CEDARVILLE COLLEGE BULLETIN

June-July, 1970

COMMENCEMENT 1970

On June 6, 1970, 179 seniors enjoyed a time of excitement and fulfillment of their four years' investment. The commencement activities started Friday evening, June 5, with the annual President's Dinner for all seniors, their parents, husbands or wives, and the family.

The speaker for the evening was Reverend Martin O. Wedge, the pastor of the Berean Baptist Church in Grand Rapids, Michigan. The seniors presented a cash gift to the college for the erection of a new Cedarville College entrance sign for the campus lawn. Group singing and a special talent were featured after the meal. A challenge was made to the imminent alumni by the Alumni Director, Ty Bryant. Bev. Maidment, the newly elected class agent, was recognized.

Commencement day, Saturday, June 6, 1970, was started with the processional of the administration, special guests, faculty, and graduating seniors. The processional was led by four marshalls, who were the juniors with the highest scholastic rank. They wore white caps and gowns. There were 26 other juniors who had attained a high scholastic rating serving as ushers. They wore royal blue caps and gowns. The speaker for the commencement was the Reverend Martin Wedge.

The 179 candidates for degrees were presented by Dr. Clifford Johnson, academic dean, to President James T. Jeremiah who conferred the degrees. The Reverend W. Thomas Younger, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church of Fort Wayne, Indiana, was by unanimous approval of the Board of Trustees conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Reverend Younger is presently serving as member and secretary of the Council of Fourteen of the GARBC and is a member of the Board of Trustees of Cedarville College.

Flowers, palms, lights, and school colors in blue and gold satin drapings provided the background for the significance and beauty of the occasion. Mrs. Miriam B. Maddox, assistant professor of Speech, for the 14th year coordinated commencement activities.

ENROLLMENT PREDICTIONS AND CURRICULUM CHANGES

The number of applications for admission to Cedarville College is substantially higher than one year ago. The Administrative Committee has indicated that the enrollment must be limited to 950 until additional housing facilities are provided. In the autumn quarter of last school year, 925 students matriculated. Last year 33 late applicants were told to wait until the winter or spring quarter. This year the number is likely to be even higher. An early application will better insure a student's admission.

The Admissions Committee is anxious to receive more applications from men to equalize the number of men and women in the student body.

The application for admission may be submitted anytime after the completion of the junior year in high school. Applicants should plan on taking an American College test (ACT) early in their senior year. High school counselors can assist students in registering for these tests.

When making a decision regarding the applicant, the Admissions Committee carefully considers the ACT scores, the high school grades, rank in class, salvation experience as presented in the Bible, and recommendations from his

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

The 1968-69 fiscal year report was mailed on May 15 to the trustees, churches, alumni, and donors on our mailing list. This annual report graphically depicts assets of over $4 million and current income of $1.8 million. The report also honors hundreds of Honor Roll Shareholders for gifts received during the period of July 1, 1968, to June 30, 1969. Churches and individuals who are interested in the details of the Annual Investment Clubs reported in this annual report may write to the Development Office for details.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President

About one year ago we launched the program "Three To Grow On." The significance of this slogan relates to our goal to raise sufficient funds to build three buildings in three years. This goal will be realized by raising $800,000 to build a new science building and by selling bonds for the construction of a new dormitory and student center.

In order to make this program known to our churches we have prepared and distributed a filmstrip with accompanying recorded description, and have mailed it to everyone of our pastors in Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana. By the time this issue of the Bulletin has been distributed, everyone of these churches will have had the opportunity to know in detail what is involved in this challenging expansion program on the Cedarville College campus.

Though we have been greatly encouraged by the response of churches and individuals to this appeal for the new science building, we are still waiting to hear from many churches who have supported this College by sending their students here for a Christian education. Since we do not receive government subsidies to build our college buildings, we are depending upon our churches to come to our aid in this important project. Even though the financial picture today may be a bit discouraging, it would seem that only a few of our smallest churches would be unable to contribute a thousand dollars to this project over a three-year period. We are, indeed, grateful for many of our smaller congregations who have accepted this challenge even though it has involved borrowing money to do it. We are most grateful for this kind of sacrifice in behalf of Christian education so desperately needed in this day when chaos seems to reign on the secular campus.

One hundred and seventy-nine seniors received their degrees on June 6, 1970. The enrollment picture for the fall indicates that 950 students will be on campus when classes begin October 1. If space were available for housing and classroom facilities, we are confident that our student body could number at least one thousand at the beginning of the 1970-71 college year. Nine hundred and fifty is the limit and must remain so until the dormitory mentioned in the above paragraph is constructed. We dare not mention the construction of this dormitory until a sizeable amount for the projected goal of $800,000 has been received; therefore, it is imperative that an all-out effort be made by all of us concerned for the future expansion of Cedarville College. We are counting on you, our friends, not only to give sacrificially to this cause but to encourage others to do likewise. We deeply appreciate all that is being accomplished by a great number of people who are working together to make "Three To Grow On" a great success.

Once again we rest upon the promise penned by the Apostle Paul in II Corinthians 9:8: "And God is able to make all grace abound toward you, that ye always having all sufficiency in all things may abound to every good work."

THIRD ANNUAL PASTORS' CONFERENCE PLANNED

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, president of the college, announces a four-day conference beginning September 8, 1970. Each pastor is the guest of the college and will not incur conference expenses while a guest on campus. This invitation is open to any interested pastor and is designed to relate to the everyday problems of the ministry.

The featured speaker will be Dr. Warren Wiersbe, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Covington, Kentucky. Dr. Wiersbe's subject will be "The Pastor and His Preaching." Each lecture will be followed by a question-and-answer period and a discussion period.

Workshops are planned that will cover informative and interesting topics relating to the pastor's work. Rev. Stanley Ballard, Associate Professor of Psychology at Cedarville College, will conduct a workshop on "The Pastor and Counseling." Rev. Donald Sewell, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Toledo, Ohio, will cover "The Pastor and Visitation" in his workshop area. "The Pastor and Personal Finance" workshop will be conducted by Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, CPA and Business Manager of Cedarville College. A workshop on "The Pastor and Youth" will be Rev. David Truit's topic. Rev. Truit is the youth director of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

This third annual conference is offered in appreciation for the excellent support given to Cedarville College by many churches. All meals and lodging are through the courtesy of the college. Several hundred pastors have enjoyed this gratis conference for the past two years. The registration deadline is September 3, 1970. Reservations should be sent to: Dr. James T. Jeremiah, Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio 45314.

"THREE TO GROW ON" CAMPAIGN BRIEFS

The largest capital campaign in the college's history has now successfully rolled through the states of Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana. Hundreds of contacts with churches, alumni, businesses, foundations, and friends have been made by pastors, alumni, and friends serving on various regional committees.

Over 400 churches, 1400 alumni, and many businesses have been personally contacted concerning what part they might have in the reality of three new campus buildings—a men's dormitory, a science center, and student center. The response to date has totaled in cash gifts and three year pledges approximately $167,000.

In September and October the campaign will commence with contacts in New York, and in November and December, Pennsylvania. A new college filmstrip and tape presentation will be available and mailed for the campaign in this area. The 500 new filmstrips, entitled "The Case for the Christian Liberal Arts College", will be available for distribution to the churches on our mailing list during 1970-71.

Pastors are encouraged to promptly show and share this presentation to their people so they can prayerfully consider what the Lord would have them to do toward this $800,000 goal to build over $2.2 million worth of new campus facilities.

BEACH EVANGELISM

Reverend Harold Green, the Director of Campus Christian Service organizations, accompanied a group of 14 students to Key West, Florida, on June 6, 1970. The group departed following the commencement program for a one-week operation from a base established at Dr. Jack Scott's home in Key West. Dr. Scott provided housing for four students and the remainder of the group were hosted by various members of the Temple Baptist Church in Key West.

The original plan was to return to the beaches of Florida as an earlier Beach Evangelism group did during the spring quarter break. Upon arriving at the beaches there were so few "contacts" that the program was shifted to "base evangelism." After a survey on Monday, June 8th, that confirmed the lack of youth on the beach, one of Dr. Scott's friends, an Army Chaplain, was contacted for a possible field of witness. Major Harold Collins cleared the way for Cedarville students to conduct chapel meetings at the Boca Chica Naval Air Base. Two services were conducted and two decisions resulted.

On Wednesday night the students were in charge of the mid-week services at the Temple Baptist church. Several visiting military men were reached with the gospel through magic, testimonies, and special music.

Ken Evans, a junior and a magician, stayed in Key West to work with the church and also the youth of the juvenile delinquent court in the county jail.

Pastor Green feels that an effective witness went forth even though the beach area was not the specific field. Flexibility such as this enables the students to develop a more mature Christian testimony.

pastor and high school principal or counselor. Further information regarding the admission procedure is outlined in the college catalog which may be secured by writing to The Director of Admissions, Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio, 45314. Information regarding financial assistance and the application forms are also available upon request.

In recent years the Curriculum Committee has proposed certain course changes to improve the educational opportunities available. Five new philosophy courses have been added to make a minor of twenty-three credit hours in this field. The student teaching program in Christian Education has been enlarged to include practical experience in its total program. Christian education in the local church or teaching, counseling, or administration of a Christian Education curriculum should be of real interest to young men who feel called to work with young people in the local church.

The course in world geography has been reorganized and divided to provide two courses; one dealing with the western hemisphere and one which covers the eastern hemisphere. A new course in international relations has also been added to the area of political science.

CEDAR DAY WEEKEND

One of the highlights of the Honors Day program on Friday, May 8, was the presentation by student council president, Mr. Dave Kearney, the Faculty of the Year Award. This year's award went to Dr. John Reed, Professor of Speech. Dr. Reed began his teaching at Cedarville in 1961. The recognition was for his outstanding contribution to students in the areas of counseling, teaching, and student activities. Dr. Reed plans to leave Cedarville College and assume a teaching position as associate professor of Practical Theology at Dallas Theological Seminary, Dallas, Texas, in the fall. At Dallas Dr. Reed will be teaching Homiletics, Oral Reading of the Bible, and Pastoral Ministries. Upon his acceptance to this new ministry Dr. Reed says, "I love Cedarville and I hate to leave but I have a clear leading of the Lord that it is the right thing to do."

Many student awards were given. From the Chemical Rubber Company, the Science Achievement Award went to James Jenny. In radio, Dane Rohm received the Broadcaster of the Year, and Paul Wheeler received the Most Improved Broadcaster. Ann Kusumoto received the Edith Hart Milner Award in English. From the Education Department, Connie Walker received the Clara Monzelle Milner Award. The George Boyd Accounting Award went to Joan Miller. The Dean's List (3.25) and Dean's Honor List (3.75) were given commendation.

On Saturday, May 9, various activities provided students and visitors with excitement and challenge. The Cedarville Invitational Tennis Tournament was concluded with Cedarville on top. Also on top was Alpha Chi over Pi Sigma Nu men on the lakefront activities. Jousting, the shuttle and many wet contestants made an interesting lake front contest scene. The spring play, a farce entitled "The Imaginary Invalid" was presented at Alford Auditorium as a conclusion to Cedar Day.

SPRING SPORT TALLY

The tennis team ended another great net season with an overall conference record of 18-2. After wrapping up the Mid-Ohio Conference with the above trophies, they were off to Kansas City and the NAIA Nationals. The team slipped from twelfth in the nation last year to nineteenth this year after a seating with the strongest teams in the country.

The Yellow Jackets' baseball team is the 1970 co-champs of the MOC, along with Findlay College. Both teams were tied with 5-3 records. Cedarville's overall record was 13-10.

The golf team finished the year the best ever. Coach Bob Gromacki was very pleased with the team placing sixth in District 22 competition. In MOC Cedarville clubbers placed fifth ahead of Wilmington and Findlay. The overall record this year was 8-5.

Rookie coach Elvin King reports that the track team consistently broke school records this year. In spite of the 3-5 record, an impressive team was produced that will solidify as the large freshmen team capitalizes on their first year's experience. A new resolute surfaced track should be ready for the team next year.
