Work Begins On New Girls' Dormitory At Cedarville College

This is a drawing of the new Cedarville College girls' dormitory by Architect Roland V. Stout of Columbus. Construction of the 33-room masonry and frame dwelling is expected to be completed by Sept. 1, when incoming students arrive for the autumn term. The dormitory, which will house 62 students, will include a lobby (center) and two rooms for a housemother.

Cedarville College, which has just finished its fourth year under Baptist administration, already is having growing pains.

Milner Chapel, a tennis court and new sidewalks have been completed, and construction has started on a new girls' dormitory and an addition to the college gymnasium.

Work on the dormitory, to house 62 women students, began May 29 and is expected to be completed by Sept. 1, when former students return for the autumn term and new students begin their studies.

The one-story building will be of block and frame construction. It will include a lobby and two rooms for the housemother. The former girls' dormitory will be used as a boys' dormitory in the future, college officials said Saturday.

Estimated cost of the new dormitory is $25,000, a figure which is hard to believe in these days of costly con-

Faculty Members Attend Summer School

Our faculty members not only spend long hours in preparation for their classes while school is in session, but they give themselves to study during the summer months.

Registrar Robert Underwood, science professor Bruce Turnbull, and music professor Warren Webber are spending long hours of study this summer at Ohio State University. All three of these men are working toward their doctor's degree.

Miss Ruth Kantzer is studying English at the University of Wisconsin. Miss Jean Fisher is taking courses at Wheaton College in the field of Christian education. Both of these teachers are working toward their master's degree.

New faculty members are also spending time in study and thus preparing themselves for a more effective ministry. Mr. McDonald is attending the University of Pittsburgh; Mr. Thomson is taking courses at the University of Miami; and Mr. Bowser is completing his master's degree work at Columbia Teachers College.

The president spent two weeks of study at the Winona Lake School of Theology.

Mr. Paul Wyland, professor of history, planned to attend summer school this year but was unable to do so because of ill health. We ask our readers to pray for him and for the other teachers who are giving themselves sacrificially to make Cedarville College a better college for the young people who will come to our classrooms for instruction.

The President's Letter

Dear Friends:

At least three times the Bible states "The just shall live by faith." Faith in the Biblical sense is taking God at His Word. It is not a mysterious something which starts one in the Christian life and then is laid aside as soon as he enters the portals of saving grace. "The just shall live by faith." We heard a speaker say that he did not have faith but he knew what he would do if he did have faith so he did it! That is faith. He stepped out on the promises of God.

Cedarville College goes forward by

Facts We Must Face

It costs money to give our young people a Christian education, but it costs much more if we depend upon the world to take care of our responsibility. We must train our youth if they are to have a vital faith in the God of the Bible.

Since $2.00 must be received by our college from outside sources for every $1.00 paid by students in tuition, it has been estimated that we must raise $6,000 each month if we meet our financial obligations on time.

For the past six months, gifts to Cedarville have averaged $3,503.61.

January	$4,903.44
February	2,675.12
March	2,641.33
April	3,698.20
May	3,625.98
June	3,637.62

IF 200 more interested churches will place the college on the budget for at least $10.00 per month and . . . IF 1,000 more interested individuals will give $1.00 each month . . . THEN this financial burden can be lifted.

We need your regular support in prayer and gifts.

faith. We have started a building program by faith. We have employed additional faculty members by faith. Since the future is as bright as the promises of God, we have assurance that the pathway ahead, though often beset by testings, will be blessed of God.

In every generation God has been pleased to supply the needs of His work through the gifts of His people. Our readers have responded to the postcard appeal which was sent out a few weeks ago. To date $625.12 has been received by the college as a result of this report to our friends. We are still receiving gifts even though the card suggested June 15 as the time when the money would be needed. If you have received one of the cards and have not yet responded with your gift, we will appreciate it very much if you will help. Thank you sincerely for all you have done.

Applications continue to come to the registrar's office. As yet we do not know how large our fall semester student body will be, but we have reason to believe more students will be on our campus in September than ever before. Young people who plan to enter Cedarville this next semester should send in their applications now.

Sincerely in Christ,

James T. Jeremiah, President

Working Together With God

Periodically we receive letters from various individuals asking for information about a Cedarville College project which they may undertake. On this page of our BULLETIN we are presenting projects which may be acceptable to almost anyone who is interested in the college.

Churches, Bible classes, missionary societies, young people's groups, and individuals can be of vital help to the erection of this new building by subscribing to one of the dormitory projects listed below.

It has been estimated by the architect that it will cost approximately $25,000 to build this housing unit for our girls. The building will care for sixty-two girls, provide an apartment for the housemother, and furnish a lounge for those who live in this building. It will, therefore, cost us approximately $800 per room to pay for the construction. It will take another $400 to purchase furniture and drapes for each room.

This financial obligation could easily be met if a number of churches, Sunday school classes, or other groups in the churches would be willing, for example, to undertake the payment for a room over a period of two years.

Individuals or church groups may wish to purchase one of the rooms as a memorial to a loved one or friend.

The college will provide a plaque for the door of each room indicating whether the room is a gift or memorial and indicating the name of the individual or group giving the money to build this room.

Undoubtedly there are groups or individuals who will be willing to help our young people by purchasing equipment for the individual rooms. Listed below are the articles of furniture which we will need, along with one estimated price. We shall endeavor to obtain the best possible prices for this equipment.

pletely care for this indebtedness in a two-year period if possible. If you have any questions, please write to the president or to Mr. George S. Milner, chairman of the board of trustees, 1320 St. Clair Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

This we believe, is an opportunity for many of our people to do something worthwhile toward the education of students who will be coming to Cedarville College for many years in the future. Remember, we are not asking for all this money at once, but we would like to com-

New Faculty Members

When college classes begin on September 11, four new faculty members will join our staff. These individuals have been added to our faculty in accordance with the plans of the board of trustees for a larger and better Cedarville College.

Rev. Cleveland McDonald, pastor of the Swissvale Baptist Church in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and former missionary to Brazil under the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism, will be teaching social studies this next semester. Mr. McDonald is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. He has a B.A. degree from James Millikin University in Decatur, Illinois, and a M.Litt. degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He has also completed a number of hours work toward his doctor's degree. He plans to continue his work toward this goal at Ohio State University.

Mr. Dale Thomson, a graduate of Cedarville College in the class of 1956, will teach courses in the biological sciences at Cedarville while he works for his master's degree at Ohio State. Mr. Thomson also attended Fenn College in Cleveland, and for the past year has taught at the Miami Christian School in Miami, Florida.

Mr. Sherwin Bowser joins our faculty as an instructor in physical education. He will have charge of our athletic teams, coaching basketball and baseball. He will replace Mr. Robert Underwood, who has been employed as the registrar of the college. Mr. Bowser will be our first full-time physical education instructor, devoting all his time to the athletic department of the college. He has a B.S. degree in physical education from The King's College and has completed his work for the Master of Arts degree in physical education at Columbia Teachers College.

Mr. Glenn Wittig will be teaching courses in English and speech. He has a B.A. degree from Tennessee Temple College and has completed his residence requirements for the master's degree at Baylor University.

We urge our readers to pray for these Christian men who have felt called of the Lord to join the staff of our college. The Lord calls some to the mission field, others to the pas-struction. But the reason can be found on the Cedarville campus, where even the college president, James T. Jeremiah, may be seen driving a truck, making concrete blocks, or pouring cement.

Student and faculty volunteer labor has made possible many Cedarville College projects, and a concrete block-making machine donated by friends of the college saves on material on construction jobs.

Students will be employed on the dormitory project during the summer months under the supervision of Gerald Marshall, building superintendent.

Fifteen states and three foreign countries were represented in the 1956-57 student body, and increased enrollment is expected in the ensuing years, creating a need for new dormitories. Thirty new students already have been accepted for the coming year with more expected to enroll during July and August, officials said.

At a meeting of the college board of trustees during the school term a recommendation was adopted whereby the academic offerings of Cedarville College would be substantially implemented. The action assured that the college would be able to adequately train young people in six basic major fields—Bible and philosophy; communications (English, languages, speech and literature); music; social studies; psychology and education and science.

President Jeremiah writes the following in the Bulletin of Cedarville College, "We are very much determined that Cedarville College shall never deny the Lord who so miraculously established the school. Since confidence in and dependence upon men have been the ruination of many institutions, we desire to say with the writer of Proverbs: 'Give me neither poverty nor riches . . . lest I . . . deny thee.'" torate, and still others to the teaching ministry. The faculty of Cedarville College has a definite place in Christian service. Therefore they need and desire your prayers and support as they carry out this commission from the Lord.
