Centennial Library E-News
January, 1994

Welcome to the Centennial Library E[lectronic] News[letter]. We will attempt to inform, encourage use, update, and heighten awareness on a regular basis. Let us know if this is helpful.

NEW DELIVERY SERVICE

On January 3rd, the Library began participation in the OhioLINK Ground Delivery Service run by Pony Express. This service includes daily pick-up from and delivery to over 40 colleges and universities in Ohio for interlibrary loan and media services materials. We are participating under the auspices of the Southwestern Ohio Council for Higher Education, all of whose member institutions are on the delivery service. SOCHE is the only consortium outside of the OhioLINK group currently participating in this new service. This broadened delivery capability should improve turn-around time for providing interlibrary loan resources for students and faculty.

CEDARNET LIBRARY RESOURCES

Have you used the library resources on CedarNet yet? In addition to the Library catalog, there are a number of indexes and data resources available by choosing the Library Resources line on the network DOS menu. Currently, the following resources are available.

Accounting Research Index
Applied Science and Technology Index
Bible Library (Vine's Dictionary)
Books in Print Plus
Company ProFile
Cumulative Index of Nursing and Applied Health (CINAHL)
ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center)
General Periodicals Index
National Newspaper Index
Religion Indexes
Social Issues Resource Series (SIRS)

Refer to your CedarNet manual for more descriptive detail. Books in Print Plus was just loaded and made available on January 7th.

CD-ROM RESOURCES IN THE LIBRARY

In addition to the resources on the network, the Library also houses a number of additional electronic resources on stand-alone computers near the Reference Desk. These include the following:

Christian Science Monitor (Full-text)
Commerce Clearing House Tax Research Series
Countries of the World on CD-ROM
Los Angeles Times (Full-text)

SERVICE REMINDERS

* Acquisitions lists

A copy of each monthly library acquisitions list (new books and media) is sent to your department chair for routing through your department. If you are not seeing it, check with your department chair to assure that it is being routed or check with your colleagues--it might have been diverted to a desk "pile" somewhere. If there is still some question, contact Fran Andrews at 7845.

* Reserve materials

This is a friendly reminder that the library reserve materials policy states that materials to be placed on reserve should be received by the Circulation Supervisor ONE WEEK BEFORE they need to be on reserve. There are many faculty members placing materials on reserve and there are several steps in the process, so we need your cooperation to assure that your students get what they need in a timely manner. If you have questions about the procedures, contact Luann Nicholas at 7840.

* Bibliographic instruction

Last quarter the Library reference staff offered 27 sessions of instruction to complement research assignments in classes from 8 academic departments. Course-integrated library resource instruction, including designing research strategies, is available for faculty members desiring more effective library use by their students. CedarNet and INTERNET library resources can be demonstrated using an LCD/overhead unit. Scheduling for library research course-integrated sessions can be done by contacting Judy Johnson at 7837 or 7840.
