NAIA Academic All-American Committee

Dear Committee Members:

John Oswald certainly has my recommendation as a candidate for NAIA Academic All-American.

One of my top business students, John demonstrates a high level of maturity. He comes to class prepared and has a good understanding of business situations presented for class discussion. His grasp of business law is evidenced by his ability to look at both sides of the question. He seems able to handle his academic work well even though he spends many hours in cross country training. In spite of his rigorous schedule, I cannot recall receiving any late papers or homework from him.

John demonstrates sincerity and maturity in his life; these qualities combine with his intellectual gifts to make him a very special young man. I strongly recommend that you consider John Oswald for NAIA Academic-All American.

Sincerely,

Richard E. Baldwin
Assistant Professor of Business
