

2-12-1965

Whispering Cedars, February 12, 1965

Cedarville College

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.cedarville.edu/cedars>

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Organizational Communication Commons

DigitalCommons@Cedarville provides a platform for archiving the scholarly, creative, and historical record of Cedarville University. The views, opinions, and sentiments expressed in the articles published in the university's student newspaper, Cedars (formerly Whispering Cedars), do not necessarily indicate the endorsement or reflect the views of DigitalCommons@Cedarville, the Centennial Library, or Cedarville University and its employees. The authors of, and those interviewed for, the articles in this paper are solely responsible for the content of those articles. Please address questions to dc@cedarville.edu.

Recommended Citation

Cedarville College, "Whispering Cedars, February 12, 1965" (1965). Cedars. 197.
<https://digitalcommons.cedarville.edu/cedars/197>

This Issue is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@Cedarville, a service of the Centennial Library. It has been accepted for inclusion in Cedars by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@Cedarville. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@cedarville.edu.

Footer Logo

A Student Publication of Cedarville College

WHISPERING CEDARS

Vol. XI

February 12, 1965

No. 7

SPRING BIBLE LECTURES COMING SOON

The 1965 Spring Bible Lectures will begin next Monday, February 15, and will continue through Friday, February 19. President Jeremiah has invited Rev. George E. Huffman, pastor of the Euclid-Nottingham Baptist Church, Euclid, Ohio, to be the speaker. Rev. Huffman, who is a graduate of Wheaton College and Grace Theological Seminary, plans to speak each evening Monday through Friday at 7 o'clock in Alford Auditorium on the second coming of Christ. The topic for the morning chapel services at 10 o'clock will be a series of practical issues from the book of Daniel titled "Devotional Disciplines from Daniel's Diary," and the sermons will have the following titles:

1. The Purpose That Is Pointed
2. Prayer That Produces
3. Providence That Provides
4. Perseverance under Pressure
5. Persistence in Propagation

The final sermon of the week will be directed toward both students and prospective students who will be here Friday, February 19. In order to heighten the spiritual effect of the messages, the week of lectures will begin with the Spring Day of Prayer all day Monday.

Rev. Huffman's letterhead quotes Hebrews 12:2, "Looking unto Jesus . . . We are looking to Jesus to pro-

CARROUSEL CAPERS COMES TO CAMPUS

Tonight is the evening many students have eagerly anticipated. The occasion is the annual Valentine banquet sponsored by Gamma Chi.

As the name "Carrousel Capers" indicates, the atmosphere will tingle with the excitement of the big tent. The ringmaster will be our own Dr. Clifford Johnson. Guest stars include the Rev. George O'Keefe, pastor of the Parma Baptist Church, and singer Peggy Bush, known for both her sacred and secular music.

Those who attend the banquet are encouraged to bring their pennies, nickels, and dimes for the various booths along the sides of the big tent. Added attractions will be a tunnel of love, fierce caged animals and a real carrousel. All proceeds will go to the library fund.

After the banquet students will wish to attend the film, "Tom Sawyer," the sequel to "Huckleberry Finn" shown several weeks ago. The money taken in will be put toward the Student Body Project.

vide blessings next week. The Day of Prayer and the Bible lectures are for you. Take full advantage of them by listening intently and praying fervently for their success.

DEAN ANNOUNCES HONOR LIST

Dr. Johnson, academic dean, released for publication the following names of students who achieved the esteemed position on the Dean's Honor List and the Dean's List for the first semester.

Dean's Honor List

(Those receiving 3.75+)

Martha Bennett
Paul Brower
Mary Ellen Floyd
Ruth Grant
Judith Hartzell
Suzanne Lepine
Sheryl Olson
Donald Shue
Joe Snider
Allen Traucht
David Wall

Dean's List

(Those receiving 3.25+)

Sharon Ackerman	Lola Mitchell
Lynn Amstutz	Joyce Moore
Lois Ancel	Bess Murphy
Mona Ballard	James Myers
Judith Bigelow	Arlene Nightingale
Marilyn Black	Dorothy Olsen
Frieda Bonnema	Shirley Otto
Jack Branon	Dennis Pearce
Shirley Branscum	James Phelps
Lynn Brock	James Phipps
Nancy Buerer	Barbara Randall
Lynne Cayton	Paul Reno
Robert Clater	Linda Riggs
Merry Davey	Harold Rigney
Ray Davis	Joseph Roden
Shirley Dufford	Jeannie Rogers
Donald Entner	M. Val Roloff
Laura Fair	Joanna Ronk

Jennifer Field	Mary Rulison
Gerald Fisher	Marlene
Dorothy Fulkerson	Schonscheck
Joyce Green	Mary Schulte
Ronald Grosh	Marshall Searles
Joanne Hamilton	Larry Sharpless
Rebecca Hess	Marvin Stephens
Doris Hiller	Louise Stutesman
Linda Hoffman	Sharon Tallman
Maryalyce	Charles Truxton
Jeremiah	Janice VanHorn
Gretchen Liechty	Patricia Versluis
Jean Maclaren	Marlene Werner
Ronald McDugle	James Zeigler
Buster McPheeters

WHISPERING "SEEDERS"

Miss Mackay: "We have time to do the will of God if we do the will of God all the time."

Mr. Turner: "God's will involves not only what we do, but also what we are."

Mr. Elmore: "If I am allowed to select my evidence, I can prove anything."

Mr. Meissner: "It's not enough to love flowers to have a lovely garden. You must also hate weeds."

Miss Mick: "The fellow who never makes a mistake never makes a success either."

Mr. Spencer: "To thine own self be true, and thou canst not be false to any man." (Shakespeare)

Miss Hartsell: "How many chapel cuts did you think you had? You mean we agree?!"

EDITORIAL

The Glory Departed

Once upon a time there was a great joustler who was loved by all. His name was Sir High Point. He was the best in the land. Everyone looked up to him on his noble charger Rebound, as they trotted through the town at their daily tasks. How secure they all were—certainly Sir High Point was the greatest joustler in the whole land. Many times the land had been invaded by unfriendly knights, but always Sir High Point was there to represent his kingdom. It seemed as if a magic aura of safety surrounded the good knight. He had an uncanny ability for knowing just what his fierce opponent would do next. The bad knights would charge straight for him, lance in hand, only to find that he had quickly sidestepped their fatal attack. There were some close calls but Sir High Point always managed to escape with very little injury. Once though, the good knight received a broken wrist. He became a little dismayed when visitors came to see him in the castle infirmary. All they seemed to care about was whether he would be able to fight the next evil knight or hungry dragon that molested the town. No one seemed to care at all that he had a broken wrist that really hurt him. They were only afraid that they would be without a champion. Well, good Sir High Point shrugged it off.

The good knight recovered quickly and fought many more battles. He won them all. The town felt that they had the greatest champion in the whole valley. They dared anyone to beat him. They began comparing their good knight with the BIG 10 Jousters. How they wished they could have their man fight them. Sir High Point knew his limitations. He just kept quiet and humbly bowed his head after every victory. He was a good knight.

But then one day the humble burg next to theirs sent their mighty champion to fight Sir High Point. He was ranked second in the nation by the UP and the AP (United Protectors and Allied Potentates). But Sir High Point's little town didn't seem to really understand how great Sir Ham was. Well, needless to say, Sir High Point lost the joust soundly. He wasn't up to his best but he tried as hard as he could—to the town that wasn't good enough.

A great deal of the town refused to
(continued on page 5)

ATTENTION MR. TURNER

The students of Cedarville College have a vital interest in the development of the campus. From firsthand experience we know the new library is needed, and we wish to facilitate this need. Through the Student Council various projects have been initiated to reach our goal of $1,000 for the Library Fund. After the Christmas vacation a "Jefferson Day" was held and students brought two dollar bills for the fund. Over $350 was raised. Also, we have erected a "Wishing Well" into which the students may put change. Campaigns centered around this will be started by the use of posters and skits. We, as students, want a part in helping this school to expand and to meet the needs of others, like ourselves, learning to serve Him.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear editor,

. . . thanks to you and your staff for your article on cheating in the last [Dec. 16, 1964] issue of Whispering Cedars.

Nigeria doesn't seem to belong to the list members of the "house" and this is what she says.

Nigeria—I disagree with the idea of reporting a green cheater to an instructor with the reporter out of the show. This idea is both unchristianly and unmanly. It is unchristianly and unmanly in that the good Christian (the reporter) is fearing the action of the forces of evil. The Christian reporter must stand and defeat the judgment of the minority-cheaters because "those that carry sword must die by the sword." I say REPORT THE CHEATER AND STAY IN THE SHOW or APPEAL TO THE CONSCIENCE OF THE CULPRIT. How?

If you catch any cheater for the first time, show him a sign immediately that he is caught. Go to him later on and convict him. Make him write you a promissory note of abstaining from such acts in future. Make sure the note is well signed, keep it, and glue your mouth. I am sure your Christianly attitude will make both of you happy and prevent him from such acts in the future. But, if he wears the old shoes again, REPORT HIM AND SUBMIT YOUR EVIDENCE. Believe me or not, the cheater and his accomplices will surely appreciate your patience and blame their "wisdom" for the retribution.

Yours sincerely,
Sunday omo Akinyemi

STUDENTS KILL CLASS SPIRIT: HOW TO DO IT

1. Save all chapel cuts to be used for class meetings.
2. When all cuts and demerits are exhausted, and attendance is inevitable, enter meetings late, causing as much disturbance as possible.
3. Come ready to argue.
4. Never offer any assistance in getting things done and never say "yes" when you are asked to do something.
5. Never accept any positions of responsibility; it is better to stay outside and criticize.
6. Never attend class parties or all-school parties sponsored by your class. This shows the rest of the class that you are not tied down to them.
7. Make your adviser feel needed; let him do all the work.
8. During class prayer meetings, sit slouched down in your seat and never sing or lead in prayer. If you must sing, sing out of tune and slower than everybody else; if you are called on to pray, be sure to pray for all the hypocrites in the class.
9. If there happens to be a few zealous workers in the class, make a tremendous protest against the class being run by a clique.
10. Never pray for your class.

Note: Parts of the preceding were adapted from "How to Kill Your Church," FAITH, PRAYER & TRACT LEAGUE.

Read the SENIOR CITIZEN in the next issue of Whispering Cedars.

H. M. S. PINAFORE TO BE PRESENTED BY TRI-M

For the first time in the history of Cedarville College, the students are presenting an operetta. Tri-M, under the direction of Miss Smith and Mr. Meissner, is staging the H. M. S. PINAFORE, an operetta in two acts. Those chosen to sing lead parts are:

James Stockwell,
 Sir Joseph, the first Lord of the Admiralty
Boyd Griffith,
 Captain Corcoran
Mr. Meissner,
 Ralph Rackstraw, a seaman
Ted Jager,
 Dick Deadeye, a seaman
Paul Carlson,
 Bob Becket, the Captain's mate
Marlene Werner,
 Josephine Corcoran, the Captain's daughter
Nicki Stats,
 Cousin Hebe, cousin of Sir Joseph
Vicki Curcio,
 Little Buttercup, a bumboat woman

The scene of the operetta is the quarterdeck of the H. M. S. PINAFORE, a fine ship captained by Corcoran, docked just off Portsmouth. Before the opening of the first act, Ralph has fallen in love with Josephine and Little Buttercup with the captain. Social class standards forbid the marriage of these lovers. When Josephine finds her lawful suitor, Sir Joseph, repulsive, she finally agrees to elope with Ralph. But the nasty Dick Deadeye tattles to the captain and the elopers are intercepted. Now, every operetta must have a happy ending, and H. M. S. PINAFORE is no exception. The action is logically and happily resolved. How? Come and find out for yourself.

The cast and directors have put a good-sized square of time and work into the staging and production of this operetta. It promises to be a smashing success. No one will want to miss this outstanding first at Cedarville College.

EDITORIAL (continued from page 3)

speak to Sir High Point. They called him Ichabod. Even his horse was snubbed. The people didn't seem to care if he won any more jousts. He wasn't as good as they thought he was. Ichabod lost his spirit. He no longer believed that he was Sir High Point. Ichabod was sad because he had failed to live up to the mighty reputation his people had created for him. Ichabod and his tired horse sadly left the once happy valley.

It seems to me that this would have never happened if the citizenry had believed that "we won or we lost" not "we won or 'he' lost." I hope it doesn't happen in other places.

STAFF

Editor Michael Kellogg
Reporter-in-chief Joanna Ronk
Copy Reader Dorothy Olsen
Arts Editor Suzanne Bartheld
Sports Editor Richard Pettitt
Devotional Editor Charles Truxton
Political Editor James Stockwell
Typists Dawne Evans
 Louise Stutesman
Circulation-Advertising
 Howard Timmons
Adviser E. L. Greenwood

JACKETS COMPLETE TOUGH WEEK

Last week was one of the toughest in the current hoop campaign for the Yellow Jackets under Coach Callan. It included the game to which everyone had looked with anticipation. I am referring to the contest between the number two ranked Central State Marauders and our Jackets. Although we have not been mentioned in the top ten, we have consistently been receiving honorable mention. The game was billed as the small college championship of Ohio, and it proved to be just that. Those who looked for excitement and thrills were not at all disappointed. Before a capacity crowd of 3,300, the teams battled on even terms for the first quarter. The lead changed hands several times until Central started to fast-break. At the half, the score was 41-29 in favor of Central.

The second half was a different story. The Jackets came to life and the teams battled evenly for the remainder of the game. The final score was 75-59 with Central on top. Cedarville hopes to gain revenge when they meet Central in the District 22 playoffs.

Two nights later the Jackets bounced back with an impressive victory over the Quakers of Wilmington College. All five of our starters hit for double figures as Al Knott lead the field with 19 points. This makes our record in the Mid-Ohio League a spotless 6-0 and our overall record a very respectable 18-2.

The team is looking forward to a tough game this Saturday against Ashland College. The final standings of the conference will be dependent on the outcome of this game. I would urge all the fans to stand behind the team and travel to Ashland. It will be a very exciting game, and the support will do a great deal toward adding another victory to our record.

W C D R EXPANDS SCHEDULE

The management of W C D R is pleased to provide to listeners in the area a program schedule of 80 hours per week beginning Monday, February 15. The added hours will furnish listening from 7:00 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. on weekdays and 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Saturdays along with the present schedule.

The new schedule will provide a "wake up" program each morning from 7:00 to 8:30 and a live broadcast of the daily chapel services. Saturday will provide a women's program, variety show, and other special features. For further information listen to W C D R.

An increased interest in radio broadcasting here at the college accounts for the ability to make these rather large increases in programming. Presently there are 26 people on the radio staff, announcing, engineering, writing, programming, sportscasting, newscasting and directing programs.

We encourage you to make comments concerning our programming that we may provide the broadcasting service you want. Start your day on a happy note by listening to W C D R each morning at 7:00 beginning Monday, February 15.
