PROBLEM SOLVING COMES
BY EVALUATING AND IMPROVING STUDY HABITS

Most of us students have just begun new courses or else we are continuing former courses with a zeal to apply ourselves a little better than ever before. Perhaps receiving our cards gave us further incentive to improve. The problem at this point is not one of lacking a desire to improve. It is the problem of retaining this desire until it becomes a permanent initiative which will encourage studying even during those tiresome weeks at the end of the semester. There is a solution to this problem not a new one--but one you as a student have heard repeatedly. This is it: As you begin your course, evaluate it. Ask yourself what use it will be to you in your future. Perhaps a certain course does not have a direct importance on your major interest; however, it must have some value for your development. Recognize your duty to successfully complete a course, but it is your duty toward God to improve yourself as His ambassador. This semester let us put this attitude into practice. When we do, many of our studying problems will be solved.

MILLER'S MUSINGS
ANALYZING LIFE

"Youth is a blunder; manhood a struggle; old age a regret." This is indeed a harsh analysis of life. It is even denunciat but it is often true. Take off your rose colored glasses and look at life as it passes over the stage of time and you too will concur with Disraeli's statement.

But why is this the case? Are these three fruitless conditions in a cause-effect relationship? Is manhood a struggle because youth is a blunder and old age a regret because...

--Hash Chorus

Dear Editor:

This letter is from one of the "scatterbrain" individuals referred to in your recent editorial "From Hash to Ashes." My purpose in writing is to let all persons concerned with this article know that there is at least one who does not agree with all the conclusions nor the allusions contained therein.

In the first place the "hash chorus" (as the writer designated it) be called) was never intended to compare with "State" old hymns." As "an observer of the facts" the writer should note that he introduced the "Hash chorus" as "composed of the several parts of many popular songs," not hymns.

I take it that with my "chaotic and confused mind" I would be wrong in observing that Bible clubs, children's Sunday school classes, and the like could not be very easily reached for Christ through the singing of such stately old hymns as "Jesus Shall Reign," "Oh Come, Let Us Adore Thee," and "Faith of Our Fathers."

The "Hash Chorus" is a light ditty which is prevalent among young Christians today. So are the complete ditties which it incorporates, all of which may be sung so as to honor Christ. The apostle Paul said, "I am now all things to all men, that I might by all means save some." Let this be the prayer of each who loves our Lord.

Sincerely in Christ,

(Editor's Note: Several inquiries have been received concerning the article on the Hash Chorus. This is to be expected from controversial articles. However, I wish to clarify a few points.

The opinion of the author was not that of the entire staff. The conclusions and inferences of the ones objecting that the chorus must appeal to only those "scatterbrain individuals with chaotic and confused minds" are mistaken allusions by the objectors. It is great that it can and probably does appeal to believers not suffering from mental condition. The statements of the article were not general.

Where is that change that was supposed to take place in the Whispering Cedars this semester? It was supposed to take on a new look. If this is the new look what was the old look? I can't see where there is any difference. It still has the same ole' cheap mimeographed look--sloppy and hard to read at times! Its appearance still is the same --Just not presentable.

Is this the general attitude and feeling of the student body towards this school paper? We know we're not the best or the greatest but we are trying to give you something to read each and every week.

As far as the f a c e-lifting job( the changed appearance and format ) that was supposed to have taken place - well just think of Cape Canaveral, Florida, and the number of times the Navy has failed to launch its rocket and thus has failed to place a satellite in orbit. They made the claims that complications arose? in the mechanism. If we won't be caught for liable, we would like to use the same excuse - complications have arisen, but as soon as they have been worked out, we will make another attempt.

There is something else we would like to say. Instead of putting the paper in a worse position than what it is in a ready by criticizing its contents, how about helping us out? We would like to have some people who would do reporting and writing for us -- another typist is also needed. (Second semester freshmen are now eligible to work on the staff). See Ruth Yost or Esther Chesbro if you are interested.

AMERICAN FLAG

What flower is this that greets the morn.

Its hues from heaven so freshly born?

With burning star and flaming band.

It kindles all the sunset land;

Oh tell us what its name may be,

Is it the flower of Liberty?

It is the banner of the free,

The starry Flower of Liberty.

NEW STUDENTS ENROLL
FOR SECOND SEMESTER

The new semester has brought new faces to our campus.

Ronald Zoellner hails from Sandusky, Ohio, and is the brother of one of our Freshman girls, Carol Zoellner. Ron attended Moody Bible Institute.

Russ Gibson returns to us from Cleveland, Ohio. Russ attended Cedarville last year.

Richard Shoff is a married student who comes from Cheektowaga, N. Y.

Gene Evans is a native of Apalachen, N.Y. He attended Baptist Seminary for one year.

Church Horn also return to us this semester. He is from Berea, Ohio and has attended here last year.

Said the Professor:

"If there are any dumbbells in the room, please stand up." A lone pause and then a lone freshman rose to his feet.

"What, do you consider yourself a dumbbell?"

"Well, not exactly, sir but I do hate to see you standing by yourself."

Let's have a Big turnout for the Findlay Home Game Friday night!!!

CAMPUS WHISPERS

It looks like both basketball managers are fans of the Hoosier state.

Could be that Terry Zerby has interests in Columbus!

John Ingram apparently has a liking for the fair city of Portsmouth. Or is it the fair damsels of the town that attract him

We hear that the editor of the Miracle might have a nurse around to help take care of those headaches around banquet time

Bob Self has found himself a new sport - Rabbit hunting!

The Banquet has everyone guessing! There should be lots of surprises! It should be the best ever so don't miss it.

Seems like a red-headed Senior and a Rife-Hall Frosh have been keeping pretty steady company.

Doesn't look to us like the snack shop has been the only thing keeping Lois busy, either.

It's possible to use a lot of stamps between January and June, eh, Fran?

All have worked and will work hard to make the Banquet a success; so come expecting something interesting and entertaining.

nature and there are always exceptions to the rule. If the objection desire to be classed in the "exception" category they may, since that is their privilege. This is the intention of the author.

that the chorus were erroneous but the chief charge was that the chorus is void of any progressive message of truth.

I appreciate these opinions since they give evidence of some thinking. Disagreement is improper only when done in a disagreeable spirit which we trust was not the case.)

--LIFE

cause manhood is a struggle? This is a possible answer. Furthermore, it is even a probable answer since it fits the chronological pattern of life.

Evidence a youth with enough to plan order his training and I will find neither manhood a struggle nor elude age a regret.

A bad start in a race or game serves as a handicap to the individual but it does not determine certain defeat. Even so having spent a blunderous life as a youth does not necessitate the struggle of manhood or the regret of old age.

THE TEAM NEEDS YOU!

The game's result was not known until the very last when the sounding of the horn found the Yellowjackets victorious, 68-67. High scorers for the Yellowjackets were Pete Reese with 23, and Dick Jacobs with 20.

Little Bees Play Church

While the Varsity was at Fenn College, the J.V.'s had a game against Coach Bowser's brother's church. The J.V.'s, even with their troubles, were able to run to a one sided victory.

WILBER FORCE TAKES CC (Reese stops Booker)

Last Tuesday night, the Yellowjackets met Wilberforce in a return game. Although it was Wilberforce's home game they agreed to play in our gym.

Booker, their 6'7", 250 pound center was more than adequately taken care of by Pete Reese which left most of the responsibility to the other members of the Force team. The Yellowjackets jumped to a 6-0 lead and stayed ahead until Force tied the score at 18-18. From here on neither team had a real decisive lead. The halftime score read Force 33, Yellowjackets, 30. The Yellowjackets were able to come back and take the lead at times but could never keep it. When the last second ticked off Force had a victory 65-61. This gave the Yellowjackets a season record of 7 wins and 9 losses.

IX SERIES PROGRAMS ON HOME BASKETBALL GAMES

Alpha Chi, men's literary society on campus, has entered into a new activity. It is now preparing and selling programs for the home court basketball games.

Their initial program, which was for the first Wilberforce game went over in a big way. It was an eight page booklet containing the complete rosters of both teams (giving information as number of jersey, position, height, weight, class, age and hometown); facts and information about Coach [unclear] and the school. There were also figure diagrams explaining the various signals given by the referee; and even a few school cheers. The program, which sold for ten cents will, the club hopes, become a regular feature for our home games.

YELLOWJACKETS HAVE A 2-2 RECORD IN RECENT GAMES
Quintet plays fast nip-and-tuck Ball

B & G OVERCOMES ASHLAND

On January 25, the yellow Jackets played host to Ashland College. Soon after the opening jumpball it was apparent that the contest would be a close one. With the sharpshooting of the guards and hard work on the boards by John Entner, and Pete Reese, the Yellow Jackets were able to stay in command of the game. The final score showed a win for the Yellowjackets, 100-83. This game put the Yellowjackets in fifth place in the Mid-Ohio League.

JACKETS FAIL TO TAKE ONU
57% SHOOTING AVERAGE
NOT GOOD ENOUGH

On Tuesday, January 28, Ohio Northern University traveled to the home of our Blue and Gold for the return engagement of the season. Going into this game, Northern had only won one game which had been against the Yellow-Jackets. From the first basket, it was nip-and-tuck until finally Northern was able to pull away to a 63-53 halftime score. This score gives evidence to the torrid pace that was being set by both teams. The Yellow jackets slowly began to whittle away the score until Dick Jacobs tied it 91-91. Northern again got a lead only to have it tied at 97-97. At this point Northern took the lead and remained there until the final buzzer. The final score was Northern, 120 - Yellowjackets, 108.

ONU J.V. GAME

The Cedarville J.V.'S played the Northern J.V.'s in the preliminary game. Our J.V.'S ran into a "hot" Northern team that seemed able to hit from anywhere on the court and did so. The end of the game found the Yellowjacket J.V.'s the short end of things, 98-51.

RECEIVED SCORE AT FENN
BUT CAME OUT VICTORIOUS

Last Saturday, the Blue and Gold, along with cars of fans, left for Cleveland and a game against Fenn College. Not being able to hit quite up to par of previous games, the Blue and Gold found themselves in a thick struggle.
