CEDARVILLE COLLEGE BULLETIN

Apr. - May 1968

SUMMER TEAMS TO TOUR

The trustees have approved two summer teams to tour on behalf of the college this summer; a boys' quartet, the Guardsmen, and a girls' trio, the Victors.

The Guardsmen will be touring in churches in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia. The Victors will be touring in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa.

The teams will be fulfilling a twofold purpose: Providing a spiritual ministry for the churches and acquainting the churches with the ministry of the college by the use of slides.

Guardsmen Quartet

Victors Trio

PASTORS' CONFERENCE

A special conference has been arranged for Pastors on campus September 9-12 this coming fall. Featured speaker will be Dr. Kenneth Masteller, honorary alumnus and pastor of the Haddon Heights (N. J.) Baptist Church. Faculty of the college will also participate in this time of fellowship and inspiration.

Pastors are invited to be the guests of the college with free room and board. Upcoming bulletins will reveal further details. Reservations are presently being received by: Dr. James T. Jeremiah, Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio 45314.

PILOT ALUMNI STUDY

A preliminary study of graduates since 1953 has been completed. Of the 551 graduates, 343 sent in their forms for a return of 62.2%. The following results were evident:

109 — 31.8%	Full-time Christian service
168 — 49.0%	Part-time Christian service
66 — 19.2%	No reply (left blank)
343 — 100.0%

SOUL-WINNING CONFERENCE

Teenage soul-winning will be the theme of the 1st Annual Soul-Winning Conference to be held on campus April 12th and 13th. The conference is sponsored by the Christian Service Department and conducted by the Swordbearers, an active Christian service group.

The Swordbearers have been engaged in soul-winning and establishment of a church in London, Ohio. The conference workshops are designed to share with church youth and youth leaders of Ohio and surrounding areas techniques for application in rest homes, jails, street meetings, social gatherings, Bible clubs, one-to-one situations, etc.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Fred M. Barlow of Regular Baptist Press and Dr. James T. Jeremiah, president of Cedarville College. The pre-registration fee of 50¢ per person should be sent to: Mr. Bill Smith, Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio 45314. Further details will be distributed by mail.

If 62.2% is a valid return, the trend would seem to indicate that the spiritual goals of Cedarville College are being realized to a considerable extent. About 80.8% of the 343 graduates replying are involved in Christian service.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President

The 1915 edition of The Cedrus, the Cedarville College yearbook for that year, stated the purposes of the college in the following passage:

"Cedarville College was founded with the sublime object in view of advancing the interest of God on earth. The training of young men for the Gospel ministry, the education of young men and women for missionary service at home and abroad, and for work as laymen in the Sabbath School and in the church, were the purpose for which it was established. The development of Christian life and character in those who should go out into the world, into business and professional circles, into the arena of public life, and into the sacred precincts of the home, and carry with them some of the splendid inspiration and lofty principles imbibed at Cedarville College, was not overlooked."

Today, the purposes of the college are essentially unchanged as they are stated in the new 1968-69 college catalog ready for distribution in May.

The first of these seven purposes declares that we shall attempt "to undergird the student in the fundamentals of the Christian faith, and to stimulate him to evaluate knowledge in the light of scriptural truth." This may be construed as a purpose to indoctrinate our students. Without apology we state that this is one of our reasons for existence as a college. Though they may deny it, the secular colleges have either as a stated, or an apparent purpose the indoctrination of students in the philosophies of men. This often involves an open antagonism to God and the Bible. Many students in non-Christian colleges have reported statements by professors which are made to ridicule the Christian faith. Why should the Christian college, therefore, shun its responsibility of a positive declaration of Bible truth? That this purpose is Biblical, we believe, can be shown by such references as Colossians 2:6, 7; and Ephesians 4:14, "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in Him, rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving . . . That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive."

The third purpose of the college states that one of the academic objectives is "to increase the students' awareness of the world of ideas and events which have produced, and are influencing our contemporary culture." Many courses in the college curriculum are designed to accomplish this purpose. For this reason Cedarville College students will pursue studies in science, history, social studies, political science, philosophy and other related subjects. This, we trust, will prepare them to become like the "children of Issachar . . . men that had understanding of the times to know what . . . to do and all their brethren were at their commandment" (I Chronicles 12:32). Scholarship must point to leadership if it is to be practical. Christians of every degree of knowledge must "Walk circumspectfully (live purposefully, worthily, accurately) not as fools, but as redeeming the time, because the days are evil" (Ephesians 5:15, 16).

Will you continue to pray for Cedarville, and give sacrificially that these purposes may become a reality to many of our Christian youth now and in the future?

ACADEMIC CREDIT FOR FOREIGN TRAVEL

Interested students should be apprised of the following rules: 1) Advance arrangements must be made with the registrar and faculty advisor. 2) Regular tuition rates apply. 3) Credit will be granted under the provisions for Independent Study listed in the most recent college catalog.

A 21-day journey to Europe and the Holy Land under the direction of trustee, Rev. Wilbur C. Rooke, pastor of Euclid-Nottingham Church in Euclid, Ohio, is planned for June 5th through 26th. The trip will include Italy, Israel, Greece, Switzerland, Scotland, and England and will cost $898 per person all expenses paid from Cleveland Ohio.

STUDENT RECRUITMENT

Pastors and youth workers are keenly interested in ideas that will expose their young people to Christian colleges. We are including the following letter from Pastor Robert L. Domokos, Bible Baptist Church, Huntington, Indiana, so that others may share his suggestions on promoting Christian higher education.

"Dear President Jeremiah:

I would like to share with you my concern about the young people in our churches. For some time now I have been interested in the education of Christian Young People. Many attend interdenominational schools, schools of a doctrinal persuasion other than Baptist, and some attend schools which are not distinctively Christian. I have wondered why! So I asked a few of them and found the following consistent response: "This is the school about which I heard most." In other words, the school which was promoted, on the individual basis, in youth groups, or in churches was generally the one which was considered. The same was true in my life, (I am a graduate of Cedarville College and Grace Seminary). So in wondering how I could better promote our G.A.R.B. schools, I have proposed the following program. I presented it to my Official Board and they are in 100% agreement.

1. Write to all our schools and secure all the information and material possible.
2. Secure six male adults in the church to do the individual compilation of material in an orderly fashion.
3. These six people will then give their presentation before the church. We will have one presentation each week, ten minutes in length, in the Sunday P.M. service.
4. Material from the school emphasized that might well be made available on a table in the foyer of the church after the service.

We would appreciate your helping us at this point. Please send us all the information from Cedarville College, such as 15 catalogs, 15 bulletins, and any other publications, newsletters leaflets, brochures, etc. in quantities of fifty.

I am hoping that this program will be challenging to our young people, informative for all our people, and helpful in promoting our schools in our church, state, as well as national fellowship. Thank you for your cooperation. Any counsel or help will be appreciated.

Sincerely in Christ,
Robert L. Domokos, Pastor"

sessions in programming. She also has met recently with the leaders of 30 churches in the Meadville and Erie, Pennsylvania area in workshops concerning the philosophy of Christian camping and staff training.

Mr. Paul Gathany, station manager of WCDR-FM, attended the 25th National Convention of the National Association of Religious Broadcasters in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Austin Elmore, associate professor in biological science, and Dr. Clifford Johnson, academic dean, are co-authors of the April-June quarter adult Sunday School curriculum published by Regular Baptist Press. The lessons are entitled, "Complete in Him" and concern the Book of Colossians.

Mr. William Thornton, associate professor of music, has been elected a deacon of the Grand Avenue Baptist Church in Fairborn, Ohio. He also has become a member of Phi Delta Kappa, a professional education fraternity, in the Colorado State College chapter. Mr. Thornton was one of the judges at the Brass Music Contest at Wittenberg University March 16.

Dr. and Mrs. Warren Webber, college faculty members, have been included in the 1968 edition of the Royal Blue Book published in London, England. The listing is "an international register of the leaders of contemporary society" and is based largely upon birth and accomplishment.

NEW FACULTY

The Cedarville College family welcomes a new member, Dr. Larry S. Helmick, as assistant professor in chemistry. DEVELOPMENT NEWS

Former residents of Cedar Hall (affectionately called "The Shack") may shed a nostalgic tear at the following news. Cedar Hall has been sold to a Xenia contractor.

Harold Roden ('63), realtor, is shown presenting a check for Cedar Hall to President Jeremiah. We are sorry that Cedar Hall could not be made into a museum with appropriate pictures of illustrious alumni and serve as a fitting memorial to those who consecrated its halls.

As progress is made, several of the small dormitories have been phased out to make room for new ultra-modern residence facilities. With the construction of our new 220-bed Maddox Hall last year, the only small dormitory left is Harriman Hall, which houses 22 girls.

The college is now able to limit two students to a room. This progress is made possible by friends of the college purchasing bonds. We still have $250,000 of our college bonds available at the new interest rates of 5%, 6%, and 7%. If friends of the college would like complete information, mail the coupon.

Miss Kay Lamb ('65) has received final refusal for admittance into India. She seeks guidance as she investigates other fields with medical work.

Dr. James and Esther Weiss Entner ('61) are engaged in deputation work hoping for a November sailing. They will learn the language in Manila and eventually establish a base for medical evangelism on Palawan. They request prayer and aid in securing their necessary support and equipment.

Miss Jan Van Horn ('66) is diligently studying the Portuguese language. She is anxious to put her training into practice and desires to learn quickly. Her barrels of belongings and supplies have not arrived as yet.

Mr. Gordon Wimer ('55) should have a new Land Rover by now. Electricity is now in the house. Future projects include cement floors and sealing the roof.

Rev. David ('56) and Joan Austin (NG) Gardner are adjusting to life in New Guinea. They are praying for wisdom in selection of the best location in which to work. They are trying to avoid mixing the new language with the Philippine dialect.

Miss Patsy King ('57) reports that a witchdoctor and two teenagers made professions of faith on a recent outstation trip. Bible School opened in February with 40 students. Idols seem to be the biggest problem for Africans.

Mr. William Patterson ('54) in Kentucky is having good attendance for Joy Club meetings. The parents are difficult to train to accept their responsibility in caring for their children's needs. Rain is needed to fill up the cistern - the only source of water. Wisdom is needed for planning of camp and DVBS.
