Alumni Number

LETTERS FROM ALUMNI

A few weeks ago we wrote to a member of each graduating class to send in a letter for this number of the Cedarville College bulletin. We asked the member of each class to whom we wrote to express his or her feelings in regard to the celebration of the 40th anniversary of Cedarville College during the first week of June 1934. In the meantime, we have received the following letters for the bulletin which we are happy to publish in full. We trust that the others to whom we wrote to represent their classes will send in their letters for the next number of the bulletin. They should send them in during the next two weeks. On account of the expense, we could not write at this time to all the members of each class. We are sending this bulletin, which is a special number for the alumni, to each graduate of Cedarville College and as far as possible to former students with the hope that you will not only plan to come but also write us a letter for the next bulletin. We shall be very grateful to you for your communication to us.

1898

As fifty per cent of the Class of '98, I heartily approve the proposal to celebrate the Fortieth Anniversary of Cedarville College with a Home Coming of Old Grads.

It will be a fine chance to renew old friendships. And what a fine example to the modern college youths on the campus will the Old Grads be. We really should all return next June to inspire the whole student body to future greatness.

We old timers should get in on this affair to encourage those who have stayed loyally by the stuff for forty years. I want to go back once more to say "Thank You" to Doctors McChesney and Jurkat.

Forty years of College activities! Most eventful decades. And Cedarville has had her share in qualifying men and women to make contributions to the world's progress. The Alumni and especially we of thirty and forty years ago should be on hand next June to pay delightful honor to our Alma Mater.

JAMES M. McQUILKIN

Carnegie, Penn.

I am sure all the old students—as well as the present—will be interested in the 40th anniversary of the college. Enjoyable years will come back in memory. Years that gave information and training but also that made character. Those early years of the college's life were indeed trying ones but they brought opportunities to many. May the future be as helpful.

HOMER B. HENDERSON

Grove City, Penn.

1904

Stop! Look! Listen! We are asking that all the alumni of Cedarville College—yes, every class—be present at the fortieth anniversary of our Alma Mater. This celebration will take place the first week of June 1934.

Our beloved president, Dr. McChesney, is already formulating plans whereby alumni, former members of faculty, students and friends may enjoy a week of precious and worth while things.

Come on, lovers of Cedarville College, let us all set apart this first week of June, to come back and show our appreciation for our dear Alma Mater which has done so much for us. Let us come back and meet our classmates, our college mates and everybody's mate.

So let us talk with our neighbors, and they, in turn with their neighbors, and their neighbors with others of their neighbors, until every member of every class is talking about coming to the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of our college.

Let's make it 100 per cent. What do you say?

CARRIE M. RIFE

Cedarville, Ohio.

The distinguished Class of '07 should meet
At Cedarville College each other to greet;
To give and to share some jolly good cheer
And help celebrate the fortieth year
Of our Alma Mater.

I'd like to see you and you may like to see me,
Since the wheels of progress we've been turning you see.
Time may have wrought changes for one and all,
But at heart we're the same and should answer the call
Of our own Alma Mater.

May 30--June 4—the days that are set,
So start your old "flivver" or Packard—and let
Your whole family motor to Cedarville College—
The place where you got so much of your knowledge!
Our own Alma Mater.

FERN ERVIN MARSHALL

Xenia, Ohio.

1910

We are very glad to recommend to the Alumni of Cedarville College the Fortieth Anniversary Celebration that is being planned for the week May 30th and June 4, 1934. We all owe, more perhaps than we realize, to the earnest and faithful efforts of those who have made Cedarville College possible. It has been a labor that involved sacrifice on the part of the faithful leaders. Others have helped to be sure but the continued existence of Cedarville College has been largely due to those who had the vision and have perseveringly kept at the task of Higher Education with a Christian background which has always been characteristic of Cedarville. We mean in particular those who have been with the College during the entire forty years. I am sure it would be a matter of great encouragement to these and others who have faithfully helped them if great numbers of Alumni with their families could find their way back to Cedarville for this celebration next Spring. Begin now to plan your vacation period with this Fortieth Anniversary Celebration in mind.

ANDREW S. CRESWELL

1913

At the commencement season of 1934 Cedarville College is to celebrate the Fortieth Anniversary of its founding. There are those who are already at work planning to welcome and entertain all former students.

Parents in the family homestead for months look forward to the return of the children gone forth from that home. Plans are made and worked out. The banquet is prepared. The hearth fires are burning. The hearts of the parents are beating fast with expectation. But the children do not come! Some are hindered; some are indifferent; some choose to follow new-found pleasures and friends. Alumni, most of us are old enough to feel the pathos of such a situation. Will we not do all in our power to fulfill the expectations of our Alma Mater next commencement season?

Class of 1913, let us not fail our Alma Mater, but gather around her banquet table in 1934, renew our friendships and strengthen our loyalty to Cedarville College.

MRS. MARY COOPER ELDER
Cedarville, Ohio.

1918

Sixteen years ago next June, the class of 1918 completed its work in C. C. This marked the end of another "educational generation" of sixteen years duration, (8 in common school, 4 in high school, 4 in college) for the members of that illustrious class. History records that this was the class that captured the Mexican rebel, Pancho Villa, on the college campus in the Cedar Day exercises in the Spring of 1916. This was a feat, it is also recalled, that General John Pershing and his "Devil Dogs" were unable to accomplish.

To this famous class therefore, at the end of another educational generation (sixteen years), we issue the class rallying call once more. This time we want each member of our "band of twelve" to make definite plans to return for the fortieth anniversary of the college next June, during Commencement Week. Everybody out! Let's go!

WILLIAM R. COLLINS
1968 Coventry Road,

1922

Prepare now to take a vacation beginning Wednesday, May 4, 1934. On that date every living graduate of Cedarville College is expected to make a pilgrimage back to the old Alma Mater. You will be missed if you are not there, for every class will check up on its attendance.

Here is the opportunity to see all of those old friends, and revisit the old landmarks. The sixteen members of the class of '22 have never yet been reunited since they stepped off the stage on commencement day of that year. It will be a disappointment if a single graduate of that class is not present. We will expect to see you on the campus of Cedarville College at the celebration of her fortieth anniversary.

HELEN BRADFUTE
Xenia, Ohio

1923

Our Birthdays! How we enjoy them! It is true that some persons will not tell us how many, but we all enjoy them, nevertheless. And to think of next Commencement time (May 30-June 4) being our Alma Mater's 40th Birthday Anniversary! Who would not want to be back for that week to help celebrate? Surely not the class of '23! Let us prove our old-time zest has not waned in the ten years out of college! Surely, every alumnus will try to be present at least a part of that memorable week! The larger the number returning, the greater the enjoyment of commencement reunions and festivities. Let us say now "We (will) Do Our Part!"

E. D. McKUNE
2409 Fairmont Blvd., N. E.
Canton, Ohio.

1926

I know that the class of '26 need not be reminded of the fortieth anniversary of our college to be celebrated this coming commencement. Neither do we need to be reminded of our struggles with Ethics, Apologetics, German, History . . . nor of four o'clock breakfasts at the cliff's, moonlight picnics on the mound, class spreads, (which became an excuse for so many things that even our landladies began to wonder,) sleigh rides for invited and "uninvited" guests, to say nothing of Commencement week, which always brought with it both formal and—informal entertainment. All of these spell Happiness. Let's go back in June and for one week live over our college days.

LUCILLE TANNER
Bucksport, Maine.

1928

Next spring Cedarville College is celebrating her fortieth anniversary. It is being urged that all alumni return to make this celebration a success. I'm sure the class of 1928 will attend one hundred per cent.

HELEN ILIFFE JACOBS
Cedarville, Ohio.

1929

Henry Drummond once said:

"Holiness is an infinite compassion for others. Greatness is to take the common things of life and walk with them. Happiness is a great love with much serving."

I am sure all Cedarville College Alumni and students desire these three great attributes. Holiness as it is expressed in friendliness to others; Greatness as we walk humbly among people; and Happiness in serving. At College we secured the foundation for such a life. Let us show our gratitude by our helpful presence and support during the fortieth anniversary week of our Alma Mater. Let nothing keep you away.

CLAIR McNEEL
Clifton, Ohio.

1930

This great celebration takes place Commencement week—Wednesday, May 30 to Monday, June 4. What could be a more appropriate way of celebrating it than by having every living alumnus present all or at least a part of this week? Let's make it one hundred per cent. What do you say, class of '30? Will you other classes take the challenge and help us to make a record that can't be beaten? Come on, alumni, let's make this 40th Anniversary celebration a real one.

LUCILE TANNER
Xenia, Ohio.

1931

To the Friends and Alumni of Cedarville College:

The plan which Dr. McChesney has outlined briefly for the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of Cedarville College will be a success if we, the alumni, do all we can to make this celebration successful. I think it would be a fine thing for each alumnus to bring some prospective student to some if not all of the activities of that week. Let's all get behind this celebration and make it one to be long remembered.

Our alumni are distributed in the following vocations: 208 are teachers in universities, colleges, high school and grades; 116 are housewives; 73 are not designated; 51 are ministers of the Gospel; 19 are farmers; 15 are in general business; 14 are physicians; 7 are attorneys-at-law; 9 are pursuing graduate courses in universities; 4 are nurses; 3 are secretaries; 2 are editors; 2 are employed in general stores; one each is found in each of the following: probate judge, religious education worker, dairy business, advertising, engineer, merchant, and United States Congressman. This makes a total of 517 alumni counting none twice. Of the 517, 493 are living.

IN MEMORIAM

The following alumni have graduated into the university where Christ is the Master. They are learning the lessons which He teaches to His beloved through the ceaseless ages. They were lovely in their lives here. We shall never forget them. They are happy in their lives there. Let us follow Christ as they followed Him, and enter into the joy which He has prepared for all who are faithful to Him.
