NEW GYM

At a recent meeting of the Cedarville College Board of Trustees, it was voted to approve the project of building a recreation center, provided the money is available. This center is to include a gymnasium, lounges, a book room, snack bar, and game facilities.

An architect called in by the planning committee is now working on plans for the building.

Various locations for the recreation center have been discussed, and although it is yet indefinite, the one given the most consideration is the west end of the football field.

No definite cost has been set for the construction, but according to President Jeremiah, it will probably be no less than $100,000, and the building will progress as funds are available. He further stated, "The trustees do not feel that they are in any position to borrow funds for it."

As we realize the urgent need for this recreation center and the benefits it will provide for us as students, let us give our complete support and enthusiasm in making this project a reality.

DO YOU PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENTS?

Early in my life I was privileged to know a man of wealth. Every morning when the newspaper was delivered, he turned to the financial page to find the listings of his stocks and bonds. After he had gained that information, he was ready for the day's problems. His first obligation was to protect his investments. What are you doing to protect your investments?

Time is a precious element. We have only a limited amount of it. We either waste time or invest it wisely and reap dividends. Successful program scheduling is the dividend for the satisfactory investment of time.

Money is another commodity that is invested here on campus. Your money, in the majority of cases, has been received through sacrifice (either of yourself or others).

How many classes did you fail to attend during the past semester? You threw money away. You failed to protect your investment.

Opportunity is another field of investment. We are so preoccupied that we are not even aware of the many study, cultural, and social opportunities. In failing to use every opportunity we fail to protect our investment.

God expects each of us to reap dividends by wisely investing our time, money, and opportunities, and make progress for Him.

"God is never satisfied with people who are satisfied with themselves."

—Mrs. C. R. Maddox

IN THE SERVICE OF THE KING . . .

O.S.S.O. HOME

"... and He blessed them."

How would you feel if you were one of a family of several hundred children? How would it be—to have never known parents? Lonely, often unloved and unwanted, would you not be eager for a chance to learn about a real "Friend?"

Several of our college students go to the O.S.S.O. Home each week, to teach Sunday School and show Christ's love to these children who have never known a love all their own. Many come from broken homes; some have known as many as five mothers and four fathers! One student remarked that she is challenged to study more of God's Word so that she will be better equipped for the task and opportunity she faces in this work each week.

Have you remembered to pray for the work that is being done by your fellow students through these Practical work assignments? Remember:

"A Christian worker is good."

"A worker for Christ is better."

"Christ working in us is best."

Results will be seen only as we permit God to have full control of our lives.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

DONIS COLLIER

Try as we might, we could not find anyone who would tell us Donis Collier's nickname. We did find out that she likes to sew and write letters more than anything else. June 16, 1961, is the date of her marriage to former Cedarville student, Dick Graven, who is presently attending Medical School in Chicago. Donis claims II Corinthians 3:5 as her life verse, and eating shrimp as her mad passion. If anyone runs across a nickname for Donis, please let us know for the record!

DICK COOK

James Richard Cook, better known as Dick, is a music major headed for an assistant pastorate, music directorship, or seminary, and also fatherhood come June. Joshua 1:9 is his favorite verse. Music is Dick's favorite pastime. The first three years of his college career, he sang in a quartet and the college choir. Last year he was a student conductor. As a freshman and sophomore, Dick played baseball. Although Flint, Michigan is his home town, he and his wife now reside in "Trailer-ville."

JOHN BUTLER

Iowa, the state famed for tall corn and taller men, sent John "Peanut Butter" Butler as its ambassador to Cedarville's Senior Class. John transferred from Tennessee Temple University at the end of his freshman year and has since been an active asset to our college. He has participated extensively in the Vocal Music Department—he is a former quartet member and College Choir

President. His current interests are the Student Body Project (co-chairman and the weather (specializing in "Gales"). A Bible major, John's favorite verse is Philippians 3:10. John is slated for marriage and a pastorate immediately after graduation.

MARCIA CROTHERS

The Social Chairman of this year's Senior Class, hails from Lakeville, Indiana. Marcia Gale Crothers, a Social Science major, plans a career in social work and an early September wedding to Terry Goodrich. A former member of Gamma Chi and the Band, Marcia represented her Freshman Class in the Student Council and accompanied a trio and quartet. Romans 11:33-36 is Marcia's favorite Scripture passage.

WHAT DO YOU THINK . . .

OF CHAPEL PROGRAMS:

Donna Finley-Sophomore—I think Christian businessmen, teachers, special artists, and our own faculty members should speak.

Judy Dadisman-Sophomore—More musical programs should be included.

Elaine Jordan-Junior—I think we should hear more from our choirs.

Dan Brower-Sophomore—Businessmen, speakers from other colleges and other denominations should be heard occasionally.

John Bigelow-Sophomore—I think there should be more music.

Chet Russell-Freshman — The program itself ought to be varied with songs in different places, and more songs.

Jenny Peifer-Junior — I'd like to hear faculty speakers discuss spiritual problems and more educational programs.

Jim Entner-Senior—Since we are a liberal arts college, we should have more educational speakers.

Dave Mills-Freshman — The program ought to be varied, including musical programs, pep rallies, good speakers, Christian artists.
