Women's Volleyball

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Cedarville College is a member of Ohio Association for Intercollegiate Sports for Women (OAISW), the Mid-West Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (MAIAW), and the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). These organizations sponsor state, regional, and national tournaments in various sports; Cedarville is hosting the Satellite-West Tournament this year in volleyball.

The major purpose of intercollegiate volleyball for women at Cedarville is to provide competitive opportunities for women who are highly skilled so that they may realize the joy and satisfaction derived from such experience, and further, that Christian young women may be provided with opportunities to use their ability to honor and glorify Christ. We believe hard work and discipline build a strong winning team, and we feel we have been blessed with some of the most highly competitive women in our region. Cedarville's strong competition against state universities and other much larger institutions accounts for some of its strength.

ABOUT THE COACH

Dr. June Kearney begins her 17th season as Cedarville's head volleyball coach. During the 1980 season her Cedarville team recorded their 200th victory. Because of her strong leadership and persistence, volleyball has steadily increased in emphasis and importance in the total women's athletic program at Cedarville. In the past years Cedarville's team has finished among the top eight in the state, and participation in the strong OAISW Division III Satellite West with regional and national level teams has contributed to this feat. Coach Kearney is active in athletics throughout the state and region. It has been largely due to her efforts that athletics for women at Cedarville have grown to where they are today. A Taylor University graduate, Dr. Kearney received her master's degree at Wittenberg University and her Ph.D. from The Ohio State University.
