WHISPERING CEDARS

Vol. VII, No. 2

A Student Publication of Cedarville College

November 16, 1961

"COME YE THANKFUL PEOPLE, COME..."

In a few days any visitor to the Cedarville campus will find both students and faculty scurrying about, making last-minute preparations for the activities included in this year's Homecoming program.

The theme for Homecoming, of which Mr. Cook has charge, is, "Cedarville College in town, state, nation, and around the world." Acts 1:8 furnishes the scriptural basis for this motif.

One of the major offerings for Homecoming Weekend is the presentation of Kristin Sergel's play, "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners," which will be given at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings, November 17 and 18. This play uses one of the largest casts we have ever had participating in a dramatic presentation at Cedarville.

9:00 Saturday morning marks the first appointment in a day of many activities for the alumni of Cedarville College. At this time all the alumni will register in the Ad. Building.

At 9:45 there will be a coffee hour in the bookstore lounge for an alumni get-together.

10:30 signals the viewing and judging of exhibits by alumni, as well as the campus Open House for all visitors.

At 12:30 there will be a faculty-alumni luncheon in the Bookstore Lounge. A newly-formed campus secular singing group, selected from the college choir, and the "Faculty Four Quartet", comprised of Carol Barker, (our new registrar), Ray Bartholomew, Dale Thomson, and Rodney Wyse, (a new business instructor) will be a part of the program.

Guests invited to the luncheon, including:

Mayor Spittler, of Cedarville
Jess Chamberlain, director of the Miami Bank Fred Lutemberger, president of the Lion's Club and owner of the Hardware Store will be welcomed by President Jeremiah.

2:00 is the hour when all alumni will forget the dignity of their years and come to cheer their team of "old grads" at the Alumni-Varsity Game, held in Alford Memorial Gymnasium, while Cedarville undergrads support the Varsity. A slight admission fee of 10¢-15¢ will be charged, and will go into the Varsity "C" treasury. Awards for winning displays will be presented sometime during the game.

At 3:30 Gamma Chi is to hold a reception tea.

4:30 - Something new this year, and something that will be enjoyed by all, is an alumni-student choir. At this time, all alumni choir members will meet with the College Choir to practice a number for Sunday morning.

8:15 - Homecoming Play - given in the high school.

Sunday - The message and music of the morning service will be provided by the alumni.

Let's prove that our capabilities and vision have increased in proportion to our size as we prepare for the Homecoming Weekend!

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS...

Never standing still, Cedarville College has made some progress even though much money must be conserved for the building of our new gym. The returning alumni will notice these improvements:

The Gym - spruced up!
Bethel - new exterior
Rife - interior repairs
IBM: clock system and test
grading machine
Sticka House - new girls' dorm
and Music Studios
Grace Baptist Church - our own, praise God!

WE PROUDLY PRESENT...

The Homecoming Play, "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners" by Kristin Sergel, which will be given on November 17th and 18th at 8:15 p.m. in the Cedar Cliff High School Auditorium. The tickets are available at $1.00 for adults and 75¢ for students. Don Middleton is the man to see for those tickets, so don't delay.

The play is unique in style and portrays human nature clearly from the standpoint of everyday community life. You will see and enjoy the revealing reactions of the doctor, educator, janitor, businessmen and students.

Each in his own way adds to the unraveling and final solution of the "Remarkable Incident."

The names of those who have been working behind the scenes to help make the play a success are as follows:

Lights: John Morgan

Sound: Paul Gathany

Stagehand: Don Higdon

Promoters: Flo Cannon,
Marian Karsnak

Props: Aloha Patch,
Nancy Shimits

Advertising: Bill Watson,
Keith Webster

Tickets: Don Middleton

See you at the play; we hope you enjoy it!

TEACHER FEATURES:

MISS SMITH

Among the many additions to the Cedarville College Faculty, there is one instructor who could be described as a "charming asset." Ruth Smith hails from El Dorado, Arkansas, but resided there only six weeks. The greater part of her life has been spent in Siloam Springs, Arkansas.

Miss Smith has always been interested in music. Even in high school this interest was utilized and played a major part in her education. Education itself is another major interest in her life. She received her training at John Brown University, majoring in (you guessed it!) music, and later attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, during which she took education courses in order to be able to teach and received her M.A. After leaving the Conservatory, Miss Smith became an instructor at John Brown University.

At the age of six, she received Christ into her heart and life. This incident took place at a Bible conference on the campus of an inter-denominational school, where her parents worked. Later, she dedicated her life fully to Christ to be used in the manner he saw fit.

Her family consists of two sisters and her mother and father. Her sisters are both in college. One is majoring in voice while the other is majoring in art and home economics.

Traveling is one of Miss Smith's hobbies. In 1959, she toured California and the West coast with a singing group. A highlight came in 1960, when she took a trip to Europe and toured France, Italy, Germany, the Scandinavian countries, and England. Later, in 1961, she went again with a singing group from Denver to New York.

Things of interest in her life are photography, sewing, swimming and canoeing. She also enjoys the arts but says her knowledge of them is very limited. Miss Smith also enjoys working with young people and one summer was a counselor for a girls camp. Of course, she also enjoys music, and the classical type is her favorite. Records also figure highly on her list of likes. She enjoys listening to piano solos and symphonies. Fashions hold an interest for her, since she is a good seamstress and tries to keep pretty well up to date on styles.

Her first impression of Cedarville was a rather gloomy one as she arrived here in March. At that time, it was cold, dreary, and cloudy. However, after having met the people she was to work with, there was a definite change and she decided she was going to like teaching at Cedarville.

During summer vacation this year, she plans to go with her family to Seattle, Washington to see the world exposition. As for her future plans, Miss Smith, says that they "remain to be seen."

MR. REED

An invaluable member of the staff at Cedarville College this year is Mr. John Reed, head of the speech department.

Mr. Reed served as a medical lab technician in the United States Army traveling over part of the world.

He received his B.A. degree in English from Bryan University in Dayton, Tennessee. He then attended Tennessee Temple in Chattanooga, Tennessee for one year. Mr. Reed transferred from Tennessee Temple to Grace Seminary at Winona Lake, Indiana receiving his Th.B. degree in 1954. The same year he was graduated from Grace, he was called as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Stryker, Ohio. While at Stryker, he taught English and speech for five years part-time, pastoring a church and going to school.

Mr. Reed worked as a graduate assistant in speech in 1961 at Bowling Green, where he earned his M.A..

Mr. Reed is married to a charming Southern belle and has two daughters, Becky; 9, and Beth; 4. When asked how he liked Cedarville College, he said, "I am crazy about it."

On January second Mr. Reed will begin work toward his Ph.D. at Ohio State University.

MR. GALE

In our history department this year we have a new professor, Mr. Ralph Gale. In talking to him, we learned that he spent the early part of his life in and near Galesburg, Illinois. Mr. Gale attended high school in Williamsfield, Illinois, and received his college training at Moody Bible Institute, Northern Bible Seminary and Loyola University.

Mr. Gale was saved at the age of 26. No one person had a special influence in his decision to accept Jesus Christ as his Saviour; he just felt the definite working of the Holy Spirit in his life until he yielded his heart and life to Christ.

The Gales have been married 32 years. They have one married daughter and one son. Their son, Paul, age 17, is here at Cedarville with his parents, and attends the high school.

Although he has had no other official teaching position, Mr. Gale felt led of the Lord to come here to teach history, a subject very dear to him. Mr. Gale is the only history professor at Cedarville at this time, and this semester approximately one-half of the student body is taking courses under his instruction.

When we talked to Mr. Gale, we learned that he has spent a total of 23 years in the pastorate. Recently, he served in two churches, the First Baptist Church of Markham, Illinois, for 5 years, and for a few months just prior to coming to Cedarville he pastored the Evangelical Christian Church in Chicago.

Welcome to Cedarville College Mr. Gale, and may your stay here and your teaching be always, "acceptable unto God."

THE SPOTLIGHT IS ON...

Mr. Barker, who wasn't content with just one appearance in the newspaper (last time) but has made himself a newsworthy (we think) item again! He has been doing research for his Master's Degree at Bowling Green University and one facet of his study involves obtaining the judgments of freshmen girls on the way they think the average girl on campus wants others to see her.

The initial group of subjects for this survey consisted of sixty single freshmen girls picked at random, who were to rate a number of descriptive adjectives according to a scale of social desirability.

Twenty-four girls were selected from the original sixty to continue with the study, and are now working on the (top secret!) second phase. (Sixty girls were chosen originally in order to establish a reliable scale, and then the group was narrowed down. Thorndyke did a study of frequencies at which different words occur in our language and compiled them in a book titled, 10,000 Words, from which Mr. Barker selected his adjectives. Controlled factors include the selection of words at a given level; i.e., those words occurring once every 10,000 times, and words of uniform appearance; i.e., those of two syllables and seven or eight letters. In all, there were 356 adjectives selected.

The graduated categories concerning Social Desirability in the order of points or ratings given, are:

Extremely Undesirable	- 1
Moderately	" - 2
Slightly	" - 3
Neutral	" - 4
Slightly Desirable	" - 5
Moderately	" - 6
Extremely	" - 7

Only 3 words from the final selection of 116 were rated as ambiguous, which seems to suggest that the subjects' training and backgrounds have been fairly homogeneous. Most of the girls seem to have the same general idea as to how they want others on campus to see them; and a similarity in response to words has been shown. Here are some of the word samples and graduated ratings from the lists:

SPOTLIGHT...

Failure - 1.2	Handsome - 5.6
Bitter - 1.2	Tender - 5.8
Hostile - 1.3	Steady - 5.8
Scornful - 1.5	Balanced - 5.8
Worldly - 1.6	Humble - 6.0
Stupid - 1.3	Proper - 6.0
Jealous - 1.9	Lively - 6.1
Sullen - 2.1	Behaved - 6.2
Lonely - 2.4	Thankful - 6.8
Doubting - 2.7	Faithful - 6.8

Mr. Barker became interested in this type of study while taking a course in research at Bowling Green University. For this course he wrote a seventy-five page paper on "Quantitative Studies in the Self-Concept," which had to do with self-perception.

We commend Mr. Barker on his present work and use of our students

We commend Mr. Barker on his present work, the final results of which will probably be out within a month. (We wonder if he will be the first to unravel the female mind?!)

COUNCIL CORNER:

Another report from Student Council finds that the students of Cedarville College have voted almost unanimously to add $10 to their individual bills each semester, starting second semester and continuing permanently. This $10 is designated for the Gym Fund and will greatly aid the building of our new gym.

Some of you may be in doubt as to why this is needful or has even been suggested. As you know, we are not yet blessed with a wealthy alumni, who will graciously fork over a million or so every year for a new building or two. Therefore, much responsibility falls to the students. We are not in any way forced to take on this responsibility, but if students of this school had never given their time and/or money to the school, its progress would have been much slower. When we are alumni, we will be able to appreciate even more the efforts made by undergraduates to help advance the school.

Some may ask, "What about bonds--can't they be used?" The answer is No, because there is no income from the gym to help retire bonds that would be sold to help pay for it. The college was able to sell bonds to build the dorms, because you students pay room fees every year; therefore, there is a steady income for these buildings, and bonds can be retired.

As mentioned before, the students were asked how they felt about establishing a steady income for the gym by allowing the administration to add $10 to each semester's bill; and a vote was taken, at which time the proposal was approved.

The Student Council would like to thank you for this vote of confidence and your commendable show of school spirit; this is something for which we can be proud and thankful!

Each class has also voted to send two school representatives; John Lawlor and Don Tennant, to the A. A. E. S. (American Association of Evangelical Schools) Conference, which will be held November 23 through 25. Each class is paying $10 toward the defrayment of expenses for this trip.

The conference, being held this year at Bethel College, Mishawaka, Indiana, will begin with Registration Thursday evening, November 23. The theme of the convention, which opens officially at 8:30 Friday morning, is "Christianity Answers Communism," and the main speakers are: Dave Breese, executive director of Chicago Youth for Christ, and Herbert Philbrick, author of I Led Three Lives. Along with these outstanding speakers, the program will also include workshops dealing with the Christian student's part in the fight against Communism, general campus problems, current affairs, films promoting the theme of the conference, and a special banquet on Friday evening.

Pray for our representatives as they go, that the testimony of our college might be held high, and much benefit received from this conference.

A much-needed piece of equipment here at school is the calculator which you may have noticed in registrar's office.

If you are asking yourself, "Of what concern is a calculator to me?" may we suggest that you might be interested in knowing that your grades are being recorded and averaged correctly. Those students in the Business Department might also like to learn how to operate this machine skillfully.

The calculator can figure mathematical problems quickly and easily, thus saving many hours of work for our teachers and staff members.

A matter of much importance in making the purchase of new equipment for our school is financial help, and this is an area in which the students can be of assistance. This machine costs $950.00. Some money has already been received toward its purchase, but much more is still needed.

An item coming up in the near future is the Student Project. This Project is undertaken every year by students and involves the purchase and donation of needed equipment for the school. Students decide upon the chairmen of the drive, the amount of money to be given, and the item(s) for which it will be spent. So keep in mind this calculator as one of the possible needs. More possible goals will be mentioned as they occur.

THANKSGIVING BANQUET

The annual Thanksgiving Banquet will be the first really big social event of the year, and, as usual, it is sponsored by Alpha Chi.

This year the banquet will be held in the Springfield South High School cafeteria which is on Limestone Avenue just this side (or on the south side) of the Springfield business district.

Besides the excellent food that will be served, students may count on a top notch program of dramatic readings and music revolving around the Thanksgiving theme - all to be directed by Mr. Reed.

Doors will be open at 6:00 on the evening of November 20. Tickets are $1.50 per person and may be purchased from Dave Earnhart between Monday, November 13, and Friday, November 17.

Everyone come and expect an enjoyable evening of good food, good entertainment, and good Christian fellowship.

"Every Day Thanksgiving Day"

Dear the people coming home,
Dear glad faces long away,
Dear the merry cries, and dear
All the glad and happy play.
Dear the thanks, too, that we give
For all of this, Thanksgiving Day.

SPORTS

FROM THE COACH'S CORNER...

As far as the players are concerned, basketball season is under way. Not only are most of last year's players back, but due to tremendous success in recruiting, the members of the team on the whole are a good deal taller--a possible first five has an average height of 6' 4". The fifth spot on the team is up for grabs, and all of the players are working hard for their spots.

Returning from last year, we have Gary Walthall, our 6'7" center who placed first in league rebounding last year; Norris Smith, who averaged 22 points per game, and was elected to the all-conference team; and Dave Jeremiah, who sank an average of 17 points per game, and made all-conference honorable mention; besides a strong, experienced secondary from which the coach can draw.

This year's new recruits include two members of the Ohio State High School Basketball Championship team: from Portsmouth; Dozier Carter and Dick Spencer. Dozier is also a member of the state All-Star team. From New York, we have Gary Brandes, who was chosen as a member of Buffalo's All-City team, and Ray Davis, perhaps the best jumper on the team, who was rated All-County from Chautauqua, New York. From way out in Forest City, Iowa, we have Jerry Stadt, who won the team's Sportsmanship award and other honors. Springfield has donated two players, Keith Absheor, who had a shooting average of over 400 in high school, and Sam Schwartz from Springfield North. Cedarville's own Pat Snyder also looks very promising.

Right now the prospects couldn't be better, and, as things look now, we should have one of the best teams in the league.

LOOKING BACK ...

FAITH HAD THE VICTORY!

Cedarville girls are always looking for a way to round-out their lives. Physical education also helps to obtain a well-rounded personality, and an unrounded figure. Faith Hall girls wound up victorious by overcoming the other three teams to capture the championship.

A three way tie for first brought about playoffs the week of October 23. Tied for first were Teams 1,2,3.

The same kind of enthusiasm prevailed for the first playoff between teams 1 and 2 as had been portrayed during all the games. Amid bi-partism yells from spectators, Team 1 was victorious 15-9. Team 3 had to forfeit their play-off game to Team 1 as they had an insufficient number of players.(Sue Johns had a tough time playing all 9 positions; hitting herself home was even harder!!)

The teams' captains were:

- Team 1 Nancy Smith
- Janet McClish
- Team 2 Elsie Himself
- Gale Brooks
- Team 3 Pat Kaster
- Team 4 Sue Eckert

Let's participate even more enthusiastically in volleyball.

PEP CLUB

"We gotta F-I-G-H-T!!" This familiar cheer, to all those who have attended Cedarville College basketball games, will be heard more loudly this year due to the newly organized Pep Club.

A constitution has been drawn up by our five new cheerleaders: Bette Adamson, Pat Kaster, Irene Lane, Judy Lachman, and Donna Thompson. Also on the committee to draft a constitution and to get Pep Club "cheer'in" were: Warren Burnside, Elvin King, Jay Moore, and Toni Rotundi.

The center section of the bleachers will be reserved for Pep Club members. Approximately 70 members plus the cheerleaders will make up this organization and practices will be held with the Pep Band.

Officers have been elected and a uniformity in dress has been decided by the members. Keep your eyes on the middle section of the bleachers and your ears open and you'll hear some organized cheers. We're hoping that this new club will spread enthusiasm to the other students.

Don't forget the game with Rio Grande, November 21!

"OLD GRADS" NEVER FADE AWAY:

Have you been wondering what happens to students after they graduate and go out into the cold, cruel world? Here are the whereabouts of some of last year's graduates, many of whom we hope will be returning for Homecoming:

1. John Gilman Butler
Pastor; Willamsburg, Ohio
2. Donis Erlene Collier (Gravens)
Doctor's Wife; Chicago, Ill.
3. James Richard Cook
Seminary
4. Marcia Gail Crothers (Goodrich) Teacher's wife;
Boise, Idaho
5. Marlene Patricia Davis
Christian Ed. Director;
Northfield, Ohio
6. Phyllis Elaine Dobbs (Piper)
Teacher; Xenia, Ohio
7. James Leroy Entner
Medical School; Indiana University
8. Forrest Terry Goodrich
Social Studies Teacher;
Boise, Idaho
9. Shirley Ann Harrington
Secretarial work;
Kankakee, Illinois
10. Frank A. Howard
Elementary Teacher;
Muskegan, Michigan
11. William Bryan Jennings
Employed: General Motors;
Flint, Michigan
12. Karl W. Luyben
Deputation Work - (Missionary to Liberia); Xenia, Ohio
13. Nancy Lea McDivitt
Nursing School - Miami Valley; Dayton, Ohio
14. James Ray Neely
Pastor; Cincinnati, Ohio
15. Delores June Osborn
Elementary Teacher; South Bend, Indiana

"A humorist is a writer who shows us the faults of human nature in such a way that we recognize our failings and smile --and our neighbors' and laugh."

PERSONALS:

THE RABBIT-HABIT:

Easter is considered the appropriate time to discuss rabbits, but we were prodded into reality the other day when we learned, while talking to Paul Reno, that there is more to this subject than Easter Bunnies.

Paul is a freshman at Cedarville, lives here in town with his parents, and attends Blessed Hope Baptist in Springfield. He has just been elected to represent the newly-formed Science Club on Student Council, and our interest was aroused when we heard through the grapevine that he had received national recognition for some of the rabbits he has raised.

Paul and his father raise rabbits not only for show, but also for their meat and fur. During mid-October, Paul entered one of his rabbits in the National Rabbit Convention judging. The rabbit he took was a Creme d'Argent, a large meat rabbit, with creamy-gold fur. An unusual coloring is achieved by blending an orange-base hair with cream-colored hair tips. Before he had left Louisville, his Creme d'Argent was judged the Best in the Nation, and praised as the best recently developed in the United States. Although most rabbits are raised for food, they can be made to have fur nearly identical to any other animal alive; in fact, that North White fur coat you saw the other day probably looked just as nice on some poor rabbit a little while ago. The wool used to make Angora sweaters was probably once the pride of some little Angora rabbit.

Though you never hear much about this "hare-raising" occupation, it is really a fascinating field of specialization. The pleasure and profit received are quite satisfying.

Our commendation goes to Paul for his interest in and practical use of Science which have won him deserved recognition and we hope to see him winning more of those awards, "pressing toward the mark of the prize of the high calling in Christ Jesus!"

"HIDE IT UNDER A BUSHEL - NO!"

Officers and members of Kappa Delta Xi have proven that the new society will be an active organization. The first all-school function presented by Kappa Delta Xi was the Variety Show given in the chapel on Saturday night, November 11.

The participants displayed varied talents. Among those portraying musical abilities were:

Val Roloff, who played a piano solo of Prelude in C#Minor; Steve Boalt, who filled the air with music from his trumpet; Mervin Ziegler, who gave a sample of Spanish music; Pat Micka, (who, in her best tux) "played" the accordion; Sue Geiser, who gave a demonstration of her unlimited abilities in playing her ukelele; Bonnie Mayes, whose rendition of Ebb Tide was so well accepted that she had to play an encore.

The show was not wholly a musical program as many hilarious offerings, along with a magic act by Terry Miller, were given: Joyce Clemence gave a pantomime taken from dining hall incidents. Ty and Joan Bryant proved that they were really twins. By the way, Ty, how many demerits did you get for letting your knees show?

Sally Bender did a reading. Bonnie Hammack gave a poem and a pantomime.

The Girls' Trio created a dreamy mood with their version of Then There Was You. The Chapel Choir Quartet also rang-out with a song, and Mr. Barker closed the program with his rendition of Ship Ahoy.

The enthusiasm and willingness of the students have been bringing about much better social activities to be enjoyed. It is good to see the light and serious aspects of the arts being so enthusiastically given and accepted! More!!

INTRODUCING: PI DELTA

A science club has been "born" on the campus of Cedarville College, and has been approved by Student Council. The club is known as Pi Delta, meaning "Prove all things." I Thess. 5:21, "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good," was the verse chosen for Pi Delta. The purpose is, "to stimulate an interest in and to provide opportunity for promotion of scientific investigation and its relation to Scriptural truth..."

The officers elected Tuesday, November 7, 1961, were as follows:

- Pres. - Don Entner
- V.P. - Jay Moore
- Sec. - Jeannie DuPre
- Treas. - Dave Rifenberick
- S.C. Rep. - Paul Reno
- Advisor - Mr. Elmore

Included in future activities are special speakers, field trips, projects by various members, Moody science films, science fairs, and discussions.

Anyone interested in joining should see one of the officers and obtain a constitution of the club.

THE PRIVATE EAR:

"Terse verse"

That corsage is no mirage
Honey = money!
(ask her to the Alpha XI banquet!)

Is the faculty gaining a little weight this year? Could be because they're having their lunches carried to them.

For the Eng. Dept:

What student describes Robert Frost's "Stopping By The Woods on a Snowy Evening" as, "that poem about a horse and a snowflake?"

Congratulations to the prospective Mr. & Mrs. Bogle Standifer! May the Lord bless you as you serve Him together.

What's "beyond the blue horizon", Mr. Wyse?

If you've noticed the increased dexterity of the cafeteria staff - a new course in psychology has been introduced. All broken dishes are deductible from salaries!

Recent Mouse Fatality count in Faith Hall has increased to 19 (any additions or corrections?).

We hear Halloween is a great time for camouflage. How about it, Dean MacIntosh?

This year's Homecoming should be the best ever. Many thanks to those who labored long.

Hey! Mark is no "boar", but his jacket is. (imported from South America.)

Let's all cheer Dolly Kidd. She's given up more for patriotism than any girl on campus!

Now that basketball is in full swing - let's really back our boys!

For those who find Mr. Reed in a closet - don't rescue him; he wants to be there.

If anyone has a quick cure for hic-cups please see Miss Smith.

Now that the last of tests are over (for awhile) we can enjoy Homecoming. P.S. Have a happy Thanksgiving.
