Guest Speaker/Schedule

Desmond Armstrong has made a name for himself by staying busy ...

- Playing on an International stage no less than 84 times with the U.S. National Team.
- Playing on the 1988 Olympic Team.
- Playing on the 1990 and 1994 World Cup Team.
- Being selected to the 1991 World Select Team.
- Hired as a soccer analyst for ABC Sports during the '94 World Cup Tournament.
- Writing for USA Today and Sports Spectrum, a Christian-based sports magazine.

And now ...

Armstrong is extending this influence through his line of clothing, entitled House of Heroes. He has meshed his gifted artistic talents with his knowledge of societies' perception of role models to shift focus back to what really makes them a hero. Too often, society tells us that heroes are those individuals who wield the most power, have the most money, are the most boisterous or are the most popular. Forgotten, are individuals who consistently display character through their lifestyle. Heroes convey qualities to be admired even in the face of adversity. Heroes should be respected for what they show or what they model as opposed to what they say.

*Trinity

College*

Wittnauer NCCAA Player of the Year

Jonathan Lenarz may be one of the few first-team NCCAA All-Americans on the field as well as NCCAA Academic All-American off the field.

The Trinity Christian College (Ill.) senior carries not only a 3.74 GPA but he has also 54 goals and dealt out 37 assists the last three years.

"I believe Jonathan is the consummate soccer player, student and, most importantly, Christian young man," said his Trinity coach, Dave Ribbens.

"He has been one of our team's captains the last two seasons and has demonstrated outstanding leadership abilities."

A Psychology/Physical education major, Lenarz has been on the Dean's List each year at Trinity, has earned three-time first-team All-Conference, three-time NCCAA All-District and two-time NCCAA All-American honors.

Lenarz is currently serving an internship at Elim Christian School for Handicapped Children.

"Jonathan is a positive leader," said Ribbens. "He is well respected for his abilities and leadership."

Judson defending title; Lee extends string to 7

Defending champion Judson, of Elgin, Ill., and five schools who made tourney appearances a year ago are back for the 24th NCCAA National Tournament. It is back in Longview, TX., at LeTourneau University for the first time since 1992.

Seven states are represented in this year's field. Back from last year's bracket are Lee (Tenn.), Malone (Ohio), Indiana Wesleyan, Pacific Christian (Calif.) and Western Baptist (Ore.). Lee College of Cleveland, Tenn., site of the last three national tourneys, is extending its string of appearances to include every year in this decade, or seven in a row.

Lee, in fact, has the longest active string of appearances.

Judson and Malone are in the field for the sixth consecutive year. Judson with three titles in

The 1996 field

Western Baptist College	15-5-1

Indiana Wesleyan	10-10-3
Cedarville College	13-9-0
Pacific Christian College	12-7-1

the last five years is the closest thing to a dynasty NCCAA soccer officials can claim.

Over the last 23 years, four schools have won three championships, but only one has captured three in a row -- Bryan College of Dayton, Tenn. in 1975-77. Three schools, John Brown University of Siloam Springs, Ark. (1983-84), Houghton College of Houghton N.Y. (1979-80) and Judson (1991-92), won back-to-back titles.

Three-time winners include Judson, Bryan, The Master's College (1987, 1989, 1993) and Houghton College (1979-80, 1986).

LeTourneau is making its first appearance since the tourney was held here in '92 and coach Steve Barrett is optimistic his team will do more than just serve as the host team. The YellowJackets are 14-7, one of the best seasons in the history of the school.

Judson (15-7-1), Western Baptist and Malone (both 15-5-1) have the most wins of any team in this year's field, followed by LeTourneau's 14 victories.

The top scorer for the second season in a row is junior Justin Hogg, a cross-town product from Pine Tree High School. He has booted in 20 goals this season after scoring 17 a year ago and four as a freshman, giving him 41, second on the all-time list behind former All-American Greg Anway (57).

Two of LeTourneau's losses came at the hands of Division I schools -- TCU and Centenary -- and four others -- two each -- to NAIA power Midwestern State University and East Texas Baptist University.

President: Dr. Paul Conn

Athletic Director: Larry Carpenter

Founded: 1918

Nickname: Flames

Record: 8-11

That meeting (5-0) was in the second game of the season and was the second loss just prior to a three-game winning streak, the longest of the season.

Despite the sub-.500 record, Lee won two of three overtime games and knocked off Tennessee Temple in the District 2 Playoffs. It was the second win of the season over Tennessee Temple, the other a 3-1 regular-season decision.

Shawn Tatham, a junior and one of two players from Tyler, East Texas neighbor to Longview, led the team in scoring with 10 goals and four assists. Sophomore Emil Brown is second with eight goals.

Colors: Blue/Yellow

Region: Great Lakes/District 3

President: Dr. Paul Dixon

Athletic Director: Dr. Don Callan

Founded: 1887

Nickname: Yellow Jackets

Record: 10-8-1

Cedarville received the at-large bid into the tourney field and comes in hoping to post its first winning season since 1988. A win in the tourney would assure that.

A 1-0 win over Mt. Vernon Nazarene in the third game of the season was also coach John McGillivray's 200th in his 23-year career at Cedarville. The Yellow Jackets had two three-game winning streaks during the year but lost to Indiana Wesleyan in their playoff finale 1-0. Ironically, first-round wins by Cedarville and Indiana Wesleyan would set up a rematch and their third meeting of the year. Cedarville won the initial game, 5-1.

David Rooke and Jeff Rockwood, a pair of juniors, are tied for the lead in goals with eight, although Rooke is the team leader in points thanks to his 10 assists. Rooke has 15 career goals and 19 career assists.

President: Dr. Jim Barnes

Athletic Director: Dr. Michael Fratzke

Founded: 1920

Nickname: Wildcats

Record: 10-10-3

The Wildcats suffered through a roller-coaster season to reach this point, but they enter the tourney having won three of their last four, including the District 3 title over Cedarville College, 1-0. They blanked Asbury 6-0 in the semifinals.

Indiana Wesleyan's longest winning streak all year was two, and they currently are on a two-game streak as well. At one point, it lost four in a row and tied one.

After seven games, the 'Cats were 3-2-2 and in one other stretch went 1-6-1, so winning the district title was a crowning moment.

Not only have the 'Cats played Cedarville, they also played and lost to Judson College (2-1), another national tourney qualifier.

Tim Massie and Matt Tumey led the offense, having scored 13 and 10 goals, respectively, while David Trumbur is the assists leader with 10.

Wesleyan athletic director Dr. Mike Fratzke is a former LeTourneau men's basketball coach.
