Piano Duo at Artist Series

Alford Auditorium on October 3 at 8:00 p.m. will be the scene for the first concert of the college-sponsored Artist-Series.

The brilliant young duo-piano team of Nielson & Young will bring to Cedarville College a collaboration of extraordinary individual accomplishments in musical endeavors.

Stephen Nielson has, in a few years, made an impressive record in the world of music. He won the coveted Guy Maier Award for pianistic excellence in 1967, with the distinction of having achieved the highest rating ever recorded before or since in the history of both that award and the International Piano Guild competition. He has performed on television in American, European and Latin American cities, and has recorded for the BBC in Great Britain. He has played with several symphony orchestras, and was the first pianist selected to play with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra in its Symphonic Festival, initiated in 1965. In 1972, Nielson represented the United States at the Queen Elisabeth International Piano Competition in Brussels. In 1975, he made another tour abroad playing recitals in several European cities. Dr. Michael Winesanker, upon hearing Nielson perform, wrote: "This is spell-binding and brilliant playing. I am impressed and moved." Stephen Nielson is Artist-in-Residence at Olivet Nazarene College.

Ovid Young's duo-piano concertizing with Stephen Nielson is but one facet of a flourishing, many-sided career. He maintains a busy concert schedule throughout the United States and other countries as the pianist-conductor-arranger for the prominent singing duo of Robert Hale and Dean Wilder. He has been heard as conductor and/or piano soloist with the symphony orchestras of Denver, Pittsburgh, Nashville, Akron, Lansing and other cities. Young's recording activities have taken him to studios and concert halls of London, New York, Chicago, Hollywood and Nashville. In 1971, he wrote music and conducted the orchestra for the coronation of the queen of the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena. Ovid Young now devotes part of the year to his duties as Music Director and Conductor of the Kankakee, Illinois Symphony Orchestra with whom in the past he has appeared as piano soloist. Press reactions to Young's piano playing include: "polished, delicately-sensitive playing" from the music critic of the Nashville Tennessean; and "Ovid Young played with imagination and finesse" from the Los Angeles Times.

Health Service Staff Extends Welcome

Betty Bertschinger, Director of Health Services, extends a hearty welcome to new students and a familiar greeting to those returning. The Health Service is still located in the house situated between Maddox and Bethel dorms. There's a new nurse in that house. Mrs. Joanne Cook, R.N. has replaced Elaine Schulte, who was accepted by Baptist Mid-Missions and is presently doing deputation. Miss Schulte is hoping to be able to leave for Chad in April, and will be working part-time at the Health

Test Dates for Teacher Exams

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY — Students completing teacher preparation programs may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of three different test dates announced by the Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 8, 1975; February 21, 1976; and July 17, 1976. The tests will be given at nearly 400 locations throughout the United States.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

On each full day of testing, prospec-

While most Cedarville College students were home for summer vacation, the north end of the Cedarville campus bustled with activity as construction began on the new chapel.

After trimming $¼-million from the original plans (most of the savings coming from the elimination of a proposed basement), the trustees commissioned Wenrick Construction Company, who also built the library and the science center, to construct the chapel for $770,000. An additional $250,000 will be required for landscaping, furnishing, etc.

The carpeted interior will slope toward a speakers platform. Seating, which was increased from 1600 in the original plans to 2,000, will be in three sections, all on one floor and all facing the speakers platform. The building will also house the offices of the Christian Service Department.

Money to finance this project is coming from many sources. The alumni association has launched a fund-raising project. The women's fellowship is raising money for an organ. One hundred and five Cedarville students have been out this past summer trying to raise $1000 apiece. Last spring, 13 faculty members raised $220,000 in gifts and pledges. Another $300,000 is anticipated being raised this coming year.

Completion is expected to be in time for the 1976 fall quarter.

tive teachers may take the Common Examinations which measure their professional preparation and general educational background and an Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective candidates should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The Bulletin of Information for Candidates contains a list of test centers, and general information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Enrollment Increase Forces Changes

Because of higher-than-ever enrollment, Student Personnel made surprising changes in student housing for this fall. Bethel Hall, formerly a men's honor dorm, will now accommodate 34 women. Remodeled, Bethel has a co-ed lounge, a Resident Advisor's apartment, but still boasts of the single person rooms.

Miss Pat Bates, Dean of Women, reported that Maddox Hall averaged 280 women in previous years. This year, however, all larger rooms, C and D rooms plus Guest Apartments, will have three women assigned to each room. At the present, Miss Bates had no exact number of those assigned to Maddox.

Hartman House, a large home situated next to Alford Auditorium, was first used by the college last spring to house men. There are 15 women assigned to live there this fall.

Even with the changes noted, more housing for women was needed. Two approved off-campus homes and the apartments next to South Hall will be used also.

Dean of Students Mr. Donald Rickard, reported there are more new women enrolled than new men. Marshall and Carr Dorms have eased men's housing problems. With no such solution for women, the conversion of Hartman & Bethel was necessary. There is no increase in the number of men per room in any campus housing.

Marshall & Carr house 8 men in each unit. In addition, the Carr basement has 6 rooms to accommodate about 14 men.

Besides the four or five male students at Coach King's and another four at Mr. Herb Myer's, the college has three units at Welsh apartments on Maple St. for 12 students.

Dean Rickard was pleased to remark that this year's housing offered by the college is of better quality than in previous years.

Editorial Hopes

Generally the first editorial of the new collegiate year is full of bright optimism toward the future. We lack no enthusiasm; however we have surveyed the dimension of our responsibility and realize it to be an important one in our academic community.

We hope to supply our student readership with a balanced presentation of news on the international, national, and the local level that will help supplement the main thrust of information we supply about ourselves. In addition, we hope that our faculty, staff, alumni, parents, and interested friends will find something of value in our publication.

Spiritual and academic growth can go hand in hand in such a manner that the "world life view" of the Christian student can be built to last through a full and productive lifetime. We hope that we'll be able to do our part in assisting you in this task.

Charge Cash Through WU

The Western Union Telegraph Company announces that beginning August 4, 1975 the Money Order-by-phone service was extended to all Master Charge cardholders in the 48 contiguous states, providing students on college campuses with a fast and simple way of sending and obtaining money in a hurry.

This service now eliminates the necessity of depositing cash in person at a Western Union office or agency. By simply calling 800-851-2300 (in Illinois 800-642-2430) toll free at any hour of the day or night, a Master Charge cardholder can transmit up to $300 in cash by charging it to their Master Charge account. Western Union then checks the individual account and advises the sender of the location and hours of the paying office closest to the intended recipient. The sender can provide the information to the recipient by telegram or telephone.

Delivery is guaranteed within 2 hours to any of more than 5,000 Western Union offices or agencies when that office or agency is open; however, past experience has shown that transmissions have usually been made within 30 minutes.

haven't already) that there is much to learn apart from the classroom and your 3-inch thick textbook. There is, for instance, an instructor who emphatically states: "I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you will go: I will guide you with my eye." Indeed, this instructor is very willing and always ready to assist at any time he is asked. This instructor has a unique textbook which he spend a considerably long time putting together. It's great to know his students have his assistance in their reading of this book. The homework assignment may seem impossible to accomplish, but he who is mightier than his students, offers reliable help.

I'm a student of this person. There have been many times when his lessons are very trying and perplexing. At times I may consider his work load unfair and unjust, but I've asked him about it and he assures me it's for my best interest, encouraging me to not become weary, but to persevere. A few times I've greatly desired to terminate his instruction but his gentle persuasion makes my interest in him grow and grow. There's so much to learn; I think I'll be a full-time student of his for the rest of my life.

Who is this instructor you ask? Why, He's the Triune God.

Welcomes and Letters

From the Office of the President

We welcome new and returning students with a prayer that God will guide and bless each one of you in every aspect of your college experience. This promises to be a great year with new challenges awaiting each one of us as we look to the Lord for His wisdom and strength.

Getting hot under the collar, or just wanting to express yourself with frank opinions? These can be vented through Letters to the Editor. We want to invite each and every student to express himself through this forum; however, we do feel taste and responsibility should be exercised by those using this method of expression. We request that you limit your letters to 200 words and always sign them.

—The Editorial Staff

Dear Editor,

I realize this may be an unusual request, however, here goes. I'm presently confined in one of Ohio's institutions and would like to correspond with someone on the outside.

I've been incarcerated since 1969, for the charge of Armed Robbery. My reason for saying this now is that if I would receive letters from someone, I'd like them to know about me from the start. I'm 28 years old, 5 ft. 10 in., 170 lbs., light brown hair, blue-green eyes. I enjoy sports (contact), music (rhythm & blues, hard rock), outdoor life, parties, meeting new and interesting people.

I consider myself easy to get along with, very open-minded, and fun loving. I hope you'll be able to place my ad in your campus paper. Thanks for your time and any help you can give me with this request.

Sincerely,
Jack Crawford

Selective Service Makes Changes

This is a reminder that young men turning 18 years old no longer are required to register during the 60 day period commencing 30 days prior to their birthday. The requirement was withdrawn as of midnight April 1, 1975 by means of a proclamation signed by President Gerald R. Ford changing Selective Service registration procedures for 18 year old men.

Ohio Selective Service Director Paul A. Corey reminds all 18 year old men that this action does NOT terminate the legal requirement to register, but merely changes the procedures by which registration will be accomplished.

New procedures are being developed, and will be announced by the President later this year. The change was affected to reduce the cost of maintaining a Selective Service System in support of the all-volunteer military force.

If you have any questions call State Headquarters, 614-469-7380 or your area Selective Service office: 118 W. Third St., Dayton, Ohio, 513-461-4830 ext. 5258.

Elaine Schulte Accepts Call to Chad, Africa

By Tamea Howard

Lying on a cot in a mission station in Chad, Africa, sick with malaria, all that Elaine Schulte could think of was what her mother would do when she got the telegram informing her of Elaine's death. She imagined herself being buried on African soil. She imagined her mother's grief at not even having the body to bury. Resentment toward the Lord was hot in her as she struggled to find the purpose in her illness. She thought she had been doing the Lord a favor by obeying Him and coming to Africa and then she had to suffer this trial. "I had the impudence," she said later, "to lie there and tell God that He had made a mistake, that He shouldn't have sent me to Africa. I had a lot to learn about God's working in my life."

As Elaine lay there either shivering with chills or burning with fever and struggling with the Lord she thought back over the events that had brought her to Africa.

After finishing nurses training in 1965, Elaine desired a Christian education. She became a student at Cedarville College in Cedarville, Ohio, a Baptist liberal arts college, and graduated in 1968. In February of 1970 she returned to Cedarville to work in the school health center.

"The Lord has never worked in my life in a dramatic way. He has always spoken to me quietly, yet persistently," Elaine said. "While I was a nurse at Cedarville College He kept convincing me that I should apply to the school's Missionary Internship Service (MIS) program. As a staff member I didn't know if I was eligible. Frankly, I hoped I wasn't."

Each summer through this program, several groups of Cedarville College students travel to parts of the U.S. and countries all over the world to work with missionaries, ministering through music, athletics, teaching and evangelism.

In an attempt to quiet the voice within her, Elaine finally picked up an application for the MIS program. But filling it out was another struggle. "I didn't feel," she explained, "that I should go on MIS unless I was willing to go back as a missionary some day. The Lord was working with me but I fought Him. I asked Him not to make me go. When I finally gave in and submitted my application, I prayed that I wouldn't be accepted."

In spite of her requests to the contrary, Elaine was accepted into the MIS program. In the summer of 1973 she became the first Cedarville College staff member to participate in MIS. The field — Chad, Africa.

From the moment she received her assignment Elaine was elated. She decided that doing the Lord's will wasn't so bad after all. She had submitted, the struggles were over and she could relax — or so she thought. Two weeks after arriving in Chad she contracted malaria and spent her weeks in bed arguing with the Lord again and imagining her death.

Elaine did not die.

Fearing that the Lord might call her to a permanent missionary work in Chad, Elaine often prayed, "Lord, don't ask me to do this, I just can't!" So many things about Africa upset her. The people lived in poverty and disease. Ignorant of common health practices, many drank contaminated water and had chronic dysentery. Malaria was ever-present. Some believed that putting manure on a cut would effect a cure. Expectant mothers who were out working in their garden when it was time for the baby to be born would dig a hole, deliver the baby in it, and go right back to work. Snakes and lizards are seen frequently, even inside the homes.

Ironically, the Lord used these problems to speak to Elaine's heart. When the time came for her to return to the U.S. she discovered that her heart had gone out to the Chadian people. How could they ever improve their health and living conditions unless they were taught?

Once again a fear of the unknown gripped Elaine and she never made a move to return to Chad. The familiar voice began to speak once again — this time about becoming a missionary — but Elaine ignored it. She was waiting to be "called" in some dramatic and outstanding way.

In June of 1974, while working at Skyview Ranch, Elaine knew that she would go back to Africa. She finally realized that she had heard her call in the Lord's quiet urging in her heart. So she took the next step and applied to Baptist Mid-Missions.

On July 31, 1975, Elaine Schulte was accepted by Baptist Mid-Missions. She plans to work at the Koumra mission station in Chad, Africa.

Many trials and joys still lie ahead for Elaine. She knows now that the Lord will never be finished working in her life. As she begins full-time deputation she desires that it be more than just a time of raising support. "I want to be used of the Lord even now," she stated, "I don't want to wait until I get on the mission field. Perhaps He can use my experience and struggles to speak to the hearts of others who are considering mission work."

Elaine's ultimate job as a missionary in Chad will be to teach and train the Chadian medical evangelists. For the Chadian men to be accepted into the medical evangelist program they must be Bible school graduates. They are then given the medical training that a nurse in the U.S. would receive, but they accept much more responsibility. She also hopes to conduct Bible classes for the native women and children.

After three years of struggle with the Lord, Elaine has learned the joy of submission to the Lord's will. She holds in her heart the words of Philippians 3:10 "That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death."

The conference theme is I Cor. 1:9 — "God is faithful by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of His Son, Jesus Christ."

The seminars will deal with a basic part of every believer's life.

PART I is "Who Is God" and covers God's attributes.

PART II is "Knowing God" on a day to day basis by the Holy Spirit's ministry.

The Summer Swordbearers Team will minister in song.

Write to Box 601, Cedarville College for information and registration for Swordbearer's Conference '75.

Grace Splits Morning Service

Grace Baptist Church with Pastor W. Paul Jackson has split Sunday morning worship service, due to larger averaged attendance and anticipated attendance by college students.

Grace Baptist has an estimated seating capacity of 325, but has been averaging almost 400 for the regular worship service on Sunday morning without College students attending.

Pastor Jackson will present the same message for both sessions, scheduled at 9:40 and 11:00. Sunday School classes of College I (Freshmen and Sophomores), Young Adult, Maranatha, and Berean meet at 9:40 — the same time classes of College II (Juniors and Seniors), Philadelphia, Junior High, and Senior High meet in regular worship in the auditorium. At 11:00, the sessions switch activities, for example, College II attending Sunday School and College I attending worship service.

There are no changes in Sunday and Wednesday evening services.

Pastor Jackson is a 1967 graduate of Cedarville College. He received his Masters of Divinity in 1970 and Masters of Theology in 1973 from Grace Seminary. He has been pastor of the First Baptist Church in Amnity, Ohio, the Pleasant Ridge Bible Church in Francisville, Ind., and the Faith Baptist Church in Plainwell, Mich.

Pastor Jackson is married and has two children.

Born and raised in Akron, Ohio, he accepted Christ as his Savior at the age of nine and acknowledges Highview Ave. Baptist Church, Akron, as his home church.

"While I've enjoyed the great state of Michigan, coming to Grace Baptist and Cedarville will be sort of a homecoming for me," Pastor Jackson stated.

Try the College Bookstore First

The Cedarville College Bookstore is a fascinating place. It has just about anything you will need to begin your school year — from clothes to school supplies to books to nourishment (in case you can't quite make it to the cafeteria) to gifts and cards.

The Bookstore is located in Milner Hall — the little building behind Collins Education Center. It is open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9:30 to 12:30 a.m. on Saturday.

From time to time the Bookstore offers "specials" on its stock. The first week of school all Barnes and Noble College Outline Series will be half price.

The Bookstore manager is Miss Bernice Mick. Other personnel are: Mrs. Audrey Bergen, Mrs. Connie Kriel, Mrs. Martha Baldwin, and Mrs. Maxine Benefiel. Mrs. Fran Griffeth, now on leave with her husband for one year of missionary service in Bangladesh, serves as secretary to the Bookstore manager. Students working in the Bookstore are: Jeff Bowen, Steven Gidley, Mrs. Mary Wimer, and Pat Gardner. The Bookstore personnel are happy to be of service to you in any way that they can. Just ask.

Cross Country, Soccer Teams Rebuild

By Dwight Evens

This year's cross country team is in the rebuilding process, having lost two of their top runners. The team, however, has five returning runners plus one Freshman. This year's co-captains are Dave Wishart and Paul Beck. Last year, the cross country team had a record of 5-1 in dual matches, placing third in the MOC and third in the District 22 NAIA. The team's main goal this year is to go to the NCCAA meet at Grace College.

The soccer team also lost two valuable players this year. There are, however, forty possible soccer players with 26 having gone to camp. Among those are Senior Jim Turner, who will be goalie with Freshman Dean Scott backing up.

Last year's team had a record of 13-6 and placed sixth in the nation, NAIA. This year's team hopes to break last year's record of 1.23 goals per game by only giving up one goal per game.
