SUPERIORITY OF BEAL LAW.

As attorney for the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, I have had considerable experience in trying to enforce so-called prohibitory ordinances, such as you had once in your town.

If you have given the matter careful attention, you are aware that such an ordinance is a poor tool with which to work. It did not prohibit the sale of liquor or the furnishing or giving away of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, it simply prohibited the place at which it was sold, at retail, with few exceptions. The liquor men could easily evade such an ordinance by means of social clubs, boot leg business, beer wagons and in many other ways.

The question doubtless arises in the minds of many Cedarville citizens, if we can not enforce the present prohibitory ordinance, how can we hope to enforce the Beal Law if it goes into effect. There is a vast difference between an ordinance and a State Law. An ordinance can be enforced only by the mayor of the municipality or by a police judge or justice.

The Beal Law is a statute enacted by the General Assembly which goes into effect thirty days after an election at which a majority of the voters express themselves in favor of prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. It requires no act of the council or from any source to give the law effect and power of enforcement.

This being a state law it is made the duty of the Mayor of the municipality to enforce it. Sec. 1817 of the Revised Statutes reads as follows:

Misdemeanors. 1817. "He shall have final jurisdiction to hear and determine any prosecution for a misdemeanor, unless the accused is by the constitution, entitled to a trial by jury; and his jurisdiction in such cases shall be co-extensive with the county."

This statute "1817" not only gives the mayor of your city power to enforce it, but gives the mayor of every municipality in your county power to enforce it, as this statute says in such cases, "his jurisdiction shall be co-extensive with the county." It is manifest then that Cedarville liquor dealers can be tried before the mayor of Jamestown or any other mayor in the county. The advantage of this under present conditions is manifest. The law can also be enforced by the Common Pleas Court and before the Probate Judge of your county. All of these cases may be tried without a jury; there are at least four times as many opportunities to enforce the Beal Law as the present ordinance.

If the citizens of Cedarville want a law that can be enforced now is their opportunity.

Respectfully submitted,
W. B. WHEELER.

HOW IT CAME HOME.

A sample of how a man is awakened on the saloon question was witnessed in this city a short time ago. His son, a respected young man, loved by his parents and thought to be safe from the tempting cup, but alas! unknown to his idolizing parents, who could see no harm in having saloons in our town to help pave our streets and pay the city "busses" fell into bad company and made his first step. In the flowing bowl, encouraged by his comrades, he saw no harm. He drank until a late hour, when in an almost helpless condition he reeled the streets, finally working his way to the city park, where unable to go further, he fell in a heavily drunken state and lay until next morning, where he was found, stripped of a good suit of clothes, shoes, hat, money and watch.

The father with a heart full of anxiety for his son's safety, in his search for him, found his precious boy in this (almost nude) condition, in this drunken debauch. The scene of that father finding his dear child in this condition was enough to touch the stoutest heart. It is enough to say the father-to-day is a local optimist, and it didn't take any talking to get him to see the right of it. Oh, how earnest we get when the saloon gets into our home.—Searchlight.

WHAT BECAME OF THEM?

Fifty years ago a gentleman of Ohio noted down ten drinkers, six young men and four boys. "I saw the boys" he says, "drink beer and buy cigars, in what was called a 'grocery' or 'doggery,' I expressed my disapprobation and the seller gave a coarse reply." He continued the business, and in fifteen years died of delirium tremens, not leaving five dollars.

"I never lost sight of these ten, only as the clouds of the valley hid their bodies from human vision. Of the six young men, one died of delirium tremens and one in a drunken fit; two of them left families not provided for, and two sons drunkards. Of the two remaining, one is a miserably wreck, and the other a drinker in some better condition.

"Of the four boys, one, who had a good mother, grew up a sober man; one was killed by a club in a drunken brawl; one has served two terms in the penitentiary; and one has drunk himself into an inoffensive dolt whose family has to provide for him"—National Advocate.

Cedarville is a beautiful town, but it will never be what it ought to be until it has no saloons.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the statute of the state of Ohio provides that whoever sells or gives AWAY any spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, on any election day, or being the keeper of a place where any such liquors are habitually sold and drunk, falls on any election day, to keep the same closed, shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars and imprisoned not more than ten days; and Whereas,

Saturday, the 4th Day of October, A. D. 1902, is such an election day, I, D. H. McFarland, mayor of the village of Cedarville within said state, by virtue of authority vested in me by said statute, and in compliance with the requirements thereof, do hereby warn the public concerning the provisions of said statute as above set forth, and that all violations of the same on said day will subject the offender to speedy punishment.

All officers invested with police powers in this said municipal corporation are hereby commanded to close all places where said statutory provisions are violated, and to report forthwith to me all violations thereof.

Given under my hand, at Cedarville, Ohio, on the 4th day of September 1902.
D. H. McFarland, Mayor.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

"Friends and Neighbors: I am grateful for past favors, and having supplied my store with a fine line of choice wines and liquors, allow me to inform you that I shall continue to make drunkards, paupers, and beggars for the sober, industrious, respectable part of the community to support. My whiskey will excite riot, robbery, and bloodshed.

"They will diminish your comforts, increase your expenses and shorten life. I shall confidently recommend them as sure to multiply fatal accidents and incurable diseases.

"They will deprive some of life, others of reason, many of character, all of peace. They will make fathers fiends, wives widows, children orphans, and all poor. I will train your sons in infidelity, dissipation, ignorance, lewdness and every other vice. I will corrupt the ministers of religion, obstruct the gospel, defile the church, and cause as much temporal and eternal death as I can. I will thus accommodate the public; it may be at the loss of my never dying soul. But I have a family to support—the business pays—and the public encourages it.

"If I don't sell it somebody else will. I know the Bible says: 'Thou shalt not kill.' 'No drunkard shall enter the kingdom of heaven' and I do not expect the drunkard maker to fare any better, but I want an easy living and I have resolved to gather the wages of iniquity and fatten on the ruin of my species.

"I shall therefore carry on my business with energy, and do my best to diminish the wealth of the nation, and endanger the safety of the state. As my business flourishes in proportion to your sensuality and ignorance I will do my best to prevent moral purity and intellectual growth.

"Should you doubt my ability, I refer you to the pawnshop, the poorhouse, the police court, the hospital, the penitentiary and the gallows, where you will find many of my best customers have gone. A sight of them will convince you I do what I say. Allow me to inform you that you are fools, and I am an honest saloon-keeper."—Zanesville, O., Times Recorder.

DID NOT PURCHASE.

In speaking with Mr. Fred J. Green, General Manager for the Dayton, Springfield & Urbana railway, and other interests belonging to the Appleyard syndicate he most emphatically denies that their company has purchased the rights of way and franchises from Harry Froy, the Springfield promoter. Mr. Green says that his company considered Mr. Froy's proposition but that they took no action on it whatever.

GOOD NEWS FROM KANSAS.

"A 'dry' state in Kansas has raised the standard of good citizenship. It has largely destroyed the treating habit. It has wonderfully reduced drinking and drunkenness. It has greatly lessened pauperism and crime. It is saving thousands from the temptation of the open saloon. It has added to all of the resources of the state. It has increased the efficiency of industry. It has elevated politics. It has made better citizens, happier homes, larger schools, stronger churches, cleaner newspapers and prosperous times." It will do the same for Cedarville.

COMPLICATED AFFAIRS.

The telephone situation is getting back to where it was two or three years ago. When the Independent company was organized in this county it was hoped that their service would be the best, from the fact that their plant was of modern construction and entirely new. The old company, when opposition started them in the face, immediately set out to improve their plant so that they could compete with the rival company. Both companies operated their plants fairly well for several months, when it became a question as to which was offering the worst service. Patrons had anticipated excellent service with rival companies in the field, but of late they have been very much disappointed. A few days ago this office desired a party in Xenia and having one of the Independent phones we called for Xenia. We received Xenia all right but soon found that we were talking to the hello girl in the Bell exchange. In speaking of the situation to another business man, who has the Bell phone, we found a somewhat similar case. He had asked for a certain party on his line but was informed that he had no phone on their line. The merchant was confident the girl was wrong but the whole case developed when he found he was talking over a Bell phone into the Citizens exchange at Xenia. The trouble does not seem to be with the local exchange but without question it is in Xenia. The service of both companies could be improved to a great extent.

WRITING COMIC OPERA.

Mr. W. D. Nisbet, of Baltimore, Md., arrived here last Saturday evening from Shelbyville, Ind., where he left his wife and children who will visit her parents for some time. "Dick" returned to Indiana on Tuesday and will proceed to Chicago, where he will meet Mr. George Ade, author of "Fables in Slang" and the comic opera, "Sultan of Sulu." Messrs. Nisbet and Ade are writing a comic opera called "Peggy from Paris," which will be staged the coming season. "Dick" will stay with the Baltimore American and not accept the liberal offer of the Chicago Tribune.

GATES OR WATCHMAN.

A special train arrived here Wednesday with some of the head railroad officials, Supt. McKen, Trainmaster Waters, Michael Miran and several others. Several weeks ago a team of horses was killed at the Miller street crossing and council at their next meeting notified the company that gates or a watchman would have to be provided. This was the reason these officials were here on Wednesday. Council met with them at the depot and a number of remedies have been proposed but council will have either a watchman or gates. The superintendent will report next week what his company will do.

A certain driver for one of the paper mill teams in speaking of the local option election says that the men at the paper mill are under obligation to the saloons to support the "wet" side from the fact that the proprietors contributed to the fund to fight the corporation on the road tax ordinance. If this is the case, then there is no reason why the public should be asked to put up with a business that is in opposition to the welfare of the community.

PROCLAMATION OF ELECTION.

The qualified electors of the village of Cedarville in the County of Greene and State of Ohio are hereby notified that on Saturday, the 4th Day of October, A. D. 1902, between the hours of 5:30 o'clock a. m. and 6:30 o'clock p. m., Central Standard time, of said day, a special election will be held under the provisions of an act entitled: "An act to amend Section 4364-20 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, and to supplement said section in respect to the provisions of said section relating to the holding of elections in said village, to determine by ballot whether the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage shall be prohibited in said village in accordance with the provisions of said act."

The voting places designated for elections in the village of Cedarville are: the South Precinct and the Township Clerk's office for voters from the North Precinct in the incorporated village of Cedarville, Greene Co., O.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of said village at Cedarville, Ohio, this 9th day of September, A. D. 1902.
D. H. McFarland, Mayor.

MEETINGS ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWDS.

MONDAY EVENING.
In the opera house a large and representative audience of Cedarville citizens gathered to hear the question of "saloons" or "no saloons" discussed. The question was examined from three different points of view by as many speakers, and the results of the examination indicated that there is not enough good in a saloon for any community, either morally, spiritually or financially, to justify its existence twenty-four hours. Mayor John S. Thomas, Rev. Porter and Hon. Jesse Taylor of Jamestown were the speakers. They all had a right to speak on the subject before them for they live in a village that has tried to do with saloons and is now and has been for a year trying to do without the saloons.

Mayor Thomas spoke first. It was a pleasing thing to see the platform of Cedarville opera house graced by a man who is fearless in doing his duty as a civil officer. Our country needs men of this type. Such men are one of the best remedies for that bloody monster of anarchy which so recently robbed the throne of our government of its occupant. If these most intimately connected with government don't respect it what can be expected from others? Mr. Thomas believes that law is to be respected, honored and kept, and that penalties are attached to broken law to be administered in full doses.

Rev. Porter showed that anti-saloonism is the moral side, the right side and the only side for any man to take on this question. He asked the question, "Why is it that the prohibition men are not having public meetings, calling the citizens together and arguing in their presence for the saloon?" The reason is they have no arguments to present. People will not listen to arguments for the saloon. You cannot find a man so shameless as to have the face to stand before an average audience of citizens and plead for the saloon.

Hon. Jesse Taylor is a practical business man, with judgment enough to be a cashier in a bank, to balance accounts and to determine a considerable number of other things along the line of dollars and cents; and all those who heard him Monday evening were pretty well convinced when he got through that he knew well what he was talking about when he declared that the saloon is a financial loss to any community. He showed that from the standpoint of economy and material prosperity the saloon ought to be abolished, if for no other reason. And anyone who desires to investigate can obtain from Jamestown between thirty-five and forty testimonials, signed by as many business men and firms, which are sufficient evidence to prove that the statement that the financial prosperity of a place depends upon the saloon, is false. Only a few of the testimonials are given below. They are based upon a comparison of the business during the first five months of 1902, when there were no saloons in town, with the business during the first five months of 1901, when five saloons were wide open.

James M. Carper, clothing, boots, shoes and gents' furnishings.—"My business was better. I have been engaged in same business for twelve years in Jamestown. 1901 was my best year in business but my sales in May, 1902, exceeded May, 1901, by $200."

Rees Bros., livery.—"Our business has been as good and more satisfactory. Would rather keep a livery barn in a dry town than in a wet town, for we would rather wait on sober men than on men who have stayed in the saloons until late at night, as was the case when we had saloons."

Zeiner Bros., furniture.—"Our business is at least 33 1/3 per cent better. People are willing to pay better prices and demand better goods than in past years. We keep nothing but high class goods and our trade is on the increase."

J. S. Stryker, groceries and fruits.—"My sales were 33 1/3 per cent better. Am always in favor of a dry town. My collections were never better. I am much pleased with business prospects and if I were compelled to do it I would rather live in a dry town and do less business than to have more business and live in a town with saloons."

W. R. Engle, dry goods, boots, shoes and carpets.—"My sales increased $2,500. I purchased the Alexander & Spahr branch store in Des Moines on third page."

WHY PAY TO KEEP SALOONS?

Evil must nourish itself forever upon the good. If it be denied the privilege, it starves. Drunkards could not exist in a community where all men were drunkards. There must be sober men and women who are willing to furnish the drunkards subsistence. The saloon could not exist in a community where the industrious, wealth-producing classes were unwilling to pay its expenses. The saloon produces no wealth. It is a parasite, and its existence is possible only so long as the public bears its expense. The saloon cannot renew its life from internal sources; it must devour the wealth which industry and sobriety have created. Whenever they refuse further supplies, the saloon perishes inevitably. It never has a year's supply in store. The one argument which the saloon cannot resist is this: The withdrawal of its supplies.

We cannot afford to treat the saloon unfairly. Give the saloon-keeper the same chance that you give the grocer, the butcher, the merchant, the manufacturer. Impose no burden upon him that you would not impose upon them; show him no favor that you would not show them. If his business is as legitimate as theirs, it is tyranny to compel him to pay heavily for the privilege of conducting it. The license-tax imposed upon the saloon is either a gross injustice to the men engaged in the business, or it is a betrayal of the interests of the community that does not patronize the saloon. Why is not the grocer who gives food to the public compelled to pay for that privilege, the same as the saloon-keeper who furnishes intoxicating liquors? Why this discrimination? It is because that the law recognizes that the saloon inflicts injury upon the public. The tax imposed upon the business is intended to reimburse the public for expenditures made from the public treasury on account of the saloon. The grocer adds nothing to the burden of public taxation by his business. He does not create the necessity for additional courts and almshouses. If he incurs liabilities in the conduct of his business, he is compelled to meet them himself; he cannot appropriate the profits and turn the expense account over to the public. If the saloon cannot bear the burden of expense which it creates, the grocer, the merchant, the manufacturer ought not to be compelled to assume it. The people who do not patronize the saloon have some rights that must be respected. Give the ordinary business man a chance. Let a man be permitted to serve the public as a merchant, or mechanic, or physician, without having the burden of the saloon bound upon him. The ordinary HONEST man must pay as he goes; honor his views if he thinks he should not be called upon to pay the saloon-keeper's way, too. Give the sober man a chance. The license system is a betrayal of the public interests, because it is based upon NO RATIONAL ESTIMATE of the injury which the saloon inflicts upon the public. A company ought to meet its liabilities as they occur or go out of business. The saloon does not do this. It is a well known fact that for every dollar the saloon pays into the national or municipal treasuries it imposes a burden of ten dollars upon the community in the maintenance of police, courts, jails, penitentiaries, almshouses, insane asylums and widows' homes and orphanages. People are not particularly inclined to meet the liabilities of the saloon. Let it meet its own expenses, pay its own way from beginning to finish, or else cease operations. This plan of the sober minded, honest, industrious, tax-paying members of the community taking the consequences of the saloon business and paying its bills, while brewers and saloon-keepers take the profits, ought to soon meet its end in a community where there is any enlightenment at all.

John H. Berry, better known in Xenia as "Grassy," was found guilty in Mayor Thomas' court at Jamestown, Tuesday, for keeping a place where intoxicating liquors are sold. Berry was fined $200 and costs by the Jamestown mayor. A number of witnesses were examined by the state but the defense made no attempt to fight the case. Notice of appeal was given. It will be recalled that Berry's bartender, Wm. Harlow, was convicted in this same court a week or so ago and given the same sentence. The fine was the limit in both cases.

The Jamestown city council has passed a resolution aimed at "boot-leggers" and other violators of the anti-saloon law. The resolution was passed without a dissenting vote and provides that the village of Jamestown offers $100 reward for apprehension and conviction of any person violating any of the provisions of the Beal law.

Mayor Tom L. Johnson has been a very active supporter of the single tax theory, which places the whole tax upon the farm land of this county. This year he is seeking the vote of the farmer by attacking the railroads of this state. — Mercer County Observer.

In discussing the rise in the prices of some of the necessities of life, the Democratic orators will not, when addressing granger audiences, call particular attention to those things which are produced by the farmers. Farm products, by the way, form the principal proportion of the long list of "articles which have advanced in price under Republican administration," as furnished by the chairman of the Democratic committee.

Why Haven't Bryan and Johnson Helped?

If the settlement of the strike were an easy job it would not be necessary for a man like Quay to tackle it. — Marion Star.

Even if it were an easy job we have our doubts whether you would hear of a Democrat tackling it. Democrats are great orators, but never of material aid. Why hasn't Johnson offered his assistance in the present labor trouble? Why hasn't Bryan? Isn't it the truth that neither of them has ever helped in any strike or trouble in which labor and capital were concerned? Both pose as great friends of labor. Let them make good. — Wyandot Republican.

Hopping, deceased, first and final account; Cudillia Hunter, Administratrix of the estate of Calvin Hunter, deceased, first and final account; Robert Hood, Executor of the estate of William H. Walker, deceased, first and final account; L. B. Hilliard, Guardian of Eliza Bag, first account; James Harris, Guardian of Sarah Birch, first and final account; David E. Spahr, Guardian of William and Edward Highwood, first account; Della J. Chase, Guardian of Clara Chase, first and final account; J. M. Collins, Guardian of Emma M. Burnette, second account; S. S. Dean, Trustee of a fund for benefit of Christina Kogler, first account; Catharine Lane, Guardian of Patrick Lane et al., first and final account; J. H. Thomas, Assignee of A. F. Tait, first account.

J. N. DEAN, Probate Judge, Greene County, O.

Sept. 18, 1902.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb, Vice-President Woman's Democratic Club of Northern Ohio. "I dreaded the change of life which was fast approaching. I noticed Wine of Cardui, and decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax." Female weakness, disordered menses, falling of the womb and ovarian troubles do not wear out. They follow a woman to the change of life. Do not wait but take Wine of Cardui now and avoid the trouble. Wine of Cardui never fails to benefit a suffering woman of any age. Wine of Cardui relieved Mrs. Webb when she was in danger. When you come to the change of life Mrs. Webb's letter will mean more to you than it does now. But you may show avoid the suffering she endured. Druggists sell 10 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Last year Bryan was ignored by the Ohio Democratic convention, his picture was torn down, tramped upon and finally killed under the table. This year Bryanism is endorsed, with the addition of single tax and Populism. The Democrats who were disgusted by Bryanism will surely not be called back by the new combination. — Greenville Tribune.

When Tom Johnson was denouncing horses in a recent speech some chap shouted: "How about the boss of Cleveland?" Tom failed to answer the question.

Republicans must pitch in and roll up as big a vote as possible. Overconfidence has, more than once, cost the Republicans dearly.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Beware of Counterfeits. Beware of Substitutes.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Send for testimonials, free. Sold by druggists 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Careful Buyer.

The Best is What You Want. The Best is What We Sell.

Meats are deceptive. Unless you are a good judge, you can never tell what you are getting until you have it served and partially eaten. We know meats. We select stock with a view to having the best meats. We know how to select stock and therefore have meats you may depend upon—meats that will please you.

WINONA LAKE, Indiana's Famous Summer Resort.

"Winona Lake, Ind., the pretty summer resort on the Pennsylvania Lines in Northern Indiana affords rest, recreation, entertainment, and delightful surroundings for persons desiring to enjoy vacation outings. This resort is the site of Winona Assembly and Summer School, and is annually visited by many persons who are strengthened in mind by the excellent facilities for educational work, and invigorated in body by the health giving influences for which Winona Lake is famous.

On May 15th, the Opening Day of the Season of 1902, excursion tickets to Winona Lake will be on sale via Pennsylvania Lines. They may be obtained from May 15th to September 15th, inclusive.

For particular information on the subject of rate and time of trains, apply to Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines, or to F. V. DUNN, Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent, Pittsburgh, Pa. Information about attractions at Winona Lake, entertainments, the Summer School sessions, etc., will be furnished in reply to inquiries addressed to Mr. C. S. DUCKY, Secretary Winona Lake, Ind.

Wanted. We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constipation, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try one bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. Ask your oldest druggist.

ember, 1900, and my trade has been on a healthy increase. I am more than pleased with my business and favor a dry town every time." Dr. T. G. Dennis, dentist, "I find my business better since the town went dry than it was when we had five saloons. I favor a dry town first last and all the time."

TUESDAY EVENING.

The meeting in the opera house Tuesday night was presided over by Prof. Foster Alexander with grace and dignity. A local quartette consisting of Rev. Sanderson, Prof.
Denny, Messrs. Geo. Seigler and Roy Sterrett rendered two pleasing selections.

Dr. Lorimer of Jamestown addressed the meeting from a standpoint of a physician. He got the attention of his audience at the very outstart by his natural wit. Among the many excellent things he said, the main point was that alcohol paralyzes the brain and spreads through the entire nervous and motor system until there is a case of dead drunk or whiskey paralysis. He said the most eminent physicians in the world do not use alcohol in their practice. They say as a food it has the least possible value and infinitely more injury. He said it was strange that whiskey was the only remedy kept in the home, when it was so worthless as a curative, and it is the only remedy a patient prescribes for himself. The doctor said he scarcely ever used alcohol in practice and he believed the day would soon come when it would not be used at all.

Miss Hallie G. Brown, the talented professor of Elocution and Literature at Wilberforce, gave an eloquent, logical and touching address on the evils of the liquor traffic. She said whiskey and the saloon were parasites, enemies to labor, the church and the home. She exposed the idea that to abolish the saloons is to enslave the personal liberty of the saloon-keeper. She urged the people to rouse up, and clenched her whole address by a beautiful, towering comparison between slavery and the saloon and declared as surely as slavery fell so surely and soon would the saloon perish.

Citizens of Cedarville, let October 4th be the doom of the saloons and their manifold evils in our midst.
Strike for your homes, your altars, and your fires. Strike for purity, peace, your children and your wives.
Strike for your country and its honor.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The Sons of Veterans' band from Xenia rendered several selections and created enthusiasm for the meeting.

Dr. Furbay discussed the saloon from the standpoint of lawlessness.
He showed that it was subversive of every law and did not create one single bit of good. It is the school of anarchy; yes, anarchy itself. Pay your respects to McKinley's memory Saturday by voting squarely against the evil, which inflamed the brain of the anarchist to kill McKinley.

He also showed that the Beal law could be enforced anywhere that liquor was sold as a beverage, even in drugstores, and he gave convincing facts from many other places, where the Beal law is in force, and challenged repeatedly the denial.

He said Xenia was paying now for the kind of a mayor it has by all the cases violating the Beal law being tried at Jamestown and the latter becoming financially therefrom, while Xenia is losing, because its mayor will not enforce the law.

THURSDAY NIGHT.

The children of Miss McFarland's and Miss Duffield's rooms opened the meeting with a song entitled the "Saloon Must Go."

Dr. Furbay spoke of the responsibility of our citizens if we should vote the saloons out. He showed it was not only possible and easy to enforce the Beal law against all illicit sellers but that it is our duty to enforce the law.

He showed that a man who would sell illegally now or after the election is a nuisance to Cedarville, a sneak, a traitor, a coward, a hypocrite and far worse than a man who sells legally, and that he ought to be jailed or driven out of our midst.

He said that the "wets" were boasting that they would get the papermill men's votes sure, but he said he was among the paper-mill men and he did not believe they would vote for the saloons. He said they were too intelligent and manly to do that; and he knew they would resent that boast Saturday by casting their vote dry.

He also showed what a fearful evil the saloon is to the home, the church and labor. He said the liquor business paid only 74 per cent of $100 represented in its labor to workingmen engaged in it, while all lawful and honest business paid from 16 to 48 per cent on $100 to labor. The saloon is an enemy to the laborer, to the children, to the home, to the church, to everything and person except itself and it has done no good whatever.

DANIEL McMILLAN.

Mr. Daniel McMillan, an aged citizen of this place, died about 8:30 last Saturday morning at the home of his son, Mr. Will McMillan. Mr. Mc-Millan was born in Chester, South Carolina, June 16, 1821. He came to this part of the state with his parents when ten years of age. His early life was spent in teaching school and conducting a store in New Jasper.
He was the first postmaster of that town. Of late Mr. McMillan has resided on his farm, east of town, with his son.

In 1846 Mr. McMillan was married to Miss Jane White Jackson. To them were born seven children, three of whom, Mrs. Martha Small, Mrs. Grace Wilson and Miss Jennie, have joined their mother in the great beyond.
The surviving children are Mrs. J. C.
Barber, Mrs. R. B. Townsley and W.
R. McMillan of this place, and Mr.
Arch McMillan of Springfield. Mr.
McMillan was a lifelong member of the R. P. church and was a faithful and earnest worker.

For several months Mr. McMillan had been growing weaker, a complication of diseases having set in. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from his late residence, and a large number of friends gathered to pay their respects.

For a few moments Thursday night there were all indications of a genuine stampede in the opera house during the address by Mr. Furbay, all caused by some foolish boys and a few nervous women. Shortly after the speaker began his address a noise was heard on the street that was rather peculiar.
A few boys rushed out. This excited the women and there was a grand rush for the doors. Mr. Furbay, realizing the situation, immediately commanded the people to return to their seats and with one or two exceptions they did. The presence of mind of speakers in such gatherings has often saved many accidents and possibly lives. The audience was rather nervous for a few moments but everything quieted down when it became known that the noise was caused by the running away of Mr. Thomas Spencer's team.

The Bell Telephone of Xenia has raised the rental of their phones to $2 a month for homes and $3 for business houses for single party lines.
The raise takes effect at the expiration of the present contract. The Citizens Telephone company will not raise their rental as the opposing company has.

That the curiosity of the women folks will be aroused this evening there will be no question. The meeting, for men only, at the opera house tonight, will bring about a thousand and one questions from wives and mothers. Husbands who attend the meeting will, no doubt, return home to find the wife anxiously awaiting to hear all the particulars.

The Pan-Handle suffered one of the worst wrecks in years, last Monday night at Spring Valley. A through freight, running at a high rate of speed, crashed into a local freight on a siding. The damage will amount to an enormous sum, as some twenty box cars were demolished. The wreck was caused by someone leaving the switch open after the local freight had taken siding.

Perfume Economy

Get the best, but pay as little as you can. That is our method of buying perfumes, and you can make it yours.
Poor perfumes are an extravagance at any price. Knowing well what brands of perfumes are most fragrant and lasting, our efforts are directed towards buying them at closest prices.
The saving we thus make is passed on to our customers. If you appreciate, lasting and distinctive perfumes, and want to pay only a very moderate price, WE have them for you.

The following is the program for the opening meeting of the Philosophic Literary Society, Monday evening, Oct. 6, 1902: Declaration, Miss Carrie Rife; declamation, Mr. Milton Hanna; essay, Miss Carrie Hatchison; oration, Mr. Collins Turner; debate, Messrs. Frank Young and J. N. Wol-ford; Address by Mr. Homer Henderson. Good music, both vocal and instrumental. All are cordially invited.

Never has there been a time in the history of Cedarville when people were so much interested as they are in local option at the present time.
The capacity of the opera house has been tested on one or two occasions this week. The crowd Thursday night is said to be the largest ever assembled in the building. It even exceeded the one for the McKinley memorial exercises a year ago last month.
Mr. Furbay spoke before the college students this morning.

The following is the weather report for September, 1902, as furnished us by Mr. Samuel Creswell: Highest temperature, 84 degrees; lowest, 44; rainfall, 4.58 inches; greatest in 24 hours, 1.19 inches; rain on 13 days; clear days, 10; part cloudy, 6 days cloudy, 3 days; one thunder shower on 30th day. The prevailing wind came from the southwest.

"Just as sure as election time comes, John Boyles of Springfield puts in his appearance," says a business man Thursday. Mr. Boyles, the pharmaceutical mason, familiarly known as "Jack" spends most of his time in Springfield, that is when there are no elections in Cedarville. It has been a question with many how a man can have two homes. The business man went on to say that if he only had elections enough in one year, "Jack" might give his residence here without question.

UP TO LAND OWNERS.

All Their Property Is Put In Jeopardy.

FARM AND TOWN ALIKE IN PERIL.

Tom Johnson's Thrusts an Issue Into This Campaign Confronting With All Past Democracy and Hostile to That Party's Antecedents.

Every farm owner in Ohio, every holder of the least little lot of land for his humble home, finds himself confronted in this campaign with his right to that land threatened with a platform and leaders that would take it away altogether.
Private ownership in land is a crime, according to the doctrine that these men declare to be their real aim and ultimate purpose. The state must own and possess every particle of it, and no man, woman or child ever can or shall again own a single iota of land. Such is the thing actually aimed at.

Confiscation of it all would be the quickest way to get the land away from its present proprietors, who are only usurpers, according to the Henry George theory, that Tom Johnson openly boasts to be the one thing that he aims at and is working for in the present campaign.

But, since confiscation would be too raw and radical a thing to try, or even to talk about openly yet, there are other ways of getting at the same result, that may prolong the agony, yet derive private owners of their property. One sure way is to tax them to the full income value of the land, its rental, as George calls it. It would then revert to the state mightily quick, and that is just what Johnson and Bigelow are driving at under the disguise of the Democratic party in Ohio.

The Democracy as a party have not adopted this doctrine, but their Ohio leaders in the present campaign are working for it. They deny that it is "the single land tax," to use the inveterate phrase descriptive of the Henry George theory. With a quibble and a quicker they say that what they propose is "a tax upon land values," just as if the man whose real estate would thus be taken from him would care one whit whether it was a tax on the land, or a tax on the value of the land, or a tax that took away his entire income from it, or its rental, as they call it.

Just as Tom Johnson has dodged his tax to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars by tying up the Cuyahoga county auditor with an injunction from the United States court, so he dodges behind the Democratic party in this thing, and denies the principles that he professes. The most conspicuous supporter of Henry Georgeism, Johnson wiggles Henry from the plain words of Henry George, and denies them as brazenly as Peter denied his Master. But the exact words of George himself best tell the real, the undeniable, the ultimate outcome of the theories that Johnson does confess are the things that he aims at above all beside, and those words he can not dodge.

Nor can the Democratic party of Ohio dodge what Johnson wants. They brought him back from Brooklyn to be their mayor of Cleveland, when those and of Cleveland Democrats refused to vote for him on the ground that he was a non-resident of Ohio. They have since by formal action of their state convention made him master of their party machinery. At that convention they acclaimed him as their next nominee for governor of Ohio, and their favorite son for the presidential nomination in 1904. All this time the party managers have perfectly well known that Henry George was Tom Johnson's only known fixed principle, for his absolute free trade ideas are part of that. They knew that they had no other excuse even for nominating H.
S. Bigelow to head their state ticket this year than that Tom Johnson discovered him because they are both socialists and single taxers together.

Individual Democrats may express their disgust and dismay at this prostitution of their party platform and machinery by refusing their votes for these strange doctrines. Thousands of them will bolt Bigelow because of it.
But the party managers went into this thing with their eyes wide open. They can not escape the lash when Johnson cracks the party whip, as he has been doing in Democratic counties in a way that Ohio never knew before. Such a surrender to socialism will arouse the resentment of every owner of the property that is jeopardized, and the multitudes whose homes are their all will be the men most angered by this attack.

THE POOR MAN'S PARTY.

It is the Republican, Says An Old

Time Democrat.

The Jackson Sun's East Franklin correspondent quotes a talk with an old-time Democratic friend, whom a Jackson official met on Labor day in Portsmouth. The old friend said: I am fully satisfied that the Republican party is the party for the poor man, work is plenty and everybody is enjoying prosperity. This rather startled the official, as he had always known his old friend as an ardent and uncompromising Democrat. After catching his breath he said: "I am glad to hear it; seems to me that you have been a long time in finding it out." "Yes, but the prosperous times have fully convinced me that the Democratic party was wrong, yet I always said that I would not vote the Republican ticket." This man at heart was a Republican, but the "genitment of the past was usurping the place of judgment." His better judgment told him what was best and the proper thing for him to do, but the past affiliations could not be entirely thrown off.

Jackson County Men Busy in Mines and Town.

Work is so plenty and laborers so few that the folks are experiencing considerable difficulty in securing carpenters for work preparatory to the street carnival. Surely these are properous times—good old Republican times. McKinleyism is still abroad in the land.

Jackson county mines have been in full operation almost every day since May. This is due in some degree to the strike in the Pennsylvania and West Virginia coal fields, but mostly to the era of unexampled prosperity which the country is enjoying—Jackson (O.) Sun.

And Yet Ohio Democracy Still Endorses Bryan.

How does this Bryanite utterance of 1896 sound now, in these later days?
"If McKinley and the Republican party are successful and put in power for the next four years, wages will be decreased. Hard times will come upon us and over the land. The price of wheat will come down and the price of gold will go up. Mortgages on our farms will be foreclosed by the money landlords. Shops and factories will be closed. We will export no goods and we will import from foreign lands the goods which we use. This will ruin, want and misery will be with us."

Mayor Johnson should either pay his back taxes or prove that he does not owe them. He has no right to demand that other people shall pay taxes so long as he is charged with almost half a million dollars on the books of the county treasurer.—Cleveland Leader.

"They had better let the tariff alone. I believe the sentiment of the people of this country is opposed to tariff revision, and if not it certainly will be should the tariff ever be revised."—Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed.

The Worst Form.
Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Canfield, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured.
I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia.
Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat.
