YEARBOOK PLANS

The yearbook staff for 1958 has been selected and already has made plans for the coming year.

Since, this year, the yearbook has become a junior class project, members of the class of '59 will make up the yearbook staff. However, two members of the class of 1960, Gene Walker and Dave Mosher, have been chosen to work along with the staff to give them experience and to prepare them for this work the following year.

Thursday, May 9, the staff met with Mr. Matt McCormick, the representative from Taylor Yearbook Publishers, the company which will publish our yearbook next year.

Another meeting was held Tuesday night, May 14, to decide upon a theme, cover design and special photo problems. Staff appointments were also made as follows:

Editor-----John Brumbaugh

GRADUATION EVENTS

The last two weeks of the semester are highlighted by several events in honor of the Seniors.

This year the first of those events was the Graduation Banquet, May 18th. At the banquet each one of the Seniors was recognized by a small gift. After the banquet dinner, Dr. Fred Giles, of Bowling Green University, addressed the guests.

Thursday evening at 7:30 the Seniors were honored by the Baccalaureate Service. Rev. Kenneth Luck was the speaker. On this occasion, two Junior girls conducted the Seniors to their place of pre-eminence.

The alumni Banquet will be held this Friday evening in the college dining hall. The president of the Alumni is Rev. Kenneth Andrus, Toledo, Ohio. At this annual Banquet the graduating seniors will be introduced into the Alumni Association.

EDITORIAL

Last week's editorial was not meant to be malicious or uncomplimentary. We are sorry that the wording was a bit hyper-caustic in some places and we regret that we did not definitely designate it as satire.

To Seniors and other offended readers we offer our sincere apology along with our promise to more carefully guard the future content of your newspaper.

Respectfully submitted,

Tom Shelow

Although this is not a scriptural word, it has associations with those people who believe the essential doctrines of the Christian faith. Notice, however, this counter-inference! Fundamental to what? A two-fold answer is common, salvation and obedience. Certain doctrines are essential to salvation but not to obedience. One may embrace the fundamentals of salvation but not the fundamentals of obedience and be a fundamentalist. This places little need for obedience and maturity which God expects and desires.

Granting that the original adaptation of this term to Evangelical nomenclature was justifiable, we find that it has become an escape from obedience for some. The Interdenominationalist travels under this philosophy. They ask us to sacrifice the essentials of obedience on the altar of expediency and human reason. The result of this practice does not make a man of God mature, but keeps him ignorant of the "non-essentials." Should we make a part of God's Word non-essential?

BLIND STUDENT

Keith Coakley, familiarly called "Cocoanut," is a blind student at Cedarville College. A few months after he was born he got pink eye. Since that time he has been blind completely but he has carried on successfully.

He was born in Washington, Iowa. He is 32 years old. During classes Keith takes notes as any other student-he takes his notes in Braille by the use of a metal plate. He is already a Junior and is planning to obtain a B.A. and a Bachelor of Theology. He has been saved for 16 years and it is amazing to see him praying, reciting the Word of God, and preaching on Sundays.

Theology is not his only field. He is a strong Republican, sound debater, and aggressive nationalist. Although it is doubtful that Keith will ever be able to see on this earth, we are sure that he will someday see, face to face, the Light of the World: Jesus Christ.

The Varsity "C" Club held its initiation Monday, May 20. We heard that... ..Sandy is borrowing all the tape she can find. -Is that ring too big, kid?

The initiation began when the three candidates, Pete Reese, Bob Humphreys, and John Entner reported at the gym at 5:00a.m. to receive their instructions for the day. ..the "Nonentities" are now well initiated into the Varsity "C". Did you enjoy your ride, boys? ..Dee Payton's theme song is "She's My Philippino Baby."

The fellows spent from then until breakfast time on a futile hunt for the Junior Rock. ..a certain 4 people had a wonderful time at "Coney Island" in Cincinnati on Saturday.

That night they went through the "rough" part of initiation and were made full-fledged members of the V-C. ..Keith Collett is afraid of Whip-Poor-Will. ..Larry Smith would like to see a certain 2 fresh-

The three new members all won their varsity letters in basketball during the past season. man girls lose 16 pounds like a certain Junior girl he knows. ..we have a trombone and Officers for next year were elected with the following results: Dick Wentzel, president; Lane Moody, vice-president; Dave Thomas, Secretary; Jerry Thornton, Treasurer; Bob Marcelino, Business Manager; and John Entner, Chaplin. saxophone duet on campus. ..Grace was screaming "Jerry Thornton, come back here right this minute!" Tuesday night. ..Lois Ann packs a mighty wallop! Think so, Jim? ..Lucy has a detailed map of Greene County. How many covered bridges, Lucy?

The club now consists of 18 members: Dale Breedlove, Wendy Capron, Ray Erickson, Jim Hartman, Harold Hukill, Dick Lapp, Jim Spaulding, Al Yost, Al Griffin, Bob Marcelino, Lane Moody, Jerry Thornton, Jack Willetts, Dick Wentzel, Dave Thomas, and the three new members, Bob Humphreys, Pete Reese, and John Entner. ..every night Betsy and Wanda shine their rings for an hour. ..John Entner is a good "Crawdaddy." ..Jerry Thornton rides a lop-sided horse. ..Shirley Shirley knows the rules for a new game.
