CENTENNIAL: the celebration of 100 years of life.

For Cedarville College this milestone is upon us. In 1987 we will be 100 years old!

It all began on January 26, 1887. On that day the vision of five men who desired a college dedicated to training Christian young people in a spiritual framework was realized. Cedarville College was "born," chartered by the State of Ohio as an institution of higher learning.

Since that time the College, weathering challenges brought on by changes in our nation and the college administration, has emerged as a dynamic institution. Today, recognized as a leader in Christian higher education, Cedarville serves over 1800 undergraduate students and ministers around the world.

This brief publication, filled with basic information and comments from our college family, is designed to provide you with personal insight into the spirit of Cedarville College — a vibrant spirit guided by our purpose which was established in 1887 and to which we hold today:

"To offer an education consistent with Biblical truth."

“The experience I’ve had at Cedarville has been invaluable. I couldn’t put a price tag on it. I have experienced not only academic and social growth, but also spiritual growth which encompasses the other two. The Lord has changed me through Cedarville — through chapel, professors, and fellow students. You’ll love it here!”

*Tina Hoddelmann
Junior communications major
Long Island, New York*

The oldest tradition of the College, Cedar Day involved a tremendous celebration on campus which included class plays, a maypole exhibition, and a pageant.

OUR PURPOSE... ACADEMICALLY

Your use of the Scriptures will not end with formal Bible instruction, however. You'll find the Bible used as a textbook in every course at Cedarville College. Offering the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, our nationally accredited nursing program utilizes area hospitals for clinical instruction.

Excellent computer support enhances the curriculum. Students of all departments use computers both as learning aids and tools in processing information.

Brian Eisminger

With the aid of the College's 16-inch reflecting telescope, students observed Halley's comet in 1986.

"I started my college career at one of the largest universities in the nation and found it to be impersonal and cold. When I heard about Cedarville, I visited the college and was extremely impressed with its quality and friendliness. These things, along with the Christian perspective it offered, convinced me to transfer. I am very pleased with the education I received; in fact, I would say that Cedarville's academic quality exceeds that of the university I attended."

A 1985 business graduate, Brian now works in financial management for General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minnesota.

OUR PURPOSE... SOCIALY

Good friends and priceless memories are a few of the treasures of a Christian college education. At Cedarville, we'll provide you with many opportunities to develop these treasures. Concerts, plays, parties, banquets, film nights, and over 25 student organizations will offer you activity, enrichment, and fun! Fourteen intercollegiate and a wide variety of intramural sports promote excitement and will give you a break from your studies. The quiet Student Center will enhance your time with friends and provide a special place to relax. You'll enjoy the environment, too: a spacious 100-acre campus, surrounded by miles of tree-lined country lanes and state parks, not too far from the bustling midwestern cities of Columbus, Cincinnati, and Dayton, Ohio.

Your social development is important to us!

Major drama productions each quarter provide opportunities for students of all majors to develop dramatic skills.

Noted artists and guest conductors like Dr. George C. Wilson, former director, National Music Camp, regularly visit our campus.

Over 2000 spectators, including our 90-member Yellow Jacket Pep Band, attend every home basketball game.

Heidi Hempel

“Cedarville College became my ‘home,’ in a way, because I was there months and home only three! I really lived with my friends: we went to classes together, and shared the same growing experiences, such as learning to be away from our parents or developing serious dating relationships. By sharing so much with others, you develop deep relationships; and I think I will carry these friendships through life.”
Heidi Hempel, a 1986 graduate, teaches in Elyria, Ohio.

“The main difference between Cedarville and secular schools is that we have a purpose. We have something we are striving for. And it’s not just something here in this world, but it’s something we get from the Lord Himself. He gave His life for us; we need to give our lives for Him.”

Senior Nursing Major
Dayton, Ohio*
