APRIL 1 UPDATE: MAY TERM, SENIOR POST, AND ONLINE RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

Home > Caring Well, Staying Well

April 1, 2020 |

For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord. (Romans 8:38-39)

Today's updates include May term courses, a heartfelt senior post, celebrating scholarship at Cedarville, a message of peace in the midst of the storm, and Dr. Ray Ortlund in chapel.

May Term – May term courses will now be online and offered in the standard summer term (May 26-August 14), rather than during the traditional three-week May term block. Nursing students should contact the B.S.N. program advisor, Rhonda Dodson (rdodson@cedarville.edu), regarding plans for nursing courses originally scheduled to start early in May.

Celebrating Our Seniors – We're continuing to share some of our seniors' memories as they conclude their final semester online and post their thoughts on social media. Today, we'd like to share a recent post from Leah Bartlam as she reflects on her time at Cedarville.

I really wish I could finish senior year on campus. I wish I could give my senior recital in the recital hall and celebrate graduation on May 2. but let's be honest – those were never going to be the best moments of my time at Cedarville anyway. The best moments – the truly best parts – are all the times spent with amazing friends. Good classes with great profs. Incredible chapels. Accompanying countless lessons. Hanging out in the music lounge. Growing spiritually and becoming a very different person than I was freshman year. Shout out to the people here who I survived aural skills, chorale tours, and so much more with. Thanks for being the absolute best, and we will see each other again!

Shout out to @drthomaswhite for leading well during this time!

Research and Scholarship Symposium – Plan to celebrate the work of students and faculty during the virtual Research and Scholarship Symposium being held April 8-22. You'll be inspired by research and presentations in math, science, engineering, pharmacy, nursing, psychology, history and government, social work, exercise science, and more. Join us online to view posters, hear student presentations, and listen to a panel discussion.

Today in Chapel – We heard Dr. Ched Spellman share a live message of peace from Psalm 29, reminding us of God's character when we face the storms of life. If you missed it, watch it now.

Tomorrow in Chapel – Join us at 10 a.m. via Facebook Live or the chapel livestream as we hear a rebroadcast of a message by Dr. Ray Ortlund, Pastor to Pastors at Immanuel Church, Nashville, Tennessee. His message is titled "The Endless Love of God."
