THINGS ARE HAPPENING AT CEDARVILLE

STUDENT BODY

NEW RECORD ATTENDANCE

The Cedarville College family is excited about the prospects of the 1965-66 school year, which promises to be the greatest year in the history of the school. The 760 young people attending Cedarville this year represent a 25 per cent increase over the record attendance of 603 last year.

To accommodate the additional students, new dormitories have been built and our faculty increased. Articles in this issue by Dr. Clifford Johnson, Academic Dean, and Mr. Richard McIntosh, Dean of Students, will bring you up to date on new faculty members, dormitories, and staff.

In addition to the more than a third of a million dollars spent on new dormitories, many existing facilities have been remodeled and improved. The administration building took on a new look when the exterior was sandblasted and repointed. The north and south doorways were replaced with aluminum glass doors. The east doorway to the building was closed and the trim painted. The old cafeteria building was converted for use as a post office and print shop. This transfer provided space for additional staff offices. (See pictures on page 3)

Athletic facilities have been enhanced by the addition of two new softball fields west of the soccer field. A new heating plant was installed in the science building, driveways have been widened, and many new sidewalks added. Alford Memorial Auditorium has been enhanced with the addition of draperies and a new pulpit. A combination of hard work by the maintenance department and an abundance of summer rain from the Lord have added a plush green carpet of grass to our campus. To all this we can say with the Psalmist "This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes."

We believe that the Lord has led each one of our students to Cedarville and covet your prayers that the faculty and staff may have the wisdom and strength to meet the challenge of training these young people.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Dr. James Jeremiah, President

GOD GIVES THE INCREASE

Working FOR God is one thing; working WITH Him is quite another. He who serves merely as an employee of the Lord must expect only to receive due credit for his labors and nothing more. Present joy in being a co-laborer with Him is thus of small significance.

The Corinthians, like so many Christians today, were arguing as to which religious union they would support. Some were "Paulinians" while others were "Apollonians." (1 Corinthians 3:4-6) Paul reminds us that such division is a mark of spiritual carnality.

What a difference we can observe when we serve as a shareholder in the Lord's work rather than a man on the payroll. "For we are laborers together with God." (I Corinthians 3:9) A person who is a part of the corporation will serve more sacrificially and joyfully than one who serves only for a salary. When we labor WITH Him we may be assured that "the giver of the increase is God."

Paul does not discount the responsibility of the Christian to work. He says, "I have planted, Apollos watered." It has been said that "There is one way to make dreams come true: wake up and go to work." Resting in and waiting upon the Lord are surely important spiritual qualities but no one should use them as excuses for spiritual laziness. One who has been saved by God's grace and thus has had an "inward experience" not only should, but most certainly will know an "outward expression" of God's love in service. But again, we must constantly remember that whatever is accomplished is done because it is God Who gives the increase. The little old lady who came to the parsonage door and handed the pastor a basket illustrated this principle when she said, "Here are some things the Lord and I raised."

During the past years we have been aware that God gives the increase. There have been many trustees, faculty members, students, pastors, and church members who have "planted and watered" but God has given the increase. Some of us can remember the prophets of gloom who predicted that the College would never make it this far. "But God" has opened doors for us when they were seemingly barred shut against us. He has provided a competent dedicated faculty and also sent to us capable students with a Christian testimony when it did not seem likely that either would be interested. He has supplied the finances for the operation and expansion of the College when the supply could have come from no other source. In it all we have been able to prove again that "man's extremity is God's opportunity."

Now, what about the future? With over 750 students enrolled this fall and the prospects for many more in the immediate years ahead, our faculty and expansion needs are humanly insurmountable. We are confident, however, that as ALL OF US faithfully do our gardening of "sowing and watering" God will give the increase. Will you join us right now and do all you can to make this new library a reality?

We hope it will be possible to begin construction of the new library in January of 1966. If you will join with us right now in prayer and sacrificial giving, this building will become a reality for the College year 1966-67.

NEW BOOK CLUB OFFERING

During the past two years many of our friends have been contributing to the purchase of new books for our College library. A number of new volumes have been placed on our shelves because you have seen the need and have given financially to meet it. We are grateful to all of you for helping us strengthen this important phase of our educational program.

We have sought not only to build our own College library, but also encourage our friends to read good spiritual books at the same time. We have given hundreds of volumes to those who have contributed to the Book Club.

Now, a copy of "Old Testament Pictures of New Testament Truth" by Dr. Robert T. Ketcham will be sent to anyone who gives $10 or more for the purchase of library books.

Dr. Ketcham's ministry has been a blessing to many of our readers. His new book will likewise help those who read it. We believe that you will want this book for your own library, or to use it as a gift for a friend.

In the foreword of this volume, Dr. Merle Hull says, "The book possesses the rare and blessed combination of spiritual depth and readability. While studies of the types are nothing new, this one has a distinctive approach and style which sets it apart from the others."

Some of the following subjects are covered in the book: "The Tabernacle in the Wilderness," "Manna From Heaven," "The Sacrifice of Isaac," "The Feasts of Jehovah."

Those of you who receive our bulletin directly through the mail will note that a special envelope is enclosed for your convenience. When your gift to the Book Club is received by the College, a copy of "Old Testament Pictures of New Testament Truths" will be mailed immediately to your address. Thank you again for your part in helping us build a better Cedarville College.

NEW DORMITORIES AND STAFF

to replace Rife Hall which was lost in a fire on June 30. These apartments in the Cedar Park development provide housing for two married staff members and 133 men students. The total cost for the apartments and furnishings was approximately $175,000. These apartments will be used eventually for housing married students.

Additions to the Student Personnel staff for the coming year include Mr. Stanley Ballard from Dallas, Texas, Dean of Men, who will be supervising Cedar Park in addition to counseling responsibilities; Mrs. Henry Bresson from Tippecanoe, Indiana, supervisor for Faith Hall; and Mrs. Edna Griffeth from Sturgis, Michigan, will serve as supervisor for Williams and Patterson Halls.

The Student Health Center has been relocated in more ample quarters at the east side of Faith Hall. Mrs. Jan Bonnema has been employed as a full-time college nurse with Miss Judy Tobias serving as relief nurse for evenings and weekends.

Mr. Earl Slabaugh of Elkhart, Indiana, has been employed as Campus Security officer who will have charge of student parking and night security.

Student Personnel Services have been centralized on the ground floor of the Administration Building. Offices are now provided for the Dean of Students, Dean of Men, Dean of Women, and secretarial services.

The lounge facilities in residence halls and the Student Center have been improved with the addition of new furnishings to provide better social settings for our growing student body.

Student Personnel Development

In an attempt to keep pace with the 25 per cent increase in enrollment, this year's expansion program has been focused on providing additional housing for resident students and appropriate supervision and counseling services.

An addition for accommodating 80 women has been made to Faith Hall at a cost of more than $160,000 for building and furnishings. Included in these facilities are a large lobby, lounge, and a supervisor's apartment. The rooms are carpeted and feature built-in desks and chests of drawers and studio-type beds.

Seventeen apartment units located on a four-acre tract of ground on the south edge of Cedarville have been purchased from the Lankford Development Company to provide temporary housing facilities for men students. An additional four-unit apartment building has been constructed

STATE OF EMERGENCY

Wm. I. Brown at war arrange the whole national program with a view to win the war.

The state of emergency calls for total response. It demands the last ounce of everyone's resources. Observation demonstrates the validity of this claim. Nations

The human race lives in a state of emergency. The times are not "normal" and have not been since the Edenic fall. There is no prospect for a return to "normal times" until Jesus Christ puts down all sin and takes to Himself the rulership of this globe.

Political upheaval, civil unrest, growing crime rates, impending nuclear devastation, pleasure insanity, and widespread spiritual nonchalance do not create the emergency. They reveal it. Man's sinful state coupled with the realities of Heaven, Hell, and human destiny to stand in God's judgment constitute the emergency. Every item of man's engagements ought to focus on these truths.

Let each person clearly understand the situation. Voices from a dozen directions demand our full response. Cedarville College is evidently a tool in God's hand for these days. Let alumni and friends alike give fully in prayer, interest, and financial aid.

Having seen Calvary, how can we do less than our all?
