DEC.-JAN. 1970-71

1700 ATTEND YOUTH CONFERENCE

For 250 Cedarville College students, November 7 was a day of responsibility and reward. Beginning as early as 8:00 a.m. Saturday morning, some 1,200 visiting young people began registering for the 4th Annual Youth Conference sponsored by a campus Christian Service Group, the Swordbearers. The days and months leading up to November 7 had been filled with long-range planning—workshop coordinating, topic preparation, scheduling of living accommodations—a host of minute details. But, the time spent was well worth the day's potency.

Coming from six surrounding states, teenagers and their group leaders attended the 10:00 a.m. general assembly at which Don Lonie, nationally known high school speaker, delivered his first of two stirring messages given during the day. As the day progressed, 22 individual workshops were conducted by Cedarville students and numerous adults from the College. Held at 1:45, 3:00 and 3:45 p.m., the workshops allowed their leaders an opportunity to communicate the "Relevancy of Christ" regarding an individual's life and in particular those problems dealing with Science, Sex, and the Establishment.

Behind the scenes and months before, counselling sessions had been attended by all workshop leaders in preparation for the responsibility of this day. Twelve hundred young lives are a great many to influence—either for the better or for the worse. And Cedarville students, by the grace and power of God, were eager to strengthen the lives of those visiting their campus.

MISSIONARY INTERNSHIP NEW OPPORTUNITY

In order to provide a unique short-term exposure to mission life, Cedarville College has instituted the Missionary Internship Service to become active the summer of 1971. Under the direction of Mr. Don Callan, Chairman of the Athletic Department at Cedarville, plans are presently being finalized to send tours to oriental Hong Kong and the Philippines with openings available to interested and burdened faculty, students, and alumni of the College.

An invitation from the Field Council

The evening rally at 6:30 p.m. in the College gymnasium found 1,700 young people and adults listening to the challenge made through the guest speaker Don Lonie. At the end of the day, a tally showed that nine decisions had been made, five of which were for salvation.

Looking back, the Swordbearers could see a fantastic change in their annual presentation. Four years prior, they had organized their first conference and had entertained 50 young people. Last year the number had climbed to 300 and this year nearly 1,200 registered for the workshop sessions. Dare they think what next year might bring!

"For the word of God is quick, and powerful and sharper than any two-edged sword . . ." and so the Swordbearers at Cedarville are constantly seeking more ways to utilize this Sword to the glory of the Lord.

in Hong Kong began the idea as they requested the College send a group of students to work in an English-speaking camp in conjunction with ABWE missionaries. From the Philippines, an invitation then came for a group of basketballers to work with tent campaigns. The ideal would be to use basketball as a means of creating interest in a community, thus drawing more people to the meetings. The Gospel would then be presented at the game. Drama groups could also be a very effective means of evangelism.

The organization of the Missionary Internship Service (MIS) has as its objectives, not only a means of exposure to mission life on the part of the persons participating, but also a means of being of service in the missionary outreach. It will also seek to provide leadership in setting up and controlling missionary internships. To add a universal dimension to the educational process of Cedarville College, to create within the individual a burden for lost souls throughout the world, and to further develop the skills needed in reaching the lost for Christ add to the formulative structure of the organization.

Each person going would be responsible for raising his or her own support, just as the full-time missionary does. And, he would then ultimately report his experiences to his supporting works.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President

In recent years American college students have been the targets of an increasing amount of criticism. Unquestionably, some of these young people have earned it, but not all of them deserve the harsh words which have been written and spoken. Some of their critics have been guilty of generalization when they classify all students as rebels.

Some of us are persuaded that the students in our Christian schools are the outstanding youth of our nation. To be sure, like the rest of us they have their problems; but each one of them who has a personal relationship with Christ can depend upon Him to direct them as they seek His will for their lives. They know what it means to cast their burdens upon the Lord and to experience the peace which comes as a result of such a commitment.

For a long time some of us have had a concern for the youth of our churches. We have watched some of the best of our young people leave the local congregations and attend colleges and universities where their Christian faith has been ridiculed and their testimony for Christ has been ruined. They have been lost to the cause of Christ.

Because of this concern, the administration of Cedarville College has sought to provide the best possible Christian education for our youth at the least possible expense to them. Regretfully, through the years we have had to increase tuition and other costs in order to operate the College. One reason for the increase has been the ever-spiraling inflation of recent years.

Inflation, however, has been only one of the reasons why education at Cedarville is costing the student more. Almost everyone who reads these lines is aware that enrollment at Cedarville has increased from about 100 in 1953 to 960 in 1970; but are you aware that gift income from churches and individuals has not increased at the same rate? For this reason, too, it has been necessary for the student to pay more in order to meet the difference.

Because of the economic inflation now with us, and the indifference or inability on the part of many who should be concerned, increased student costs for the future are inevitable.

An interested pastor or a concerned church member will now ask, "How much should our church contribute to subsidize the College costs of our students?" To maintain the present academic level of our College program we must receive at least $300 each year in gifts for each one of our students. This does not include sufficient funds vital to the improvement and expansion of our facilities.

Pastor! Deacon! Trustee! Parent! Will you take one moment to consider what you can do to help your students as they face this future financial burden in pursuit of a Christian college education?

We sincerely believe that "He established a testimony . . . that the generation to come might know and set their hope in God" (Psalm 78:4-6). Therefore, we may expect Him to meet our needs, but remember He does it through His people.

PROFESSORS TO TEACH AT INSTITUTE

Three Cedarville College professors have been chosen to participate in the newly established Xenia Bible Institute to open its doors January 5 in Xenia, Ohio. Dr. George Lawlor, Mr. Mead Armstrong, and Mr. Larry Killian will be assuming administrative positions as well as instructing various Bible classes in the Institute.

G. Lawlor

L. Killian

M. Armstrong

Mr. Larry Killian, Assistant Professor of Biological Science at Cedarville, will begin responsibilities on January 5 as the Dean of Instruction as well as teacher of the section entitled "Science and Evolution." Dr. George Lawlor, Professor of Greek and Bible, and Mr. Mead Armstrong, Associate Professor of Bible, will both serve as board members and will teach courses every Tuesday evening. Dr. Lawlor will be teaching "Inspiration of the Scriptures," and Mr. Armstrong, "Personal Evangelism."

Scheduled to meet one evening a week, the Institute will train persons in fundamentals of historic Christian faith as set forth in the Bible.

HOLY LAND TOUR

"Everyone in our group agreed, there was no feeling of apprehension, tension or fear in Israel . . . It's a thrill to walk in the steps of the Master again and realize this is His land. . ."

Despite this current day of unrest and warring in the Promised Land, you can still look forward to ten glorious days of realization as Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President of Cedarville College, hosts "The Best of the Holy Land" tour to begin January 12, 1971. At the extremely low price of $565.00, you can visit the places Christ walked, taught, and lived and view the many historical landmarks spoken of throughout the Bible. The tour, completely Christian-oriented, will provide maximum highlights, superior guides in the Holy Land, and no hidden expenses.

For further information, contact Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President, Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio 45314.

PASTORS' CONFERENCE A SUCCESS

The Third Annual Pastors' Conference hosted by Cedarville College was again this year a time of refreshment and fellowship for over 200 ministers from 13 different states. Guest speaker for the conference was Dr. Warren Wiersbe, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Covington, Kentucky. Four workshops were conducted by men specializing in various areas of a pastor's life: "The Pastor and Personal Finance" as presented by Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, business manager at Cedarville; "The Pastor and Visitation" by Reverend Donald Sewell from Emmanuel Baptist Church in Toledo; "The Pastor and Counseling," by Reverend Stanley Ballard, Associate Professor of Psychology at Cedarville; and "The Pastor and Youth," by Reverend David Truit, Youth Director of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Our Thanks And Come Again . . . September 13-16, 1971

Thank you for coming, Pastor, and plan now to attend the Fourth Annual Pastor's Conference to be held September 13-16, 1971, on Cedarville College campus. Enjoy four days of refreshing studies, vitalizing workshop sessions, and Christian fellowship with men of like faith. It is our gift to you for all that you do for us throughout the year. Detailed information to follow as time approaches.

FACULTY FACTS

Mr. Mead Armstrong, Associate Professor of Bible, represented the College at the annual Fellowship of Baptists for Home Missions (F.B.H.M.) meeting in Philadelphia as a member of the Advisory Council of the Mission on September 22 and 23.

Dr. Donald Baumann, Professor of Biology and Chemistry and Chairman of the Science and Mathematics Division, attended the First National Biological Congress held in Detroit, Michigan, on November 7-10. The purpose of this new Institution is to learn about new developments in biology, especially related to man's environment and to mend a communication gap between science and the common public.

Mr. Austin Elmore, Associate Professor of Biological Science, is serving again this year on the steering committee of

SCIENCE BUILDING CAMPAIGN Gifts and Pledges $195,000

Churches and individuals have been encouraged to pledge $1,000 over a three-year period toward the $800,000 needed for the new Science Center, the first of three buildings to be erected in the College's "Three to Grow On" campaign. Gifts and pledges now total $195,000.

The 1971 edition of the college filmstrip "The Case for the Christian Liberal Arts College" has been mailed to churches in several states. They will be circulated to other states as rapidly as possible. Pastors are encouraged to show the presentation in their churches so their people can rejoice at what God is doing at Cedarville.

Pray that the Lord will, according to His sovereign will, supply the funds for this much needed building.

Maryalyce Jeremiah, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, attended the Ohio College Association meeting at Huston Woods on October 23 and 24. They attended sections dealing with the Women's Physical Education program.

Miss Joy Mackay, Assistant Professor of Christian Education, has attended a number of conferences recently. She attended the Research Commission meeting for Christian Education Professors in Philadelphia on October 20-21. She conducted three workshops at the National Sunday School Convention in Philadelphia on October 22-24. She also conducted two workshops at the Christian Camping International regional convention in Hudson, Illinois, in October. At the Research Commission of the Association of Professors of Christian Education meeting, Miss Mackay was elected treasurer of the group.

Mrs. Miriam Maddox and Mr. Jim Phipps, both Assistant Professors of Speech, attended the Ohio Speech Association meeting at Otterbein College on October 10. Mrs. Maddox attended sessions dealing with Oral Interpretation and Mr. Phipps, Black Rhetoric and the Debate.

Dr. Cleveland McDonald, Chairman of the Division of Social Science, had published in the October issue of the BAPTIST BULLETIN an article entitled "The Age of Aquarius" dealing with astrology and this day of signs and horoscopes.

Mr. Jim Phipps, Assistant Professor of Speech, received his Masters in Communication from The Ohio State University in June of this year.

Mr. William Riter, Instructor of Business Administration, and Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, Business Manager at the College, attended the monthly meeting of the Ohio Society of CPA's, Dayton Chapter, on October 5. The luncheon meeting dealt with the "Profession Service Corporations."

THE TEST OF A TESTIMONY

"God controls the unexpected." That is what I said in an oral testimony given Wednesday night at Grace Baptist Church. On Friday afternoon the unexpected happened. My family and I, on our way to a Kettering cafeteria, were involved in a head-on collision on U.S. No. 35, just east of the Grange Hall Road intersection. A drunk, on the opposite side of a grassy median, had just driven through the red light. At high speed, coming upon slow-moving traffic, he suddenly darted to the left, across the median, and on to the pavement in front of me. A terrible crash followed. Did God control the unexpected event? He certainly did—a truth for which our family praises Him.

In the hours and days since the crash, these spiritual lessons have been impressed upon my heart and mind. First, when I became conscious in the wreckage, a sense of total helplessness overwhelmed me. I could hear my children crying in the back seat and my wife talking incoherently beside me, but I could do nothing. They were reaching out for me, but I could not reach out toward them. The absolute insufficiency was very apparent.

However, this helplessness was soon replaced by a complete dependence on God. I was aware that only God could cope with the situation. "Lord, take care of my children. Take care of my wife. Into your hands I commit them and myself. Thy will be done." This was my prayer.

At the same time, the peace and comfort of God, buoyed by an awareness of (Editorial Note: The Gromacki children suffered minor bruises. Mrs. Gromacki received a basal skull fracture, torn ligaments in the hip area, and cuts and bruises on the arms and legs. Dr. Gromacki had three fractured ribs, a lung contusion, and cuts and bruises on the face, arms, and legs. The Lord graciously spared their lives during this near tragedy. Although both Dr. and Mrs. Gromacki are now home from the hospital, please continue to pray for their recovery.)

STAFF NEWS

Mrs. Mary Armstrong, Dean of Women, and Mrs. Mary Lynn Peterson, Resident Advisor to Maddox Hall Girls' Dormitory, attended the Midwestern Section of the Christian Association of Deans of Women held at Grace College on November 19.

Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, College Business Manager, attended the Midwest Association of Business Administrators of Christian Colleges on October 27-28 in Chicago, Illinois. At that time he conducted a workshop entitled "Equipment Service Contracts" and was later elected to a three-year term as a director of the Association.

Mr. Lee Turner, Director of Development, served as workshop leader at the Annual Association of Teachers of Christian Schools Convention at Winona Lake on October 8-9. The meeting was attended by nearly 500 Christian school administrators interested in the purpose of the convention theme "... renewal of the mind . . . through Christian Education."

by Dr. Robert Gromacki

His presence, just filled my soul. I told someone later, "this was no time to think through your theology. You either have it or you don't." All at once, those passages which I had read, heard, studied, and preached upon, were made real and personal through the internal witness of the Holy Spirit. The peace of God was just there. It was not drummed up; it was there! It was real! There was no panic — no frustration — no depression only the quiet rest of the soul in the lap of God. It was a fantastic experience.

In the hospital, other truths became evident. A new appreciation of time struck me. How often we have heard messages about dedicating our time and talents to the Lord. To me, time was now indeed a gift of God. My wife and I (and possibly our children) could have easily gone into glory, but God spared our lives. He has a purpose for us in the years ahead.

Soon, visitors came to the hospital room — Christian doctors, Christian nurses, students, faculty members, fellow ministers, my pastor. Cards came from all over the country. Reports of prayer in various churches reached me. A new recognition of our oneness in Christ touched me. Just think. These are my brothers and sisters in the Lord. They are concerned. They are interested. They are praying for my family. That is encouraging and edifying.

Our family praises God for His Person and for His power to preserve His own. God has been faithful to His word.

SPIRITUAL REFRESHMENT

Spiritual refreshment came as a result of this year's Fall Bible Conference held October 5-9 on the College campus. A number of students responded as Dr. Paul Tassell, National youth representative for the GARBC and youth editor of the Regular Baptist Press, brought the Spiritual and timely challenges twice a day during the week of meetings. In addition to the scheduled meetings, a Day of Prayer on October 6 was set aside during which time faculty, staff, and students could assemble together as one for prayer and praise. It was a good week for an even better year ahead.

STOCKWELL AWARDED DOCTORATE

In 1966 Mr. Stockwell graduated from Cedarville with a B.A. in Speech and in 1967 from Bowling Green with his Masters in Theatre. Having served at Cedarville for two years, he heads the Drama Department from which comes the various theatrical productions.

DR. NARRAMORE SPEAKS

On November 6, 1970, psychology majors at Cedarville enjoyed the rare opportunity of hearing Dr. Bruce Narramore, vice-president of the Rosemead Graduate School of Psychology in California, speak regarding the integration of psychology with the Scriptures. Dr. Narramore emphasized the need for more Christian psychologists today and gave the students pointers as to entrance requirements to the Rosemead Graduate School after having earned a Masters degree.

MISSIONARY NEWS

From Don ('68) and Betty Lacey, (68), Ris-Organis, France, Under Baptist Mid-Missions: "The Lord provided a wonderful opportunity to me two weeks ago during my French Conversation class. The teacher had designated as the topic for discussion, "The Faith." The first day the atheists and the agnostics dominated the class hour. The second day I expressed my belief in God and in the Bible as being the Word of God. In defense for my position the teacher gave me one-half hour, extending the class hour ten minutes. What a tremendous opportunity and how thrilled I was with the way the Lord helped me to express myself in French. The next day the teacher demanded we change the subject, but for a school where neither religion nor politics are to be discussed, I was sure the opportunity had been of God."

From Norm ('64) and Evelyn Nicklas, ('64), Sao Paulo Capital, Brazil, South America, Under the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism: "We have been studying about tithing recently in our Adult Sunday School Class. After class yesterday one of our young couples said they wanted to talk to me. They recently had a new baby and were having a hard time as the baby has been sick and he has been out of work. He said, 'We want to start tithing. Last week I earned $4.00. Here is my tithe of forty cents.' We certainly thank the Lord for the privilege we have of bringing the Word to these fine people."

A DAY OF SMILES

Homecoming 1970 at Cedarville College was a day of smiles, splashes, and sustenance as nearly 300 alumni returned to their alma mater for their annual get-together, this year on October 17, 1970. The yearly Homecoming soccer game provided excitement as the double overtime score evidenced a tie and the halftime break featured the crowning of Queen Linda Nelson before a standing-room-only crowd. Other features of the day included the traditional Homecoming parade during which floats from the various classes and organizations rolled down the Main street of Cedarville. With the theme "... redeeming the time" as found in Ephesians 5:16 entries were judged and presented awards according to merit. Early afternoon found alumni and friends gathering in the Alumni Center '70 Big Top Tent which had been erected for the purpose of housing alumni displays, informal food service, ham radio operaiton, and registration. Meanwhile outside, and only down the hill from the tent, hundreds watched as three daring young men braved the chilly College lake water in performing precision sky-diving into the lake. The three are members of the Greene County parachute Club.

Awards given during the afternoon Alumni meeting included the following: 1970 Alumnus of Year—Jack Willetts ('58) who is presently superintendent of schools in Brunswick, Ohio, and who was named Man of the Year by the Brunswick J.C.'s; Honorary Alumnus of the Year—Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President of Cedarville College, with distinction made in outstanding service rendered to the College for at least ten years; and Class Agent of the Year—Merlin Ager, Dwayne Frank, and David Matson, a threesome who shouldered the responsibility of keeping the class of 1960 informed, involved, and invigorated about Cedarville happenings. Merit was given on the basis of a three-way high: total amount of funds given to the College during the past year, average gift given, and percentage of participation in gifts given to the College.
