$143,000 IN GIFTS RECEIVED

WALK-A-THON

"Marching with the conviction and dedication of 'soldiers of the Cross,' student and faculty members of Cedarville College Tuesday staged a 'Walk-A-Thon' to Springfield which raised $17,320.46 in pledges for the Baptist College in Greene County."

So read the Springfield, Ohio, DAILY NEWS on Wednesday, April 7, 1971, the day following Cedarville College's 6-hour trek to Springfield to raise funds for capital improvements on the college campus.

A week later, another Springfield newspaper, THE SUN, published an editorial calling Cedarville students "smiling acti-vists." It went on to emphasize that "the affair (Walk-A-Thon) was conducted under circumstances not only remarkably wellmannered but remarkably good-natured. What seems to have most impressed Springfielders who were fortunate enough to get a look at the procession is the extraordinary cheerfulness that prevailed. . . . We doubt if it made any press wire services outside the state . . . but we don't suppose the Cedarville people spent much time shaking their heads over that. For one thing, when a Baptist speaks of good news he is usually thinking about the Gospel. For another, the Cedarville Baptists were intent upon performing a service for their College; almost incidentally, as it were, did it turn out to be a service for casual onlookers, reminding them

LARGEST CEDARVILLE PLEDGE RECEIVED

On April 24, Cedarville College received its largest corporate gift in the College's history from the Dayton Power and Light Company. The $35,000 gift will be used toward construction of the new Science Center. Pictured above is Mr. Kenneth G. Oxley, Chairman of the Board of the Dayton Power and Light Company, as he talks with Cedarville President Dr. James T. Jeremiah (left) and Mr. Lee C. Turner, Director of Development (right) upon presenting the check. The gift given April 24 was for $12,000, the first of the pledge to be given over a 4-year period. A corporate gift of this size is encouraging.

In addition to this gift, Dr. Jeremiah received word that the will of Miss Ruby Lamb of Johnson City, New York, had designated nearly 1/5 of her estate to the work of Cedarville College. A check for $90,000 is presently being forwarded by the executor with an additional approximate of $40,000 pending the final settlement of the estate. Miss Lamb's service to the Lord through her bequest is an example of Christian stewardship that will have lasting effects upon the lives of many Christian young people.

How we praise God for His sufficiency and the willingness of others to share in our endeavor. Because of these and many other gifts from individuals, churches, and foundations, Cedarville may be able to break ground for the new Science Center within a few months.

Breaking ground as we have reached the halfway mark of $400,000 is exciting, yet it still leaves opportunity for others to share in the expansion program. We're trusting the Lord to continue His working in the hearts and lives of those who are able to give and want to share in His work through the ministry of our College.

With applications at a 25% increase over last year, it is anticipated that Cedarville's fall enrollment for 1971 will be 1,000 students. We must be ready for them! Pray with us that in these future days much will be accomplished for the Lord.

of something almost forgotten in a turbulent world: that when good works really work, they remind us of how much human happiness they can generate. As Presbyterians put it in their first article of faith—and as Baptists certainly concur—man's chief end is not only to glorify God but to 'enjoy Him forever'."

Cedarville students, faculty and staff have since recovered from the long trek of 12 miles but the effects are not forgotten. Not forgotten is the pledged $17,320.46—more than 10 times the amount ever raised by a student body project before—nor the individuals who made it possible. Over 3,000 sponsors pledged themselves to underwrite a student, faculty or staff member a definite amount for each mile walked. (1,200 feet walked a combined total of 7,200 miles!) Nor will it be forgotten the benefits derived from the funds raised:

- $1,000-Missionary Internship Service;
- $1,000-Student Missionary Project;
- $7,500— Restroom facilities and concession stand at athletic field;
- $5,000—Fence around track;
- $2,000—Portable bleachers;
- $1,000—Wrestling mat;
- $2,000—Trees for campus.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James T. Jeremiah, President

Cedarville College is not yet all we want it to be; but it has progressed through the years because God has been pleased to bless it and because a number of people have sacrificed to work for, and in, the College.

Any successful endeavor must have people who "stick with it," rather than quit when the going becomes difficult. There are a number of illustrations of this principle.

A scientist, during a series of experiments that did not work, refused to admit failure. He told a co-worker, "We now know one thousand things that won't work, so we're that much closer to finding out what will!" Thus, Thomas A. Edison became successful.

A young English boy, called "Carrot Top" by other students, was given very little hope of success by his teachers. He failed two examinations for entrance into a military academy. He didn't quit, however, but after more study passed the third exam. Later the world began to hear about Winston Churchill.

The parents of another boy called him a "misfit" because he was so slow to learn to talk. When he entered school his classmates evaded him and seldom invited him to join them in play. He failed his first college exam at a college in Zurick, Switzerland. A year later he tried again and made it. Albert Einstein became a world-famous scientist.

Are you encouraged to press on toward victory in your life and service? Paul wrote, "Let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not." (Galatians 6:9). Many victories have been lost because we came just a little bit short in the matter of perseverance.

What has all of this to do with Cedarville College? This issue of the Bulletin reports some unusual material gains. Sometimes there is a tendency when this happens for everyone to be grateful, and then to take a vacation from effort. This we dare not do if we expect to build the new science building and to provide other facilities within the next two years. Our goal is still $800,000!

We anticipate that 1,000 students will be on this campus when the fall quarter begins September 30. This fact, in itself, is enough to show that we must not stop short in our efforts: not only to build a science building, but a student center, additional housing units, and to improve present facilities.

We are grateful for the churches and individuals pledging $1,000 over a three-year period. We need your commitment now.

"The Ministry of Power" Pastors' Conference Theme

Today is not too early to make plans to attend Cedarville's Fourth Annual Pastors' Conference September 13-16. Guest speaker this year will be Dr. Howard Sugden, pastor of South Baptist Church in Lansing, Michigan, whose focus will be on "The Ministry of Power." In addition, workshop sessions have been planned with four different leaders: Dr. Bill Rice, pastor of Inter-City Baptist Church, Allen Park, Michigan, "The Christian Day School"; Reverend Don Jennings, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Ypsilanti, Michigan, "Contemporary Problems Facing the Local Church"; Dr. John Rawlings, pastor of Cincinnati's Landmark Baptist Church, "How to Build a Sunday School"; and Mr. Donald Rickard, Dean of Students at Cedarville College, "Counselling Teenagers for College."

Provided will be maximum comfort, superb meals, necessary linen, and recreational facilities, in addition to the warm Christian fellowship always accompanying such a group. Plan now to share in this time of instruction, fellowship and inspiration.

STAFF NEWS

Mr. Ken Nichols, Student Activities Director, and Mr. Dick Walker, Assistant, attended a Basic Youth Conflicts conference in Detroit, Michigan, May 10-15. Bill Gothard led the conference, using Scriptures only as basis for answers to today's problems.

Miss Marcia Jones, Director of Communication, attended a Christian Writers' Conference at Wheaton College March 23-26. Over 18 professional writers conducted workshops dealing with techniques, styles, markets, and the diversity in Christian writing.

Mr. Stan Seevers, Assistant Director of Development, Eastern Representative, attended the Louisiana State University and received certification in the R & R Estate Protection Course. This further qualifies him for offering sound counsel in the use of life insurance for estate conservation.

Special Guest on Campus

Dr. Robert Ketcham, well-known Bible expositor and former national representative for the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, visited the Cedarville campus April 5-9 and served as chapel speaker during the week. It is always a pleasure having Dr. Ketcham with us and sharing in the Word as he speaks.

DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL PLANT POSITION AVAILABLE

Position open presently for a Director of Physical Plant: responsible for operation of campus buildings and grounds. Engineering degree or comparable experience required. Send resume to Kenneth H. St. Clair, Business Manager, Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio 45314.

CHORALAIRES GIVE HOME CONCERT

The Choralaires, another group of Cedarville touring singers, performed their last concert of the season at "home" on May 21. This year they have journeyed as far as Chicago and Detroit for weekend engagements. The program they presented, "Great Hymns of Faith," under the direction of Mr. Jack Payne, Associate Professor of Music, centered around the hymns of great English and American hymn writers of the eighteenth through the twentieth centuries. Choral settings of such hymns as Robert Robinson's "Come Ye that Love the Lord," and Fanny Crosby's "Blessed Assurance" were sung. The 40-voice choral presentation included narration and slides as well as instrumental accompaniment. A brass ensemble played the prelude.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE WORKERS HONORED

More than 200 Cedarville students were recognized April 21 at the College's annual Christian Service workers' banquet. With this year's theme of "Sow and Reap," Pastor David Jeremiah of Blackhawk Baptist Church in Fort Wayne, Indiana, challenged the collegians in their continued faithfulness for the Lord. Honored during the evening were 86 seniors who had served a minimum of two quarters during this past school year and two senior students having performed outstanding service during their years at Cedarville College. Dianne Kemp and Chuck Rowe received the Martha Brown award, a plaque given in honor of the Christian service rendered by a former student, Martha Brown, who died unexpectedly in 1967.

Dianne, a senior psychology major from Coal Valley, Illinois, has served faithfully during her four years at Cedarville. She has served at the Springfield Detention Home, the Knights of Pythias Rest Home, Heather Green Rest Home, the Swordbearers group, and the Springfield Settlement House. She also worked with campus evangelism, campus Fellowship for World Missions, has helped in junior churches, and taught Sunday School at Southgate Baptist Church.

Chuck has been similarly active. A senior pre-seminary student from DeRuyter, New York, he has served at Heather Green Nursing Home, Jamestown Nursing Home (leader), in Swordbearers (leader of the group his junior and senior years), and as a member of the gospel team program. Chuck's role as leader of the Swordbearers has required much time and dedication; it has grown to be the largest evangelistic group on the campus.

MIS APPOINTEES ABROAD

Students have gone through many procedures in working toward their MIS assignments this summer. Pictured above are Terry Clapp and Sue Moore as they receive innoculation shots for their journey abroad. At this time, they are already on their way.

This year 12 students or former students are serving on mission fields abroad in an apprentice-type work under Cedarville's Missionary Internship Service. Four have gone to Hong Kong with Pastor and Mrs. Don Moffat where they are working under ABWE missionaries. Eight basketball players are in the Philippines at this time with their advisor and coach Don Callan. They are holding basketball seminars along with pointed times of testimony, special music and sharing.

Numerous other Cedarville students have also gone abroad this summer but are not under the MIS program. They have worked independently for support and contact on the field and are on fields in Spain, France, Peru, England, Bolivia, and Ecuador.

Our prayers go with them in this unique experience and ministry.

Science Center Update

Since the last issue of the Bulletin, monies totalling over $165,000 have come in toward the Science Center campaign, increasing the total to close to $400,000. An article on the front page of this issue describes in detail how the Lord has blessed in this regard. Continue to share with us in your prayers the needs and work of Cedarville College.

STUDENTS . . . TRAVELING WITNESSES

Twenty members of the Cedarville College Swordbearers' group spent their spring break this year traveling. With a theme of "A Time for Us," the students journeyed through New York and Pennsylvania working with area churches and youth works. Their various capacities of service included conducting church services, banquets, Sunday School classes, special music, radio broadcasts, youth rallies, young people's workshops and youth counselling. They visited 11 churches and covered more than 1,500 miles during their ten days away from the College. Student Personnel staff member, Dick Walker, accompanied the group as advisor.

Decisions made known for Christ were four for salvation and nine for re-dedication. The eight co-eds and twelve men traveling felt that some of their best contacts were made as they spent evenings in the homes of church members. During these times they had the opportunity to talk casually with many local town teenagers who would stop by to visit.

SPIRIT LIES "HEAVY" AT CEDARVILLE

Spirit lies heavy at Cedarville College these days as something new and different has been added to its campus. It's a "spirit" log, weighing 1,440 pounds, covering a ten-foot long area, and measuring two and one-half feet high.

Introduced near the beginning of spring by a men's group, Alpha Chi, the log has become the object for that college spirit of competition that inevitably calls for action. But it takes a heap more than just spirit to move the 1,440 pound monster.

When stealing the log, the opposing group (which must be a part of the college) must move it 200 feet from the dormitory being challenged before new ownership is valid.

Despite the immensity of the object, the "spirit" of Cedarville has already been stolen several times, even by teams of enthusiastic co-eds from Maddox Hall and Faith Hall.

ACADEMICALLY SPEAKING

Three Cedarville senior psychology majors and two chemistry majors have been granted assistantships to continue their education.

Verna Tallmon of Creston, Iowa, has been granted a four-year Faculty Fellowship of $2,500 in the area of Social Psychology at Columbia University. Verna was also offered three other grants but chose Columbia. She has a 3.98 cumulative and received the highest GRE scores ever recorded at Cedarville.

Joyce Brookhart from Lima, Ohio, will work under a four-year Fellowship from The Ohio State University in the area of Child Clinical Psychology. Funds will range from $2,400 to $3,600, increasing with each year's additional demands. Joyce was also offered an assistanship from Purdue.

Mary Beitz of Buffalo, New York, was offered four assistantships, but selected that of the University of Massachusetts. The $3,200 teaching and research assistantship will be in Educational Developmental Psychology.

Phil Mohler, a senior majoring in chemistry, will be working under a $3,000 assistantship from The Ohio State University in the teaching field of analytical chemistry. Phil has also been honored as outstanding senior chemistry major from Cedarville by the Dayton Chapter of the American Chemical Society and was nominated to appear in the 1970-71 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Ron Meyers, a senior majoring in both chemistry and mathematics, will study in the field of organic chemistry under a $3,300 assistantship from The Ohio State University. Ron has served two years as chief of the nationally-known Cedarville College Red Cross Disaster Team and has also been chosen to appear in the 1970-71 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

FACULTY FACTS

Dr. Merlin Ager, Professor of Educacation and Chairman of the Division of Education-Psychology, spoke at the Maranatha Christian School in Columbus March 26. The occasion, a Parent-Teacher Association meeting, requested Dr. Ager and his entire education staff to participate in the session dealing with what is new in education and what Christian Day Schools are doing today. Miss Dodson spoke on "How to Encourage Students to Read;" Mrs. Stockwell, "Human Relations in the Classroom;" and all entertained questions that arose. A slide presentation was given and team teaching was role-played by Dwayne Frank and Dr. Ager.

Dr. Don Baumann, Professor of Biology and Chemistry and Chairman of the division of Science and Mathematics at Cedarville, has been granted the privilege to attend the summer Institute in Radiation Biology at the University of Kansas this coming summer. Supported by the Atomic Energy Commission, the eight-week institute will be geared to college biology teachers and will be housed in the Nuclear Reactor Center at the University.

Miss Irma Dodson, Associate Professor of Education, attended the International Reading Association Conference held at Convention Hall in Atlantic City, New Jersey, April 20-23, 1971. The 15,000 attending represented all 50 states and 10 foreign countries. The theme of the conference was ". . . that all may read," in keeping with the emphasis in the 1970's of the Right-To-Read program as established by the U.S. Office of Health, Education and Welfare.

Dr. J. Roland Fleck, Associate Professor of Psychology, participated in a workshop at Grace Baptist Church in Kent, Ohio, with Dr. Stowell, Sr., the featured speaker. The theme of the workshop was "The Christian Facing the Complexities of the '70's." Dr. Fleck's section dealt with "Facing the Psychological Complexities of the '70's."

Mr. Paul Gathany, Radio station manager and Mr. Jim Phipps, Assistant Professor of Speech, attended the National Association of Broadcasters convention in Chicago on March 28-31. Over 4,000 national broadcasters attended the annual meeting.

Dr. Clifford Johnson, academic dean at Cedarville, attended the annual meeting of the North Central Association in Chicago on March 28-31. The purpose of the gathering was to keep appraised of developments in accreditation.

Miss June Kearney, Associate Professor of Physical Education, and Miss Maryalyce Jeremiah, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, attended the National American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation in Detroit, Michigan, on April 2-5. Eight students also attended the meeting.

Mr. Larry Killian, Assistant Professor of Biological Science, attended the 19th Convention of the National Science Teachers Association in Washington, D. C., March 26-29. He also conducted a Christian Life Conference at the Baptist Bible Church in Grove City, Ohio, April 23-25.

Dr. Al Monroe, Associate Professor of Social Science, attended the Conference of the Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia on April 1-3. Over 2,000 social scientists were in attendance.

DID YOU KNOW?

... that if you do not have a valid will, your state already has one in effect for you? The provisions probably will not coincide with your desires or the needs of your family, because the state's laws of estate distribution are very rigid.

... that if you prefer to have the probate judge choose your executor, your children's guardians, and distribute your assets for you, just sit where you are? State law makes automatic provisions for all of this. However, if you feel a responsibility toward your husband or wife, toward your children, and especially toward your Lord, then act NOW.

- . . . that proper planning can make use of your property according to the needs of your family and for the glory of the Lord? By having a will drawn you can take into consideration your responsibility toward the needs of your spouse as well as the individual needs of your children.
- ... that Cedarville College has a staff of three professionally-trained men who are eager to confidentially counsel with you?

Mr. Murray Murdoch, Associate Professor of History, and Mr. Al Monroe attended the Second Annual Interdisciplinary Symposium held at Northwestern University on March 22-25. Sponsored by the Center for the Interdisciplinary Study of Science and Technology, the symposium dealt with Social Affects of Industrialization.

Mr. Jack Payne, Assistant Professor of Music, was honored at his former church, Grandview Park Baptist in Des Moines, Iowa, April 10. Mr. Payne conducted a formal classical organ dedicatory concert on a new 2-manual Allen electric organ. Mr. Payne is the former minister of youth and music at Grandview Park Baptist Church.

Dr. Jack Riggs, Professor of Bible, attended the Ohio Academy of Religion meeting April 2-3 at Ohio Northern University.

Mr. Edward Spencer, Associate Professor of English, attended the College Composition and Communication Conference in Cincinnati, March 25-27. He also attended a meeting of the Ohio College Association.

ENTNER, FIRST ALUMNUS ACCEPTED DIRECTLY INTO MEDICAL SCHOOL

"C.A., Dr. Entner, cardiac arrest in Room 324," a voice of urgency came over the intercom.

So begins the feature article of 1961 Cedarville graduate James Entner in the March 21, 1971, edition of the CHALLENGE paper published by the Regular Baptist Press.

Jim Entner today is a doctor in Palawan, Philippines. While most doctors look forward to the end of their six years of training and the beginning of their practice in order to gain a substantial salary, Jim's call of God to the mission field has overridden the human element.

Of his call to the mission field, Dr. Jim relates: "God called me into medical missions during my junior year at Cedarville College. Until this time I had been planning my own life and future. . . . One night in the dorm I confessed that my life wasn't committed to the Lord. Right there I yielded my life completely to Christ, and it was shortly afterward that He spoke to me about missionary service."

During his senior year at Cedarville, Jim made application for admission to Indiana University Medical School at Indianapolis, Indiana. As part of the application there was a series of tests and an interview with some of the medical staff. During the interview Jim was told that although his grades were outstanding at Cedarville, he would still have to take a year of undergraduate work at IU before he could be considered for admission to the school.

Weeks he waited for the answer to his application. Finally the letter came. Man had said it was impossible, but God had done the impossible and had opened the door! Indiana University had unconditionally accepted Jim for medical school with no mention made about extra courses that might have to be taken. Jim was Cedarville's first graduate to be accepted directly into medical school.

Of his experiences during internship and residency at Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton, Ohio, Jim says; "In the emergency room of a big city hospital you see how depraved people can become, especially under the influence of liquor. We had six to eight shootings a weekend, and we were only one of four or five big hospitals. Other people would come to the emergency room for an examination and medical advice, often thinking that there wasn't much wrong with them, when really they were quite sick.

"In spiritual matters, people think there isn't much wrong with them, either, when actually they are on the road to a Christless eternity. Sometimes even Christians don't recognize when they are spiritually unhealthy, and they may fail to see the spiritual degeneration in their own lives. In the emergency room we discover physical degeneration through examination while in spiritual matters the Word of God and the Holy Spirit do the examining.

"I have seen through my medical training the relation between the physical part of man and its needs and the spiritual part of man and its needs."

Today Jim and his wife Esther (both 1961 graduates of Cedarville) and their two sons are serving on the field of the Philippines under Association of Baptist for World Evangelism.

THREE ALUMNI VISIT FOR COMPETITION

When the three Middle Schools in Clark County's Springfield Local School District got together for a tri-angular track meet April 20, 1971, at Cedarville College's new all-weather track, the competition was spirited but friendly. All three coaches had something in common . . . they graduated from the college where the meet was being held. Paul Entner, Reid's coach, and Thomas McGinnis, coach at Rockway, were both members of the class of 1969, while John McGillivray, Possum's track coach, was a member of the class of 1970. To add to the friendly nature of the competition, both Tom and John are former Shawnee Braves.

Graduation 1971

Graduation Day 1971 at Cedarville commenced 198 seniors, with 191 receiving their B.A.'s and 7, their B.M. Ed. The speaker for the commencement exercises was Dr. David Nettleton, President of Faith Baptist Bible College in Ankeny, Iowa.

MID-OHIO CHANGE

The future of the Mid-Ohio Conference, of which Cedarville College is a part, looks uncertain. During the annual Spring conference meeting, Bluffton, Defiance, Wilmington, and recently-crowned basketball champion Findlay withdrew to join the newly-established Hoosier-Buckeye Conference. Other Hoosier schools include Anderson, Earlham, Hanover, Manchester, and Tavlor.

The four-team withdrawal leaves Cedarville and Malone, the two non-football schools, in the conference circle. It is expected that Ohio Dominican, Rio Grande, Urbana, and Walsh will be approached to join the Mid-Ohio group.

Sports Roundup

Tennis — With a 13-0 winning streak, Cedarville College's tennis team is sweeping into its third year of champion competition. Adding to a 45-match winning streak against regular NAIA competition, the Yellow Jackets have now compiled a 53-4 mark against all teams since 1968. They have won the MOC and District 22 titles the last three years and finished 22, 12, and 30 among the usual 40-plus teams entered in the NAIA nationals.

Those players in the limelight this year have been seniors Dave Beck, Mike Coffman, and Dave Durham, all of whom are undefeated. Beck and Coffman have 10-0 records while Durham is 8-0.

Mr. Murray Murdoch is coach.

Golf — Another sports team setting records this year is the College's golf team, with an 8-2 record, the best ever for Cedarville. Key man is Jim Buzzard who took third last year in all-conference and all-district teams. He won the Mid-Ohio Conference golf championship at Lima this year with a 111, seven strokes over par for 27 holes. Jim also made the all district 22-NAIA team.

Dr. Robert Gromacki is coach.

Track — The best season ever has also been for the track team this year with a record of 6-3. Much of the improvement can be attributed to the new all-weather track and good equipment which has provided better training facilities for the men. Coach King has also stepped up the training program by scheduling his men to run against tougher teams than ever before. This year they were victors over Earlham, Kenyon and Ohio Northern, three tough competitors.

Mr. Elvin King is coach.

Baseball — The Cedarville baseball team is the 1971 defending MOC champion. They appeared to have a good shot at repeating the conference championship, however, injuries to key personnel have plagued the Yellow Jackets thus far in their performance. At present date, the record is 10-10 with a 2-4 MOC record, leaving the door barely ajar for a repeat chance. The Wilmington game of May 8 marked the first game ever played on the new baseball field. Leading hitter this year is Tony Wall with a .316 average followed closely by Rick Inghram with a .311.

Dr. Don Callan is coach.
