CEDARVILLE COLLEGE

JUNE 1966 - JULY 1966

THE "FULFILLMENT OF FAITH" PROGRAM LAUNCHED

$25,000 CHALLENGE GRANT RECEIVED

The college recently received a $25,000 grant from The Kettering Fund of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Allen J. Martin made the presentation to Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President, and Rev. Lee C. Turner, Director of Development.

This is the largest gift ever received by the college. The college has now received over $46,000 from foundations and businesses this year.

Mr. Martin stressed that most of our support should come from our own constituency and that the grant was given to challenge our churches and friends of the college to participate in our "Fulfillment of Faith" program.

The "Fulfillment of Faith" program is an appropriate name for our ten-year master plan announced in this bulletin. By faith the Lord has supplied us with a fine college, and we are confident the Lord is going to complete the work He has started at Cedarville.

Our ten-year master plan is based on our past growth. In projecting our future needs, we have curtailed our potential enrollment in order to set obtainable goals. We feel it is our solemn duty to 1) plan for the future based upon our past, 2) share these plans with friends of the college, and 3) ask the Lord to burden the hearts of His people to help meet the need. If anyone is awed by our projected plans, he has only to look at what the Lord has done in the past and ask, "Will He do less in the future?"

The following is our contemplated ten-year master plan.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President

Dear Friends:

Whenever we attempt a new, exciting, and overwhelming venture at Cedarville College, we invariably think of the children of Israel facing the crossing of the Jordan River. The officers elected to direct this great undertaking reminded the people that "Ye have not passed this way heretofore." This was a new experience for them, even though they had faced similar problems before.

Since our college has had unusual and unexpected growth, we have faced over the past twelve years many different types of rivers that have had to be crossed. The obstacles were impassable and the victory appeared to be impossible, "But God" stepped in with His provision when we stepped out on faith. This is the explanation of what has been accomplished to this hour.

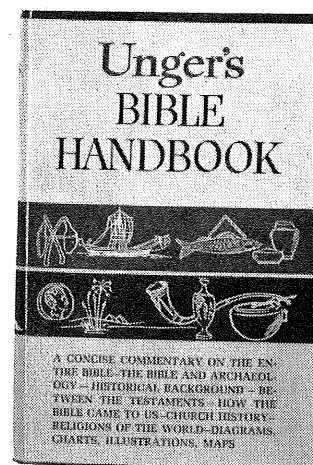

The "Fulfillment of Faith" program, outlined in this issue of our bulletin, is a continuation of the same policy which Cedarville has held through these years. These goals ahead of us are, as usual, like mountain ranges which must be overcome but we are confident that our God is One "Which removeth the mountains" (Job 9:5).

The first, and at the present time the most important objective before us, is the completion of the new library. Our loyal friends have contributed over $181,500 to this project. It will take at least $400,000 to complete the building and purchase the necessary equipment. The trustees have made arrangements to borrow the needed funds to meet this crucial need in our college program. Emphasis must be given, however, to the absolute necessity of repaying this money within the next five years. Appeals for the Library Building Program will continue as a part of our "Fulfillment of Faith" program.

Churches and individuals taking part in our "Fulfillment of Faith" program, by indicating that they will give $1,000 to the Library Fund, will have their names inscribed on the library plaque. This will be done by the college if we have a sincere commitment that the money will be given in the months ahead. In other words, this can be a project which some can plan and bring to completion during the next five years if this much time is necessary.

Your prayerful interest in Cedarville College makes you a part of the "Fulfillment of Faith" program. You can do nothing until you have prayed about the needs at Cedarville, but you can do much more afterward. Will you give of your means, encourage your church to do likewise, and make the college known so that others, too, will have a practical part in the Christian education of our young people?

NEW FACULTY

Approximately fifty persons with faculty rank will be part of the instructional program next year. So far, three individuals have been hired in the areas of registrar, education, and music.

Assuming the duties of Registrar, September 1, will be Mr. Charles B. Hurst, who is currently principal of a high school and director of vocational education in Dayton, Ohio. He holds a master's degree in administration from Western Reserve University and has 30 years of experience in these areas.

Mr. Moore holds two masters' degrees, one from Ball State University and one in religious education from Dr. George S. Milner, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, is shown breaking ground to start our new library and dormitory.

The new 220-bed dormitory is being constructed by Southern Mill & Manufacturing of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The dormitory is not included in Phase One of our ten-year master plan because it is being financed by C. I. T. Financial Corporation of New York and leased to the college. Rent is expected to pay off the debt in 15 years at which time the college will obtain title to the building.

The Wenrick Construction Company of Medway, Ohio, has the new library well under way. The 18,822 square foot library building itself will cost $258,000. Furniture, streets, utilities, etc., will run the total cost to approximately $400,000.

The cost of the library is included in Phase One of our "Fulfillment of Faith" program. Gifts received for the library now total $181,500. We have made arrangements to borrow the rest of the needed funds on short-term notes so that the library may be completed. However, the notes must be paid off within the next five years.

NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Although our needs projected in Phase One leave a balance of $788,500 to be raised during the next five years, $215,000 in gifts must be received to retire the debt on the library.

We are exercising our faith by planning for the young people who will be attending Cedarville in the future. Friends of the college are challenged to exercise their faith by asking the Lord what He will enable them to give toward our "Fulfillment of Faith" program.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

At the Seventh Annual Missionary Conference held April 18-24, six missionaries presented the needs of world-wide missions. Not pictured is Raymond Marchand who brought the missionary challenge of Arabia.

The week-long series of meetings was a real blessing to the whole college family. Two hundred students made decisions of one form or another concerning dedication and Christian service. Of these, 80 have definitely answered the call to the mission field.

MISSIONARY PROJECT

This year the Student Council has added a Student Missionary Project to the yearly Student Body Project endeavor. It was felt that the emphasis upon the spiritual and practical efforts of this nature was needed and would be well received.

The project began second semester with a goal of $600 to furnish hospital rooms in the East Pakistan Hospital under the direction of A. B. W. E. Ron Grosh, project co-ordinator, reported that $480 had been collected by the start of May. The general intention for next year is an even larger project.

ALUMNI NEWS

Stuart L. Chaffe, the Cedarville College Alumni treasurer, graduated from the college in 1960. Since graduation he has been employed as a postal clerk in the post office in Xenia, Ohio.

Stu is a member of the Grace Baptist Church in Cedarville where he is serving as secretary of the deacon board. Just recently he accepted the responsibility of circulation manager of the Ohio Independent Baptist magazine, a publication of the Ohio Association of Regular Baptist Churches.

Stuart and his wife, Alberta, also a 1960 graduate of Cedarville College reside in Cedarville. They have one daughter, Dianne, presently a freshman at Cedarville College.

DIVINE DIRECTION

By Stuart L. Chaffe

It may well be that the answer to the question of divine or governmental control may be in the hands of the alumni, for in a very large measure the future of our school depends on our response to the challenge before the school now. It is not only our responsibility, but also our privilege to faithfully undergird our co-laborers at Cedarville, the training ground of future alumni. It must be an encouragement to the Board of Trustees, to the administration, to the faculty, staff, and students to know that the alumni for whom they pray likewise support them in prayer.

Cedarville College is "the Lord's doing and it is marvelous in our eyes." The blessings of God are upon our campus because His program is being honored and upheld. Our school has been supported financially by God's people without the help of federal aid since the first day classes began on the campus. Newspaper columnist, Paul Harvey, commenting on the price to be paid once a school begins to accept federal aid, wrote: "Any school which depends in whole or in part on government money is obligated to conform to the norm, for better or worse." If our Alma Mater is going to continue to operate by God's divine direction and not under government restrictions, we must continually accept more of the responsibility to support our school in a financial way.

The alumni are an integral part of any growing college. After graduation

One of Cedarville's oldest alumni is 82-year-old Mr. Leroy Henderson who lives in Cedarville. Born in 1883, he graduated from the college in 1908. He is seen at most of our basketball games ringing a cowbell with every Cedarville point.

When Mr. Henderson attended Cedarville, all of the functions of the college were carried on in the present administration building. The college was then under the direction of its first president, Dr. David McKinney.

Attendance at the ball games is a favorite pastime. He listens over WCDR to the chapel services and basketball games he cannot attend. He also enjoys making puzzles and canes chairs. A member of Grace Baptist Church in Cedarville, he has one rule for governing his attendance. "If I am absent," he claims, "I am either sick or dead."
