Cedarville Hosts Fine Arts Festival

CEDARVILLE, OHIO – The best vocalists, instrumentalists, and visual artists from seven area high schools will be showcased in a concert and art show on March 19 at the Ohio Heritage Conference Fine Arts Festival on the Cedarville University campus.

This daylong festival will utilize the expertise of Cedarville professors Mike DiCuirci and David Lawhead as guest directors for the choir and band. The art show will begin at 6:30 p.m. and concert at 7p.m. in the Jeremiah Chapel.

The art show will display many outstanding art projects the students created this year and the concert will feature a variety of challenging and enjoyable music prepared by the university directors. In addition, a collaborative art project will be created on the day of the event. The most talented students from Cedarville, Greeneview, Mechanicsburg, Northeastern, Southeastern, Triad and West Liberty-Salem High Schools will produce an artistic experience you won't want to miss.

Cedarville University, located east of Dayton, Ohio, has 3,459 students in more than 100 areas of study.
