY

THE GYMNASIUM

THE ALFRED MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM

The Alfred Memorial Gymnasium is the social center of the campus. Breath-taking minutes in basketball games, hilarious times at parties, the fellowship of banquets — all of these things take place in the gymnasium.

THE 1938 CEDRUS

THE SCIENCE HALL

The Science Hall is the newest addition to the College Campus. Students spend many long hours in this building investigating facts of the world of science. All of the laboratories are in this building. Most of the educational classes are also found here. This building was also redecorated last summer.

PRESIDENT

Dr. W. R. McCHESNEY

His inspired teaching, his loyal devotion, his friendly counsel and guidance have endeared him to students for almost half a century. Under his leadership Cedarville College has sent young men and women into all walks of life with a sense of duty to their fellow-men.

Through his classes he helps students find their great heritage of knowledge; through sermons and speeches he inspires multitudes and through public service he ardently upholds the ideals of temperance and education.

Dr. McChesney had given his life to Cedarville College. He has worked unfalteringly for the success and growth of this institution, and it is our hope that his dreams for Cedarville will soon be realized.

THE CLASS OF 38

THE 1938 CEDRUS

SENIOR CLASS

These warm sunny days remind me of the day we started to College. As I think back over the years, I smile when I remember our first Freshman party at Anderson's. I laugh outright when I remember how Mrs. Anderson turned the hose on the upper classmen.

In my train of thought come memories of coasting parties, hay rides, Bible Reading contests, pep meetings, snake dances, and pajama parades.

And our Junior Class play! I don't suppose that I shall ever forget it. Roy was so funny, and Justin—! Well, here we are Seniors ready to start out on our own. The good times we had at Cedarville will become a part of our day dreams.

COLLEGE BULLETIN 1950

We are very glad to hear that Mr. Harry Sinks has been found after having been captured by bandits in Central China some months ago. He is returning to Mrs. Sinks and children in Shanghai.

Coach Roy Linton, the popular baritone, recently led his high school team to the state tournament where they were ignominiously defeated by a score of 50-6.

Congratulations to the former Betty Shaw, class of '38, who is announcing the birth of twin sons, Uz and Buz.

Dr. Harold Shaw has recently published his thesis which was an exhaustive study on "Why Women Close Their Eyes When Kissed."

Mr. Philip Shupp, the eminent physician, was called last week to the home of Miss Suzie Barnes to perform an autopsy on "Poo-Poo," her favorite lap dog.

In the current issue of "Life" we see the smiling countenance of our own Rachel Creswell in an advertisement for Pebeco. Her smile has become nationally known.

There was recently a riot at the Palace Theater where the popular matinee idol, James Anderson, was featured in his second starring vehicle, "My Sin."

Mr. Howard Swaim has fulfilled the dream of half a century of Cedarville College and his own heart, when he endowed Cedarville College with a $50,000 Dormitory.

The Castle Gardens, just out of Cincinnati, have signed a long term contract starring "Mr. Kenneth Sanderson and his Bevy of Beefy Brunettes." They have originated a new dance which is sweeping the country.

We recently received a letter from Herbert Cummings, Reno, Nevada, where it is reported he is recovering from a weakened condition of the heart. This is Mr. Cummings' second trip to Reno.

It's good to hear that Martha Bryant is recovering in the hospital, where she is being treated for a broken toe. The accident occurred when Miss Bryant stubbed her toe on one of the pedals of the organ at "The Little Church Around the Corner."

Mr. Wilmott Fischer has just completed a successful world tour with his famous Cathedral Choir Boys. They have appeared before the crowned heads of Europe.

Miss Mildred McKibben was recently elected Secretary of the National W. C. T. U. Her activity in this work dated from Cedarville College days.

Mr. Justin Hartman, the eminent professor of Sociology at the J. James Hartman School for Girls, has been conducting an investigation of the Night Clubs in Cincinnati. This is an interest that has long been dear to his heart.

Mrs. Mary Johnston Rosenstein has returned to the stage after a year's leave of absence. She will be featured in her husband's production, "Dimpled Darling."

Mr. John Gillespie, President of the International Women's Garment Union, has been in Ladies' Underwear the last few months organizing that industry.

Our Past

Our Future

Harry Sinks—Miniature whirlwind—authority on cats, alligators and Chinese.

Howard Swaim—"Pa, I want to learn how to smoke."

Harold Shaw—His determination should carry him far. Hold It!

Martha Bryant—A good student and ambitious to become an organ professor.

James Anderson—Tall, dark, and handsome.

Kenneth Sanderson—Not especially romantic but might be moved on a moonlight night.

Betty Shaw—If she were a boy and had three brothers, she could be one of the "Four Horsemen."

Rachel Creswell—Her smile is almost as winning as Chubby Linton's.

Roy Linton—Chubby's cute smile will be missed by the girls of C. C. next year.

Herbert Cummings—Hobbies: wine, women, and song.

Mary Johnston—She uses her dimples to good advantage.

Philip Shupp—He knows a lot about worms.

Justin Hartman—He just missed fame since Cedarville didn't have a track team.

John Gillespie — He taught the seventh graders how to study.

Wilmott Fischer — "Amen — Praise the Lord!" Here is a real musician.

John Fox — Preacher . . .

JUNIOR CLASS

In September, 1935, sixty-five Freshmen (the largest class in the history of the college) entered the side door of Cedarville College — by request of the upper-classmen — to start on the long trail toward a diploma. After almost a week of initiation, we organized and settled down to business. We tried to have some feeds but the upper classmen were so interested in them that they nearly always arrived before the freshmen did.

We were represented on the basketball squad by five men — Roy Linton and Blutchter Gibson playing on the first team. Our class team won the intra-mural tournament. This helped to make up for our getting dipped in Willow Bend during Freshman Week. Two of our girls, Jacobs and Seamon, were cheerleaders; we also had representatives in debate and basketball.

Our Sophomore year was a busy one for about fifty of our members, for they were going through the ordeal of practice teaching. In the spare time we had we still entered all kinds of extra-curricular activities. At the end of basketball season we took time out to win the class tournament again, with cheerleaders Sisson and Tomlinson to help us yell.

Justin Hartman and Roy Linton left us to become Juniors, and at commencement time all the girls except two and several boys left us. Almost all of these people were successful in obtaining teaching positions and we hear that all of them are doing very good work.

As a result of that loss we started our Junior year with only sixteen members. John Fox was elected president of the class; Cecil Thomas, vice-president; Jane Frame, secretary; Bennett McNeal, treasurer. Bennett has had a hard year this year in the candy business, and we appreciate his efforts.

Again we are represented in athletics and other extra-curricular activities, and for the third year we have provided a cheerleader (Jane Frame) bringing our total to five. Since we did not give a class play this year, the big event of our year was the Junior-Senior Banquet held at the Dayton Y. M. C. A.

And now we are looking forward to the last lap of our journey, and we are hoping that next year will bring us safely to our destination.

Victor Shaw—Quiet . . . easygoing . . . fast driver.

Melvin Thompson—Haunts McChesney's . . . main ambition in life—to be a big league pitcher.

Mary Holway—Jolly . . . and does have a good time . . . came from Ohio State . . . teacher in West Jefferson.

Angus Murray—That New Englander . . . student of foreign affairs . . . the last of the Murray clan.

Kenneth McNeal—"Blue-beard" . . . cliff-dweller . . . curly hair . . . broad shoulders . . . star guard . . . Delta Kappa Sigma.

Clyde Walker—Blues singer . . . artist . . . good lirt . . . waiter at the "Blue Goose" . . . broad smile.

Raymond Sisson—A tenor, a lover, a poet . . . mathematician and logician . . . Delta Kappa Sigma.

Frances Kimble—Hard worker . . . violinist . . . teacher at Fletcher.

Noah Sharpe—Library janitor . . . Delta Kappa Sigma . . . popular.

William Loy—Keen dresser fast driver of a swell new car . . . man about town.

Beatrice McClellam—A singer with an unusual laugh . . . Chi Sigma Phi . . . can be found in the work-room most of the time . . . full of fun.

Fred Lott—Prophesies do come true—"This 'Lot' for sale." Delta Kappa Sigma.

Marthena Smith—Graceful . . . Grecian features . . . popular among the opposite sex.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

In the fall of 1936, we began our short but extremely eventful college careers.

Our first move was to select Eldon Gillespie as our president and in this capacity he effectively guided our activities throughout the term.

We patiently endured the humiliating experiences of Freshman Week. The most easily recalled catastrophe of this ordeal was suffered at Willow Bend, when our boys "only after a titanic struggle," were pulled headlong into its icy waters.

After this annual affair we seemed to get along much better with the upper classmen and by the end of the term had firmly established ourselves as worthy representatives of this fine old school.

This year the majority of our 1936-37 group has returned. This time we chose suave John Peterson as our chairman and he has ably conducted our progress throughout the majority of another college year.

We are particularly proud of our representatives in athletics. In basketball we were fortunate in placing a man on the varsity quintet. Several other Sophomores participated in this sport.

With spring baseball swinging into its first practice sessions, the Sophomores find themselves well represented by many eager applicants for varsity berths. Several of these men stand excellent chances for regular positions.

We have also received favorable recognition in the fields of scholarly endeavor and included within our group are several who rank high in music, dramatics and other worthwhile activities.

We have been happy in pursuing our studies in the delightful atmosphere provided by the college and surrounding community, and by the sincere and altogether wholesome environment created by our beloved faculty. Therefore, it is our desire that during our short stay at Cedarville our presence here will add to, rather than detract from this atmosphere, and that we as a class may profit accordingly.

FRESHMAN CLASS

September 8th, 1937, forty-three Freshmen were registered at Cedarville College. As if these Freshmen were not sufficiently afflicted with homesickness and embarrassment, the Sophomores with the aid of the Juniors and Seniors, heaped torment upon affliction. There were white-faced girls seen on the campus in pigtailed and boots, carrying pillow slips. There were boys with extra rosy cheeks and red lips, with hairbows and jewelry, carrying waste paper baskets. There were also a lot of upper classmen with the "tummy" ache because they had eaten too many suckers. There were rumors of long rides and walks in the darkness along strange roads. And finally there was a general ducking at Willow Bend; but the Freshmen persevered. They knew what they were after and they knew they could get it at Cedarville College as soon as the upper classmen forgot their jealousy.

One day during the first few weeks of school, they met in Dr. McChesney's room to organize. James Anderson, president of the student body, undertook the task of presiding over that quiet group. Getting nominations was like pulling teeth for nobody seemed to know anybody. After much patience was displayed by Mr. Anderson, and a little "loosening up" on the part of the freshmen, the following officers were elected: Richard McKnight, president; Louise Jacobs, vice-president; Elisabeth Anderson, secretary; Justin Northrup, treasurer; Mary Jean Townsley, news reporter; and Doris Ramsey, student council representative.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

There were four students enrolled in the college this year as postgraduates. Everett Keener attended Cedarville College only the first semester, working on his A. B. degree. Mr. Keener is a graduate of the Cumberland University Law School at Lebanon, Tennessee. He is expecting to return to Cedarville College in the future to complete his course. The other special students, Mr. Frank Wiley, Mr. John Taylor, and Mr. Robert McKibben are enrolled in the Cedarville Seminary.

THE SEMINARY

Under the able instruction of Dr. W. R. McChesney and Dr. F. A. Jurkat, the three students of the Cedarville Seminary are nearing the close of the first year of their work. The three men are Mr. John Taylor, who comes to us from India, where he lived for the first sixteen years of his life with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Taylor, missionaries of the Reformed Presbyterian Church at Boorkee, India. Coming to America he finished the last two years of his high school course at Stafford, Kansas. His college work was taken at Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, where he was active in the Christian and athletic activities of the college.

Mr. Robert McKibben, son of The Reverend Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McKibben of the United Presbyterian Church, was born at Fairfield, Iowa. He has received his schooling in a number of different states. His high school work was taken at Seaman, Ohio, and his college work at Marysville, Tennessee. He has been active in the religious organizations of the college and his home church.

Mr. Frank Wiley of Wapello, Iowa, received all of his pre-college work in his home state, going to college at Geneva at Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania. He taught for a number of years at Frenchburg, Kentucky.

The Seminary was organized under the capable leadership of Mr. Taylor, who was elected president. The members of the Seminary are also members of the religious organization, "The Gospel Team," of Cedarville College.

During the past year those who are in the education department have been endeavoring to reach the goal of efficient teaching. Good teaching is by no means an easy accomplishment as many have found out, but the high aim of efficient teaching is attained only by much perseverance, work, and whole-hearted interest. It was with fear and trembling that many took over the actual duties as teachers but this feeling soon disappeared as they became accustomed to the situation and grasped the true spirit of their work.

The practice teachers sincerely feel that they owe much to their instructors and critic teachers for their guidance and helpful criticism, which aided them to correct many of their mistakes as beginners.

Mr. Hostetler, as head of the education department, has by his untiring efforts, maintained the high and worthy standards of the teaching profession.

PRACTICE TEACHERS

Organizations

On the frontier progress came through cooperation. Each had his own task but also contributed to the common welfare.

● The organizations of Cedarville College work together for their mutual development - always striving to help both the college and the individual student.

Sitting: Doris Ramsey, Mary Johnston, Ray Linton, John Fox, Russel Roberts, Betty Shaw.

The Student Council of Cedarville College consists of the President of the College, the College Deans, the officers of the student body, the presidents and one other member from each class.

The Council again sponsored our weekly school paper the "Whispering Cedars." It has also cooperated with the Business Manager, Mr. J. L. Dorst, in securing the names of high school seniors and other prospective students.

The Council consists of the following members: W. R. McChesney, President of the College; J. L. Dorst, Business Manager; H. Santmyer, Dean of Women; C. W. Steele, Dean of Men; J. Anderson, Pres. of the Student Body; M. Johnston, Sec. of Student Body; R. Linton and B. Shaw, president and representative of the Senior Class; J. Fox and N. Sharpe, President and representative of the Junior Class; J. Peterson and R. Roberts, President and representative of the Sophomore Class.

Sitting: Roy Linton, Russel Roberts, Cecil Thomas, Martha Bryant, Kenneth Sanderson, Betty Shaw, Beatrice McClellan, Geneva Clemans, James Anderson.

Standing: Harold Shaw, Bennett McNeal, Mary Johnston, Justin Hartman.

Under the efficient leadership of James Anderson, this year's annual has gradually taken form. To produce an annual requires long hours of work for those involved, yet we feel the experience gained has repaid the effort. Each member of the staff has been more than willing to do his share of the work.

Martha Bryant, as business manager, has handled the finances in an admirable manner. Mary Johnston, the organization editor, has spent many long hours in getting this book in its present form. Justin Hartman, with his literary ability, has managed the features and other write-ups. Harold Shaw, our snapshot editor, has worked up a lot of interest in snapshots, the results of which one can see in our book. Clyde Walker, our artist, deserves special recognition for his work in helping to carry out the scheme of this book.

Our hearty thanks go to Mr. Gibson, our faculty advisor, the business men whose ads are featured, and to all the students and friends whose hearty cooperation has made this publication possible.

WHISPERING CEDARS

The Whispering Cedars was very ably edited by Bennett McNeal. His ceaseless effort was the chief reason the Whispering Cedars reached its height of popularity. Every Friday at noon there was a mad rush of the students to get their weekly issue of the college paper. We were always certain we would see such names as Harold Shaw, Eugene Kavanaugh, and Ted James, on the scandal page because of their various romantic escapades.

The editorials were always timely, practical and interesting. Each week articles by the students were published on subjects that were of interest to all.

Assisting the editor in assembling the paper were Roy Linton, Business Manager; Pauline Ferguson and Marie Collins, typists. The success of this year's paper has resulted from the cooperation of members of the student body with the staff in helping to make each issue interesting and helpful.

Sitting: James Anderson, Mrs. Ault, Justin Hartman.

Standing: Harold Shaw, Raymond Sisson, Cecil Thomas.

DEBATE

The debate teams of Cedarville College have had a very successful season this year. The affirmative team consisted of Ray Sisson, Cecil Thomas and Harold Shaw. The negative team was composed of James Anderson and Justin Hartman. The coach of the debate squad of Cedarville College was Mrs. Marguerite C. Ault, who deserves much credit for her persistence and patience in molding a forensic team.

The first debate was with Rio Grande College, the teams splitting the decision. Dr. Breese of Wittenberg College, head of the Department of Speech, judged the debates. Later in the season both teams met Wilberforce University in a non-decision debate.

Then the teams went to Cincinnati where the negative team debated the Cincinnati Bible Seminary. The next stop was at Dayton University at Dayton. The negative team won by a decision of the Dayton U. Public Speaking classes. The affirmative debate was non-decision.

The final stop was at Manchester, Indiana, where the debate tournament was held. Cedarville had to go to Huntington because of crowded conditions at Manchester College. The teams considered the trip a success, having won 4 out of 12 debates.

The question for debate this year was "Resolved that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration of all industrial disputes."

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association gives every young man at Cedarville College an opportunity for fellowship and service. Each Wednesday morning a program of worship, instruction, and entertainment is presented.

Some of the principal speakers and their topics of the year have been:

Rev. Bob Copeland, Pastor of U. B. Church at Brookville—"Founding a Christian Home."

Mr. Walter Edwards, General Secretary of Y. M. C. A. of Springfield—"Religion's Value in Living."

Dr. Alexander, Assistant to President of Antioch College—"Horace Mann."

J. Reed Miller, Speaker at Day of Prayer for Colleges last year—"The Certainty of God."

Prof. A. J. Hostetler, Professor at Cedarville College—"The Educated Man."

Rev. C. C. Hankins, Chaplain at O. S. & S. O. Home—"The Philosophy of Life."

Rev. R. J. Turrell, Pastor of Bethlehem M. E. Church of Cincinnati—"Spiritual Preparation for War."

Dr. Samuel Grothwell—"Tinkers and Thinkers."

Dr. T. Z. Koo of Shanghai China—"The Chinese Situation in the Orient."

Mr. Cornwell, Chief of Police of Xenia—"Police."

Mr. Weaver, President of Columbus Gas & Fuel Co.—"The Pursuit of Happiness."

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. has flourished unusually well this year. The membership has been large and the meetings well attended.

The first event of the year was the Y. W. Tea held at the home of Jane Frame. Here all the girls had a chance to get better acquainted.

In November the annual Committal Service, in memory of Frances McChesney, was held at the Presbyterian Church. At this service the girls were officially taken into the Y. W. This service is very beautiful and impressive. It was efficiently led by our President, Mary Johnston.

In December the "Secret Pal" party was held at the home of Mildred McKibben. The party was a success and everyone was pleased as well as surprised to find out who her "Secret Pal" was.

Our "Mad-Hatter" party proved to be one of the hilarious parties of the year. Everyone wore a "mad-hat" creation and a prize was awarded the best hat. Games of all descriptions were played until everyone was out of breath. Some of the students modelled their clothes for the style show which was a noted success. To climax the evening we girls tried to give the "Mock Wedding." Due to the kidnapping of the bride (Mary Johnston), the groom (Martha Bryant) was left alone and the preacher (Betty Shaw) was left without a fee.

The last event of the year was the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The daughters prepared a delicious banquet for their mothers. Everyone enjoyed meeting the mothers and all had a grand time.

Second Row: Glenna Basore, John Fox, Beatrice McClellan.

Third Row: Bennett McNeal, Roy Linton, Mary Johnston.

A College Boarding Club, organized by the students, has been successfully maintained this semester. Roy Linton was elected Steward and President; John Fox, Vice-President; Florence Pidgeon, Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Johnston, and Bennett McNeal, assisted by Mrs. Morton, menu committee; Cecil Thomas, Ruth Stebbins, and Beatrice McClellan, social and publicity committee.

The members purchased games which were enjoyed before and after the two daily meals.

The Club, organized on a cooperative basis, has served delicious meals at a very reasonable cost.

DRAMATIC CLUB

To start the year with a bang (—and what a bang!) the club sponsored a hay ride. With a truck packed with pleasure seekers we drove from Xenia to Yellow Springs, then on to Springfield where Benny McNeal (trying to drive with one hand—so they say) nearly landed us all in the police station. Some weeks later Benny received an itemized bill of $112.50 for lamp post fixtures.

This year we have tried to create more interest in the meetings by presenting a series of one act plays, among which were: The Wedding Present, The Florist Shop, The Tale of a Shirt, Girls Will Be Girls, Lovely Lady, the court scene from The Merchant of Venice, and You Can Never Tell What a Woman Will Do. These plays were directed and acted by members of the club under the supervision of Miss Basore and Miss Santmyer.

The Club has also staged some three act plays sponsored by various organizations. The climax of the Dramatic Club's efforts was The Late Christopher Bean, a popular Broadway hit and screen play.

THE MIXED CHORUS

The largest singing organization on the campus is the College Mixed Chorus, composed of thirty-six members, with their accompanists, Martha Bryant at the organ and Rachel Harriman at the piano. They gave two important concerts during the year—at Christmas time, "The Holy City" by Gaul, and on Easter night, "The Crucifixion" by Stainer. At other times during the year they took trips and broadcast over WHIO, Dayton, on April 10th. They gave both religious and secular programs, singing in choir robes and maintaining a dignified appearance, as well as a high standard and caliber of singing. They presented the special music at all college convocations and at the Men's Bible Reading Contest, as well as at the special church meetings in March.

Everywhere they were hailed with warm praise and enthusiasm.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The sixteen members of the Girls' Glee Club worked incessantly during the year, not only in learning music and in giving concerts, but also in selling eats at the basketball games to pay for their uniforms, blue and gold sweaters worn with blue skirts. They rendered the special music at the Girls' Bible Reading Contest March 27th, and presented spring secular programs at the end of the year. Their Christmas Carol Concert and Bazaar, interrupted by icy weather, was given in chapel before the whole student body.

The skating party on April 12th, sponsored for the whole school, with the High School Seniors as guests, climaxed a series of busy activities which required the cooperation of every girl in the Glee Club.

First Row: Rachel Creswell, Florence Ferguson, Donna Zeller, Helen Mossbarger, Mrs. Creswell, Marie Collins, Louise Jacobs, Margaret Olinger.

Second Row: Betty Rowe, Dorothy Kennon, Betty Shaw, Pauline Ferguson, Mary Johnston, Junia Creswell and Martha Bryant, pianist.

COLLEGE QUARTETTES

A new organization on the campus this year, the Melody Maids, was composed of Mary Jean Townsley, Rachel Harriman, Elisabeth Anderson, and Junia Creswell, all Freshman girls. They sang at various functions on and off the campus, and wore their costume dresses in orange and blue for their performances. Being so well received their first year, they hope to continue their melody together as long as they are in College.

The boys' quartette, the College Harmonizers, comprised of Ray Sisson, Don Foulks, Fred Lott, and John Peterson, which achieved unusual success last year, again held on to their fine reputation this year. They gave innumerable concerts, both sacred and secular, under the direction of Mildred Bickett Creswell, Director of Music.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The musical activities of 1937-38 brought to the campus and to numerous outside engagements, programs which will long be remembered by all. More than half of the student body registered for musical courses, and the keen interest shown in every phase of its work, indicates the degree of interest with which Cedarville College students enter into a fully developed musical program.

Besides the private lessons in organ, piano and voice, and theory lessons in harmony, solfeggio, history of music, orchestration and pedagogy, a number of extra-curricular activities were maintained, such as, the Mixed Chorus of thirty-six members, the Girls' Glee Club of sixteen members, the Melody Maids (freshman girls' quartet) and the Harmonizers (boys' quartet). All of these organizations rehearsed regularly and learned a high standard of repertoire, giving programs at nearby churches, schools and club meetings.

Recitals were given at various intervals during the year, both at the local churches and in the college chapel. This broad musical activity program offered every student ample opportunity to engage in that phase which interested him most. The whole work of the department is under the direction of Mildred Bickett Creswell, Director of Music.

As a special activity in the Music Department during the second semester the organ students were organized into a class which studied the mechanical construction and registration of organ stops under Mrs. Creswell's direction. The class met once a week aside from their lessons, studying the organ and its possibilities and worked out charts of special registrations on the Presbyterian Church Organ. Recitals were given in which every member of the organ class participated. At the end of the course those who had completed all requirements were prepared to teach the organ and to play it in a superior manner.

Mary Margaret McMillan, Dorothy Kennon, Mrs. Creswell, Martha Bryant, Rachel Harriman, Louise Jacobs, Elisabeth Anderson, Ted James, and James Anderson at the organ.

THE GOSPEL TEAM

The Cedarville College Gospel Team under the direction of Donald Foulks has experienced one of the most active years in its history. The team has presented more than twelve programs in Xenia, Jamestown, Cedarville, Bowersville, Plattsburg, South Vienna, Catawba, and other rural churches. Every member of the team has participated in one or more of these worship services either as a speaker, musician, or devotional leader; and each one has enjoyed this experience of presenting Christianity to others. The team has not only had an enjoyable time in presenting these programs; but was royally entertained by the ladies of the Methodist Church at Lytle and in the home of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ross McNeal of Plattsburg.

Membership in the Gospel Team has afforded a real opportunity for students to popularize the Christian principles of Cedarville College and to present to some churches a few of the ideals of youth.

DELTA KAPPA SIGMA

The Delta Kappa Sigma Fraternity has been hampered very much this year by the lack of a house. We were forced to move out of our rooms in the bank building when it changed hands. Our activities of the year consisted of an all school party, tag day, and several "pep meetings." The fraternity did much to keep the good old college spirit alive.

The officers were Roy Linton, President; Herbert Cummings, Vice-President; Bennett McNeal, Secretary-Treasurer; and Noah Sharpe, Sergeant-at-Arms. Later in the year John Peterson assumed the duties of the president. Fred Lott and Noah Sharpe were also elected as new officers.

Although the fraternity has not been so active this year as we would have liked, we feel the year has been successful and worthwhile because of the everlasting friendships which we have formed.

ALPHA THETA TAU

During the first semester this year, four new members were pledged to Alpha Theta Tau Sorority. Since some of them were practice-teaching, they did not ride the goat until their work was finished. At the ride, which was held at the home of Mrs. Kling, they received the "good wishes" of the other members. Dorothy Bennett was declared the windiest girl in the crowd, and she kept two girls busy for five minutes brushing off the flour. The pledges were required to furnish the refreshments, but the big mistake made by the rest of us was in promising to eat whatever was prepared for us. A menu of raw-oyster salad, salty milk, and graham crackers filled with a mixture of caramel and inner tube is not exactly our idea of an excellent meal, but we did our best.

On February 17, a second group of girls ran the gauntlet for dear old Alpha Theta Tau. Amid the odors of special A O T perfume and burning hair, the girls did not appear to be very brave, but they stayed with it and came out victorious over the goat. Crazy hats, raw oysters, paddles, a walk through town, and pictures of the boy friends of the pledges were among the highlights of the evening. (Some of the fellows around here would not appreciate it if they could see the pictures presented with their names.) Formal initiation took place on May 17, and now the girls are real members of Alpha Theta Tau.

Besides our initiations, we have had many other interesting meetings and parties—especially those when some of the group insisted on playing truth and consequences.

To the members who will leave us at commencement time, we wish much success as they start to teach. We are hoping to see our new members back next year ready to take up the job of keeping life in our sorority.

Center: G. Jesson, G. Clemans, M. Bartley, M. Johnston, Miss Basore, B. McClellan, W. Kelso, M. Bryant, B. Shaw, P. Ferguson, R. Tavenner.

Under the supervision of Miss Basore and the leadership of Presidents Frances Kimble and Genevieve Jesson, the sorority has flourished this year.

There were only three active members left when classes started in the fall. The first thing that was done was to initiate the pledges left from last year.

Extensive plans for the year were made early in the first semester at a dinner party given by Frances Kimble. During the Christmas vacation we welcomed our alumni and initiated two pledges at a luncheon at the College Club.

Pauline Ferguson entertained the sorority at a dinner to open the new semester. Seven Freshmen were pledged and for the first time pledge pins, in the form of silver keys, were presented.

This last semester, instead of using one of the college rooms for our meetings, we secured the use of a room at Mrs. Morton's. We have offered something new in the line of stationery to the students of the college. We have secured stationery with the college seal on it.

With the help of Jessica Taylor, we have selected two sorority songs. We feel that the programs at our meetings, including book reviews, etiquette lessons, and the display of musical talent, have proved very profitable as well as interesting.

The fun we've had together at pot-luck suppers, theater parties and such, have helped form lasting friendships which mean so much. The pledges were given a good work-out at the all-college party we sponsored this spring.

We are ending our school year with a party for the alumni. We look forward to a good time at our summer camping week at Indian Lake. So with hopes that our sorority will in the following years come to mean more and more to its members and will make itself felt on the campus, we close a year filled with happy memories.

BASKETBALL

The Cedarville College Basketball Team closed its third consecutive successful season by winning eight decided victories in its fifteen games scheduled. Of the seven games lost, three were lost in overtime tilts, one by a one point margin, one by two points, and the final Wilmington game by a four point margin. The 1937-38 quintet added two teams to its regular opponents of the preceding year—Wilberforce and Giffin College of Van Wert.

In conference play Cedarville College tied for second place with Defiance, winning three and losing three league games.

High scorer for the Yellow Jackets is Howard Swaim, who has played his fourth and last year for Cedarville College. Kenneth McNeal and Russel Roberts, junior and sophomore, were not far behind in the sharp shooting. In addition to Swaim the quintet will miss Roy Linton at guard who has ably captained the team throughout the season. Clyde Walker, a junior, played commendable basketball in the setups and promises to be a real asset to the '38-'39 quintet. In addition to Roberts, McNeal, and Walker next year will see Wiseman and Kavanaugh, freshmen lettermen of outstanding ability, in there fighting to make it one more successful season.

BASEBALL

The baseball team is looking forward to another successful season on the diamond. The Yellow Jackets finished second in the Northwest Conference last year. Several regulars are back this year; so we are looking for the Cedarville College baseball team to be near the top of the conference again.

The team should be strengthened somewhat by some freshmen boys who appear to have what it takes to be a baseball player.

The regulars who are back from last year are James Jackson, catcher; Melvin Thompson, pitcher; Clyde Walker, first baseman; Raymond Sisson, second baseman; John Gillespie, fielder; Elden Gillespie, third baseman; and Cecil Thomas, fielder.

Miami University of Oxford will appear on the schedule again after several years' absence from C. C. athletic calendar, and the boys hope to raise their prestige by defeating the "Redskins."

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Women's Physical Education class of Cedarville College has had a very successful year under the supervision of Miss King.

After some very beneficial training they were taken to Cincinnati to participate in the play day exercises. The sports in which they were entered were basketball and volley ball.

The girls came home with two victories. They played the University of Cincinnati in volley ball and won by a score of 22-21. They played the University of Kentucky in basketball and won by a score of 39-14. Orena Marshall, an outstanding member, was the high point player. Edgington and Henderson, our fast running forwards, aided Orena in making the high score.

Anderson and Townsley played a strong defensive game. Harrison and Clemans showed their ability in playing the position of guard.

Our volley ball team consisted of our basketball team with the assistance of Grace Bickett and the coach, Anna King.

We are very pleased with the success of our team; as it ranked very high in the sports in which it participated at Cincinnati.

We hope that in the coming years Cedarville College will have such a fine group as they have had in the past year.

MEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Here is a brief account of what happened in the Boys' gym class this year.

In the beginning of the year we played soft ball and some hard ball out on the campus. As the weather grew colder, we turned to that superdynamic sport called soccer, with a few football scrimmages mixed in.

The month of November found us in the gym doing exercises; such as jumping, running, swinging on the parallel bars, and doing many other gymnastics. After about three weeks of these exercises we took up volley ball. This proved to be fun for all of us.

But soon volley ball gave way to King Basketball; and, while he reigned, we had fun and exercise both mental and physical, mixed well and served hot. We gave the varsity and the second teams something on which to work out—and we made them work!

King Basketball abdicated in favor of good King Baseball. Many of the boys took up this game seriously, while others just stayed with soft ball. This we did all spring.

It is our business to make strong bodies as well as strong minds, and we think each one of the boys will agree that he is harder now than he was when he started this course.

3rd row: Orville Labig. John Gillespie, standing.

THE 1938 CEDRUS

Coach Ault and his two assistants have ably handled the physical education program of Cedarville for the past year. Miss Anna King has directed the Girls' Physical Education and has especially emphasized the active sports. John Gillespie has been in charge of the boys' physical education class.

Cedarville — Rah! Cedarville — Rah!
Rah! Rah! Cedarville!

Jane Frame and Merieum Foulk were Cedarville's lively cheerleaders for the 1937-38 basketball season. They were a large factor in the success of our team with their peppy yells and enthusiastic leadership. The new bright uniforms of orange and blue added to their effectiveness.

During the 1937-38 season Cedarville College was well represented with basketball officials who journeyed to High Schools in Greene and other surrounding counties to officiate several basketball games.

Those that took part in these games were Roy Linton, Herbert Cummings, John Gillespie and James Jackson, who were members of the O. H. S. A. A.

Features

Life has always been more than sleeping, eating, and working. Parties, songs, celebrations gayly punctuated the otherwise dull life of the pioneers.

The traditional Cedar Day pageant, breath-taking games, and moving dramas: all these help to make Cedarville College.

Y. W. COMMITTAL SERVICE

The members of the Y. W. C. A. reconsecrated themselves in a lovely candle-light service at the Presbyterian Church, November 18th. The freshmen girls took the vow for the first time.

The service was introduced by a fifteen-minute organ recital by Martha Bryant and impressive music furnished by the girls' quartet.

The girls, old members and new, lighted their candles from those of the cabinet and followed the president in a lovely recessional.

CLASS TOURNAMENT

The first game of the class tournament between the Sophomores and the Seniors was the highlight of the tournament. It seemed certain victory for the Sophs, who were leading one point with only ten seconds to go, when Kenny Sanderson looped in a one hand shot from the corner of the floor.

In the second game of the tournament the Freshmen won easily by a score of 36 to 24. The finals proved to be a battle from the start; however, the Seniors succeeded in nosing out the Freshmen 36 to 31. This was the second straight year these boys won the class tournament. A beautiful blue and gold cup was presented to the Senior team.

METHODIST PARTY

On September 28th, 1937, the Epworth League of the Methodist Church entertained the student body and faculty at the college gymnasium. The group entered wholeheartedly into a snake dance, the couples winding in and out among the secluded spots of Cedarville. Entertainment in the form of musical games was conducted by members of the Young People's Department of the Methodist Church, and the party was concluded with delicious refreshments served by the mothers of these young people.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Spooks and witches reigned at the college gymnasium on October 28th during the annual Hallowe'en Festival. The guests entered the back door and wound their way through a long, dark passageway filled with air blasts, electric shocks, dead rats, and ghosts. Appropriate decorations of fodder, pumpkins, and autumn leaves filled the gymnasium.

Everyone was requested to be masked as a "hayseed," and the group presented a strange assortment of country parsons, constables, scarecrows, and just plain "hicks." After a lively entertainment consisting of rustic contests, the Virginia Reel, and other games, delightful refreshments of apples, doughnuts, and cider were served.

PRESBYTERIAN PARTY

An "Indoor Track Meet" was held Thursday evening, September 9th, in the parlors of the First Presbyterian Church. On this occasion the faculty and students of the college were guests of the Christian Endeavorers. As they arrived, the students were divided into four groups representing Cedarville and three of its keenest rivals in collegiate circles. Strangely enough, running off the events of the meet revealed just who may be called "sober-sides," "best needle threaders," and "string-chewers." Cedarville, of course, was victorious. Refreshments were served in the dining room. The evening was closed with a song and a welcome to the students by Rev. Adams and one of the Endeavorers.

Y. M. AND Y. W. MIXER

On the evening of September 21, the college was entertained at the gym by the Y. W. and Y. M. The guests were greeted by a committee who gave instructions to hunt names of those who were unknown. The names were used later for a game of bingo. Games of other types were enjoyed during the evening, including the Grand March and other musical games. The evening was climaxed by refreshments of pumpkin pie, cider, and doughnuts served in an elegant manner.

"THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN"

The Dramatic Club presented Sidney Howard's comedy, "The Late Christopher Bean" on December 9, in the Cedarville Opera House.

Miss Genevieve Jesson portrayed in a delightful manner the role of Abby—the Haggett's servant. The story concerns a group of pictures which the late Christopher Bean had painted and which no one had taken seriously with the exception of Abby. In the final act it is revealed that Abby is Mrs. Christopher Bean and the rightful owner of the now-valuable pictures.

The other members of the cast did a fine piece of acting with their roles as follows: Dr. Haggett, Justin Hartman; Mrs. Haggett, Jane Frame; Susan Haggett, Mary Johnston; Ada Haggett, Mary Jean Townsley; Warren Creamer, John Peterson; Gallant, Fred Lott; Rosen, John Gillespie; Davenport, James Anderson.

The play was under the able direction of Miss Glenna Basore.

Y. M. C. A. MINSTREL

The Y. M. C. A. presented its bi-annual minstrel, Thursday evening, April 21, in the Cedarville Opera House. The stage setting was the inside of a barn—baled straw, pitchforks, and a pony added realistic touches.

Mr. John Fox, as interlocutor, and the end men kept the audience in an uproar throughout the evening. Special skits were presented by Harry Sinks, John Taylor, Harold Shaw, Cecil Thomas and Justin Hartman.

The chorus accompanied by Wilmott Fischer sang both traditional and popular numbers. A hill-billy band and several solos completed the program.

CEDAR DAY

The annual Cedar Day festival was held on the morning of June 2 on the College Campus.

Miss Dorothy Anderson, the May Queen, and her attendants came in to "Pomp and Circumstance" and began the festivities. The queen was crowned by last year's May Queen, Anna Jane Wham.

The pageant itself was a dramatization of the old Greek myth of Demeter and Proserpina which related how our seasons originated. The story told of how Proserpina was seized by Pluto and taken to the underworld. This part was done magnificently by Gale Ross who rode in a realistic Greek chariot drawn by two black horses gaily adorned in flowers and wreaths.

Mr. John Richards, the Cedar Day orator, spoke on the physical qualities of the Greeks and our need for a program of physical education in America today. The pageant was planned and presented by the Dramatic Club under the leadership of Miss Santmyer.

CONVOCATION SERVICE

The forty-third annual Convocation service was held in the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, September 19.

Dr. Ross Miller, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Springfield, delivered a heart-searching message. The music for the occasion was under the supervision of Miss Bickett.

BOOSTER BANQUET

The second annual booster banquet for Cedarville College was held October 15, in the Alfred Memorial Gymnasium. The featured speaker was the Honorable Myers Y. Cooper, former governor of Ohio. He spoke on some of the problems which face us as a nation today. Dewitt S. Morgan, superintendent of Indianapolis schools, also made a short address. A large number of alumni, students, and friends of Cedarville College attended.

MEN'S BIBLE READING CONTEST

The Men's Bible Reading Contest, which for years has been sponsored by Dr. C. M. Ritchie, Cedarville, was held in the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday, November 7.

John Gillespie won first prize; Justin Hartman, second; John Fox, third; Raymond Sisson, fourth; and Ted James, fifth.

The College Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Bickett Creswell, furnished special music for the program.

HOMECOMING

The largest Homecoming in the history of Cedarville College was held in the Alford Memorial Gymnasium, Saturday, February 5th. Three hundred and six college alumni, students, and friends attended this annual affair which is presented to promote and maintain a deeper friendship between alumni and students of their Alma Mater.

After a bountiful dinner served by the Ladies' Advisory Board of Cedarville College, the Yellow Jackets met the Rio Grande Quintet in a thrilling contest which was anybody's ball game to the very end. The score at the half time was 15 - 13, Cedarville. At the beginning of the second half the Yellow Jackets came through with eight points while holding the Rio Grande boys scoreless. With the score at 23 - 13 Rio Grande rallied and tied the score at 23 all. Cedarville then gained a small lead which it held throughout the remainder of the game. The final count was Cedarville 30 - Rio Grande 27.

WOMEN'S BIBLE READING CONTEST

Sunday, March 27, fourteen young women participated in the annual Bible Reading Contest of Cedarville College. Music was furnished by the College Glee Club and the College Harmonizers.

The prizes were awarded as follows: Rachel Creswell, first; Rachel Harriman, second; Mary Johnston, third; Grace Bickett, fourth; Beatrice Gray, Rosalyn Guthrie, and Genevieve Jesson tied for fifth.

Y. W. TEA

The annual Y. W. Tea was held at the home of Jane Frame on September 16th, 1937. A musical program was presented which included the following numbers: piano solo, Mrs. Mildred Creswell; vocal solo, Rachel Creswell, accompanied by Junia Creswell on the violin; vocal duet, Beatrice McClellan and Jane Frame.

Mary Johnston, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Virginia Townsley, the Y. W. hostess, presided at the tea table. After the refreshments, the girls spent a pleasant time in renewing old friendships and making new acquaintances among the freshman girls.

MOCK WEDDING

The Y. W. sponsored a Mad Hatter's party, March 21st. Some of the latest spring models will have to look to their medals, for the hats introduced at that party displayed unparalleled taste, dignity, and beauty.

Games appropriate to a Mad Hatter's party were played—two-deep, the Farmer in the Dell, etc. The latest spring styles were modeled by college students in a style show.

The party was climaxed by the entrance of the Wedding Party. Some of the bolder souls dared to kidnap the bride. They dragged her to a car and rode madly toward Clifton. The kidnapers were kind, however, for they brought the bride back in time to enjoy the refreshments.

DEBATE TOURNAMENT

At 6:30 on the morning of Feb. 25, the debate teams left Cedarville, luggage and all, for the Manchester-Huntington Debate Tournament. The annual stop was made at "Poppy's" filling station in Richmond where all were filled. Arriving in Huntington at 11:00, the teams were directed to the Hotel La Fontaine for lodging and to the college dining room for lunch. Debates were held Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, the Cedarville teams winning four out of twelve debates. Although the teams did not win as many debates as they might have, the debaters feel that the tournament and the season as a whole has been successful for the experience and knowledge, the contacts and friendships that all acquired.

MOTHER - DAUGHTER BANQUET

May 6, the girls of the Y.W.C.A. entertained their mothers at the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet.

The welcome was given by the Y.W. President, Mary Johnston, and the response by Mrs. Fred Townsley. Music was furnished by Beatrice McClellan and Mrs. Helen Jacobs; and the girl's quartet which is composed of Elisabeth Anderson, Rachel Harriman, Mary Jean Townsley, and Junia Creswell. The speaker of the evening was Miss Mary Kyle, a missionary from India home on furlough. She spoke on the "Mothers and Daughters in India."

JUNIOR - SENIOR BANQUET

In a setting carrying out the theme of the Northwest Territory celebration, the annual Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Dayton Y.M.C.A. on May 12. The tables were beautifully decorated in green and white. At each place, concealing the nut cups and bearing the place cards, stood miniature pioneer women dressed in green and white. On the speaker's table was a replica of an old-fashioned covered wagon. White flowers formed centerpieces on the other tables. After a three course dinner there was a program of speeches and special music. After this program the group attended a moving picture in Dayton.

SWIMMING PARTY

The Y.W. and Y.M. sponsored an all-college swimming party on April 27 at the Y.W.C.A. swimming pool in Springfield. Thirty-five students attended the party which was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ault.

The ride to and from Springfield was on a truck and this in itself furnished a good part of the evening's entertainment. After a strenuous two hours in the pool the students returned to Cedarville gaily munching hamburgers as they rode.

VESPER SERVICE

A lovely vesper service was held in the Cedarville Cliffs under the leadership of the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. The worship service was centered around Jean Francois Millet's famous painting "The Angelus." Justin Hartman, Genevieve Jesson, Cecil Thomas, and John Fox read a story about a woman who received a copy of this painting and how it affected her life. A mixed octet sang several hymns including "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," "Day Is Dying in the West," and "Now the Day Is Over." Bennett McNeal played "Just a Song at Twilight" on the violin as a musical background for the reading of the story. The service was ended with the singing of "Taps."

After the Vesper Service the group enjoyed a wiener roast also held in the cliffs.

THE LOW - DOWN ON THE HIGH - UPS WHISPERING CEDARS 1937 - 38

Overheard early in September, 1937; Russell Roberts: "Cecil, were you at the cliffs last night for the Sophomore party?" Cecil Thomas: (dreamily) "No, I was in heaven." — After the girls heard that Art Geake had never been kissed, it didn't take them long to break down what it took Art 19 years to build up. Art actually kissed a girl and he didn't even remember her the next day. The moon must have been shining in his eyes . . . Eugene Kavanaugh: "Why do they call Clara Belle Ankeney and Rachel Harriman the "Tonsil Girls"? Lank Roberts: "Because everybody's had them out." . . . In October 1937, Mr. Swaim wanted to know what course in night school his son, Howard, is taking . . . Jim Anderson: "I guess you've been out with worse-looking fellows than I am, haven't you?" (no answer) "I say, I guess you've been out with worse-looking fellows than I am, haven't you?" Mary Johnston: "I heard you the first time. I was just trying to think." . . . When John Fox steps out he really does it right. John had the heaviest date on Tuesday night December 7th he ever had. We won't tell who it was because it might make the college girls jealous . . . Edna Anderson: "He couldn't write me a letter for two weeks because he broke his glasses and had to go to the Optimist." . . . The three bachelors, Jim, Roy, and Benny met Dick Macknight Sunday night, April 10th, and what do you think was on his mind? "Fellows," he said, "Can you tell me where I can get some good muggin'?" . . . Jean Elliott says she doesn't know why, but ever since she was little they have been trying to pin something on her . . . Can you imagine Irene Goodin looking for a jewelry counter in a ten-cent store? Well she found it but she decided to take the man instead of the jewelry . . . Some say that Foulks was vaccinated with a victrola needle dipped in I-Like-Me solution . . . Thomas to Dr. Jurkat: "Could you tell Shaw why Mossbarger closed her eyes when he kissed her?" Jurkat: "I suppose it's because Shaw is so homely." . . . Who in school goes around calling themselves "Bull" and "Boar." Shame on you girls.

COLLEGE SONG

Cedarville's a college in a grand old state,
Builded by the hands of a Maker Great,
Guiding eager students through the open gate,
Of dear old Cedarville.
Fitting them for champions of the truth and right
Arming them completely for the coming fight
Leading them to victory over wrong to right
At dear old Cedarville.

Senior, Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, too
Join your hearts and efforts in everything you do
"Onward, Upward!" be your motto still Follow closely the leading of our Dear old Cedarville

I want to go back to old C. C.
The best school in the land
And go to all the games again
And shout Rah! Rah!
To Alma Mater we will pledge
Our love and loyalty
I wan' to go back, I gotta go back
To old C. C.

At Cedarville College, we get our knowledge
We slinga da ink an' pusha da pen along.
At Cedarville College, we get our knowledge
We slinga da ink an' pusha da pen along.
We slinga da ink, da ink, da ink,
And pusha da pen, da pen, da pen,
We slinga da ink an' pusha da pen along.
At Cedarville College we get our knowledge
We slinga da ink, an' pusha da pen along.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE,
Cedarville, Ohio.

May 23, 1938.

To the readers of this book:

If we have been successful in enclosing our college life in these pages so that we may relive it in the days to come; if we have been able to show our admiration for our pioneer ancestors; if this book is deserving of any praise; then there are several to whom we should give our thanks.

We should be deeply grateful to Mr. William Freund, who, under no obligation to us, gave his time and ideas to the planning of this book. His help and encouragement were invaluable at a time when help was needed. We are also grateful to Clyde Walker who has made possible the carrying out of the theme of this book by furnishing some of the art work. Our thanks, too, should go to all the members of the Cedrus Staff who have labored diligently and well in preparing write-ups, laying out the dummy, and seeking advertisements. We appreciate the cooperation of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Co., The F. J. Heer Printing Co., the Kingsport Cover Co., and the Marietta Centennial Commission. They have served us well.

At times our task has seemed difficult, but because of the willingness of all to help, we have been able to give you the 1938 Cedrus. Our hope is that it will mean as much to you in years to come as it has meant to us as we have seen it develop. Again we extend our thanks to those of you who have helped in the publication of this book.

Gratefully yours,

The Editor.
