DISEASE MAY BE CARRIED FOR A YEAR.

There has been much confusion over the orders of the State Agricultural Commission as to quarantine and restriction as to movements of live stock, since the foot and mouth disease has spread over four states around Chicago, the main shipping point. Not only has each state placed quarantine, but the federal government has taken hold.

To counties such as Greene, where no cases have developed people are apt to think that officials have gone too far with their orders. But if we had a dozen or so cases every farmer in that vicinity would be sitting up at night to protect his stock. In the infected counties no doubt all approve of the strict orders.

It has been learned that the disease can be in a community nine days before it will develop. It also can be carried for a year. So easy may the disease be carried that dogs, cats, rabbits, in fact anything that comes in contact with stock suffering with the trouble.

John Perrill, on a farm near the county line in Fayette county, had 58 cattle, 125 head of hogs and 12 head of sheep shot by the officials. The animals were all buried in a great trench.

WAYNE WEIMER WINS TAYLOR CORN PRIZE.

Roy C. Lewis and his brother, Herman, of Jefferson township, won the corn contest trip to Washington. The former raised 115 bushels and the latter 112. Roy won the trip last year.

Wayne D. Weimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weimer, who reside on the Clemons land, south of town, had 128 bushels and 56 pounds of corn to the acre and wins the special prize, offered by Jesse Taylor, which is a free trip to Washington on the Corn Boys' Special, November 30 to December 6.

WHY THE YOUTH'S COMPANION SHOULD BE IN EVERY FAMILY.

"If I could take only one paper," said the late Mr. Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court, "it would be The Youth's Companion. A little of everything in a nutshell, and unbiased. The Companion is a family paper in the complete sense. It provides reading that, without failing to interest the young, still interests the mature. It unites young and old through their common enjoyment of delightful fiction, agreeable miscellany, and the clear exposition of public questions.

So carefully is it edited, so varied are its contents, that it would easily supply a family with entertaining fiction, up-to-date information and wholesome fun, in no other periodical entered the house.

If you are not familiar with The Companion as it is today, let us send you sample copies and the Forecast for 1915.

New Subscribers who send $2.00 for the fifty-two issues of 1915 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1914, besides a copy of The Companion Home Calendar for 1915.

"Pilate wobbled, then fell."
—Everybody is somewhat peculiar.
—Keep praying, humble, faithful, busy, watchful.
—Napoleon's presence on the battle-field was said to be equal to 40,000 additional soldiers.
—Miss Carrie Rife leads the C. U. in Study of Sketches of the Covenanters' Sabbath evening, chapters 43 and 47.
—There was a good attendance at the Women's Missionary Society last Wednesday.
—Dr. Ritchie was calling down the Fish-worm pike last Thursday.
—Do you want the Sunday School Times next year for two cents a week? Report to Orland Ritchie, superintendent of the Sabbath school. It is a splendid help to Bible study.
—Whoever sent us Wallace's Farmer last year did us a great kindness. There is a fine exposition of the Sabbath school lesson and many fine moral teachings in it. The Editor is a United Presbyterian minister, whose health drove him out to the farm.
—It is indeed better to not vow, than to vow and not pay; but better far to vow and to pay.
—Sabbath! A day to gather up loose ends, to unravel tangled threads of thought. God bless this pause in the rush of things material, this chance to let mind, soul and heart take a long breath.
—It is easy enough to be pleasant. When life flows by like a song, but the man worth while is the man with a smile.
—When everything goes dead wrong.
—Start a prayer list today of those you wish to lead to Jesus Christ; and expect an answer to your prayers.
—Next Sabbath the pastor will present in the morning sermon, "The Ten Commandments" on prayer. Will every one bring a Bible?
—Every mother and daughter ought to read the article in the last number of Wallace's Farmer, "The Ten Commandments." It is a fine thing.
—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knox have a new boy in their home, another member for the Cradle Roll.
—The Christian Union will hold a social at the parsonage next Monday evening, November 30, for all the young people of the congregation.
—Contributions for the mountaineers should be in within a week. Leave at the church or parsonage.
—"We can all be good Christians when everything goes right, but it takes real timber to be a good Christian when we pinch our finger hard and a chattering jester asks if it hurts."
—"Everybody in our family's some kind of an animal," said Bobby Alfalfa to the amazed lady visitor. "What nonsense!" she exclaimed. "Well," replied Bobby, "mother's a deer, my baby sister is mother's little lamb, I'm the kid and dad's the goat."
—"I quit playing cards as a winter night amusement because it didn't get me anywhere morally, mentally, physically or financially. It is too nerve exciting, sleep destroying, temper trying; and the time could be better employed in reading, or shelling corn, visiting, or mending harness."

ISLANDS OF SAFETY.

Fearful Conditions Greet the French Desperados Sent There.

In France a criminal who is classed as incorrigible is either sent to the islands of safety, of the Guiana coast—of which Devil's island, where Captain Dreyfus languished, is one—or to St. Laurent or St. Jean, a little higher up the river. In this terrible climate, says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, with the scorching sun beating down upon them, the criminals are made to work in the old mines or opening up the jungle, and as the officers in charge have practically unlimited power over them they are often ill treated.

The inhabitants of these prisons range from murderers of the worst type to professional thieves and desperadoes. About one-fifth of the criminals are women—a thing that seemed inconceivable to a visitor—are permitted to marry the male convicts. In some cases wives had joined their convict husbands. What dreadful children must be raised in this atmosphere of crime and brutality!

Escape is the one thought of the convict. The doors leading to the jungle are not guarded any too well, and the officers in charge do not seem to care if a criminal escapes into the forest, knowing very well that men seldom get away alive from this terrible region of deadly malaria and ferocious wild beasts. Fugitives have also to reckon with the natives, to whom the hunting of convicts is great sport. In many instances prisoners escape in batches of twenty and thirty and are more dangerous to meet than wild animals, as their main object is to obtain weapons and food. To get these they will attack and murder without mercy.

Rubies and Carats.

Carbuncles, to which the ancients attributed fantastic properties, were in reality rubies. The word, it was said, to give light to large serpents or dragons who might have been enticed by them. They bore them constantly between their teeth and laid them down on their arms and drinking. It was claimed that the carbuncle could light in darkness and that the carbuncle could light in darkness.

Long time that house contained luminous rays. The truth is that they have double refraction, and send out the red rays with unequalled brilliancy. Traversed in a vacuum by an electric current, they are illuminated with a red fire of extreme intensity. The greatest heat does not change their form or color.

Variations of "How Are You?"

"How do you do?" That's English and American. "How do you carry yourself?" That's French. "How do you stand?" That's Italian. "How do you find yourself?" That's German. "How do you fare?" That's Dutch. "How can you?" That's Swedish. "How do you persevere?" That's Egyptian. "How is your stomach?" Have you eaten your rice?" That's Chinese. "How do you have yourself?" That's Polish. "How do you live on?" That's Russian. "May my shadow never be lost?" That's Persian—and all mean much the same thing.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Magnetic and Geographical Poles.

The "geographical poles" of the earth are the extremities of the imaginary line passing through its center of gravity and about which it revolves. The "magnetic poles" are in no way coincident with the geographical pole and are determined by the "dip of the needle." The north magnetic pole was located by Captain James Ross, in 1831, in King William's Land, northern Canada, latitude 70 degrees 5 minutes 2 seconds. The south magnetic pole has been located in 72 degrees 23 minutes.—New York American.

The Faint Heart.

"You say, Mr. Sibley," said the girl in a low, thoughtful, this-is-a-serious-matter sort of tone, "that you have loved me for five years and have never dared to tell me so until tonight?"

"Yes," he replied.

"Well, I cannot be your wife. A man who has no more courage than that would pretend to be fast asleep while a burglar stole his baby's shoes."—Liverpool Mercury.

Main Information.

There was a dance in the lobby of one of the big apartment houses in Washington. A man who rents an apartment came in, saw the crowd and asked one of the negro elevator boys:

"What's going on out there?"

"Why," the boy replied, "that is a dance given by one of the matronies of Georgetown university!"—Saturday Evening Post.

—All kinds of Fresh Fish can be had at Hinton's.

Prosecutor Asks For Some Relief.

Prosecutor Johnson has asked the state veterinarian, Dr. Fischer, to modify his order for quarantine so that farmers can ship well stock. Fully 600 farmers have hogs ready for market and there being cholera in the county, farmers are taking more risk of this disease, than of the foot and mouth. Unless the order is modified the prosecutor and sheriff will not enforce the quarantine.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all the stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Paint is liquid money. You spread it over your house and then sun, wind, rain and dust beat upon it in the effort to wear it out and get at the wood. Bye and bye you have to do it all over again—but less often with than with others. When you think of the cost of paint and painting, remember that one-third is paint and two-thirds labor.

It costs more to put on a poor paint than a good one. Use the paint that lasts longest.

There is an orchid in Java the flowers of which open all at once. A curious tree of the tropics, the katapalo, grows only with the aid of another tree, which it gradually engulfs and kills.
