RECOGNITION OF TEACHERS' COURSES

Cedarville College is recognized by the Department of Public Education of the State of Ohio for the training of teachers for instruction in the public schools. Cedarville College has a specially trained staff of professors with public school experience who are college and university graduates at the head of this work. Observation and practice teaching besides methods are given to all of our students pursuing the courses of Education. Our graduates from our courses in Education are readily placed in attractive and lucrative positions. Our department in Education is one of the most popular in Cedarville College as well as one of the most practical and efficient.

Upon the completion of these courses the student is given a state provisional certificate entitling him or her to teach, as the case may be in any grade or high school in Ohio. Upon the completion of a four years' course, the degree of A. B., is given in addition to the other privileges mentioned. The supreme value of our teachers' courses in Cedarville College is that they prepare not only for teaching but for practically all other pursuits as well.

PRACTICE TEACHING

Arrangements between the local public schools and the college give the privilege to students preparing to teach to get their practice teaching, participation and observation in the grades and the high school; and in this manner they are brought into real contact with the duties and problems of the school as they are to be met and solved in the actual work of teaching and conducting a school.

PREPARATORY WORK

Any students entering Cedarville College, who have some work to complete before they become Freshmen without condition, will be provided for. Any students, who have had partial high school courses or no high school work, will be received as special students and placed in preparatory classes to fit them to become regular college students in due time.

SPECIAL

MUSIC

The Department of Music offers:

Cedarville is a church-going and Sabbath-keeping community; three flourishing churches co-operating with each other, and with the College, furnish fine religious and spiritual opportunities to the students.

BOARDING

The College Club is the popular boarding place for the students. It is located in the basement of the library. The students have their own steward and cooks. Moreover, this arrangement affords splendid opportunities for social activities.

IN AND ABOUT CEDARVILLE

Cedarville, Greene County, Ohio, which is the seat of Cedarville College is one of the most beautiful and healthful of villages in America. It is located on the Pennsylvania R. R. Lines. It is in the northern part of the far-famed Miami Valley. It is the home of Whitelaw Reid and the poet, W. D. Nesbit. It is one of the camping grounds for the Shawnee Indians; and the Mound Builders for they have left one of their beautiful mounds within sight of Cedarville. Its cliffs formed by the picturesque Massie's creek are one of the many charms of nature in and about the village.

Cedarville is just eight miles from Xenia; twenty-four from Dayton; twelve from Springfield, and forty-seven from Columbus, all easy of access both by railroad and bus lines.

Besides its excellent stores, Cedarville has several large industrial concerns, like the planing mill, elevators, Abel Magnesia Plant, and one of the largest paper mills in the United States. Its side-walks are laid in cement and much of its main thoroughfare is paved in brick. Its schools and churches are its pride. Its homes are well-ordered and house a hospitable and progressive people. It has a newspaper filled with interest and progressive in its policy. Its mayor and his associates in office are alive to the best interests of the village. A scholarly Englishman traveling through our country a few years ago, upon returning home wrote among other things about Cedarville in the London Times that "Cedarville is the Puritan Oasis of America."

AN OPPORTUNITY

Reader, do you wish to invest money in a way which will count for good for time and eternity. Invest it in the making of Christian character. Your investment will multiply a thousand fold through every boy and girl whom you help to train for definite Christian service. Every dollar put into the endowment fund of Cedarville College makes the college stronger for the service which it is rendering to the boys and girls within its walls. Out of its halls for thirty-three years have been going young people who have been a blessing and are a blessing to people wherever they labor. Today the college has an endowment of $208,000. It needs $300,000 additional endowment in order to take its place in the Association of Colleges of Ohio. We appeal to the alumni, former students, friends, and all believers in sound, safe Christian education to give now and continuously and generously to the endowment fund of the college. Also will all who have subscribed to this fund, please promptly pay their subscription. About $17,000 in subscriptions remains to be paid in. If this were paid at once or by January 1, 1928, it would enable the college to do a work which the college is unable to do at present. Two new buildings are needed now, namely a chapel and a dormitory for girls. Think it over reader, and send in a contribution.

Mr John Johnson, assistant editor of the Cedrus, has been given the position of advertising manager of the Cedrus due to the resignation of Roger Stormont. Miss Jean Morton is assistant advertising manager. There has been no assistant editor appointed as yet.
