CEDARVILLE DOMINATES ALL-AMC SOUTH WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SELECTIONS

CEDARVILLE, Ohio - Cedarville University's Brittany Smart (Springfield, OH; Shawnee) was named the American Midwest Conference women's basketball Player of the Year and Kirk Martin was tabbed Coach of the Year for the fourth straight time in voting by the league's coaches.

Smart, a 5-foot-9 junior guard, has guided the NAIA Division II No. 1 ranked Lady Jackets to a 27-3 record and their fourth straight AMC title. She averages 27 points per game and has already netted 2,188 career points heading into next week's NAIA National Tournament. It's the fifth straight season that a CU athlete has been named the AMC Player of the Year.

Joining Smart on the five-player All-AMC South Division First Team are 5-11 junior guard Karah Walton (Westerville, OH; Worthington Christian) and six-foot senior center Emily Delimpo (Chesapeake, OH; Chesapeake). Walton averages 13.8 points and a team-high 5.1 assists per contest while Delimpo adds 14.3 points and 7.6 rebounds. Kristi Beougher (Louisville, KY; Christian Academy of Louisville), a six-foot junior forward who averages 9.9 points and 6.7 rebounds, was named honorable mention.

Cedarville, who has been the national runner-up in each of the past two seasons, opens play at the NAIA Division II National Tournament in Sioux City, Iowa on Wednesday against Maine-Fort Kent at 3:15 p.m. (Eastern).
