Whispering Cedars Shifts to New Format

Due to financial difficulties, Whispering Cedars has changed its basic format, beginning with this issue.

The major difference lies in the number and size of the columns per page. Previously there were five 2 in. columns. Now there are four 2½ in. columns.

The advantage of this layout is that the wider column is easier to read. Also, according to Bryan Waggoner, the business manager, "There is a substantial saving in making the change."

The number of pages per issue will be held down, also. This will require a decrease in the number of features printed, leaving room for the news.

The factors behind the financial problems are fourfold.

To start off, the newspaper is coming out regularly and more frequently than last year. This runs costs up.

Also, Whispering Cedars has been substantially larger, pagewise, this year than in the past.

Thirdly, the cost of printing the newspaper has risen over 20% in the last 8 months.

Finally, the staff is operating under an unrealistic budget, which had been set up with the past year in mind. Cindy Carr, one of the two editors of Whispering Cedars, stated, "At $75 for one side of one page, a $3400 budget does not go far, even with the help of advertising."

To help deal with the immediate problem, the staff is pursuing various possibilities for additional revenue, according to Bill Giesman, co-editor.

The staff will be striving to develop the advertising as a key area for this year and for the future.

It is hoped that next year's budget will be increased sufficiently to meet the needs of the paper.

The staff plans to eventually return to a five column per page paper, although that will probably not occur till next year.

Proposed plans for the chapel.

New Chapel Costs Under Study

By Allen Halladay

Inflation has prompted the Cedarville College planning committee to investigate the possibilities for cost reduction of the proposed new chapel building.

Lee Turner, Director of Development, met with the planning committee on Tuesday, January 28, to discuss ways to lower costs of constructing the new chapel. The planning committee is made up of three faculty members, one college staff member, the student body president, two trustees and Mr. Turner.

Originally, the new chapel building was to cost approximately one million dollars. "However, today's inflation and interest rates," said Mr. Turner, "have already raised material and building prices over 1.5 million dollars."

While waiting for the required funds needed to begin construction, the group felt it necessary to work towards reducing the amount of money needed before construction becomes too expensive to be feasible. Presently, alternative plans in possible building design are being investigated by Mr. Turner and various contractors. He stated though that, "There are no definite plans on the board yet."

Ideas viewed at the meeting, according to Mr. Turner, included: constructing a pre-engineered building; eliminating the basement; enlarging Alford Auditorium; or constructing a temporary building.

Committee members, meanwhile, are searching for other ideas to lower costs of construction and plan to meet again February 11.

The current program will continue to be followed while price reduction plans are developed. These plans can then be incorporated to speed construction of a new chapel facility.

Student Government Seminar at Wittenberg

By Paulette Donalson

Wittenberg University will host the first sessional meeting of private schools' student governments of Central Ohio, Saturday, February 22, at one o'clock.

Student body president Don Eggleston will represent Cedarville College at this five hour program. Don claims the goal of such involvement and the sharing of ideas is to better communications with other private schools.

Topics will include: student government finances; minority relations; apathy; and the organizational role of student government. Don expressed that, "These are all areas in which Cedarville needs to be actively working."

The Student Body President explained the variances between private institutional governments and those of state schools. The role of government in relation to the private institution is different in its function, in its size, and in its income.

Don feels that this type of future program may be beneficial in leadership training and "will give a broader scope and idea of what student government can be to better help our student government here."

Sally O'Shell AX Sweetheart

By Loretta Keysor

The annual crowning of the Alpha Chi Sweetheart took place during half-time at the game against Ohio Dominican on Saturday, February 8. Sally O'Shell was chosen as this year's Sweetheart. Sally is a behavioral science major from Berea, O. Her hobby is camp counselling. Sally claims I Samuel 12:24 as her life verse. This year's Sweetheart Court included: Linda Herrin, Bobbie Litts, and Ellen Spaulding.

Alpha Chi has selected Sweethearts every year since the organization began. All junior girls are eligible for the honor. Choices are based on personality, academic record, and spirituality. Since Alpha Chi is a service organization whose purpose is to glorify God in all that they do, they feel that it is important to choose a girl who exemplifies Christ in her life.

Some of the responsibilities of the Alpha Chi Sweetheart during her reign include: representing the organization at parades and banquets, and also awarding prizes at contests sponsored by Alpha Chi.

Missionary Conference Selects Theme

By Mary Jo Imhausen

The theme for the 1975 Missionary Conference, "Christ's Compelling Love," was chosen from the theme verses, II Cor. 5: 14-15.

"For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead; And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them and rose again."

A contest is currently being held through February 28 for a theme chorus for the Conference. All entries are to have original music and lyrics and created around the chosen theme. A $15 prize will be given for the winning chorus. Selections should be sent to Harold Pulver through campus mail.

There will be a display in the GSC Lobby of the speakers for the Conference and their families. The speakers and their wives will be available for those people interested in having them speak at dorms or for individual groups.

WCDR Updates Programming

By Dianne Monts

According to Roger Booth, Program Director and Coordinator of Broadcast Instruction at Cedarville College, the change in program scheduling of WCDR is to make listening easier. Mr. Booth's goal is to minimize the talking and maximize the total effect.

WCDR is an FM-Stereo radio station broadcasting from Cedarville College. The Christian Educational Radio serves the Dayton-Springfield area at 90.3 megahertz.

One of the biggest changes in program scheduling can be seen in the deletion of the Newsreel program (a constant reading of the news from 6:30 to 8:00 a.m.) and the addition of a program called "Music in the Morning," which consists of music, news, and sports. Mr. Booth feels that this is a better rounded program for the listeners of WCDR.

Several other new programs have also been instituted. These include: the "Morning Chapel Hour" with Wilbur Nelson at 8:00 a.m.; "Chapel of the Air" with John Jess at 8:30 a.m.; "Woman to Woman" at 8:45 a.m.; and "Haven of Rest" with Paul Evans at 9:15 a.m.

Previously, the college's daily chapel service was broadcast live and then rebroadcast later in the evening. Now, however, the service will not be rebroadcast.

Gamma Zeta Sells Candy

By Jessica Huesmann

Gamma Zeta Theta, one of the newer women's organizations on campus, is selling Valentine chocolates in the GSC Lobby from 10:30 to 1:00 and from 4:00 to 6:00 daily. The club will be selling the candy through February 13th and free deliveries will be made to dorms or to places in the Cedarville area. There are four boxes ranging in price from $.99 to $5.25. Well-wishers may write their own Valentine message on a gift card sealed with a red foil heart.

From the Editor's Desk—

In four years at this educational institution, I have heard many comments from fellow students about how there is nothing to do around here and how much we need a student union. Recently I have heard comments to the effect that a student union would be much more useful than a chapel.

Well, now you have your chance to have your cake and eat it too. There are very good possibilities for the Hartman House to be converted into a student union. Only a few things are needed.

First, you have to show an interest in it. It is being planned for you and the major part of the finances will have to come from you. This will probably consist of a $10 per quarter fee being added on to your bill. Student Body Project may want to help out.

This building has a number of uses that it could be put to. If we are concerned about having a student union, then now is the time to do something. If there is enough action, things may be underway this summer to start renovating the house. Mark Fehrman is chairman of a committee to look into the possibilities of a student union and he is working closely with Dick Walker. Let either of these two know of any ideas that you have.

As the Cookie Crumbles

By Bob Cook

A lot has been said recently about the CIA on TV and in the press. Everyone seems to be taking a pole position, either in favor of the CIA and its past actions or greatly opposed to it. When I look at some of the disclosures that investigative reporters have made recently, I really begin to wonder just how much power the CIA really has.

As Christians, we should be aware of what our government is doing and how government policy is being carried out. We should stand ready and be knowledgeable about any government policy or actions that we may have to voice an opinion on. Our voice in the government is the responsible voice of a good citizen.

In order to properly look at the CIA, I think we also need to take a look at its counterpart in the Soviet Union, the KGB. The KGB carries out assignments for the Soviet Union all over the world in a manner similar to that of the CIA for the United States. To foreclose on the ability of the CIA to complete its mission, would render it helpless to counteract the mission of the KGB. This is essentially the spy business. The Russians know full well that if we lower our ability to strike first and counter attack, we will become vulnerable to the KGB. Let's hope that Congress will evaluate the CIA in this light and realize that the mission of the CIA requires full espionage power.

Buckley Amendment Raises Questions

By Chuck Elliott

An Act of Congress, which was passed into law last November, is causing much confusion in schools across the nation. The new law, known as the Family Rights and Privacy Act, has been the cause of considerable controversy in colleges throughout the U.S. as they try to determine how to apply it.

The Act gives to parents and students expanded access to records pertaining directly to the student. The Act is so vague, however, that each school must interpret it for its own use. That is, each administration must set policy on the extent to which records pertain to their students according to the law. Procedure on obtaining access to the records is also set by each school.

The Buckley Amendment, as the Act is also called, was signed into law as an effort to provide more protection for the student through greater awareness of his records. Since these records held by school administrations affect a student for the rest of his life, it was felt that the opportunity should be made to the student to contest any unfair material in the files.

The vagueness of the Act has caused a problem in the area of letters of recommendation. These letters, written under the auspices of complete privacy, are now open to the student's eyes. As a result, certain modifications of the Act pending in Congress will protect the authors of these letters.

At Cedarville, the Act will not change school policy because access to records has always been available to any interested student. According to Dean Rickard, the Buckley Amendment will only serve to confirm present policy.

Maniac Still Loose

By Chuck Elliott

Slashing his way into the annals of crime history, a tragic figure on the west coast is fast becoming a legend of terror. He is known as the "Slasher" by the Los Angeles police and shows a surprising method to his madness.

He has murdered a total of nine people, and all of the killings show a similar pattern. It seems that he chooses as victims, middle-aged men who inhabit the skid row area of Los Angeles. Coming upon them, he renders them unconscious and then taking what is believed to be a large hunting knife, he severs their necks from ear to ear. The "Slasher" then takes off the victim's shoes and places them neatly at the foot of the body.

The police are still searching for the killer, who they say "only creeps out of his hole to commit these horrible crimes." Meanwhile, on skid row, the drifters wait anxiously for the apprehension of the maniac.

Artist Series Brings DeCou, Lyman

On Feb. 14 the Cedarville College Artist Series will present Harold DeCou and Ed Lyman in concert at 8:00 p.m. in Alford Auditorium.

Harold DeCou is a talented composer, arranger and keyboard artist. Being the recipient of a music scholarship, Mr. DeCou majored in piano and organ at Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa. He has performed as an arranged and accompanist to many vocalists in their recording of sacred music.

DeCou is presently the editor of the choral magazine, Voices in Praise.

Ed Lyman is a talented vocalist. Lyman has had leading roles in musicals, operettas and oratorios.

Numerous gospel and contemporary evangelism songs have been composed by Lyman.

Lyman has performed as a soloist for coast to coast "Word of Life" broadcasts, and has made guest appearances on the television program "Day of Discovery." He is also the president of Shenandoah Bible College.

SENATE REPORT

(for the meetings of Jan. 29, and Feb. 5)

Treasurers Report—

The balance as of Feb. 5 is $241.25. The amount owed as of Feb. 5 is approximately $1,470.00.

SMP Report—

The committee is taking part in registration again. They will be meeting later in the quarter to work out possible projects for the money pledged.

SBP Report—

The committee is working on the plans for Nostalgia Day on March 7. Anyone who wishes to help may contact Kirby Lancaster.

Business—

The Maintenance Committee reported the actions taken by the Maintenance Department to help conserve energy.

The Social/Cultural Committee has been studying the rulings in the handbook in regard to the legal age. It was found that the parental permission slips were legal since a student is informed about them before coming.

It was also the conclusion of the committee that changing the age for off-campus housing was not feasible. However, Senate moved that the committee pursue the study of possibly lowering the age limit to 21 from 25 in relation to housing.

An Ad Hoc Committee has been studying the possibility of turning the Hartman House into a Student Union. Tentative floor plans have been drawn up. They provide for study areas, snack shop, game rooms, lounges, T.V., offices and more.

The biggest problem will be finances. It was suggested that revenue could be acquired through a special student fee.

The Financial Committee announced one change and made several proposals:

- Changes have been made in the taxi service in relation to price and time of payment.
- The officers of Senate have been asked to voluntarily give up their scholarships for the rest of the year due to the financial problems in Senate.
- The pros and cons of selecting people in the dorms to service the pop machines were considered. Constitutional problems were encountered.
- An amendment will be brought to a student body vote, changing the minimal amount that Senate must donate to the Student Body Loan and Grant Fund from $300 to $150.
- Senate is looking into the idea of removing the yearbook scholarship from its budget to be placed on a more appropriate one.

f. Senate is checking into the possibility of the Financial Aid Committee taking over the Foreign Student Scholarship.

g. Senate voted to drop the stipulation in the constitution that the chief justice of the student court be paid a stipend. This will come up to the student body for a vote.

Senate is presently exploring the possibility of Sunday hours for the library.

Senate has sent a recommendation to the Administrative Committee that women be permitted to wear slacks to classes during the winter months.

Senate requested that the president announce in chapel the facts behind the loan received from the Business Office.

Another amendment to be brought to student vote is that the experience requirement for Senate officers, except president and vice-president, be dropped. This would permit those more qualified to run.

Senate passed that the minutes from the Senate meeting be posted the day after the meeting along with any student court reports. Also agendas with the proposal listed are to be posted in advance of the meetings.

Senate chapel will be held on February 20.

It was passed that a revote on the budget proposal be held. At this time viable alternatives will be publicized as well as advantages and disadvantages.

Grapplers Win Triangular

By Bob Winward

On the weekend of Jan. 31-Feb. 1, the Cedarville wrestling team went to a wrestling tournament at West Liberty State College in West Virginia. Cedarville finished fourth out of seven teams and individually four wrestlers placed in the tournament.

Craig Vielguth won the first place trophy at 142. Duncan Fields 150 and Vic Mallard 190 took second in their weight classes and Gerald Perry placed third in the Heavyweight class.

In their last home match of the season Cedarville lost to Huntington

College, last Thursday. (In individual matches, Rick Bowers at 118 tied, Craig Vielguth won at 142, Jim Koller at 150 won, and Vic Mallard and Gerald Perry won by forfeits.)

Last Saturday, Cedarville went down to Xavier University in Cincinnati and beat both Xavier and Capital from Columbus in a triangular meet. Next Saturday, Feb. 15, the wrestling team will go to a tournament at Wheaton College in Illinois.

Jackettes Sport 6-7 Record

Cedarville's women's basketball team has racked up 6 wins to 7 losses overall this year.

Laureen Clark, a junior, reigns as the Jackettes top scorer. She averages 11.3 points per game.

Laureen also is the leading rebounder with a total of 50 caroms after 8 games.

A crucial injury to Sally Orihood, previously the team's leading scorer, has kept the senior starter out of most of this season's action.

According to team manager Jenny O'Neil, this is the first year the team has really had to combat injuries.

Jenny stated in an interview that she felt the Jackettes play well and were, especially, a good defensive team.

The Jackettes travelled this past Monday to Capital University to participate in the Ohio Valley League Tourney.

The team lost to the University of Dayton in this single-elimination tournament, preventing them from progressing farther.

Laureen Clark felt that they would have had a definite chance of winning the game if they had not lost some players due to fouling out.

The Jackettes' next home game is tomorrow against Marshall University.

Jackets Third in MOC

By Brian Waggoner

After 20 games the basketball squad boasts a 12-8 record overall, and 4-3 in the Mid Ohio Conference. The Jackets are third of all the schools in the MOC.

The Yellow Jackets have been victorious in three of their last four contests. The first game, against Wilberforce, went into overtime, with the Jackets emerging triumphant 73-68. Saturday, Feb. 1, Rio Grande burned the Jackets by a 76-62 tally. The following Monday Mt. Vernon Nazarene College was destroyed by a 92-71 score. Last Saturday, Ohio Dominican met with the Jackets in a rematch, in which Cedarville retaliated with a 77-64 thrashing of the Panthers.

Steve Young is still leading the Jackets in average scoring with a 17.0 points per game average. Don Smith is hitting at a 15.3 clip.

Smith tops the rebounders with 9.8 caroms per game, good for third place in the MOC. Young is close behind with 8.4 grabs of his own.

Dan Coomes is continuing to hand out the most assists, totaling 85 for the season.

Hartman House Has Memories

By Wendy McNiece

About 1920, one of Cedarville's bank cashiers and leading citizens, Oscar Smith, quickly and mysteriously left town, abandoning a house built for him in 1912. The house was then sold by lawyers to George Hartman.

Mrs. Reynolds, daughter of Hartman and a Cedarville resident, related what she remembered of the events surrounding their purchase of the three story structure, which is now being loaned to the school.

Smith, "a well-thought-of man," was apparently mixed up in a bank scandal and because they were "people with hurt pride," he and his wife went to Cleveland, never to return.

Various fixtures, such as mirrors, the fireplace mantle, doorknobs, and window blinds were removed and stored in Springfield. These items were finally returned by the lawyers who handled the sale of the Smith property. It wasn't until the keys were sent from Cleveland by mail that the doors were opened. Initial entry was made through a window by Mrs. Reynolds' younger brother.

A dining room which was finished in mahogany, shipped from Vermont, was one highlight of which the Hartmans were especially proud.

All of the Hartman children attended Cedarville College. Mr. Hartman was a member of the Board of Directors. The Hartmans kept close ties with the college by opening the third floor of their house to as many as ten male students at one time.

Mr. Hartman's second wife occupied the house until last year when her physical condition made it necessary that she be placed in a nursing home.

Mrs. Reynolds was enthusiastic and relieved when she learned that the College was considering the purchase of the property.

Kappa Delta Chi Holds Vespers Services

Every year Kappa Delta Chi, a women's organization, presents a Vespers Service for the college family as a service of the club. This year's Vespers has the theme of "Great Hymns of the Faith." Included in the program are such favorites as "How Firm a Foundation" and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" as well as some less familiar hymns, including "Oh Sacred Head Now Wounded" and "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee."

Those performing include the Brass Choir, directed by Dr. Robert Monroe; the Choralaires, directed by Lyle Anderson; the College Concert Choir, directed by David Matson; a Men's Chorus and Kappa Delta Chi. Individuals include Diane De Nicola and Kim Stowe, piano; Linda Hinds, organ; Ray Avery, trombone; and a solo by Ellie Dritsas accompanied by Alan Dunn.

Dr. Stanley Ballard will be narrating between the musical presentations. These narrations will be short historical backgrounds giving interesting facts about the people and places behind these well known hymns.

This year's vespers will be held Sunday evening, Feb. 23, at 6 p.m. in Alford Auditorium. All students, faculty and staff are welcome to share in this service.
