"HARVEST TIME", THEME FOR HOMECOMING

Homecoming time is here again, and evidences of preparation can be seen all around campus. The theme of this year's program is "Harvest Time". Various organizations are erecting displays in keeping with the theme. On Saturday morning their displays will be viewed and judged, and prizes awarded.

The float, traditionally displayed in the Cedarville Halloween Parade, is under construction. The theme of the float is Psalms 37:15, "My times are in Thy hands".

The Homecoming Committee has planned a full weekend for students, alumni, and friends. Registration for alumni will begin Saturday morning at 10:00 A.M. in the Ad Building. The schedule for the remainder of the weekend is as follows:

EMPLOYMENT BRINGS HOPE

Various types of employment for the students of Cedarville College have brought new hope for many of its students. The employment situation all over the United States has created a problem for many a college student in the past few months. With positions of employment being scarce, a college student is unable to obtain sufficient funds to put him through his next year of college, unless he is an early bird.

Many students who work their way through college must find employment in addition to their course of study. Although Cedarville College cannot insure employment for everyone, they have made every effort to provide employment for students who need financial help in paying their school debts. Among the 168 students enrolled, 65 have re-

THE BOOK STALL

Clive Staples Lewis was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1898. For some time he served in the Somerset Light Infantry during the first World War. Since 1925 he has been Fellow and Tutor of Magdalen College, Oxford, where he lectures on English Literature. One of his books, The Allegory of Love, was awarded the Hawthornden Prize in 1936, and another, The Screwtape Letters, has won wide acclaim in the United States.

THE SCREWTAPE LETTERS CONSISTS OF A SERIES OF EPISTLES SENT BY THE "AFFECTIONATE UNCLE" SCREWTAPE, A ROGUEISH HENCHMAN LIVING SOMEWHERE NEAR HELL, TO HIS NEPHEW AND UNDERSTUDY, WORMWOOD, LOCATED IN THE WORLD. Wormwood is about the business of undermining the faith of a young man who has recently become a convert of the Enemy. With a "warm anticipation" each letter provides necessary instructions whereby the Enemy's convert may be corrupted and his life become dissipated. Seemingly, there is some success at first. By attacking the various weak points, the victim's spiritual life is scorched and eventually all moral agents are weakened. Gradually the Enemy gains hold once more, and consequently there is a marriage to a "sweet" Christian girl. The man's inward life is again revived and he falls completely into the Enemy's control. Uncle Screwtape, whose words are becoming quite heated, finds it increasingly difficult to control his temper. All hope is lost when the young man, whose life is now a glowing example of the Enemy, loses his life in the European War only to find he has gained another one. He cannot now be affected by any further strategy and what a pity. With great displeasure, Screwtape closes his final letter with despair and anger, warning his nephew of the time when he must be dealt with after his return from the worldly mission.

Lewis has quite successfully endeavored to reveal Satan's craftiness as he quietly entangles and frequently strangles the spiritual life of a Christian. The Screwtape Letters is endowed with some deep truths that should be of interest to any believer concerned about a more mature and discerning inward life.

Those who are employed by the College assist in the kitchen, and dining hall, library, bookstore, and snack shop, printing department, office work, janitor work, and odd jobs. The positions held by the "business" bracket run the gamut of occupations - salesmen, clerk, office work, cashier, waiter, nurse, postal service, and farm work. Those holding jobs in the "others" class include such jobs as painting, odd jobs, Vet's helper, managership, and bus driver.

These various types of employment provide, experience, not only in learning to get along with people; experience, not only in learning to get along with people, but one can have the opportunity to witness for God. We thank and praise the Lord together for what He has provided for us in the way of financial help. He is all sufficient and provides our every need, if we completely trust in Him for it.

FAMILIAR FACE RETURNS FOR REPERT PERFORMANCE

As we again glance over the character roles of the Homecoming Play our minds go back to the year 1957 and The Night of January 16th. Playing in one of the lead positions was Miss Grace Willetts, as Karen Andre, a rather pert and persuasive secretary. Those acquainted with the play will remember the role as one of importance and responsibility.

Not unaccustomed to footlights, Miss Willetts has had previous experience before entering at Cedarville College. Acquainted with the grief and anxieties that accompany directing, she has directed the student night talent program, known to the Berea High School student body as the ultimate on the annual stage calendar.

This year we shall be seeing Grace again as she plays the part of Nancy, the devoted and affectionate nurse of Dr. Hudson. We might inject here that we are happy to see her return. All who are familiar with her fine work are confident of an enjoyable homecoming performance.

INTRAMURALS CONTINUE
JACOBS' ON TOP

Last Tuesday, the two teams, who are making their bid for the title of the intramural football league clashed and Jacobs' team came out on top over Bob Self's team. The first half was a close one as both teams seemed to play at equal strength. Don Sewell scored both TD's for Self's team while Jacobs' boys scored two TDs. Half time score was Self 13 over Jacobs' 12. In the second half, Self's team lost its strength and Jacob's team seemed to gain what strength Self's boys has lost. Jacobs' teams got four TD's in the second half and Bob's team was unable to penetrate the enemy territory. Final score; Self 13 Jacobs 39.

On Thursday, Dautel's team was all set to put a black mark on Jacobs' undefeated record. And that they did. Jacobs' team was helpless and Dautel's team took advantage of this to rack up 27 points in the first half while Jacobs' boys were unable to do anything. At the beginning of the second half it seemed as if it was going to be a repeat performance. Dautel's crew made another TD which made it 33-0. Then Jacobs' team began to threaten. The first TD for Jacobs' boys came when Marv Wiseman caught a pass. The second TD came when Dick intercepted a pass from Dautel and ran it back for 70-yards for another TD. Final score was Dautel 33 to Jacobs 13. Jim Entner had to forfeit both of his games last week because of a lack of men.

VARSITY BB PROSPECTS GOOD

"C'mon, coach." " Ohhh, am I ever out of shape." " Please Coach, no more laps." "Man, have I ever got a charley horse." Such were the moaning comments heard last week as basketball practice started. There are approximately 15 boys who are out to make the team. The prospects of having a JV squad look rather slim at the moment. The outlook for the varsity is good. Here's hoping that we have a good season with plenty of student support behind the team.

LESSONS OF THE YEAR

We must live through the dreary winter to value the bright warm spring; the woods must be cold and silent before the robins sing; the flowers must be buried in the darkness before they can bud and bloom, and the purest and warmest sunshine comes after the storm, and gloom. So the heart from the hardest trial gains the purest joy of all, and the lips that have tasted sadness the sweetest songs that fall. Then as joy comes after sorrow, and love's the reward of pain, so after earth is heaven. For I learn as the years roll onward. And leave behind the past, that much I have counted sorrow But proves that our God is kind; That many a flower I longed for Had a hidden thorn of pain, And many a rugged by-path led to fields of golden grain.
