Vol. 72 No. 4

August 1999

Dear Fellow Churches,

ith great pleasure we invite you to the 72nd Annual Conference for the Ohio Association of Regular Baptist Churches. We plan to meet October 25 and 26, 1999, with the theme, "Stretch and Sow," emphasizing missions.

Temple Baptist Church 1148 Gallia Street Portsmouth, OH 45662 740-353-6869 fax: 740-353-1296 email: temple@zoomnet.net

Please bring one copy of your favorite salvation tract to the seven o'clock service Monday evening. The reason will be revealed then.

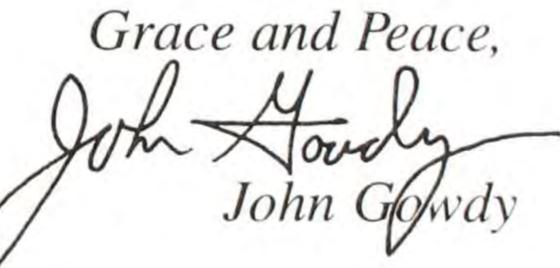

Good News--For All

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life " (John 3:16).

by Dr. David Warren

Tohn 3:16 has become J one of the most familiar Bible verses for at least two reasons. First, it crystallizes the essential message of the entire Bible in one sentence and summarizes the vital information all must understand in order to be saved. Second, it meets a real human need, in fact, our most pressing one. We all need to be rescued from the contorting and condemning consequences of our failures. Believe it or not, we need to be

Congratulations!!! To two Ohio teens who took first place in Talents For Christ at the OARBC National Conference in Seattle. Lee Bodenmiller, Berea Baptist, placed first in Male Public Speaking, and Janine Helmick, Abbe Road, Elyria, placed first in Bible Knowledge.

From Our Heart To Yours

Dave and Pat Warren

Dat and I have now met the majority of you firsthand in our travels across the state. It would be a real treat to see you all together at our Annual OARBC Conference at Temple Baptist Church in Portsmouth, Ohio, Monday and Tuesday, October 25 and 26, 1999. We are looking forward to the gracious Southern hospitality of John and Leigh Gowdy and Dan and Joyce Rase and their fine people at Temple. They have been gearing up for this for months and are planning to take care of us in fine fashion. We believe this is going to be one of the best attended conferences in the history of our Association. How so? First, many of our Ohio folks could not get away from their responsibilities to attend this year's National Conference in Seattle. It was too far away, too costly, too time consuming, etc. By the time October 25 rolls around, however, we will be ready for a good break and for some fellowship with peers from across the region. Portsmouth is a whole lot closer, the conference a whole lot shorter, and the whole scene a lot less expensive than Seattle. You may even want to come a bit early or stay a bit longer to enjoy the murals that portray Portsmouth's history painted on the retaining wall at the Ohio River downtown. The timing is right—come on down!

Second, this year's theme is absolutely critical to our church ministries and to our future as an Association. Hearing the various mission presidents share their hearts will be a treat. Come and get acquainted with them and hear their best thoughts as they develop the "Stretch and Sow" theme in our minds. Since our mission is the Great Commission, we all need to be brought back to center and be recharged about personal evangelism and missions. Such a theme is worthy of your time, money, and attention — so, come on down!

Third, we are encouraging a broad ownership of the proposed "Stretch and Sow" program of church planting. Please come to give your input, cast your vote and lend your support. We want all in our "congregation" to participate in this decision and feel a vital part of the process. The proposed Church Planting Coordinator represents an important step forward for us as an Association. It will open up an ongoing and healthy emphasis for us for years to come. The more that are involved in making this happen, the merrier! So, come on down!

Fourth, one of the neat things about our Ohio fellowship is that we not only hold to a similar doctrinal base but that we also like each other. It is actually fun to get together. It's a pick-me-up before the busyness of the holidays and the heaviness of the winter set in. It's simply a good time to "get away from it all." So, come on down; we'll be looking for you!!

As You Go...

Triving home from a meeting with Some associates in West Central Ohio, I stopped for a "bridge out" sign. Determined to find a short way around the bridge construction by using country roads, I ignored the state detour signs. Soon I was face-to-face with more road barricades, and telling myself that I should have known better. It was then that I noticed another motorist in my same predicament. I grabbed my country map and found a way to get back on track, telling the other driver to follow me. Reaching the familiar highway again, I jumped out of my car and ran back to speak to the one who had faithfully followed. "You trusted me to lead you when we were lost. Will you trust me once again? Here is some information that everyone needs to know," and I handed him a "Bridge To Life" tract and my business card.

"On behalf of the core group of New Community Baptist Church, I would like to thank the Ohio Association and those churches who participated in the Earl Umbaugh offering, for your grant of $2000. We are a new church in Avon, a western suburb of Cleveland, and we expect to begin public ministry in the fall of 1999. Your gift makes it possible for us to be even more effective in reaching our community with the gospel of Jesus Christ. Thanks for generously giving in order Wherever your travels take you, "be ready always to give an answer..." As You Go.

saved far more than we need to be educated, employed, or appreciated by others, as basic as those needs are. John 3:16 stands as a beacon in the night illuminating our path to salvation; it is an arrow pointing us home to God.

For God so loved the world... This is the greatest love ever expressed.

Our world contains some 6 billion people today- not to speak of those who existed from Adam to the present time. That's a lot of love!! Nor are these people alike. People come in all shapes and sizes, all temperaments and ethnic groupings. Our idiosyncrasies are legion, yet God loves us all. To top it off, all of these variegated peoples are desperately sinful and hostile to God. God loves them in spite of the fact that they are not lovable at all to Him. The grand truth that the Bible proclaims is that God actually loves all of Adam's kids, warts and all!

... that He gave His only begotten son to stress the universal offer God extends to people. Whosoever means "everyone who." Flowing out of God's great heart comes this marvelous word that includes all in the human race.

"Believeth"-this term means to cast oneself without reserve on someone else. Each man, woman, and child is called upon to cast the weight of his eternal destiny upon the Lord Jesus Christ; they are invited to do a trust fall into His arms. What we have in "whosoever believeth" is maximum people and minimum condition.

Nor is it easy to believe. To cast oneself into the arms of an unseen Person is not easy. That is why the Lord commends those who "not having seen, yet have believed" (John 20:29).

...should not perish

This is the greatest danger ever faced.

People who refuse to receive God's great love in Christ are "at risk" people. They flirt with hell itself. God does not want one human being to land in hell and has made full provision for their salvation. Yet the danger is very real. Hell is a place of eternal torment marked by pain and darkness. Jesus spoke more about hell than about heaven, underscoring that it is a very real place. Though hell was made originally for the devil and his angels (Matt. 25:41) people will land there if they reject Christ as Savior.

Gr@wing In Grace

-- This article is the third in a series on discipleship written by members of the Council of 12.

wight Pentecost said, "It does not L take much of a man to be a disciple, but it does take all of him."

Upon trusting Jesus Christ as Savior a new dynamic entered the arena of my existence. My life is no longer about Me, but about God being glorified through me-ALL of me. How often I lose sight of that principle. How easily my own selfish ambitions and comforts become the priority.

A shepherd boy one day heard a pagan named Goliath blaspheme and defy his God. David determined in his heart that something important was at stake, something greater than his own self preservation or personal wants. The glory of God was on the line.

Whether I face the death of a loved one, hear bad news from the doctor, receive mistreatment from others or even get stuck in the slow lane at the store, as His disciple, my life is no longer about ME. Remembering that helps me to "grow in grace."

--Pastor David Chapman Fostoria Baptist Church

This is the greatest gift ever given.

We may have given some pretty neat gifts in our lifetime, but no gift we have ever given can compare to this One. Jesus Christ is God's gift to mankind! He and He alone is the unique, one-of-akind Son of God. No other human being even comes close by comparison. Jesus Christ is unique in His birth (born of a virgin). He is unique in His words ("No man ever spoke like this man"). He is unique in His works ("No man can do the works that you do except God be with Him"). He is unique in His death (voluntarily releasing His life on the cross), and in His resurrection (others have been resuscitated only to die again, but He was resurrected never to die again). In other words God cared enough to send His very best!

... that whosoever believeth in Him

This is the greatest offer ever extended.

Sometimes major league baseball teams make special offers to their fansbat day, cap day, mug day. Their offer runs something like this, "The first 15,000 fans that show up at the gates will receive a free cap." Let's try that "offer" on John 3:16. "For God so loved that world that He gave His only begotten Son that the first 15,000 who

...but have everlasting life." This is the greatest prospect ever imagined.

Everlasting life is both quality of life and quantity of life. It begins the instant we believe in Christ and carries us ultimately into the presence of Christ. Revelation 21 and 22 describe a level of living that defies our imaginations; yet this life is promised to all who believe on Christ. We do not have enough superlatives in our language to do our eternal destiny justice.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

I urge you to cast yourself without reserve upon Christ right now and to begin eternal life. I also urge you to tell someone else what you did!

believe ... " No, John stretches language

Ohio Women

Dear Ladies,

Dlease match the person named in Column one with the most appropriate description in column two.

1. Cain 2. Timothy 3. Andrew 4. Zabud

5. Goliath

a. Peter's brother b. David's giant "victim" c. Solomon's friend d. Abel's murderer e. Eunice's son

I'm wondering how many of you matched "4" with "c" by process of elimination. In other words, only after you paired the others did you know that Zabud was Solomon's friend. It's not a commonly known fact, is it? Nonetheless, it is a fact. God says so in I Kings 4:5.

Recently as I was reading rapidly through the list of names in I Kings 4, that phrase at the end of verse 5 made me slow down, reread and then meditate on its full meaning. "...and Zabud the son of Nathan was principal officer, and the King's friend." Webster defines a friend as "1) a person whom one knows well and is fond of; a close acquaintance; 2) A person on the same side in a struggle; an ally; 3) a supporter or sympathizer." Zabud was perhaps all of these and more to Solomon. He was the one who listened, encouraged, advised and just "was there without a word" at other times. He was Solomon's friend. I smiled as I wondered to myself if "Zabud" was the origin of the term "buddy." You remember the "buddy system" at camp, don't you? You knew when the whistle blew, you had to find your buddy. The two of you had been paired off in a partnership arrangement for mutual help and protection.

Isn't that what we, the members of the OWMU, are all about? Reread the definitions of friends and buddies. They fit, don't they? And as friends and buddies of our missionaries, we count it a privilege to pray for them, write them, call them, listen to their hurts and concerns with open hearts and closed lips, get to know them better by attending local, area and state missionary meetings and assist them as opportunities arise.

After all of the pondering I did that day, I humbly prayed, "Lord, may You be able to say of me, 'She was a missionary's friend.' " May we all be "Zabuds" today!

Keeping Up With Our Camps

Skyview Ranch

7241 T.R. 319 Millersburg, OH 44654 330-674-7511 FAX 330-674-4606 E-mail svranch@valkyrie.net

Nineteen ninety-nine marks the thirtieth anniversary of the ministry at Skyview Ranch. For the past thirty years, Skyview Ranch has reached campers with the love of Christ and challenged them to live for Him.

To celebrate this milestone, we gathered former staff members and Trustees of the Ranch for a reunion Memorial Day weekend. Staff members representing the span of the ministry attended this fun weekend. It was a great blessing to share stories, reflect on the fun, and remember what the Lord did in the lives of staff as they served.

We are planning to install a three acre lake this year. The Board of Trustees has been discussing this project for more than two decades. Now is the time to complete this vision as a memorial of this special time in the history of the Ranch. We are excited about this project and our ability to improve and grow.

We invite you to celebrate our Anniversary with us. If you would like more information on how you can be involved with the ministry, give to the lake project, or get information on the growth and the future of the ministry, please contact the Ranch office at 330-674-7511.

Camp Patmos: A New Arrangement

Scioto Hills

1009 Martin Rd. Wheelersburg, OH 45694-8462 740-778-3279 FAX 740-778-2170 E-mail grow@sciotohills.com

We were approached last year by a church in Cincinnati, Ohio, who wanted to place camper scholarships in their missions budget and felt Scioto Hills was the camp to send them to. This year to date we have had 80 nonchurched campers attend our programs through scholarships. God continues to amaze us at how He is working in these lives. These children are all very polite and courteous here at the camp and when they are introduced to Christ for the first time you can only imagine the joy they experience. One child went home crying and would not stop. The mother finally called the pastor to come over and explain what was going on. As the pastor explained to the mother what the girl had learned at camp she too accepted Christ and the tears became tears of joy.

To God be the glory for the near ninety decisions that have been made in the first half of this summer! We are studying the seven wonderful "I Am" statements found in the gospel of John. As we introduce children to the person and deity of Jesus Christ we see many doing exactly what Andrew did when he first recognized Christ as the Messiahrunning to tell brothers, sisters, moms and dads. One young lady went home having decided to introduce everyone she knew to Christ and began a Bible study at her gymnastic class. She is currently providing each of them with devotionals to help them in their own personal times of study. Another camper fell in love with the worship chorus one of our ministry assistants wrote using the verses containing the "I am" statements and is now teaching it at the 4-H meetings. God continues to demonstrate the incredible and undeniable power of His Word. Please continue to pray for our staff during this next few weeks, that we would finish even better than the start, to God be the glory.

A Communique' From The Council Of Twelve

Our OARBC churches enjoy a cordial and productive relationship with three Ohio camps - Scioto Hills in the south, Skyview Ranch in the center of the state. and Camp Patmos in the north. Only Camp Patmos has been "officially owned" by our Association, yet we have enjoyed a wonderful partnership with all three. The Boards of Trustees of these camps share our doctrinal stance and as churches we support and pray for them.

It has become the decision of our Council of 12 that we also turn ownership of Camp Patmos over to its Board of Trustees (as with the other two camps) for the mutual benefit of the Camp and the Association.

For a number of years the Council of 12 has considered the possibility of legally separating these two ministries. In years gone by, motions have been framed to make the legal separation. These were delayed, due to crises such as the Regular Baptist Fellowship insurance failure and the Camp Patmos lawsuit. The RBF failure put the Camp at risk and the Patmos lawsuit put the OARBC at risk. Legal separation would avoid future such risk. As well, the Council felt that the day-to-day management and policy decisions for the Camp should be in the hands of people who would be in the best

In our meeting of Tuesday, April 27, 1999, the Council of 12 voted unanimously to take the step of legal separation. As a part of this procedure, the Council voted to cover all the legal costs of this transaction, so that the financial burden would not be on the camp's shoulders. Having attempted to study the subject carefully from as many perspectives as possible, and weighing all considerations, we came to the conclusion that this was the best course of action.

We want you to know that every one of the Council members is doing this based upon their conscientious conviction that this is best for both the OARBC and Camp Patmos. It is our desire to keep the relationship between Camp Patmos and the OARBC very close and cooperative.

This decision will be brought before the messengers of the OARBC at the Annual Conference in October, and the actual transfer of ownership would take place at that time. The Council of 12, our State Representative Dave Warren and some Patmos trustees have studied this matter thoroughly. We desire clear communication and in no way want this to become a divisive issue in our Fellowship. We are simply making a decision to show this to be a positive step for all involved.

As the Council of 12, we welcome your questions, responses and comments. We desire open and loving communication on this matter, so do not hesitate to communicate, as we are attempting to do. If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Warren or Council Chairman Ken Spink.

we believe is best and trusting the Lord
