Worship Leader ranks Cedarville among "Best of the Best"

CEDARVILLE, OHIO – Cedarville University's worship program has been honored as one of the top college and university worship education programs by Worship Leader magazine in its "Premier Resource Guide," formerly known as the magazine's "Best of the Best" issue.

This is the third year Cedarville's worship program was recognized for its excellence. The 2015 Editor's Picks were announced on November 1 in the publication's November/December edition.

"I am grateful to again receive national recognition for what is happening in our program," said Roger O'Neel, Ph.D., professor of worship. "Our purpose is 'to equip worshipers for service,' and we have great students who want to lead people in worshipping our great God."

Worship Leader is a subscription-only magazine for worship leaders and organizations around the country. It is highly respected as the premier worship magazine in America. A typical issue includes recommendations about the newest worship music, Christian books, movies and articles about how to be a great leader and worshipper of God.

"I was excited to see that Cedarville was selected, it's definitely well deserved," said Alissa Smith, director of sales and brand partnerships for Worship Leader Magazine.

Located in southwest Ohio, Cedarville University is an accredited, Christ-centered, Baptist institution with an enrollment of 3,711 undergraduate, graduate and online students in more than 100 areas of study. Founded in 1887, Cedarville is recognized nationally for its authentic Christian community, rigorous academic programs, strong graduation and retention rates, accredited professional and health science offerings and leading student satisfaction ratings.
