TURNBULL RECEIVES N. S. F. FELLOWSHIP

At the close of this school year Mr. Turnbull will be leaving his post as assistant professor of science here at Cedarville to continue his studies at the Ohio State University. This advanced study has made possible through a fellowship grant awarded to Mr. Turnbull by the National Science Foundation.

The N. S. F. is an agency of the federal government set up to foster scientific research and education. The purpose of these grants is to provide more effective teaching of science on the college level.

Science professors from all of the 1400 American colleges and universities were invited to apply for these fellowships. Awards were made to those who were judged to show special promise as college science teachers if provided with the advanced training made possible by these grants. Of the 502 fellowships awarded this year, three were from this area, including Turnbull and biology professors from Wittenberg and Antioch.

Mr. Turnbull was awarded five thousand dollars plus tuition. He will be leaving at the end of this school year and probably will be gone three years or at

HUNTINGTON, ASHLAND WIN

January 8, 1959—The Cedarville Yellowjackets met Huntington College in a real battle. The Yellowjackets fought hard all the way but Huntington just proved too much for the Yellowjackets to handle. Huntington got off to a fast start and all through the game that proved to be the clincher in the end. Cedarville seemed to have a slow first half as Huntington pumped in 44 points to Cedarville's 27 points. The second half was different and it was to Cedarville's advantage. Our boys came out determined to really put up a fight. And they did. Cedarville scored 56 points in the second half while Huntington scored 50 points. At one place in the game the Yellowjackets were down 28 points but our boys put up a good comeback by losing to the score of an 11 points difference. Final 94-83 in Huntington's favor. Reese led the attack in scoring with 29 points.

On Saturday, once again the Yellowjackets met with a league foe, Ashland College. The game was pretty evenly matched as constantly the two teams natched five or six points for the lead. It was a nip-and-tuck contest. Ashland started out with the lead but late in the first half Cedarville had a four point lead of 52-48. But in the second half a determined Ashland came out and won the ball game for the home town fans. Once Ashland gained the lead in the last few minutes of the second half that spelled defeat for Cedarville. John Entner and Pete Reese both played a good game. The final score was 93 for Ashland and 88 for Cedarville.

REESE THIRD IN NATION

"Practice makes Perfect" night will be the motto of Ronald "Pete" Reese. For the first time in Cedarville's history they have placed a player on the scoring column for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. The player is none other than Pete Reese. Pete has achieved a 27.9 average in the first five games of the season. Also Pete was the only fellow from the Mid-Ohio league that was placed on the list. Pete had the honors of being the top scorer in Greene County in his senior year of high school at Cedarville. Pete placed third in the nation among small colleges of the nation. As this sports editor speaks for the student body, we say "Congratulations, Pete."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Last Wednesday no games were played in girl's intramural basketball because of a lack of players. Eleanor Taylor's team had to forfeit to Rosemary Smith's team and Jo Ann Watson's team forfeited to Nancy McDivitt's team.

THE SENIOR SNEAK IS A GRAND SUCCESS

It was Tuesday morning, January 6, Nerves were tensed and hearts beat fast as the hands of each watch neared 9:10 A. M. After much tactful and precise planning, the hour for the Senior sneak had arrived. As if rehearsed, the precision movement of escape began. A speech class was deserted by a puzzled professor, a car stopped at the library, another approached town from the north, still another and another moved from different points of embarkation to pick up the crafty Seniors. After a brilliant escape from under the very noses of the unwary Juniors all left Cedarville from a central point. With out doubt, the sneak of 1959 exhibited and unexcelled spirit of unity and superior effort.

Upon arriving at Cincinnati, the exuberant Seniors visited the well-known Ted's Cafeteria where they were served sizzling charcoal broiled steaks with their delicious meal. The next stop was the Taft Museum where one of the nation's top art exhibitions is open to the public. One may also see numerous vases and wares from past dynasties. The cars then sped through some of the residential districts of Cincinnati, past the mighty Ohio River, to stop at the Botanical Gardens in Eden Park. This is a treat in itself for hundreds of species of plant and tree life are displayed from all parts of the globe, in a seemingly natural environment. Notwithstanding, this spectacle failed to suppress the heavy laughter of Alfred E. Neuman and Professor Turnbull as they dodged from tree to tree in the lush undergrowth. The final stop before leaving the city was the Natural History Museum where the exhibits of God's great creation were shown. The tour covered subjects from the bones of ancient man, life in the ocean depths, and the jungles of the Amazon.

The Senior caravan then embarked for Oxford, Ohio. After eating their evening meal at the Oxford Inn, they attended the conclusive event, a basketball game between Miami University and Xavier University of Cincinnati, two of the nation's top teams.

Any hope of a late arrival of the Seniors quickly faded as each car entered Cedarville on time. With saddened looks of failure and despair, the Juniors slipped into their beds, a disgruntled and defeated lot. Once more the Senior class was able to rejoice over another remarkable triumph.

least two years. He hopes to earn another B. S. (in physics) and also a Ph.D.

Although we will suffer a double loss as the Turnbulls leave us---Mrs. Turnbull, of course, will leave her position on the staff as school nurse--and their places will be hard to fill, we wish them God's blessing in their new undertaking. Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull, Elizabeth, Rebecca, and Johnny will probably move to Columbus soon after school is out here in May.

Christians are like pianos,
they're grand, they're square,
and they're upright,
But they're no good unless they're in tune.

Christians are like tea, It takes hot water to bring out their strength.

If absence makes the heart grow fonder, Oh how some people must love their church.
