WELCOME TO CEDARVILLE UNIVERSITY!

We are delighted to be the hosts for this season's NCCAA National Men's and Women's Tennis Championship. A sincere Cedarville welcome is extended to athletes from participating institutions. We share the Christian goals of the NCCAA including the privilege of like institutions competing in this setting and we thank our athletic department personnel for organizing the event.

Cedarville University is a co-educational Christian university enrolling over 3,000 students in undergraduate and graduate programs. Students come from nearly every state and several other countries, and study in over 100 different programs including Christian ministries, engineering, business, education, and liberal arts. The university has the advantages found in being located in a rural area but near Cincinnati, Columbus and Dayton, Ohio.

We enjoy the wonderful privilege of working with our students as they study Scriptures, participate in off-campus Christian ministries, make life-long friends, and further develop spiritually. We also appreciate the many advantages of athletic competition for our students. The university supports men's and women's programs in basketball, soccer, tennis, track and field, and cross country. Students may also compete in men's baseball and golf and women's softball and volleyball. We strive to compete at levels which may include national tournaments.

Please let us help make your visit to our campus exciting and encouraging as you participate in the tennis championships. We pray for your travel safety, freedom from injuries and well-played competition. May the Lord continue to richly bless you as your lives further develop and you seek paths of service for Him.

In Christ,

NATIONAL CHRISTIAN COLLEGE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

On behalf of the NCCAA and the Board of Directors, I welcome you to the NCCAA Men's and Women's National Tennis Championships. It is exciting for all of us to have institutions from across the United States represented here at Cedarville University to compete in these National Championships.

These events are just two of our 20 national championships and four invitationals sanctioned by the NCCAA. over 13,000 student-athletes and 112 institutions make up the NCCAA and these events are an important part of our Association.

Congratulations to each student-athlete and coach who participates in the tennis championships. Your participation in this tournament setting certainly represents many weeks of dedicated time and work. It is also a statement that you stand for the Lord while you compete.

The NCCAA thanks Pete Reese, the Athletics Director at Cedarville University, for his excellent leadership in organizing and administering this fine event. I am also grateful for the time and dedicated work of the NCCAA Tennis Committee and its chairperson, Dr. Pam Johnson, from Cedarville.

Sincere appreciation goes to Dr. Paul Dixon, President of Cedarville University, and his administrative colleagues for their willingness to host a championship of this magnitude.

The NCCAA is simply about using intercollegiate athletics to serve the Great Commission. Events such as this help showcase that effort and we trust each of you will experience the NCCAA at its finest this weekend.

Sincerely,

Dan Wood

ABOUT CEDARVILLE UNIVERSITY

Cedarville University is a Baptist institution of arts and sciences of 3,000 students. The school is located on a 400-acre campus at the north edge of the village of Cedarville, Ohio, a quiet town with a population of approximately 3,000. The village and its surrounding area have long maintained a reputation for providing a wholesome environment for learning.

Though located in a rural community, Cedarville is conveniently situated in the center of a triangle formed by Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati, which allows easy access to three of the fastest-growing metropolitan areas in the nation.

Founded in 1887 by the Reformed Presbyterian Church, Cedarville College was established by individuals who had a vital interest in the spiritual welfare of young people. In 1953, the operation of the College was transferred to the trustees of Baptist Bible Institute of Cleveland with the goal of enlarging the Institute's ministry. The name Cedarville College was retained, and the school continues to perpetuate the original purpose of its founders. The school credo, "...for the Word of God and testimony of Jesus Christ," reflects this commitment. The institution became known as Cedarville University in 2000.

Since its founding, Cedarville has coupled a balanced liberal arts program with a conservative theological position in regard to doctrine and patterns of conduct. All classes are taught by dedicated Christian professors who integrate the knowledge of their respective fields with biblical perspectives.

In keeping with the liberal arts concept, the curriculum centers on a basic program of general studies, including biblical education, communications, humanities, physical education, science and mathematics, and social science. Students choose a major field of concentrated study related to their abilities, interests, and career goals. The University offers more than 100 undergraduate and graduate programs of study.

The University recognizes that students must live and work in a society where computers and computer networks are an essential part of everyday life. To equip students to function effectively in this environment, Cedarville launched CedarNet, the award-winning campus-wide computer information network. CedarNet, which allows access to the Internet, the world-wide web, and OhioLINK, links computers in every dorm room and office on campus. The University is the current recipient of the CAUSE Award in the category of campuses with operating budgets of under $100 million. This award recognizes the nation's most outstanding use of campus technology. Also, Cedarville has been identified as one of the nation's "100 Most-Wired Campuses" by Yahoo! Internet Life magazine.

Cedarville views individual ministry involvement to be a vital and necessary part of each student's education and personal growth. The Christian Ministries Division provides training and assistance to the hundreds of students who volunteer for any of the more than 150 different ministries each semester.

Cedarville attracts students from 47 states and nearly 65 percent of the student body comes from out of state, including more than 30 international students.

Residence hall living is considered an integral part of the educational process with approximately 75 percent of the student body residing on campus in University housing.
