HARRY G. POUNSFORD

GEORGE BREWER

DWIGHT R. GUTHRIE

The new President of the Board of Trustees of Cedarville College is Rev. William Clyde Howard, D.D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Chicago, Illinois. Dr. Howard succeeds the late Dr. Frederick N. McMillin, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Harry G. Pounsford, President, Pounsford Stationery

Company, Cincinnati, Ohio. Elder of the College Hill Presbyterian Church.

Rev. George Brewer, D.D., LL.D., Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Piqua, Ohio.

Rev. Dwight R. Guthrie, Minister of Northminster Presbyterian Church, Springfield, Ohio.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES MEETING

Membership of the College Board of Trustees was enlarged to 21 at the annual meeting Thursday, June 4, in the college offices. There will be three classes of members of seven members each to serve three years. The classes heretofore were five members.

The following members were re-elected for a period of three years: Rev. W. P. Harriman, D.D., Dayton; Rev. W. Clyde Howard, D.D., Chicago; Judge S. C. Wright, and S. Frank Creswell, Cedarville. The three new members are Rev. George Brewer, D.D., Piqua; Rev. Dwight

R. Guthrie, Springfield; and Harry G. Pounsford, Cincinnati.

In the election of officers, Dr. Howard was chosen president; Dr. M. I. Marsh, vice president; Rev. Wm. H. Tilford, secretary; S. C. Wright, treasurer.

John L. Dorst, who has been the efficient business manager the past year, was re-elected to the same position.

Reports of the various committees were heard and a review of the business of the college was laid before the Board. The college enjoyed a prosperous year both as to enrollment and from a financial standpoint, there being a balance of $987 to start the year. The assets of the college were enlarged during the past year by investment in real estate.

Three members of the Board were unable to be present: W. R. Collins, Columbus; Dr. R. W. Ustick, Springfield, and Dr. W. P. Harriman, Dayton, who has been quite ill for some weeks.

FACULTY RECEPTION

More than 150 guests were received at the annual reception given by the Cedarville College faculty for students, trustees and friends in Alford Memorial Gymnasium, Monday evening.

The affair was staged in a pretty setting of orange and blue, the college colors. The room was decorated with orange and blue streamers and festoons while the same color effect was carried out in baskets of summer flowers placed about the room.

A program was presented including a vocal duet by Misses Ruth Flory and Elizabeth Richards; vocal solo, Miss Rachel Creswell, with violin accompaniment by Miss Junia Creswell, and a one act playlet, "The Wedding Present," in which Miss Mary Johnston, Mr. James Anderson, and Mr. Roy Linton took part.

Light refreshments were served.

COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises were held in the Cedarville Opera House at 10:00 A. M. on Friday, June 4. The program was opened with music by a string ensemble, followed by the processional. Rev. John W. Bickett, D.D., '97, delivered the invocation. Degrees and honors were conferred by President W. R. McChesney. The address was delivered by Dr. Frank D. Slutz, prominent lecturer and educator of Dayton. Dr. Slutz discussed "Adventures in Advolution" which he defined as the "unfolding toward something," as opposed to evolution, which concerns itself with the "compulsions of the past." He said, "Have we become so enamored with where we have been that we lose our whole interest in where we are going?" He urged the graduates to put more stress on the invitations of advolution than on the compulsions of evolution, the five invitations of advolution being "to put social welfare above personal and selfish advantage; to believe in this universe beyond our power to comprehend; to believe in self realization in place of self gratification; to profit by the scholarships in the school of experience; to increase our sensitivities." It was a splendid address and one which should be long remembered by those who heard it.

Rev. William W. Ritter, '10, of Sewickley, Pa., pronounced the benediction.

Degrees were conferred upon fifty graduates, there being sixteen completing the four year course and thirty four completing the two-year normal course.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was bestowed upon Rev. C. E. Hill, pastor of the Methodist Church of Cedarville.

Honor diplomas were presented to the following: Magna Cum Laude, Dorothy Anderson, Ruth Kimble; Cum Laude, Mary Elizabeth Fisher. James Anderson, Martha Bryant, and Harold Shaw were the candidates for membership in the Cedarville College Crown Club.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

The opening service for the forty-first commencement of Cedarville College was the baccalaureate service held in the First Presbyterian Church, Sabbath evening, May 30. President W. R. McChesney delivered the sermon, choosing for his subject: "Your Opportunities and your Opposition," the sermon being based on what the Apostle Paul experienced in his missionary journeys. The opportunities of today and the obstacles the young face are much the same as in that day.

Preceding the sermon there was a thirty-minute program of organ music followed by the processional in which the fifty graduates, faculty members and members

CEDAR DAY

The elements favored us with a day of sunshine for the annual Cedar Day exercises held on the college campus. The feature of the program was the coronation of Miss Dorothy Anderson as queen. Escorted by her attendants, Miss Anderson was conducted to the beautifully decorated throne where she received the crown from Miss Anna Jane Wham, Cartter, Ill., who was Cedar Queen in 1936. The Queen's attendants were the girls of the senior class and one girl from each of the other classes; namely, Mary Johnston, Betty Fisher, Mildred Beard, Genevieve Jesson, Esther Waddle, Doris Watkins, Ruth Kimble. The little flower girls were Donna George, Marilyn Kyle, Joan George, Barbara McGregor, and Molly Kuehrmann; the train bearers, Jane Davis and Billy Nagley, and the crown bearer, Ralph Spracklen.

Following the coronation of the queen a colorful Greek pageant based on the myth of Demeter and Persephone was enacted under the general direction of Miss Helen Santmyer. About forty students took part in the pageant.

Mr. John Richards, elected by the student body as the Cedar Day Orator, delivered the oration, taking as his theme "The Olympic Games."

HIGH HONORS FOR ALUMNUS OF COLLEGE

The Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, Pa., numbered in its graduating class an alumnus of Cedarville College, Walter Smith Kilpatrick, '34. The all "A's" which "Pat" made in his first two years at the Seminary predicted in a measure his final triumph. In addition to the Bachelor of Sacred Theology Degree which he received there were several awards conferred upon him: The Sylvester S. Marvin Memorial Fellowship ($800); the Keith Memorial Homiletical Prize ($100); and the John Watson Prize in New Testament Greek ($50).

The fellowship which Mr. Kilpatrick received is an award which must be used in post-graduate study. His homiletical prize is a cash award indicating his superior ability in this particular phase of Seminary work. The Greek prize is also a cash award on the basis of competition in Greek exegesis.

In addition to his Seminary work Mr. Kilpatrick has been the regular supply pastor of the Valley View Church of Pittsburgh and an assistant in the Young People's work of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church. It might be added also that he found time to play indoor tennis and was a winner in the city championship.

Mr. Kilpatrick was ordained to the Gospel Ministry at the spring meeting of Dayton Presbytery.

Cedarville College may well be proud of Pat. But he has not finished. His plans include a Ph.D. degree, a pastorate in the Master's Kingdom, and many activities in His name.

REV. DWIGHT R. GUTHRIE.

The main address was given by Mrs. Vera Andrew Harvey, '03, of Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Harvey chose for her subject, "Our Heritage" giving a very interesting and worthwhile message.

Short talks were given by President W. R. McChesney, and Mr. John L. Dorst, Business Manager of the college.

FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

At the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of Cedarville College, Mr. Paul P. Orr, Coach and teacher in the high school of Cedarville, was elected to represent Cedarville College as field agent in securing students. He takes the place of Prof. Otto W. Kuehrmann who voluntarily resigned the field agency because he had secured a business position in Springfield.

PAUL P. ORR

Mr. Orr graduated from Cedarville College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1927 and took a course in Springfield Mass. Athletic College after graduation, later getting his A.M. Degree from Ohio State University.

Cedarville College is glad to have Mr. Orr as its representative. He has taken hold of the work with enthusiasm and is reporting commendable progress.

THE CAT AND THE CANARY

The Senior Class of 1937 sent cold chills up and down the backs of everyone who watched the weird and exciting presentation of the most creeping play ever seen on the stage of the Cedarville Opera House.

The chalk white face of Esther Waddle with her slow motions and drawling voice would make the fattest man in town shiver on the fourth of July. "But on the other hand" even the most tragic play would not be successful without its love and laughter. The bashful Joe Waddle presented his ideas to Ruth Kimble concerning the queer happenings and (other things). Even a pair as slick as Gale Ross and John Richards couldn't put any thing over on this combination which was aided by Harry Wallace, an heir. Other heirs to the great estate in addition to Joe, Ruth, Harry, and John were Betty Fisher and Dorothy Anderson. Albert Grube, doctor, hurried to the scene of action to revive Ruth who fainted when Bob Thompson fell from the closet dead. After everyone else had left and Joe had succeeded in telling Ruth his one big idea, she turned to him and said, "Oh Paul, you did have an idea didn't you?"

Much of the success of the play is owing to the stage manager, Paul Angell, and the director, Miss Glenna Basore. Assistant director was Mildred Beard and business manager was John Tobias. Music was furnished by the K. of P. Children's Home of Springfield.
