$1.5 Million Building Program Ready To Start

$1.2 Million Dormitory

The college announces plans for a 1.5 million dollar construction program that includes a new dormitory and a library.

Both the 220-bed dormitory, which will cost 1.2 million dollars, and the library, which will cost $400,000, are expected to be ready for use this fall.

The dormitory is to be built by C.I.T. Financial Corporation of New York and leased to the college. Rent is expected to pay off the debt in 15 years, at which time the school will obtain title to the building. The dormitory will be constructed by Southern Mill and Manufacturing of Tulsa, Oklahoma, which is a subsidiary of C.I.T. The C.I.T. is also loaning part of the money needed to construct the library. Wenrick Construction Company of Medway, Ohio, will build the library.

This action by college officials followed by a day the state board of education's authorization for Cedarville to confer the bachelor's degree in elementary education in June, 1967.

With construction of the dormitory, it will be possible to eliminate the problem of having three in a room in some dormitories and also provide for some growth in enrollment. It also will eliminate, some substandard housing and help to provide living quarters for a few students now living off campus.

Enrollment will have to be restricted for the fall, with between 800-850 planned, which is still an increase over the 763 enrolled this year.

The dormitory will consist of 220 beds, two guest suites, and an apartment for a house mother. It will be two floors and consist of brick, steel and concrete block. Eight students will be in each unit of the dormitory with four two-bedroom spaces and a restroom and lounge provided.

The library will contain 18,822 square feet of space and will provide quick expansion when the college needs more library space.

Library

Although the Lord has provided funds for us to start construction of the library this year, the college must pay this amount back within the next five years. The library building itself will cost $258,000; however, furnishings, fixtures, landscaping, and other costs will raise the completed price to about $400,000. Our library fund drive launched last year now stands at $144,000. This leaves $256,000 to be raised in gifts during the next five years.

Last year we challenged churches and interested friends to give $1,000 for the library. The names of those giving $1,000 will be engraved on an honor roll plaque erected inside the new library. The response to this appeal has been most gratifying, and possibly there are many more who can give this way.

We felt the Lord would have us to build and furnish completely the library at this time for the sake of our students and trust Him to provide the balance needed during the next five years. Will you help?

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James Jeremiah, President

Dear Friends:

A number of years ago during a crisis experience in my life a friend sent a note of encouragement to me and made reference to Hebrews 10:36: "For ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise." It does take patience to appropriate and appreciate the promises of God. How often we have seen God provide for Cedarville, not in our way or time, but according to His plan.

As you can observe, this issue of our bulletin reports more encouraging signs of progress on the Cedarville College campus. Recognition by the Ohio State Board of Education of our elementary teacher training program assures certification to qualified students who prepare in this field. Therefore, we anticipate a record enrollment this fall of students who are interested in this area of study.

Provision has been made to build and furnish the new library, and, through a leasing arrangement, to have another large dormitory ready by next fall. This means that our students will have better facilities for study and housing, but it will also mean all of us will need to renew our efforts to pay the bills for these improvements.

I cannot overemphasize right now the importance of making commitments to the library fund. Money has been made available for the construction of the new library but much of it consists of short-term loans. It is important, therefore, that all individuals and churches planning to give $1,000 or more to the library make this known to us before September, 1966, so that we can place your name on the plaque in the lobby of the new building. Remember, this $1,000 does not need to be given immediately, but we do need your intention to give, even though you plan to do so over a period of months.

It may be inferred by some that with the new dormitory we will not need to sell bonds, but such is not the case. The campus plan has provided for a number of dormitory buildings. We prefer building them with our money, so we encourage you now to "buy bonds and buildings" at Cedarville.

In all of the expansion plans described in the bulletin, not one item refers to aid from government loans or subsides. Many colleges of our kind readily admit they cannot exist without government funds. To this hour we have made it thus far by the help of God and the sacrifice of our friends. When you voice your approval of this policy, remember you also commit yourself to do all you possibly can to support your college. If the government does not financially support your college, you must do so. Now, how about a hearty "Amen"?

A TRIBUTE

We express our sorrow over the sudden death of Brother Alfred F. Colwell who went to be with the Lord, January 21. For the last eight and a half years, Brother Colwell has not only labored unremittingly as Eastern Representative of General Association of Regular Baptist Churches but has also served faithfully for several years as a trustee of Cedarville College. His ministry has been attended by rich spiritual blessings, and he will be missed by both pastors and laymen.

However, "we sorrow not as those who have no hope . . . " for we know that someday we shall fellowship once again with Al Colwell if we have come to know the Savior he faithfully served.

COMMENCEMENT NEARS

Commencement activities this year will be held May 27-28 with ninety seniors expected to graduate. The graduation activities will begin Friday night, May 27, with the Baccalaureate service at 7:30 P.M. in the Student Center. Rev. Donald J. Sewell will bring the Baccalaureate address.

Rev. Sewell, a 1960 graduate of Cedarville, is presently pastoring the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Toledo, Ohio. He has also been pastor of churches in Williamsburg, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Indiana. Rev. Sewell is now a member of the Council of Ten for the State of Ohio.

Commence - ment will follow at 10 A.M. with the presentation of degrees and awards. Bringing the Commencement address will be Dr. Joseph M. Stowell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Hackensack, New Jersey. A member of the Council of Fourteen of the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, Dr. Stowell also serves as vice-president of the board of Association of Baptists for World Evangelism and is a member of the board of Baptist Mid-Missions.

FACULTY FACTS

Two men have been added to the faculty for the second semester at Cedarville. Mr. Allen L. Monroe has assumed the duties of Assistant Professor of Social Sciences. He received his M. A. degree from Montclair State College in New Jersey.

A new addition to the Science Department is Dr. Clayton Black. Dr. Black is teaching organic chemistry on a parttime basis. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Florida and has done post-doctoral work at Cornell University.

It was announced recently that Mr. William R. Riter, Instructor in Business Administration, has passed his C.P.A. examination. Mr. Riter has done graduate work at the University of Illinois and will receive his M.S. degree this summer.

Miss Joy Mackay is conducting a series of workshops for the Christian Camps and Conferences Association in Pennsylvania and Wisconsin on the subjects of camp training and counseling. Miss Mackay, Dean of Women and Assistant Professor of Christian Education, also attended the American Camping Association Convention in Chicago and the Editorial Advisory Committee of Camps and Conference magazine also in Illinois in March.

Mr. Cleveland McDonald, Associate Professor of Social Science, has been granted a leave of absence this semester to finish his doctoral dissertation. Mr. McDonald's thesis is entitled "The History of Cedarville College." The graduate work is being done at Ohio State University.

Mr. John W. Reed, Associate Professor of Speech and Chaplain in the Air National Guard, was recently promoted from the rank of Captain to Major in the 178th Tactical Fighter Group.

Mr. Rodney E. Wyse, Assistant Professor of Business Administration, attended the Annual Personnel Management Conference, sponsored by the American Management Association. The conference was held February 9-11 at the Palmer House in Chicago. Mr. Wyse is a member of the American Management Association. The theme of the conference was "Management Problems and Expectations—1975-1985."

Dr. Dale S. Thomson gave a research paper entitled "Electron Microscopy of the Developing Submucosal Proventricular Gland in the Chick" at the Regional Development Biology Conference at Notre Dame University, March 17-18. Dr. Thomson has also been invited to teach in the Summer Session at Malone College, Canton, Ohio, July 18-August 12.

Mr. J. M. Stuart, President of Dayton Power and Light, is shown presenting a check for $5,000 from the Frank M. Tait Foundation to Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President of Cedarville College.

STUDENTS VIEWS BROADCAST

On February 23, Steve Leiby and Joe Roden, representing Cedarville College, traveled to Cincinnati to tape the program "College Conference" for WLW Radio. Steve Leiby, along with a coed from Franklin College and the president of the student senate at Miami University, discussed: "How can we best finance political campaigns?" This will be broadcast May 22 at 1:35 P.M.

Joe Roden, also with the representative from Miami and another from Franklin College, discussed: "How can we encourage more eligible voters to exercise their franchise?" This program will be heard on July 17, also at 1:35 P.M. Both tapes will be played on the airwaves of Voice of America for the United States Information Agency.

Mr. Charles A. Buffham, Instructor in Music Theory, received his M.A. degree in composition from Ohio State University on March 18, 1966. The thesis was a composition written for nine instruments entitled "Nonet for Winds and

DR. HORNER BRINGS BIBLE LECTURES

Dr. Hugh Horner was the speaker of the Annual Spring Bible Lectures in February. His messages centered around the practical application of Christianity and offered opportunities to make decisions for salvation, dedication, and restoration.

Many decisions were made and a real spiritual awakening was effected in the student body. His ministry was especially appreciated by the women of Williams Hall who presented Dr. Horner with a Bible.

Dr. Horner, a native of Ireland, is the pastor of Calvary Baptist Tabernacle in Sandusky, Ohio.

Strings, Opus 15." Mr. Buffman did his undergraduate work at Grand Rapids Junior College and Ohio State University. He holds both the B. S. degree in Music Education and the B. Mus. degree in Music Theory.

SPRING CHOIR TOUR

The Cedarville College choir, under the direction of David L. Matson, will be making its spring tour April 2-13. This year's tour will take the 38-voice choir through Northern Ohio, Michigan, and Northern Indiana.

The choir program is entirely sacred, including hymn arrangements as well as "The Heavens are Telling" from The Creation by Haydn and "Out of Great Depths" by Houston Bright. Special music will also be provided by soloists and ensembles.

CAMPUS LIFE

Last November, a number of college students organized a group called Campus Life to start an effective witness on the many college campuses surrounding Cedarville.

The group uses a "Collegiate Religious Survey" which not only enables them to become more familiar with major trends in religious thought, but also opens the door to explain the plan of salvation. Members of the group are currently reaching four colleges and are seeing decisions and opportunities in each one of them.

Participation has been good. Around fifty students are now actively a part in the witnessing program every Saturday morning and afternoon.

CHURCH BASKETBALL TOURNAMENTS

The Annual Church Basketball Tournaments were held March 4-5 and 11-12.

Middletown, Ohio, captured the Junior Tournament Title and the Sportsmanship Trophy. They defeated Oglesby, Illinois, for the championship. Fifteen teams participated in the tourney with Emmanuel Baptist of Dayton winning the consolation game.

In the Senior Division, Emmanuel Baptist of Xenia, Ohio, retained the title as they defeated Middletown 72-66. Kent, Ohio, defeated Lake Orion, Michigan, 68-67 to squeeze into third place in the fourteen-team roster.

SEASON ENDS

Cedarville's basketball team finished the season this year with 12 wins and 11 losses. Under the direction of Coach Don Callan, the year saw the team building for the future. Prospects are good for next year, for the team members are all underclassmen.

Al Knott, sophomore forward from Silvis, Illinois, was named to both First Team berths in the Mid-Ohio and District Teams. He led both Conference and District in scoring with 521 points and a 22.6 point per game average. This pushes his two-year total to 1035.

Sophomores Gary Drill from Winchester, Indiana, and Larry Waite from Hudsonville, Michigan, also received Conference honors. Gary won a berth on the Second Team while Larry Waite was awarded an Honorable Mention.

Al Knott was selected to travel with the Venture for Victory basketball team which will be touring for 1½ months in Australia, New Zealand, Viet Nam, and Formosa this summer. This basketball evangelism venture has been an annual event since 1953; and in 1955, our athletic director, Don Callan, traveled with the team.

Each year outstanding Christian athletes from throughout the United States are invited to participate. On tour the Venture for Victory basketball team will play national teams, and at half-time present the gospel and give testimonies. Following the game, the players personally counsel with those willing to accept Christ as their personal Savior.

CARS DONATED

The college has been given two 1965 Oldsmobiles by Dr. Fredrick E. Milkie of Toledo, Ohio. Dr. Milkie is shown presenting the car keys to President Jeremiah and Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, Business Manager. The cars, a hardtop and a convertible, exceed a total value of $5,000.

ALUMNI NEWS

The executive secretary of the Cedarville College Alumni Association, James R. Johnson, was among the second group to graduate from college in 1955. Formerly of Decatur, Illinois, he moved with his family to Cleveland where he graduated from the Baptist Bible Institute in 1953, then went to Cedarville when the college obtained the new campus.

Recently, he completed four years as editor of the Ohio Independent Baptist magazine, a publication of the Ohio Association of Regular Baptist Churches circulated among 150 churches in the area.

Jim went into newspaper work with the Springfield Daily News and Sun shortly after graduation, serving for seven years as secretary to the managing editor and assisting on the editorial pages. Later he was a reporter on The Sun for one year.

He was promoted to State Editor of the Springfield Sun January 1, 1966, a position he now holds.

Jim and his wife, Mary, a Baptist Bible Institute graduate, still live in Cedarville. The couple have nine children, seven sons and two daughters.

What is There About Cedarville College By James R. Johnson

What is there about Cedarville College that closely binds us together as an Alumni Association? Why do we return each year for homecoming, graduation exercises, alumni luncheon, and other activities? Why do we in so many ways demonstrate our love for the college that brought us to maturity, taught us proper values, and gave us the knowledge to earn a living and to serve the Lord?

I respectfully submit three reasons for this. Doubtless, there are others, but only these three will be mentioned at this time.

First, Cedarville College has as its theme "For the Word of God and the Testimony of Jesus Christ." It is an institution founded by God, strengthened and nurtured by an outstanding and talented Board of Trustees, and served by an intelligent and dedicated faculty. With this as its foundation, we are assured that as we were established in the fundamentals of the Christian faith, those who are now attending and will graduate from the college will receive the same benefits.

Second, there is a close association between student and teacher that follows throughout life. Letters received by both the president and faculty testify to his warmth, affection, and gratitude. We are most thankful for counseling and personal guidance given during our school term. As this fellowship has permeated our being, so will it be manifested in our association with others in our daily living.

The third reason, and an important one, is that an institution is known by its graduates. We have endeavored, through this Alumni News page, to present a cross section of work and activities being performed by our association. A search of our files indicates that our members are engaged in a myriad of vocations.

Besides this, while all of our alumni are not full-time Christian workers, they still are actively engaged in faithful Christian service in a local church teaching others by the enabling power of the Holy Spirit.

So I think it is most natural to say that we react the way we do because we received an education most beneficial to prepare us for life, not only for making a living in a given profession or vocation, but also for spiritual victory in our own lives so that we in turn may pass this experience to others.

May we continue as an Alumni Association to show our appreciation and gratitude to our Alma Mater.

Graduate Student

John Lawlor, a 1963 graduate of Cedarville College, is representative of the many alumni now taking further training in other schools after leaving the campus to gain advanced degrees.

John and his wife, Mary Ellen, live in Winona Lake, Indiana, where he is attending seminary. Mary Ellen is involved in her first year of teaching on the secondary level. She is a teacher of commercial subjects in Larwill High School, Larwill, Indiana, where she says that she really enjoys her work very much.

John will be graduating from Grace Theological Seminary, Winona Lake, Indiana, with a Bachelor of Divinity degree in June. In the fall of 1966, he will begin his work on a Master of Theology degree from Grace Seminary.

"I will be going to Palestine for six months in the spring of 1967 to study in the Near East School of Archaeology," John said. "Twelve of the required 24 hours for a Th. M. will be received from the school."

Radio Production

Before graduation from Cedarville College in 1964, Bob Reynolds was actively engaged in the campus radio station, WCDR-FM, and produced the program "Personality Spotlight."

Bob has moved to Rockford, Illinois, where he is now using this radio experience he learned at the college.

"The Lord has been blessing me beyond all that I ever imagined," Bob writes in recent correspondence with John Reed, Professor of Speech at the college and a Major in the Air National Guard where he is a Chaplain.

"I was looking for a job so that I could integrate my interests and still proclaim the Gospel of Christ," Bob adds. "The longer I stay here the more I see how this is just about what I wanted. I still plan to return to seminary in the future, but the experience that I am getting here is also an invaluable education in itself."

Bob has the responsibility of producing and engineering a weekly radio program over WROK-AM, Rockford, Ill. When he first came to the station the quality of programming was rough. Dead air space, different sound levels, and improper programming were prominent and with his campus radio experience, Bob easily noticed these faults.

Bob said he is grateful for being able to produce the campus program "Personality Spotlight" and has integrated it as part of his weekly broadcast.

Besides this radio work, Bob has had opportunities to preach in a local church.

Youth Leader

Busy in youth work while a student at Cedarville College, Richard H. Lapp immediately joined the staff of the Christian Service Brigade with headquarters in Wheaton, Illinois, after his graduation in 1957. His wife, the former Linda L. Marshall, also graduated the same year.

Dick is supervisor of the records and correspondence department at the Brigade's national office in Wheaton. There are approximately 1,500 churches that use the Brigade program at this time, Dick said, with nearly 200 men completing the study course on Brigade leadership each month.

Besides these responsibilities, Dick writes articles for the Brigade Leaders magazine, published quarterly; is program director of summer camp; and teaches in the Leaders training conferences each fall.

Dick and Linda have two daughters: Karen, seven, and Laura Sue, three.

Both parents are active in their local church which they helped start in Winfield, Illinois, where they now live. Linda is church treasurer, president of the Ladies Missionary Society, nursery Sunday school teacher, and church pianist.

Dick is Sunday school superintendent, Sunday school teacher, and deacon. They both have charge of a service for the old folks' home every Sunday evening before church.

Physical Education Teacher

A 1964 graduate, Miss Janet McClish, is teaching girls' physical education, health and general science at Matthews High School, Vienna, Ohio. She is also a sophomore class advisor.

"Just as students have many extra activities, so I as a teacher have my share," Janet said. "I have found this saying to be very true in my life; a teacher's day begins at the end of the school day."

Janet's other duties include, girls' softball coach, girls' basketball coach, girls' track coach, girls' Varsity Club advisor, and Pep Club advisor.

"My girls started every game with prayer on the voluntary basis, and we took second place in the county—God was with us," she relates of her experience as softball coach.

While these activities take place after school hours and keep her busy, she is quick to add, "It's a good opportunity to know the kids better and witness."

"God has been good to me since my graduation from Cedarville. He has certainly been near me each step of the way in my teaching."

"God has led me all the way. I love my job and just trust that I might constantly show to others the best way to play the game so they, too, will someday see Him face to face and hear Him say, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant'."

Janet attends the Sharon Baptist Church, Sharon, Pennsylvania, where she also has an active part in His work. She is co-advisor for Senior High Young Peoples.

Missionary

Robert F. Rogers went into home mission work with the Fellowship of Baptists for Home Missions soon after graduation in 1955 with the burden to establish Bible believing and preaching churches in the United States.

His first work was started in Lorain, Ohio, where he met with a few believers, held church services in an old airport hanger, and later built a church.

He is now a missionary pastor at the Bible Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and serving in the Western Pennsylvania area.

"We are also involved in calling our third missionary on the field in Richland Township, north of Pittsburgh," Mr. Rogers said. "The fourth church is now ready for public meetings on the southeast side of Pittsburgh in White House, Pennsylvania."

He added, "Recent meetings, our first series of evangelistic meetings since the inception of this church, were a real blessing to all of us here, members, friends and to those who visited. A number were saved and others came for other spiritual needs and the Christians were edified and blessed immensely."

Pastor

Clifford W. Boessel was well-known on the Cedarville College campus before his graduation in 1959 because of his work with the maintenance department.

His class donated the two pillars at the entrance of the campus inscribed "For the Word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ." "Cliff" was bricklayer for the project.

Upon his graduation, a church in Indiana soon called him as pastor where he served for several years.

But then, a new work was started in a housing area south of Toledo, Ohio, and a pastor was needed.

Cliff was called to that work and immediately began to call on homes in the area to invite families into the churck. Attendance soon rose; a new building was constructed.

"The Lord is giving us souls," Cliff said in recent correspondence.
