STUDENT COUNCIL CANVASSING TOWN FOR COMING BLOOD DRIVE, MARCH 24

The student Council has ventured out on a program whereby they hope to be able to enhance the relationship between the college and the people of the town. The twelve members of the Council each are responsible for canvassing a district of Cedarville for the forthcoming blood drive to be held March 24, at the City Hall, from 12 noon to 6:00 p.m.

Working with Mr. Joe Carbaugh, head of the Greene County Red Cross, and the people of the community, the SC plans to have at least a report of progress by today at a meeting in the City Hall. Since Cedarville is a rural area its boundaries have been subdivided into 12 districts, with a Council member being responsible for one district. In order to have the task finished by the 24th more help is needed. Students who have not been contacted but wish to help, see any SC member for information.

we as a college and as Christians are capable of accepting responsibility and becoming a part of the community. Other colleges have taken active parts in such programs, with a great deal of success both to the community and to the college. The only way we can overcome the barriers between us and the townspeople is by backing, supporting, and helping the SC in this worthy project.

PRAGMATISM IS UTILITARIAN . . .

by Cliff Miller

The Student Council urges as many of the students as are able to give blood to the blood bank; March 24, Cedarville City Hall, 12 noon to 6:00 p.m.

The primary purpose of the project as expressed by Paul VanKleek, president, is to let the people of Cedarville realize that Pragmatism, the current philosophical stronghold in educational high circles, has been influential in Christendom. Among its many assertions is the proposition concerning the accuracy of judging the value of any practice or theory by its practical results. Hence, we have the "util-

A POSITIVE APPROACH TO SEPARATION

Have you as a student ever considered what constitutes a Christian testimony? There is not one of us who has not been taught separation in our home churches; It has come to the place that, to us, separation is equivalent to not dancing, n o t going to shows, not using excessive make-up, and other negatives; Does such separation constitute the greater part of our testimony? I maintain that it does not. Although these may be true results of a Christian's walk with God, there are other important aspects in our walk before the world.

First of all, honesty and uprightness are the strongest forces a Christian can use to command the respect of the un-saved.

Secondly, a Christian must be conscious that our appearance carries extreme influence as we represent Christ; T h e Christian should wear clothing that is not altogether out of date; A Christian should do everything possible to be attractive - realizing it is not for his glory, but for the glory of the G o d whom he serves.

We must not overlook a Christian's attitude and actions in dealing with fellow citizens. Courtesy speaks loudly. Inconveniencing yourself to help others carries weight.

Furthermore, it is essential that every Christian has a substantial knowledge of the field in which he plans to work. This should be supplemented by a general knowledge.

Seek to develop yourself. The well-rounded Christian is the Christian who will not be ashamed of the gospel of Christ f o r, through his life, others may clearly see what Christ has done for t.h.m.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Bob Marcellino

Another fellow who has been very active in the athletic program at Cedarville is Bob Marcellino.

Before coming to our school Bob was active in his home town as a coach of a "Little League" team for two years, and as athletic director in a youth center in his home town, Canajoharie, N.Y.

Bob attended Johnson City for one year before coming to Cedarville. While there he was athletic director at the Y.M.C.A.

At Cedarville he has been active in baseball and basketball. This year he has been assistant coach. He has coached the J.V.'s and will be assisting with the baseball team.

As a hobby Bob selects working with kids. His ambition is to teach and to coach. His future plans include going on with his education.

What do you have to say...

About moving to a new Dorm?

Allen Foltz - "Just as long as the Shack doesn't move, I'm all for it."

Karen Fay - "It is immaterial to me whatever is done."

Bob Humphreys - "For the girls it is probably the best thing, but for the fellows, I think they would like to stay where they are."

Keith Coakley - "I think that it shows lack of knowledge on the part of the board in considera-

Dick Wentzel

Among our illustrious Seniors is Dick Wentzel, who was born and raised in Lorain, Ohio.

Dick is a veteran, having spent 18 months in Japan. He is married and he and his wife, Sally, have a four year old daughter, Jayne Ann.

Dick has been very active in sports during his four years at Cedarville. He has participated in Basketball, baseball, and tennis. During his Junior year he was the captain of the basketball team.

His hobbies include photography and Jayne Ann, and they manage to fit very well together.

Besides supporting his family Dick has managed to be active in school. He has taken pictures for the school, been on the year-book staff, and has been very active in Varsity "C" of which he is President.

Dick, a General Science major, plans to continue his education with more college and seminary.

tion of the students, not thinking of their inconvenience.

Patsy Petry - "It's kind of like the firecracker that got all lit up and went phtt! But we are all ready for the big explosion."

Carol Zoellner - "Ditto."

Dan Purdy - "I don't think we should move. It is a crummy idea. I'm not moving!"

itarian" approach to a multitude of subjects. This utilitarian emphasis has been carried over into the realm of Christian thinking.

Today the common presentation from the pulpit to sinners is that of a "utilitarian Christ." He can relieve you from all of your anxieties, doubts, and fears. Along with all of the fine advantages of having Christ as your Saviour from the frustrations of life and death you can have Him as your business partner. He can help you if you work in the boxing ring or if you manufacture women's scanty evening gowns; making cowboy movies or mixing cock-tails; ad infinitum. This proposed partnership with God is a far cry from the Apostolic example of being a bond-servant.

While it is true that Christ can help you in many ways, the historic Biblical manner of presenting Christ carried its emphasis on the person of Christ. Today's utilitarian emphasis divorces what He can do from who He is. These advocates say that it matters not whether He be the unique Son of God but He can most surely help you with your difficulties. This, my friends, is a good example of how one can slip away from the original pattern, the New Testament.

- Paul VanKleek - "It seems sort of senseless with only three months to go."
- Carolyn Hale - "It would be nice to move if we moved before the end of the year."
- Merlin Ager - "I'll believe it when I see it."
- Marcia, Joyce, Helen, Donis, Mickey and Loreen - "Harriman Hall, here we come."
- Warren Woodard - "It can't happen soon enough for me. Oh - you don't mean off campus."

1957-58 INTRAMURAL BASKET BALL ACTIVITY SUMMARIZED

Wednesday, March 15, saw the close of the 1958 Intramural Basketball season. In most cases the season was pretty good.

There were four teams: Freshmen Sophomore, Junior-Senior, and Faculty. The following students were on the teams;—Freshmen; Cochran, Cook, Gibson; Matson; SeEVERS, Goodrich, Reising; Brooks, Purdy. Sophomore; Payton, Ager, Woodard, Smith, Frank, Horn, Collett, Doctor. Junior - Senior; Christian; Shelow, Erskin, Stone, Mawhorter, Brumbaugh, Marcellino. Faculty; Bowser, Thomson, Underwood, Wyland, Turnbull, Wittig, Ambrose. This makes a total of thirty-one players who used some of their spare time to engage in the sport simply for the fun of the activity.

GRACE BPT. BEATEN TWICE BY EMMANUEL OF DAYTON IN POST-SEASON PLAY

Last Thursday, March 11, the Grace Baptist Church five played host to the team from Emmanuel Baptist of Dayton in a post-season game. The Dayton five had thumped the Grace team by a margin of thirty-three points three nights before, after the Grace team had completed an undefeated league schedule. The game was tight with neither team getting more than an eight point lead. Much of the time, the Grace five was behind, but they kept battling and made their all important bid with 1:55 left in the game as they tied the score at 51-51. A basket and a foul shot with three seconds to go cinched the game for Dayton, 54-51. High scorer for Grace as Merlin Ager with 12.
