Cedarville Celebrates

ACCREDITATION

FROM OUR PRESIDENT . . .

For nearly 20 years Cedarville College has had regional accreditation as one of its goals. At the annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held in Chicago April 6-9, it was announced that our college has been approved and accredited. For this recognition we are very grateful to the Lord and the many friends who have helped us in achieving this honor.

During the years untold numbers have faithfully prayed and worked long hours that this recognition might become a reality. For this success much credit goes to the trustees for their encouragement, to the faculty for their determined and sacrificial effort, to the members of the administration for planning and directing the program, and to the alumni and students who have been loyal to the college as we have been seeking this approval.

Just what will accreditation mean to Cedarville College? To begin with, since our Biblical position and our spiritual standards have been strengthened while we were seeking accreditation, they will not weaken now that it is a reality. It is expected that our students will have wider acceptance in graduate schools and have a better possibility of transferring credits to schools where they wish to finish the programs not offered here. It should also mean that the college can begin programs we have had in the planning stages for some years. We earnestly desire to emphasize prelaw and premed programs. Others, I am sure, can be a reality now that the college is accredited.

Accreditation does not necessarily mean that more students will be making application for entrance into the college. It does not mean that we will consequently have more money coming in for the general operation of the college and the building of more facilities. Accreditation will help in these areas, but it does not guarantee more students and more money. It should be said that every one of us involved in the program of the college must be diligently serving to tell the story of what Cedarville has to offer to more people in more ways so that the ministry of the college can be more effective.

I want to personally thank every one of you who have had a part in making Cedarville College what it is today. We have seen the blessing of God in an unusual way and we are grateful to Him for all He has been pleased to do. To Him be the praise and the glory!

James T. Jernick

ACCREDITATION

by Dr. Johnson

So Cedarville now has regional accreditation. What does it all mean?

Accreditation means that no longer will there be any questions about the transfer of credits or entrance into graduate school. Alumni and friends of the college can confidently recommend Cedarville particularly to those who are looking toward medical, dental, or law school.

Cedarville has had state approval for the training of elementary and high school teachers for nearly ten years, but some states other than Ohio have not wanted to give licenses to teach to our graduates since Cedarville was not regionally accredited. Now this problem is also solved.

Getting ready for the regional accreditation examination was a time-consuming, arduous process involving trustees, faculty members, administrators and students. A self-study had to be carefully prepared. Consultants had to be employed. The percentage of faculty members holding earned doctorates had to be increased to forty percent. The library holdings needed to approach at least 50,000 volumes. Facilities needed to be adequate which meant the construction of several buildings including the new science center.

Now that Cedarville College has regional accreditation, it can consider other professional types of accreditation such as chemistry, music, and business. Accreditation is almost always a prerequisite to approval in these professional fields. One exception is the professional accreditation of many Bible colleges by the American Association of Bible Colleges.

This association, the AABC, has recently been included in the Council on Post-Secondary Accreditation which is the umbrella organization covering all accrediting bodies in the United States. Regional accreditation, however, remains the key concept in recognition, and many of the Bible colleges will probably still work toward regional accreditation in order to further facilitate credit transfer and graduate school admission.

While regional accreditation is the basic accreditation required for ease of credit transfer and graduate school entrance, there are other types of accreditation. In some states, the granting of a state charter to begin and continue operation is termed "accreditation." However, most situations call for accreditation to mean approval by a regional association.

Not only has Cedarville had an examination for regional accreditation this past fall, a team from the state department of education has also been on campus to evaluate the teacher education program. Our Education Department had many additional responsibilities last summer preparing for that visit. The recommendation by the team was that Cedarville has a strong teacher certification program at both the elementary and secondary levels and should be granted continuing approval.

PASTOR'S CONFERENCE

Each year during the summer months, a conference is held at Cedarville College for enrichment and fellowship of pastors. The dates to keep in mind for this summer's Pastor's Conference are September 8-11. Dealing with the importance of evangelism in the local church, Fred Brown of Chattanooga, Tennessee, will be the keynote speaker. MEDICAL CENTER

The Village of Cedarville is growing and so are its needs. One of these needs is for medical facilities and the Village is making plans to build a medical center northeast of Cedarville College's Maddox Hall on Route 72. The medical center, being named in honor of Dr. Donald Kyle ('70HN), a Cedarville physician who has served the area for more than 30 years, may be completed by fall, 1975.

In October, 1973, the Cedarville Lions Club initiated the idea of a community Medical Center. A committee was appointed from the Club's membership to consider the feasibility of such a project. A Business Statistics Class from the College assisted this committee in determining the need for such a center. The class used a random sample and conducted the study by telephone. Questions asked pertained to the number of people in a household, the number of visits made to a doctor each year, and the distance traveled to reach a doctor. The Lions Club committee came to the conclusion that such a center would benefit the community and presented the proposal to the community. The feasibility committee became the planning committee and began the necessary work on preliminary plans.

The property on which the Kyle Medical Center will be constructed was given to the community by Cedarville College. The college trustees voted unanimously at their October, 1974 meeting to assist the community's endeavor in this way. Although construction drawings and specifications are not yet complete, the anticipated completion time is five to six months.

The planned medical center will be octagon in shape and will have approximately 5,000 square feet of floor space. The center will house two, possibly three, general practitioners, a dentist and an optometrist. The parking area will accommodate 40 cars and acreage is sufficient for expansion. Cedarville College students will be recommended by the College Health Service to the Center if College facilities cannot meet their needs.

Approximately 30% of the community commitment to the Kyle Medical Center has been raised by various community projects. One such project was a dinner sponsored by the Presbyterian Church of Cedarville on February 8, 1975. All proceeds went to the medical center's building fund.

According to the fund drive chairman, Mr. Kenneth St. Clair, Business Manager of the College, the community will need to raise $100,000 in gifts before construction can begin. The remainder of the $250,000 budget will be secured by a loan from the local bank.

FACULTY NEWS

Miss Irma Dodson, Associate Professor of Education, spoke at the February 15 meeting of the Alpha Phi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honor society for women educators of which she is a member. The meeting was held in the Cedarville College Atmosphere Room. Miss Dodson's theme was "You Come, Too—To Scandinavia", using slides of her trip to Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Dr. James E. McGoldrick, Associate Professor of History, attended the Sixth Annual Conference on Renaissance and Medieval Studies at Ohio State University February 28-March 2.

1975 Alpha Chi Sweetheart

February 8, 1975 was a memorable day for junior Sally O'Shell, as the men of Alpha Chi crowned her as this year's Sweetheart. The crowning took place during the half-time of the basketball game against Ohio Dominican. Reigning with Sally in the Alpha Chi Sweetheart Court are Linda Herrin, Bobbie Litts, and Ellen Spaulding. Selection of a Sweetheart is made each year from girls in the junior class who have been recognized for their personality, academic record, and spirituality.

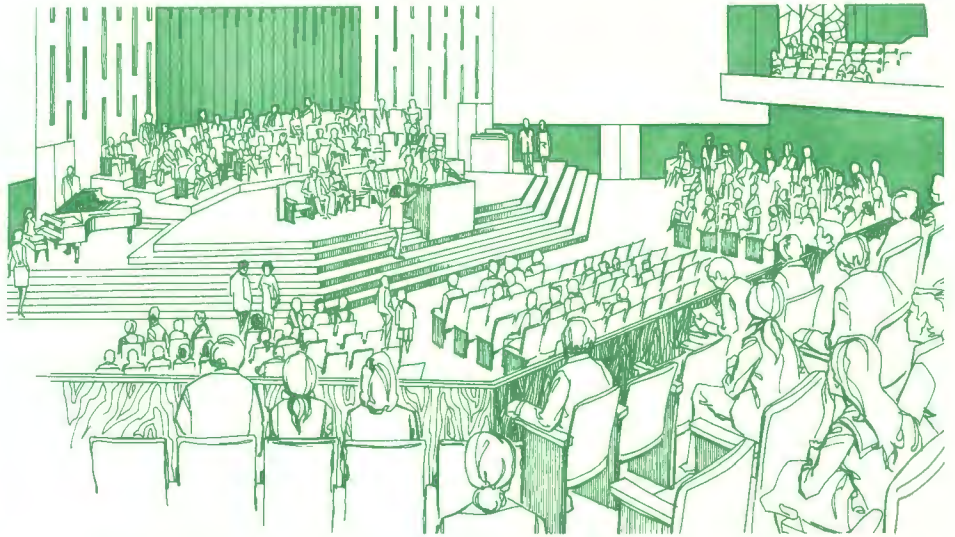

Sally has become involved in many phases of college life, including service in organizations such as Gamma Chi, a women's organization; service in the dorm as personnel assistant; and service to the Lord in outreach ministries. I Samuel 12:24 is her life verse: "Only fear the Lord, and serve Him in truth with all your heart: for consider how great things He hath done for you." Sally is not waiting until graduation from college to serve the Lord. For the past two summers, she has been a counselor at Skyview Ranch, a GARBC camp in Ohio. During the school year she participates in a Bible club ministry. However, Sally enjoys working with all ages and also counts it a blessing to minister to rest home patients. Sally, a behavioral science major from Berea, Ohio, would like to use her abilities and training in Christian social work.

LOAN GRANT FUND

Eight students were recently the first recipients of grants from the Student Body Loan and Grant Fund. A $200.00 grant was given to each: Ruth Gruenberg, senior; Ruth Jarvis, freshman; Ruth McCauley, senior; Linda Murray, junior; Wally Psonak, senior; Paul Shenefield, junior; Carol Smith, junior; and Bill Tanner, junior. The grant monies were acquired through interest accumulated from loans given to students through the Loan and Grant Fund. The fund was initiated in 1972 by the Student Senate to provide a self-perpetuating source of financial aid for students. Distribution of funds is based primarily on need to worthy juniors and seniors.

The source of principal for the loan fund is derived primarily from alumni giving. However, additional funds are acquired from the students, as $3.00 from each student's class dues is designated each year for the fund. The college itself has also contributed to the fund.

Mr. David Gidley, Director of Financial Aid, feels that the Loan and Grant Fund is one of the best loan plans available. As might be expected, Mr. Gidley is always prospecting for additional gifts to the fund's principal. He said, "with an additional $50,000, repayment periods on loans could be extended," quickly adding, "gifts are tax deductible."

CHAPEL UPDATE

The chapel is being built in the minds of many people who are anxious for unified chapel services and an adequate place for worship. However, funds must still be acquired before the chapel can become a reality.

The banquets referred to in the previous Bulletin proved to be successful and more are being organized. Planned by Mr. Dale Murphy for pastors, parents and prospective students, the banquet at Walnut Ridge Baptist Church in Waterloo, Iowa, was enjoyed by 130 people. The members of Grandview Park Baptist Church in Des Moines, Iowa, served a banquet arranged by Dr. Paul Tassell to 250 guests. Dr. Jeremiah spoke at both banquets concerning the school, its progress and future needs. "To further acquaint guests with the College, a slide presentation was given and two Cedarville students, Cindy Mally and Dan Ritenberg, provided testimonies through music. They were accompanied by Mrs. Nancy (Tallmon) Gates, a 1974 graduate of the College. A model of the proposed chapel was displayed and Dr. Jeremiah explained the need for a chapel.

As of mid-March, $155,009.58 had been received for the chapel fund.

Rev. Reid Dr. Ketchum Rev. Abbott Mr. Horn Rev. Kanani

Missionary Conference

Why would four missionaries want to spend a week of deputation time on a college campus? The reasons given by this year's Missionary Conference speakers were diverse yet similar. All wished to expose Cedarville College students to their areas of ministry and endeavor. Dr. Donn Ketchum from Bangladesh has shared aspects of his work which students rarely think of as opportunities of service on the missionfield. Rev. William Reid, a missionary to Hong Kong, expressed one of his goals as being to "show students the joy and privilege of doing the will of God". Enjoying the fellowship, Mr. Mike Horne, an appointee to Holland, sees much potential on the college campus as many seniors do not know where the Lord wants them. While each missionary only spoke three times, a rapport was established so that students would come and talk on an individual basis.

Rev. Larry Abbott, working with Campus Bible Fellowship, is involved in campus ministries. He will be spending this year in the Dayton area of Ohio helping local churches establish evangelistic outreaches to college campuses. His reason for working through the local church is that "pastors come and go, people come and go, but the local church stays." Area Liaison Councils are organized in which pastors and workers are trained to work on area college campuses.

Acquiring an interest in Holland while in the armed services, Mr. Mike Horne has been called of the Lord to serve in that country. His interest in Holland developed while yet unsaved. Therefore, after his conversion, he initially felt his desire to return to Holland was from Satan because he had always heard that God never calls you where you want to go. However, the Lord increased Mike's burden for Holland and used I Cor. 9:16 to reinforce His commission to Mike. Mike stressed the need for men in order to establish New Testament churches. Church-planting in Holland is a long process because most people have been taught erroneous doctrine and therefore have a hard time seeing their need of accepting Christ as personal Savior.

Working with the Arab people in Detroit, Michigan, Rev. Sami Kanani is involved not only in church work such as visitation and Bible studies, but also provides humanitarian services to the people. In providing transportation and translation for the people, Rev. Kanani shares with them in a real way, the love and compassion of Christ. The Arab people have a sense of obligation to return favors and thus many attend meetings in return for the help Rev. Kanani has given. The people with which Rev. Kanani is working are mostly Greek Orthodox, Catholic and Moslem. In order for a ministry to be effective with the Arabs, he feels it is best to work full-time with an Arab believer. Workers are needed to work with the Kananis on a short-term basis to help in Sunday School and transportation. At the present time, room is being rented for church services on Sunday, but Bible Studies during the week are held in his home. On Easter Sunday, there were forty in attendance for which he praises the Lord, as the normal attendance averages fifteen.

Dr. Don Ketchum shared many ministries which are carried on in addition to his hospital ministry in Bangladesh. A rehabilitation center has been started where widows of the war may learn trades in order to make a respectable living. This personal interest in the people only requires one hour a day of the missionaries' time and has been an extremely effective means of witnessing. Two-thirds of the women in attendance have been saved through this ministry. A Self-Help program has been initiated in which money is loaned to enable people to start small industries. This is a vital program in Bangladesh in view of the country's economic situation. The Theological Education by Extension, (TEE), program is a new ministry and, according to Dr. Ketchum, is "one of the most exciting things in missions." Programmed instructional material is used to train men during the week. These men then teach what they have learned to their congregations on Sunday. In this way, the teaching multiplies itself. Dr. Ketchum expressed the need for persons to work with university and college students.

Establishing local churches is the ministry of Rev. William Reid, from Hong Kong. He feels this work is slow because the people are more sophisticated and therefore require a more thorough knowledge before believing. A rather unique ministry Rev. Reid enjoys is the opportunity to teach Bible in a government subsidized school. In Hong Kong's public schools, Bible is part of the curriculum so it is fortunate that the many students which attend the school hear the Word of God. The vision of Rev. Reid and other ABWE missionaries on that field is that of reaching new satellite cities which have been started by the government. Here, as on most fields, the need is for men to become involved in the establishing of churches.

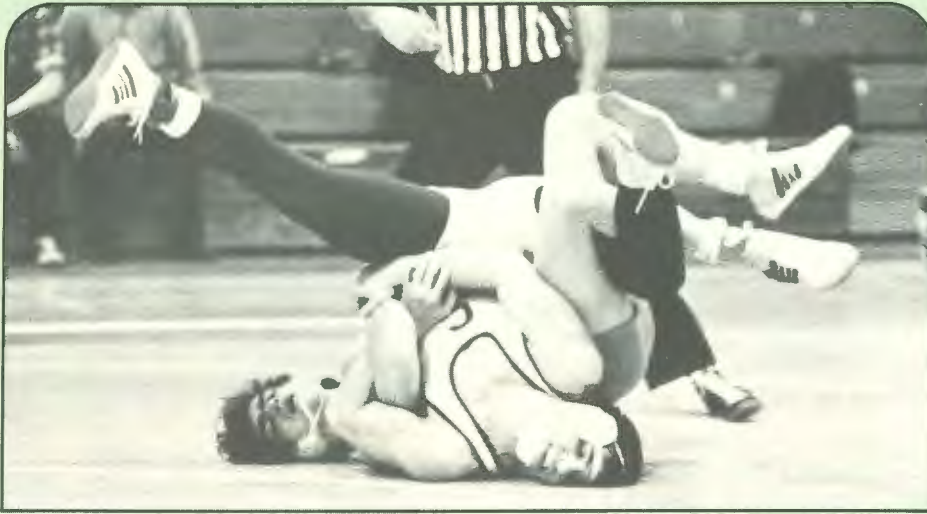

PASTOR GREEN

To be a college campus pastor, a man must have a variety of interests and abilities. Keeping up with college students is no easy task, but Cedarville's campus pastor not only keeps up with the students, but sets the pace for them. Pastor Harold Green has been at Cedarville since 1970 and has initiated and been involved in numerous activities on campus. In addition to the many Christian Service opportunities Pastor Green has envisioned, he has also taken on the responsibility of coaching the wrestling team. Pastor Green wrestled in high school and was an assistant coach in Greenville, Ohio for two years. With his wrestling experience, come many tiring hours of rolling tape used on the mats around a pop can so it can be used again. The tape must be saved and used again due to the high cost of the tape. However, it takes 12 minutes to roll up 75' of tape.

After three years of laboriously rolling tape at Cedarville and formulating in his mind an ingenious device to save time, Pastor Green made a tape roller consisting of two pop cans between wooden handles. He continued to develop the device, working in his basement and garage. The device, called an Easy-Roll, is now a solid unit with handles which move, built on the principle of a kite string winder he used as a boy. The Easy-Roll takes up 75' of tape in three minutes, compared to 12 minutes with a pop can. This obviously saves both time and energy.

Surprisingly, the first sale was made to the University of California at Los Angeles in February of 1974. Sales have extended from California, as far south as Alabama and east to Connecticut. However, Pastor Green will feel he "has arrived" if he can sell to Oklahoma and Iowa State Universities since they have two of the most outstanding wrestling teams. The best mode of advertising is probably when Pastor Green uses his own device at a match. He has had fun putting his Easy-Roll in competition with the old pop can method. Coaches see that he can roll four times as much tape as they can in the same amount of time. He has submitted one advertisement to Wrestling News. However, most advertising occurs through demonstration or word of mouth recommendations.

The future is uncertain for Easy-Roll. Pastor Green has thought of the possibility of selling it out, but there is always the possibility of hitting it big. An injection mold, which would speed the assembly process, would cost about $2500, equivalent to the sale of 5,000 Easy-Rolls which sell for $7.95 postpaid. Pastor Green mentioned that, "we are not getting rich, but have had fun working on the project as a family."

JACKET SPORTS REPORT

MILLARD AGAIN ALL-AMERICAN

Wrestling

A second-place ranking in the MOC and NAIA District 22 conferences, competing in tournaments, and 177-pounder Vic Millard becoming the no. 3 man in the NAIA national rankings, wrapped up the grappling season on an optimistic note.

The wrestlers were victorious on March 1 at Malone, capturing the no. 2 MOC position. Ending with a win-loss of 4-9 in the dual meet schedule, taking fourth at the West Liberty State tourney and ranking fifth in the Wheaton's tourney finished up the team's season.

Seventeen pins and a dual meet record of 13-0 were only part of what Vic Millard accomplished before the Nationals. On the way to Sioux City, Iowa for national competition, he collected first place trophies at the Taylor, Wheaton, and MOC contests. Wheaton's Most Valuable Wrestler was also clinched by Millard. Suffering an elbow injury, Vic finished second best in the NAIA District 22 contest. Chuck Yasenka, and Rich Bowers, however, both snatched 1st place slots at the District 22's. At this same competition, Jim Kollar, Dunkin Fields, Craig Vielguth, and Jerry Perry all qualified for the Nationals by virtue of 2nd-place finishes.

Basketball

Closing with a record of 17 wins and 13 losses, the 1974-75 Yellow Jackets Basketball team, coached by Dr. Don Callan, wound up their season finishing third in the Mid-Ohio Conference regular season listings.

In the MOC Tournament, the roundballers filled the number 2 slot with Malone College capturing first place. District 22 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics placed the Jackets fifth in their ranks. Cedarville also participated in the National Christian College Athletic Association Tournaments after the regular season where they placed 2nd in their district.

Steve Young, this season's basketball captain, was the team's top scorer with a 17.3 average, and was awarded the Most Valuable Player Trophy. He also was awarded trophies for being first team MOC, first team NAIA 22, and first team, NCCAA III.

Don Smith won the Top Rebounder Trophy with a 9.7 average. He also was awarded Honorable Mention MOC, and Honorable Mention NAIA 22.

Indoor Track

The breaking of school track records seemed to set the pace for this year's indoor season. Coach Elvin King reported that Mark Green beat his old record of 49.6 by three seconds in the 440-yard dash. The one-miler, Jim Chambers, took 2.2 seconds off his old time of 4.25.2. Dave Wishart and Steve Krymble both cancelled out a record of 9.42.8 for the two-mile event with the clocks reading 9.41.8 and 9.38.7 respectively. The indoor season was highlighted by the three time breaking of the team's strong event, the triple jump. Russ Clark was secure at 41' 7 $\frac{3}{4}$ " until Bill Tanner's 41' 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ " and Warren Gifford's 42' 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ " wiped the slate clean. The new record was again reset by Clark with a measurement of 42' 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ ". Now looking toward the outdoor season, the cindermen continue to condition daily.

Summer is a time for sharing for many Cedarville students. In addition to the numerous MIS participants, 21 students have committed their abilities and time to team ministries in the United States. Two teams will be traveling this summer for the College.

With a total ministry program, the Swordbearers group will be serving churches in areas of Arkansas, Kansas, Ohio, Michigan, and Canada. The ten-week ministry will include church services, youth rallies, camps and work in local churches. Each team member will be involved in the preparation and presentation of at least one seminar as well as music. Seminars for young people will concern self-acceptance, the Christian and his leisure, how to know the will of God, and dating. The team will also offer seminars for adults and a puppet presentation for children.

Summer Swordbearers

Abundant Life Singers

The Abundant Life Singers are anticipating a musical ministry beginning on the West Coast, an area which has had little exposure to Cedarville College. Six students in the group are members of a MIS team going to Australia during the first part of the summer. These students will return to California in mid-July, where the other members of Abundant Life will join them to begin an eight-week tour from California to the East Coast and back to Ohio. The group is anticipating the release of their first L.P. stereo album prior to June 1. To enrich and add variety to their presentation, the group uses selected sound tracks and acapella arrangements, as well as selections using piano accompaniment.
