Cedarville College

Cedarville College is a Baptist college of arts and sciences of 2,650 students. The school is located on a 300-acre campus at the north edge of the village of Cedarville, Ohio, a quiet town with a population of approximately 3,000. The village and its surrounding area have long maintained a reputation for providing a wholesome environment for learning.

Though located in a rural community, Cedarville is conveniently situated in the center of a triangle formed by Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati, which allows easy access to three of the fastest-growing metropolitan areas in the nation.

Founded in 1887 by the Reformed Presbyterian Church, the college was established by individuals who had a vital interest in the spiritual welfare of young people. In 1953, the operation of the college was transferred to the trustees of Baptist Bible Institute of Cleveland with the goal of enlarging the Institute's ministry. The name, Cedarville College, was retained and the school continues to perpetuate the original purpose of its founders. The school motto, "...for the Word of God and testimony of Jesus Christ," reflects this commitment.

Since its founding, Cedarville has coupled a balanced liberal arts program with a fundamentalist, theological position in regard to doctrine and patterns of conduct. All classes are taught by dedicated Christian professors who integrate the knowledge of their respective fields with Biblical perspectives.

In keeping with the liberal arts concept, the curriculum centers on a basic program of general studies, including biblical education, communications, humanities, physical education, science and mathematics, and social science. Students choose a major field of concentrated study related to their abilities, interests, and career goals. The college offers over 90 programs of study leading to a baccalaureate degree.

The College recognizes that students must live and work in a society where computers and computer networks are an essential part of everyday life. To equip students to function effectively in this environment, Cedarville has launched CedarNet, the award-winning campus-wide computer information network. CedarNet, which allows access to Internet, WWW and OhioLINK, links computers in every dorm room and office on campus.

Cedarville views individual ministry involvement to be a vital and necessary part of each student's education and personal growth. The Christian Ministries Division provides training and assistance to the hundreds of students who volunteer for any of the more than 100 different ministries each quarter.

Cedarville attracts students from 47 states and nearly 65 percent of the student body comes from out of state which includes more than 30 international students.

Residence hall living is considered an integral part of the educational process with approximately 80 percent of the student body residing on campus in college housing.

Dr. Paul Dixon, President

Dr. Paul Dixon is a graduate of Tennessee Temple University and Temple Baptist Theological Seminary. In 1986 he received his doctorate in higher education from the University of Cincinnati. He is the recipient of two honorary degrees: the Doctor of Divinity from his alma mater and Doctor of Laws from Liberty University.

After 14 years in an evangelistic ministry, Dr. Dixon became the president of Cedarville College in 1978. Under his administration, the College's enrollment has grown over 90 percent, with 2,650 students in fall 1998.

For more than 20 years, Dr. Dixon has been a popular speaker for professional sports chapel programs including the Cincinnati Reds and Bengals and many of the National League baseball and NFL teams.

Mrs. Dixon, the former Pat Landers of Chattanooga, Tennessee, serves as the Assistant to the President for Institutional Enhancement. She is Professor Emerita in the Department of Language and Literature Department where she taught for 25 years before retiring in 1996.

The Dixons have one son, Scott, who is an assistant professor of Bible at the College. He and his wife, Sara, have five children and reside in Springfield.

Psalms 37:23 has been a challenge for Dr. and Mrs. Dixon since their marriage in 1960: "The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord, and he delighteth in his way."

Dr. Don Callan, Dean School of Health and Human Performance

Dr. Don Callan begins his 39th year at Cedarville College where he has served in various capacities in athletics. His most recent promotion was being named the first Dean of the School of Health and Human Performance. He is responsible for the Department of Exercise and Sport Science, Athletic Department, and Athletic Training.

At one time, Callan jointly held the positions of athletic director, head men's basketball coach, and department chair. He was the school's athletic director from 1961 through 1997 in which Cedarville went from offering just a couple sports to 14 varsity programs.

Callan served as head men's basketball coach from 1960 through 1995. Upon completing his legendary career, he was the NAIA's third winningest active coach and ranked 19th all-time with 579 victories.

Callan is a member of the Halls of Fame at the NAIA, NCCAA, Cedarville College, and Taylor University, his alma mater. He received the prestigious Lifetime Achievement Award presented by the Agonis Club of Dayton, Ohio in 1996 for his longtime commitment and contribution to athletics in the state of Ohio.

Callan is founder of the Missions Involvement Service at Cedarville College. He has been especially committed to worldwide sports evangelism for four decades.

Dr. Callan is a 1955 graduate of Taylor University. He received his master's degree from Ball State University in 1960, and his Ph.D. in physical education from The Ohio State University in 1968.

Dr. Callan and his wife, Nedra, reside in Cedarville and have two married children. A daughter, Jan Leach, and her husband, Mark, reside in Fairfield, Ohio with their two children. The Callans also have a son, Jon David, who lives in Wilmington, Ohio with his wife, Karen, and their two children.

Pete Reese, Athletic Director

Pete Reese begins his 11th year at Cedarville College and on July 1, 1998 was promoted to the office of athletic director where he oversees 14 varsity Yellow Jacket sports. He brings over 30 years of athletic administration to the program.

Reese previously held the positions of assistant men's basketball coach and Director of Athletic Facilities at Cedarville. Among his many responsibilities, he guided the construction of new complexes for soccer, baseball, and softball.

Reese was Cedarville's head baseball coach from 1989 to 1991. He was named the 1990 NAIA District 22 and Mid-Ohio Conference Coach of the Year after leading the Yellow Jackets to their first MOC title in 20 years and the top seed in the district tournament.

From 1965 to 1988, Reese was associated with The Master's College in California, formerly known as Los Angeles Baptist College. At one time or another he held positions as athletic director, chairman of the physical education department, professor, and coach.

Reese is a 1960 graduate of Cedarville College and has a master's degree in education from Eastern Michigan University. He established himself as one of the most dominant basketball players to ever play for the Yellow Jackets and he was inducted as a charter member of the Cedarville College Athletic Hall of Fame in 1984.

Pete and his wife, Joyce, live in Xenia and have two married children. A daughter, Kim Ray, and her husband, Ken, reside in San Jose, California. Their son Chris, a 1989 Cedarville graduate, is presently athletic director and head basketball coach at Multnomah Bible College in Oregon. He and his wife, Cheryl, have two children.

Casey Ruffin

Dr. Pamela Diehl Johnson, Head Coach

Dr. Pamela Diehl Johnson has established herself as one of the foremost authorities in NAIA women's tennis. Besides serving as head coach of the Lady Jackets for what will be her 23rd season, she has been a member of the NAIA National Tournament Committee since 1985 and has held the position of National Tournament Director since 1989. In recognition of her outstanding leadership, she was named the 1996-97 NAIA Great Lakes Region Female Athletics Administrator of the Year.

Johnson has guided the Cedarville women's tennis program to a record of 162-85 for a .656 winning percentage. Her teams own seven NAIA District 22 championships, two Mid-Ohio Conference titles, and two Western Buckeye Collegiate Conference crowns. She has taken eight teams to the NAIA National Tournament and has coached 13 NAIA All-America Scholar-Athletes.

Johnson is a Professor in the Department of Exercise and Sport Science and, along with her assistant coach Dr. Dee Morris, co-authored the book, Physical Fitness and the Christian. She is the Director of Academic Assistance at the college and is also an Executive Committee member of the Greene County Special Olympics.

Johnson is a 1970 graduate of the University of Dayton. She earned her master's degree (1971) and Ph.D. (1974) from The Ohio State University. Pam and her husband, Cliff, who is the Assistant to the President of Cedarville College, reside in Cedarville.

Dr. Dee Morris, Assistant Coach

Dr. Dee Morris enters her 23rd season as a Lady Jacket tennis assistant coach along side Pam Johnson. Morris also has a well-respected reputation within NAIA women's tennis and she has been an active participant in many capacities. She is in her 12th year as a member of the NAIA National Tournament Committee and she serves on the NAIA Rating Committee. Morris is also the women's tennis chair for the American Midwest Conference.

Dr. Morris is a Physician's Assistant in family practice in Springfield, Ohio, and is an adjunct professor in the Department of Exercise and Sport Science at Cedarville College. She is a graduate of Geneva College and she earned her master's and Ph.D. degrees from Indiana University. Dr. Morris is single and resides in Xenia.

1999 Season Outlook

The Cedarville College women's tennis program has developed a habit of winning over the years and Pam Johnson expects the trend to continue as she enters her 23rd season as head coach. The Lady Jackets, who were 10-2 last spring, have not had a losing season in 14 years. They have won more than 80 percent of their matches over the past ten years (92-21) and the success rate has pushed 90 percent in the past two seasons (21-3).

Cedarville did not have a senior on last year's roster and there is only one this season. With four of the top six players returning, there is good reason to be optimistic.

"I think we will be as strong this year when compared to any team we've had over the past five years," Johnson stated. "We have some talented and experienced players at the top and some new players who can help immediately. We spent more time training this off season and we're excited to see what this season holds for us."

Casey Ruffin, a junior and the squad's top player, is 20-5 in her two-year career. She had a 10-3 mark in the top singles position last year. Sophomore Katie Koeppen was 9-3 in the second spot, but a shoulder injury may move her down the lineup.

Ginger Butler, a junior, has put together back-to-back 12-1 seasons in the third position. Classmate Elizabeth Wolfe, who played in the fifth spot last spring, has had identical 10-2 records in her first two years.

The Lady Jackets have been exceptional in doubles over the past two years. They have a combined 71-12 (.855) record in that time span.

Senior Joyce Boggs, junior Angela Mast, and sophomore Jennifer Elliott have all had varsity experience. Heidi Stevenson, a junior, along with freshmen Tricia Evans and Amy Gregory are new to the program.

The schedule has been strengthened with the addition of Dayton, Indiana Wesleyan, and Muskingum. Four-time defending league champion Walsh University highlights the American Midwest Conference schedule.

1998 Review

The Lady Jacket tennis program enjoyed another successful season despite having the youngest team in Pam Johnson's 22 years as head coach. The 13-player roster consisted of just one junior, six sophomores, and six freshmen, but the youth movement produced a 10-2 overall record and a runner-up showing in the Mid-Ohio Conference.

Cedarville was impressive in rolling to eight 9-0 victories, a noteworthy 4-3 win at Ohio Wesleyan, and a 7-2 decision at Mount St. Joseph. It took a good team to beat the Jackets. They lost 5-4 at Transylvania University without the services of one of their top players. They were also nipped 5-4 at four-time defending MOC champion Walsh University.

"Our team matured a lot during the season," recalled Johnson. "We used four sophomores and two freshmen as our main lineup and many times we faced experienced opponents. We have every reason to be optimistic about the future."

Number one player Casey Ruffin posted a 10-3 record during her sophomore season. She was named to the All-MOC Team in singles after running her career record to 20-5.

Freshman Katie Koeppen, who played in the second position, and sophomore Ginger Butler, who held down the third spot, earned All-MOC honors in both singles and doubles. They had a 11-2 mark as the squad's top doubles pairing. In singles, Butler had a team-best 12-1 record for the second straight year and Koeppen was 9-3.

Freshman Jenny Brayer (12-2 record) and sophomores Beth Wolfe (10-2) and Julie Gregory (9-5) rounded out the top six singles spots. As a team overall, the Lady Jackets had a 66-18 record in singles and a dominant 37-5 mark in doubles.

In the MOC Tournament, Walsh won the event with 43 points and was followed by Cedarville (37), Malone (26.5), Tiffin (15.5), and Shawnee State (13). The Yellow Jackets had players in all six singles finals and in two of the three doubles finals.

Butler was the No. 3 Flight singles champion and did not lose a set in the process. Wolfe and Brayer rolled to the doubles title in the No. 3 Flight and finished the year with a 9-1 record.

Throughout its history, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) has provided strong leadership for all aspects of intercollegiate sports. Since its introduction of intercollegiate championship basketball in 1937, the NAIA has maintained the highest standards while administering first-rate athletics programs.

Time and time again, the NAIA has stepped forward to address the important issues of the day -- be it racial integration in the '40s and '50s or establishing the first women's championship program in 1980. The NAIA has not been afraid to enact changes while others have watched and waited.

In the past decade, presidents of the NAIA colleges and universities have assumed a position of responsible leadership. The NAIA's Council of Presidents, the organization's primary governing body, is comprised of 32 college and university presidents from all regions of the United States.

With its major emphasis on educational development, it was natural for the NAIA to further strengthen academic eligibility requirements in the mid-'80s. All NAIA participating student-athletes must maintain a certain grade point average (GPA) while accumulating credit hours for a declared academic degree. Unlike other associations, NAIA student-athlete academic eligibility is monitored on a semester-by-semester basis. The All-America Scholar-Athlete program, a long-standing NAIA tradition, recognizes junior and senior student-athletes with a minimum cumulative 3.5 GPA on a 4.0 scale.

Since 1937, the NAIA has administered athletics programs and championships in proper balance with the overall collegiate educational experience. Serving higher education in this manner is a responsibility the NAIA does not take lightly. It is a relationship built on confidence and trust -- a relationship strengthened year after year.

National Christian College Athletic Association

The NCCAA, with national headquarters in Marion, Indiana, is a miracle organization. In just a few years an idea has become a reality providing Christian student-athletes in Christian colleges both an opportunity for fellowship and competition on the national level.

The NCCAA game plan is to produce true winners; a game plan that will carry an individual through his or her entire life. The game plan is devised to draw out the student-athlete's greatest potential -- body, mind, and spirit.

This game plan is catching on virtually all over the United States. Since its first tournament in 1968, the NCCAA has grown to encompass more than 100 Christian colleges nationwide, both liberal arts and Bible colleges in nature. The participating schools are dedicated not only to the best athletic competition possible, but also to exemplify Jesus Christ in everything.

The NCCAA believes:

That athletics are a means to an end, not an end in themselves.

That the process is as important as the performance.

That the person (student-athlete) is more important than the program.

NCCAA. It is an organization bringing Christian colleges together not just for athletic competition. More importantly, it is an organization bringing colleges together who have common goals and perspectives in Christian higher education.

All Cedarville College athletic results are reported to local newspapers Dayton Daily News, Springfield News-Sun, and the Xenia Daily Gazette. Results are also available on "Yellow Jacket Sports Update," which airs each weekday on the CDR Radio Network at 7:10 a.m. and 5:35 p.m., and 24-hours-a-day on the "Yellow Jacket Sports Line" by calling 937-766-8800. The sports information homepage at "<http://yellowjackets.cedarville.edu>" is filled with schedules, rosters, game reviews, stats, photos, and more.

Home Courts

The Yellow Jackets host home matches on nine courts located on the north edge of the campus. The complex, opened in 1996, includes one group of six courts with three lighted adjoining courts all featuring a Latex-ite colorcoating and cushion surface. The venue has already served as host of two Mid-Ohio Conference Women's Championships, the NAIA Great Lakes Men's Sectional, and the NCCAA Men's Invitational. Cedarville also utilizes indoor facilities at the Springfield Racquet Club.
