"97%" is One Reason Students Select Cedarville University

CEDARVILLE, OHIO – A recent survey of Cedarville University's class of 2016 showed that 97 percent of the graduating class was employed or attending graduate school within six months of finishing their studies.

Cedarville University has seen steady growth in its first destination data that measures the career paths and academic pursuits of recent graduates. Five years ago, the university reported 94.5 percent of its graduates were employed or in graduate school within six months of earning their undergraduate degrees.

"I am very pleased with the survey results because it shows our students are benefiting from their education at Cedarville University," said Jeff Reep, director of career services. "From my perspective, this success is the result of having the combination of rigorous academic programs, talented and motivated students who are committed to learning, and faculty who are gifted at communicating their discipline to the students."

Located in southwest Ohio, Cedarville University is an accredited, Christ-centered, Baptist institution with an enrollment of 3,760 undergraduate, graduate, and online students in more than 100 areas of study. Founded in 1887, Cedarville is recognized nationally for its authentic Christian community, rigorous academic programs, strong graduation and retention rates, accredited professional and health science offerings, and leading student satisfaction ratings.
