Foundation

This lectureship program has been graciously funded by the Thomas F. Staley Foundation of Larchmont, New York. This private, non-profit organization seeks to support men and women who truly believe, cordially love, and actively propagate the Gospel of Jesus Christ in its historical and scriptural fullness. It desires to enrich the quality of Christian service and sharpen the effectiveness of Christian witness, especially at the college level.

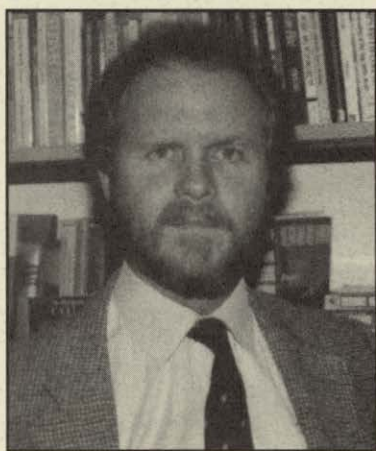

Cedarville College publicly thanks the Thomas F. Staley Foundation for making this annual lectureship program possible.

Lecturer

Steven Garber is the scholar-in-residence for the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, an association of more than 90 institutions throughout the United States and Canada. The author of The Fabric of Faithfulness: Weaving Together Belief and Behavior During the University Years, which was a 1998 Christianity Today Award winner, Garber speaks widely to faculty and students on questions surrounding the relation of learning to life.

Currently an adjunct faculty member at Trinity International University, Garber is also a resident faculty member at the Mustard Seed Foundation Summer Institute. In addition, he has ministered through InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, the Coalition for Christian Outreach, the Institute for Contemporary Christianity, and the C.S. Lewis Institute Summer Program.

Garber earned his B.A. from Geneva College, his M.A. from Goddard College, and his Ph.D. from the Pennsylvania State University. A native of the great valleys of Colorado and California, he married Meg Elliott in 1976 and has five children: Eden, Elliott, David, Jessica, and Jonathan.
