CEDARVILLE COLLEGE

OPPORTUNITY...

“To improve the golden amount of opportunity and catch the good that is within our reach is the great art of life.”

— Samuel Johnson

OPPORTUNITY...

Does it sound exciting?

As you complete your high school experience and look forward to college and beyond, you are undoubtedly challenged when you consider what the future holds for you. Growth. Life-changing experiences. Independence. A career. New friends... perhaps a lifelong companion.

Does it sound inviting?

Good! Because we believe that you will find opportunities at Cedarville College which will help you make the most of the future's opportunities.

OPPORTUNITY... to grow spiritually.

How? Through everything at Cedarville. We believe that being a Christian involves having a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and then living according to His Word. It is a way of life, a relationship which affects everything that we do. Consequently, we feel that our spiritual concern should permeate every aspect of our college program. We require that each student testify of personal faith in Jesus Christ in his or her application for admission.

The Bible, which we view as the authority for faith, knowledge, and practice, is an integral part of our academic curriculum – every student takes at least a minor in Bible (six classes) before graduating. Forty-five minutes of each week day are devoted to our chapel program in which the college family listens to a message from Christian speakers representing many walks of life. Weeks of spiritual emphasis highlight each academic quarter. Film series and guest lecturers focus attention upon contemporary Christian issues and provide insight into practical Christian living. Classes are taught by dedicated Christian faculty who endeavor to integrate Biblical principles with course content and demonstrate a spiritual concern for their students.

Extracurricular activities and social events reflect a sensitivity for spiritual growth and encouragement. And, a thriving Christian service program sends students out to minister in groups and one-on-one both locally and around the world.

*If you desire spiritual growth,

OPPORTUNITY... to grow academically.

In what ways? Through 28 major fields of study and a variety of special programs designed to help you prepare for the career God has for you.

Cedarville is recognized professionally and is regionally accredited, which means that the education you receive will open doors in your future. Our faculty, a group of nearly 100 dedicated Christian men and women, represent a variety of colleges and universities, and offer expertise drawn not only from years of experience and formal education but also from continued study in their respective disciplines. They seek, through our liberal arts curriculum, to develop your thinking and communication skills, preparing you for a career, not just a job. Career counseling helps you determine your career direction. Academic advising guides your study. Internships add "experience" to your college education. And placement counseling allows you to translate your training and experience into a career. A French literary critic wrote, "The sure way to miss success is to miss the opportunity."

OPPORTUNITY... to grow socially.

Eighteen hundred Christian students (55% women, 45% men) from 44 states and 10 foreign countries converge on a 100-acre campus surrounded by miles of tree-lined country lanes, acres of farmland and state parks, and the bustling midwestern cities of Dayton, Columbus, and Cincinnati, Ohio. That's social opportunity! But what about activity?

Over 20 student organizations invite involvement: concerts, plays, parties, contests, banquets, and film nights provide activity, enrichment, and fun. Fourteen intercollegiate and a variety of intramural sports produce excitement and provide an outlet from academic life. And the quiet, comfortable atmosphere of the Student Center promotes personal time with friends. These social opportunities can transform your college years into a time full of enriching relationships and memories, things which make college so special.

Sheri Hart, 1983

"The practical field experience provided through the Education Department helped confirm my desire to teach and assured me that I was preparing to serve the Lord in the right profession. Cedarville helped me realize that a Christian education is more than praying before classes or attending chapel services. It is, rather, the instilling of Christian principles and character into every facet of a student's life."

Sheri is using her valuable training as an elementary teacher at Troy Christian School in Troy, Ohio, where she teaches first grade. In college, she was involved in several singing groups, worked in the campus snack shop, and participated in intramural athletics.

John Street, 1976

"Cedarville College instilled in me not only the academic ability to face the future but also an inspired hope to reach the world for Christ."

A preseminary Bible and speech major at the college, John was active in Swordbearers and student government, and served as a residence hall supervisor. His concern for others was recognized at graduation as he received two awards for exemplary Christian service. He continued his education at Grand Rapids Baptist Seminary, receiving recognition from his professors and Kregel Book Company for excellence in the study of Hebrew. John now serves the Washington Heights Baptist Church in Dayton, Ohio, where he specializes in outreach ministries to youth.

Gillis West, 1984

"My decision to come to Cedarville College was clearly one of the best decisions I made in my life, even though it meant leaving all that was dear to me to make a four-year commitment to an education in a foreign land. Yet, the time I spent at the college provided me with more than a degree; it gave me the opportunity to grow as a person and as a Christian."

Coming from Monrovia, Liberia, Gillis invested in the lives of fellow students by serving as a residence hall supervisor, leader of several ministry teams, and student body chaplain. An honor graduate in accounting, he works for Price Waterhouse and Company as a staff accountant.

Craig Colas, 1980

"I appreciated Cedarville's strong academic program and the many opportunities it provided to help me develop as an individual. Personal interaction with concerned faculty members, Christian ministries, athletics, and close friendships were all important aspects of the balanced educational experience I enjoyed."

In addition to his studies as a pre dental-chemistry major, Craig led a Swordbearers team and ran cross-country, receiving all-American honors in the NCCAA. A 1984 honor graduate of the Case Western Reserve University School of Dentistry, he practices dentistry in Rochester, New York.
